THE RESTORATIVE OF Prof. O. J. WOOD for restoring hair perfectly and permanently, has never yet had a rival. Volume after volume might be given from all parts of the world and from the most intelligent to prove that it is a perfect Restorative; but read the circular and you cannot doubt; read also the following.

The Hair.—People have for centuries been afflicted with bald heads, and the only remedy, heretofore known, has been those abominable wigs. By a recent discovery of Professor Wood these articles are being last dispensed with, but a great many persons still patronise them, because they have been so often imposed upon by Hair Tonics of different kinds. To all such persons we earnestly make the request that they will try once again, for in Wood's Restorative there is no such thing as fail. We know of a lady who was bald, who used the article a short time, and her head is covered completely with the tiniest and most beautiful curls imaginable. We know of numerous cases where hair was rapidly falling out, which it restored in greater perfection than it ever had been before.

It is also without doubt one of the best articles for keeping the hair in good condition, making it soft and glossy, removing dandruff, and has proved itself the greatest enemy to all the ills that hair is heir to.

It is the duty of every one to improve their personal appearance though some may differ in regard to the ways of doing it; but every one will admit that a beautiful head of hair, either in man or woman, is an object much to be desired, and there are no means that should be left untried to obtain such a consideration.—Woman's Advocate, Philadelphia.

Cochocton, Ohio, Nov. 17, 1856.

O. J. Wood & Co.—Gents: As I have been engaged in selling your Hair Restorative the last season for one of your local agents (E. M. Hackinson,) and having experienced the beneficial effects of it myself, I would like to obtain an agency for the State of Ohio or some state in the west, should you wish to make such an arrangement, as I am convinced there is nothing equal to it in the United States, for restoring the hair. I have been engaged in the Drug business for several years, and have sold various preparations for the hair, but have found nothing that restores the secretive organs or invigorates the scalp as well as yours, being convinced that your restorative is what you represent it to be, I would like to engage in the sale of it, for I am satisfied it must sell.
Yours truly, S. T. Stockman.

Wayland, Mass., Feb. 5, 1857.

Prof. O. J. Wood & Co.—Gents: Having realized the good effects of your Hair Restorative, I wish to state, that finding my hair growing thin, as well as gray, I was induced from what I read and heard, to try the article prepared by you, to promote its growth and change its color as it was in youth, both of which it has effected completely. In the operation I have used nearly 3 bottles.
Yours &c., James Francis.

The Old Rochester Nurseries.
ROCHESTER, N. Y.

THE subscriber having been appointed Agent for this old, long established, and favorably known Nursery, respectfully solicits orders for FRUIT AND ORNAMENTAL TREES, FLOWERING SHRUBS, &c, which will be delivered to the purchaser at the Catalogue prices free of charge.
The Proprietor in presenting his Catalogue for 1858 to the public, remarks that they will find it an exact inventory of what he has to offer: the height of the trees, their age, and that everything will not only be found true to its kind, but of the most perfect quality. The climate where these Nurseries are located is the same as that of New Hampshire, rendering it certain that trees transplanted here, will flourish as well as there.
Great care will be taken in packing, rendering the Trees perfectly safe for thousands of miles of transit.
☞ Catalogues, together with "brief instruction" for Orchard, Planting, and Culture of Fruits, with hints for the selection of Trees, may be had of the Agent. G. N. CARLETON,

NATURE'S WORSHIP.

The ocean looketh up to heaven,
As 'twere a living thing;
The homage of its waves is given
In ceaseless worshipping.

They bend upon the sloping sand
As bends the human knee;
A beautiful and tireless band,
The priesthood of the sea.

The sky is as a temple's arch;
The blue and wavy air
Is glorious with the spirit-march
Of messengers of prayer.

The gentle moon, the kindling sun,
The many stars, are given,
As shrines to burn earth's incense on,
The altar-fires of heaven.—[Whittier.

NO MORE.

Words of despair!—Yet earth's, all earth's, the woe
Their passion breathes,—the desolately deep!
That sound in heaven,—O, image, then the flow
Of gladness in its tones!—to part, to weep,—
No more!
Words of triumphant music! bear we on
The weight of life, the chain, the ungenial air;
Th ir deathless meaning, when our tasks are done
To learn in joy;—to struggle, to despair,—
No more!—[Anon.

FREEDOM.

Is true freedom but to break
Fetters for our own dear sake,
And with leathern hearts forget
That we owe mankind a debt?
No! true freedom is to share
All the chains our brothers wear,
And with heart and hand to be
Earnest to make others free.

They are slaves who fear to speak
For the fallen and the weak;
They are slaves who will not choose
Hatred, scoffing and abuse,
Rather than in silence shrink
From the truth they needs must think;
They are slaves who dare not be
In the right with two or three.—[Lowell.

The following remedies are offered to the public as the best, most perfect, which medical science can afford. Ayer's Cathartic Pills have been prepared with the utmost skill which the medical profession of this age possesses, and their effects show they have virtues which surpass any combination of medicines hitherto known. Other preparations do more or less good; but this cause such danger-ous complaints, so quick and so surely, as to prove an efficacy and a power to uproot disease beyond any thing which men have known before. By removing the obstructions of the internal organs and stimulating them into healthy action, they renovate the fountains of life and vigor,—health courses anew through the body, and the sick man is well again. They are adapted to disease, and disease only, for when taken by one in health they produce but little effect. This is the perfection of medicine. It is antagonistic to disease, and no more. Tender children may take them without injury. If they are sick they will cure them, if they are well they will do them no harm.

Give them to some patient who has been prostrated with bilious complaint; see his bent-up, tottering form straighten with strength; see how his long-lost appetite return; see his clammy features blossom into health. Give them to some sufferer whose foul blood has burst out in scrofula till his skin is covered with sores; who stands, or sits, or lies in anguish. He has been drenched inside and out with every potion which humanity could suggest. Give him these Pills, and mark the effect; see the scabs fall from his body; see the new, fair skin that has grown under them; see the late leper that is clean. Give them to him whose angry humors have planted themselves in his joints and bones; move him, and he screeches with pain; he too has been soaked through every muscle of his body with liniments and salves; give him these Pills to purify his blood; they may not cure him, for, alas! there are cases where art has no mortal power can reach; but mark, he walks with crutches now, and now he walks alone; they have cured him. Give them to the lean, sour, haggard dyspeptic, whose gnawing stomach has long ago eaten every smile from his face and every muscle from his body. See his appetite return, and with it his health; see the new man. See her that was radiant with health and loveliness blasted and too early withering away; want of exercise or mental anguish, or some lurking disease, has deranged the internal organs of digestion; assimilation ceases to give life and their office ill. Her blood is vitiated, her health is gone. Give her these Pills to stimulate the vital principle into renewed vigor, to cast out the obstructions, and infuse a new vitality into the blood. Then look again—the roses blossom on her cheek, and where lately sorrow sat pur lained from every feature. See the sweet infant wasted with worms. Its wan, sickly features tell you without disguise, and painfully distinct, that they are eating its life away. Its parched up nose and ears, and restless sleepings, tell the distressed truth in language which every mother knows. Give it the Pills in large doses to sweep these vile parasites from the body. Now turn again and see the ruddy bloom of childhood. Is it nothing to do these things? Nay, are they not the marvel of this age? And yet they are done around you every day.

Have you the less serious symptoms of these distempers, they are the easier cured. Jaundice, Costiveness, Headache, Sickness, Heartburn, Foul Stomach, Languor, Pain in the Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, Kidney Pills, Bowels, Costiveness, and kindred complaints all arise from the derangements which these Pills rapidly cure. Take them perseveringly, and under the counsel of a good Physician if you can; if not, take them judiciously by such advice as may give you, and the diseases which serious diseases they cure, which afflict so many millions of the human race, are cast out like the devils of old—they must burrow in the brutes and in the sea. Price 25 cents per box,—5 boxes for $1.

Through a trial of nearly twenty years and through every nation of civilized men, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral has been found to afford more relief and to cure more cases of pulmonary disease than any other remedy known to mankind. Cases of apparently settled consumption have been cured by it, and thousands of sufferers who were dreamly beyond the reach of human aid have been restored to their friends and usefulness, to sound health and the enjoyments of life, by this all-powerful antidote to diseases of the lungs and throat. Here a cold had settled on the lungs. The hollow, hacking cough, the glassy eye, and the pale, thin features of him who was lately lusty and strong, whisper to all but him Consumption. He tries every thing; but the disease is gnawing at his vitals, and shows its fatal symptoms more and more day and night. He is taking the Cherry Pectoral now; it has stopped his cough and made his breathing easy; his sleep is sound at night; his appetite returns, and with it his strength. The fort which tapped his side is broken. Scarcely any neighborhood can be found which has not some living trophy like this to shadow forth the virtues which have won for the Cherry Pectoral an imperishable renown. But its usefulness does not end here. Nay, it accomplishes more by prevention than cure. Throughout lands long and sorely afflicted with consumption the seed which would have ripened into a dreadful harvest of incurable diseases, Influenza, Croup, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Pleurisy, Whooping Cough, and all irritations of the throat and lungs are easily cured by the Cherry Pectoral. It is taken in season. Every family should have it by them, and they will find it an invaluable protection from the insidious prowler which carries off the purest sheep from many a flock, the darling lamb from many a home.

Authenticated testimonials of these facts, with directions for the treatment of each complaint, may be found in Ayer's American Almanac, of which we publish three millions, and scatter them broadcast over the earth, in order that the sick every where may have before them the information it contains. Druggists and dealers in medicine generally have them for distribution gratis, and also for sale these remedies, prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer, Practical and Analytical Chemist, Lowell, Mass.

Maryland State Lotteries.
R. FRANCE & CO.....MANAGERS.

CAUTION NOTICE.

PERSONS living at a distance would be extremely cautious of whom they order Lottery Tickets or Certificates of Packages of Tickets.—The country is flooded with bogus and swindling Lotteries. Every inducement is held out to get persons to invest money in them. Capital Prizes of from $20,000 to $40,000 head their schemes—with tickets at One Dollar. $10,000 capital prizes are offered, tickets $5. All such, in every instance, are frauds; and if money is sent to them for tickets, it is so much thrown away without the chance of a chance of getting a prize. Because of all Lotteries where the Capital Prize is unusually large in comparison to the price of tickets—in every instance where large prizes are offered for a small cost of tickets, put it down as a certain fraud.

The Kentucky State Lottery for the benefit of the Shelby College, under our management, is the only Lottery in the United States which is legally decided by the Maryland Drawings; all other Lotteries which pay out to be decided by the Maryland Drawings, are frauds.

THE MARYLAND STATE LOTTERIES.

Purchase in the Maryland State Lotteries, then you are sure of being right. And in ordering in the Maryland Lotteries, you are sure of fair and honest drawings.

One thing look to, and that is, it you order from any licensed vender in Baltimore, do not receive any but Managers' Tickets and Managers' Printed Certificates of Packages. The Managers' Certificates have the numbers printed, and have the lithographic signature of R. France & Co.

No one has a right to send his individual certificates. If he does it, be sure there is a fraud at the bottom of it.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have the right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, and orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme, tickets in every lottery are sold at one price. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the plan of one number to one ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $70,000; every person being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel with the corresponding tickets to every ticket to. will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Banner, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. m1S1y

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, which R. France & Co are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with the drawings is done in a fair manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they were present at the drawings. A fact or fact which the managers call attention to, is, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by the laws of the State, and a lottery is drawn every day of the month. If no particular class is named, orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The prices of tickets vary from $1 to $20. No tickets are, however, sent unless the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number to each ticket (after the Havana plan), and Ternary combination. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $20,000. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

☞ The drawn numbers of the Maryland Lotteries are published by the Commissioners in the following papers, viz: Sun, Clipper, Patriot, American, Argus, of Baltimore; also, the National Intelligencer and Union, of Washington, D.C.

A PROCLAMATION
TO THE LADIES.

WHEREAS, it appears that the days of right, honor, and integrity are fast fading away, and WHEREAS the unscrupulous and ignorant are daily taking advantage of the profound and learned. BEIT KNOWN THEREFORE, to all, whether maids, wives, or widows, that Dr. Cheeseman's FEMALE PILLS are alone the certain panacea for the troubles and difficulties peculiar to female organization; they alone correcting all painful menstruation, assuaging palpitations of the heart, disturbed sleep, pain in the side, and causing health and happiness to whole sex; more especially to the married portion, as they are certain to bring on the monthly period with regularity—and WHEREAS, these PILLS are purely vegetable and entirely free from mineral's, therefore perfectly harmless in their operations and wholly unlike other medicines, thereat upon the public, purporting to offer the objects already detailed. THEREFORE, BE IT KNOWN, that NOTHING but the said PILLS of Dr. CHESEMAN will accomplish the desired end. A woman who has once used and experienced under the regime of OTHER PILLS; and the ladies will cause this Proclamation to spread amongst their sex, to their own great benefit—the writer promising that said Proclamation in one case must be considered NULL and void; that is to say the Pills MUST NOT be taken when there is an INTERESTING situation, otherwise a MISCARRIAGE will be the inevitable result.

Explicit directions, to be carefully read, accompany each box. Price $1, sent by mail on enclosing $1 to Dr. Cornelius L. Cheeseman, Box No. 4,651, Post Office, New York City. Sold by Druggists in every town in the United States.

S. D. & H. W. Smith,
—MANUFACTURERS OF—
Melodeons, Organ Melodeons,
—and—
PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,
No. 511 Washington St., Boston.

The first premium over all competitors, at the Fair of the Mechanic Charitable Mechanic Association, of the National Fair, Washington, D. C., also at the Ohio State Fair, held at Columbus, Ohio, was awarded to these Manufacturers.

By means of a new method of Voicing, known only to themselves they have succeeded in removing the harsh and buzzing sound which formerly characterized the Melodeon, and producing the tones full, clear and organ like. The action is prompt and reliable, enabling the performer to execute the most rapid music without blurring the notes. The swell is arranged to give great expression.

THE PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

Are designed particularly for Churches, Lodges, Halls, &c. It is arranged with two manuals, or banks of Keys, the lower set running an octave higher than the other, and may be used separately, and thus get in one case two distinct instruments; or by means of couplers the two banks of keys may be played at the same time by use of the front set only. This connected with the Pedal bass, will produce the effect of a large organ, and is entirely heavy to fill a house that seats from 1000 to 1500 persons.

THE ORGAN MELODEON

Is designed for parlor and private use. The construction is similar to the Church Instrument, being arranged with two banks of Keys, and when used together, by means of the coupler, is capable of as great volume of power as the Church Instrument when used without the pedals. Also, every variety of Melodeons for Parlor use.

Purchasers may rely upon instruments from our Manufactory being made in the most complete and thorough manner. Having removed to the spacious Buildings

511 Washington Street,

We have every facility for manufacturing purposes, and employ none but the most experienced and skillful workmen. In short, we will promote our customers at all times, when it is not superior, to any Manufacturer, and guarantee an entire and perfect satisfaction.

Music Teachers, Leaders of Choirs, and others interested in musical matters, are respectfully invited to visit our Rooms at any time and examine or test the instruments on exhibition for sale at the lowest prices.

As a still further guarantee to the public as to the excellence of the MELODEONS from our Manufactory, we beg leave to refer, by permission, to the following:

Piano Forte Manufacturers of Boston, who have examined our Instruments, and will give their opinion when called upon:

Chickering & Sons, Hallet & Cumston,
T. Gilbert & Co., Wm. P. Emerson,
Brown & Allen, A. W. Ladd & Co.,
George Hewes, Woodward & Brown,
Newhall & Co.

MELODEONS RENTED.

Persons who wish to hire Melodeons with a view of purchasing at the end of the year, can have the rent credited as part payment on the purchase money. This matter is worthy of special note, as it enables those who desire a fair test of the instruments before purchasing, to obtain it at the cost price of the manufacturers, to the extent at least of a year's rent.

Orders from any part of the country or world, sent direct to the Manufactory in Boston, with cash, or satisfactory reference, will be promptly attended to, and as faithfully executed as if the parties were present, or employed an agent to select, and on as reasonable terms.

WIVES WANTED.—The Bachelors of Kansas Territory, publish the following communication in the Tecumseh (Kansas) Settler, and request Eastern papers to copy.

Wanted Immediately, a "right smart chance" of smart Yankee girls, to become wives of as many men in Kansas Territory. Said girls must understand the art of washing, ironing, cooking, and making home happy—even should that home prove an unhewed log-house, with one room (small at that.) It is desirable that they should understand the management of children,—or they must be, like the Irish girl, easy to teach.

Salary not very large for the first few years—not more than three or four calico gowns and a sun-bonnet. But after we get our land paid for, and some fencing and breaking done, we will build for you more pleasant houses, set out fruit trees, build arbors (for the children to play in,) set out grape vines, &c. Then we will go down the hill of life lovingly together; and we shall enjoy our good things all the better for having earned them.

What say you, girls? Had you not rather become loved and honored helpmates of us sons of toil, than retain the beauty of your white hands and become "old maids?"

For further particulars, come and see for yourselves. We will be found at our claims, keeping bach, and, if you will give us notice of your coming, we will sweep out, and bring in an extra chunk of wood for you to sit on.

TESTIMONY FROM THE BENCH.—The judges of England are now uniting in the most startling testimony against the liquor traffic. The following impressive passage is from a charge to the grand jury by the recorder of Hull, Samuel Warren, Esq. The same gentleman is more widely known as the author of "Ten Thousand a Year." In all that celebrated fiction there is no passage of such painful interest as the following statement of fact:

"Intemperance and ignorance were, he urged, the two mighty evils at the root of all other social evils." He continued as follows: "Would that a holy crusade would be so set on foot—a national movement—against these two inveterate foes of mankind! I was never heard to speak a syllable with levity or disrespect to the temperance movement, as it is called; for to me, the sight of a man, especially in humble life, who voluntarily abstains from a pleasure and excitement which he has found to lead him astray from virtue, peace and happiness, is very noble and affecting, as an act of self-denial, which must be acceptable to Almighty God. Gentlemen, to the best of my belief, no temperance man ever stood at the bar to receive judgment from this seat, in my time at least; while I tremble to express my belief, that seven out of individuals every ten who have done so, have been brought there by intoxicating liquor; I have talked with them afterward in prison, and they have owned it with tears of agony."—Prohibitionist.

U. S. FRIGATE CUMBERLAND IN A GALE.—The following extract of a letter from an officer on board the United States frigate Cumberland, at Maderia, is published in the Transcript:—

"On the 8th of March we encountered one of the most terrific gales with which this island has been visited it is said for fifty years. Being caught at anchor, we could not get to sea. Four vessels have been driven on the rocks and shore, some of them broken up in five minutes from the time of striking. The strength of the wind was bad enough, but not so terrific as the sea, which rolled in from the Atlantic into this open roadstead, and which made every timber quiver. We parted our chain and dragged two anchors to within a very short distance of the 'Loo Rock,' and for several hours we expected with utmost certainty to lose the ship and probably all hands, unless saved by a miracle. Every preparation was made to cut away the masts, and axes were in hand to accomplish it, for hours: had she dragged fifty fathoms more or have started with the last anchor at all, they would have gone.

The ship is much strained, all her head booms and sails carried away; one anchor and four large guns lost—the latter thrown over to ease the ship, which saved the masts if not the ship itself. We look like a wreck to-day. Our destruction was considered inevitable by those on shore, and notes of congratulation are coming in from many of the residents. Two men were washed overboard, but fortunately recovered, while several lives were lost from the merchant vessels near us. We saw four men killed from one vessel close to us."

Some of the Lecompton papers are attempting to cover their defeat, by saying that the House Kansas bill is not materially different from the Senate bill. If that be the case, what excuse can the Senate give that they do not agree at once and end the matter? It is not so! There is a nigger in the Senate wood pile, and the House will shake him out.—Newburyport Herald.

REMOVAL.
UNITED STATES AND FOREIGN
PATENT AGENCY.
SAMUEL COOPER,
Late Principal Examiner of Patents in the United States Patent Office, at Washington,
HAS REMOVED HIS OFFICE TO
WEBSTER BANK BUILDING,
13 EXCHANGE STREET, BOSTON.
PATENTS secured in the United States, and in all other patent granting countries. Specifications and drawings prepared. Caveats filed.—Reconsiderations procured, or applications that have been rejected upon imperfectly prepared papers. Interferences prosecuted. Reissues and extensions procured, and in general, business connected with the Patent Office transacted with care and promptness.
British and other foreign patents procured through prompt and confidential agents in London and Paris.
Persons residing at a distance may obtain all necessary information, and have their business transacted, by writing to the subscriber, without the trouble and expense of a visit to Washington.
He begs leave to refer those unacquainted with him to the following testimonials:—
From Hon. Chas. Mason, Commissioner of Patents.
U. S. PATENT OFFICE, Feb 23, 1855
I take great pleasure in stating that during the time I have been acting as Commissioner of Patents, Samuel Cooper, Esq., of Boston, has been engaged as Solicitor, and has been in that capacity in constant correspondence and intercourse with the office; he has evinced a thorough acquaintance with the Patent Law, and with the rules and practice of the office, a close attention to the interests of his clients, and a marked candor and courtesy that has rendered the transaction of business with him a pleasure. I have no hesitation in stating that I regard him as one of the very best agents for the transaction of business with this office with whom I am acquainted.
CHARLES MASON, Commissioner.
From the Examiners of the Patent Office.
The undersigned, Principal and Assistant Examiners in the United States Patent Office, have for several years been well acquainted with Mr. Samuel Cooper, late a principal Examiner in this office, and take pleasure in stating that he is a gentleman of the highest moral character and unquestioned knowledge in the business and practice of the office, and that his scientific attainments are such as eminently fit him for the business in which he is about to engage.
THOS. T. EVERETT, F. SOUTHGATE SMITH, WM. C. LANGDON. } Assistant Examiners.
From long acquaintance and intimate official relations with Mr. Cooper, I fully and heartily concur in the foregoing recommendation made by my late colleagues. W. P. N. FITZGERALD, Late Principal Examiner of Patents.

Coggswell's Medical Salt,
A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE
FOR THE
LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.
INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—has but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: SUBDUES INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. Is it asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a quill dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.
☞ Of its intrinsic value, the enlightened community, and not the discoverer, must be the judge.

Morning Chronicle.

THURSDAY, APRIL 8, 1858.

SPIRITUALISM—SKEPTICS.—Messrs. Editors:—In the Chronicle of April 3d, Candor has given us a short article under the above caption. Two or three things in this article are worthy of notice.

1. "The manifestations are so astounding and continuous, that none may doubt them." Now this announcement, standing alone, might do; as it could be understood to mean merely that there were manifestations of some kind. But Candor gives us a clue to his meaning by the question, Are they supernatural? His two propositions clinch the wonderful conclusion—1, "All who have passed away from earth have now a spiritual existence; to this we do not object. 2, "They can and do communicate with mortals;" from this we demur. This is merely assumed—we would like the proof.

2. Candor admits that some, calling themselves Spiritualists, have embraced great errors. But, he inquires, "has not that, all that, been true with those professing the religion of our ever-blessed redeemer?" We would ask, does the religion of our blessed redeemer contain such a conjuration of unimportant nonsense?

3. Candor gives "one word to spiritualists, give us the manifestations—they are better for working conviction than perhaps all other means." Now this is a very just conclusion. Manifestations? And what are they? Why—tipping, rapping, writing and speaking. Well, now, this is all very wonderful, but most people can do all this without supernatural aid.

But there are manifestations in this vicinity very much more telling than any or all of these together. And what are they? Why, it has been clearly manifested that husbands and wives have been badly joined; and a change, almost a revolution, has been effected within the last two years. Three cases in this town have been revealed and corrected; yes, three men and their wives separated. One, a powerful "speaking medium," left her own husband and a large family of needy children to take another woman's husband. Thus she "manifestly" broke up two families. These are all of the important manifestations that can be shown in this place.

We are very sorry that the Chronicle leans so favorably towards this greatest of all modern heresies. Nothing good can possibly come of it—much evil has already resulted. We wish to sustain temperance and truth, but we cannot consent to sustain a paper that abets Spiritualism, because we consider it destructive to good morals and domestic happiness. We hope to see no more of it. CANDOR, JR.

Winchester, N. H., April 5.

It Candor, Jr., will just give us his name, and tell us who the woman was that went off, leaving her children, we will be much obliged to him—and shall know how to answer him. But anonymous communications, purporting to state facts, are never reliable; and we should not publish this, were it not for its censure of ourselves.

Our correspondent must be one of those liberal people, who are entirely willing all should have freedom of opinion; "provided, always," their opinions agree with their own! Will Candor, Jr., please copy one sentence from our editorials, commending Spiritualism or any other theology?

STRIKE OF OPERATIVES.—A majority of the operatives of the Bartlett Mills, Newburyport, struck on Monday, in consequence of the wages of the weavers having been reduced a second time. The Herald reports that the corporation is willing to advance the pay of the weavers to the old rates as soon as the mills shall pay simple interest on the capital. The aggregate reduction being twenty per cent. from former prices.

The same paper says:—

The weavers of the James Mill struck for higher pay on Tuesday at noon. We did not hear that there was an immediate cause for the strike, and it probably grew out of sympathy. Immediately upon the weavers leaving, Mr. Wm. C. Balch, the agent, sent a written notice into all the rooms, that work upon the corporation would cease for an indefinite time.

We see no prospect of a speedy rise of wages,—but rather, that all such things will move slowly.

FAST DAY.—This is one of the old Puritan usages, which has been greatly dishonored of late years—though it is, and will be, kept to some extent. But this day, probably there will be good congregations in most of the churches which are open, and more attentive hearers than have been there on a fast day for the last fifteen years.

CONGRESS.—Tuesday, May 6.—In the Senate, the Kansas bill is still retained from the House at the request of Mr. Slidell to the Clerk, under pretence of wishing more reconsideration.

Mr. Stewart of Michigan, showed up this trick, making great sensation.

This is the first case of the kind ever known in the Senate.

Finally the matter was laid on the table without action. This answered the purpose of the administration men.

Some new trick is on the tapis.

HOUSE.—The House went into Committee on the Deficiency Appropriation Bill.

The debate was strictly confined to that bill. Whilst several showed the necessity of the passage of the bill, including the heavy items for the Utah expedition, others earnestly condemned the incurring of debts to be discharged by appropriations to supply deficiences.

Mr. Seward of Georgia, did not think there was any necessity for getting into difficulty with Brigham Young. The whole army operations were carried out on too magnificent a scale. He would have a law passed forbidding army officers coming here unless for special reasons. This is the central point from whence emanates all the science and all the extravagance.

Mr. Taylor of Louisiana said, nothing had occurred to justify the President in acting in such hot haste in sending the army to Utah.

Mr. Burnett of Kentucky, said there is a growing disposition on the part of the Executive Department to absorb the powers of the Legislative branch of the government, and it was time this was checked.

Mr. Tappan of New Hampshire, condemned appropriations for the Utah expedition, and would not endorse the executive usurpation of making war without the co-operation of Congress. He went into a calculation to show that the transportation of each barrel of flour from Fort Leavenworth to Utah cost $100. The committee then rose, and the House adjourned.

CONNECTICUT ELECTION.—Hartford, Apr. 6.—We have returns from all but 17 towns in the State. The Republicans have elected 130 representatives, and the Democrats 73. The Senate, it is believed, will stand 16 Republicans to 5 Democrats.

The vote for Governor in all but 17 towns give Buckingham, Republican, a plurality of 3100. His majority last year was about 550.

Last year Connecticut was the only doubtful New England State and the Republicans barely saved their state ticket. This year, Pratt, the democratic candidate, was declared by his friends to be a Douglas man, and if he had boldly taken that position we do not doubt he would have succeeded; but the convention nominating him passed Lecompton resolves, and when called upon to address that body he refused to commit himself, and the consequence is he has failed. The people repudiated the swindle.

The editor of the Kansas Herald of Freedom says in his last issue:—

"We wish the administration journals, which take pleasure in copying disjointed sentences and paragraphs from the Herald of Freedom, would have the kindness to copy some of our articles at length.—Should they do so, their readers would observe that we occupy a different position from that which they represent. The Lecompton Swindle, which they represent us as favoring, is equalled in moral depravity by no similar production in the world.—The people of Kansas, of all parties, loath and detest it; and if compelled to use it to institute a government of the people, they will do so under a protest, and will feel that they are passing through a sluiceway of filth to arrive at their honest position."

REVIVALS.—Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe says that she does not like the merely emotional religion, which seems to manifest itself in the conduct of a great many of the converts of the day. She regards these demonstrative exhibitions of religion as the result of impulse and excitement, and not likely to exert an abiding good influence upon the subject of conversion through life. She speaks of great revivals as no new thing; they have not been confined to Protestant churches, nor even to Christian countries; the Romish church has had them; old heathenism has had them; modern heathenism has them. One and all have had their trances, illuminations, and ecstasies. Those only, she says, are Christian revivals, which "make men like Christ;" and adds: "we say, therefore, to our friends, that the period of a great religious impulse has come; that there will be revivals all over the land, either false or true—either of a Christian or a heathen type; and by their fruits ye shall know them."

PORTLAND, April 6.—At our Municipal Election to-day, Jedediah Jewett, Republican, was elected Mayor by a majority of 218. Six Republican Aldermen and one Democrat were elected. The Republicans also elected seventeen of the Councilmen and the Democrats one—One vacancy.—The total vote for Mayor was: Jewitt, Republican, 1757; Shepley, Democratic, 1490; scattering 49. The vote last year stood: Willis, Republican, 1964; Cummings, Democrat, 1547. The Islands are not heard from yet, but they will not affect the result.

A Southern cotemporary asseverates that "the Lecompton Constitution is the corner stone of Democracy." The Chicago Journal says it is much more likely to become the tombstone of democracy.

WHY THE LECOMPTON BILL FAILED.—The Washington correspondent of the New York Journal of Commerce gives the following valid reasons why the Lecompton bill was not adopted in the House:—

The Lecompton bill failed in the House simply because the Administration was not quite strong enough to carry it. The Administration could not, it seems, command the votes even of four of the hesitating Democrats. The day of Jackson is gone by.- Denunciation does not go for much in these times. The Anti-Lecompton Democrats have been rendered the more decided in their opposition by the assaults which have been made upon them, through the recognized organs of the Administration.

I am sure that, though the anti-Lecompton men had perfected their arrangement, and were certain of the result, the Lecompton Democrats expected a victory. Mr. Stephens himself expected it, and had so expressed himself yesterday.

THE DEFICIENCY BILL.—Washington, Apr. 5.—Judging from present indications the Deficiency Appropriation Bill, embracing about $8,000,000 for the army, will be defeated in it present form. There is an increasing disposition in Congress to check further movements of the Utah expedition. The entire military force contemplated to be thrown into Utah, is about five thousand six hundred men.

Health of Senator Davis.—Senator Davis' physical condition has become more critical. He has lost the sight of one eye.

NEW YORK, April 7.—Washington News.—The two special Commissioners, Messrs. Powell and McCulloch, will leave in a few days for Fort Leavenworth, whence they will proceed with the reinforcements to Utah.

The Select Committee of the House on Printing intend to report a bill for a printing bureau.

Another murder was commited in Washington yesterday, two brothers, named Delvin, having killed a man named Berry, who had seduced their sister.

Ex-Judge Loring of Massachusetts, it is said, is appointed U. S. Sub-Treasurer of the port of Boston.

PORT STANLEY, C. W., April 4.—The propeller Forest City was burned here last night. It is supposed she was set on fire by an incendiary. She was insured only a few days ago.

NEW YORK, April 7.—The Tribune says the French commercial houses have ordered their correspondents in this country to remit in bills on London, instead of Paris, they having no confidence in the stability of Napoleon's government.

REDUCTION OF SALARY ASKED.—Rev. Theodore Parker has signified to his congregation that a reduction of his salary would not be disagreeable to him.—Last year the amount raised was from $1600 to $2500. At a meeting of the society over which he is settled, 4th inst., it was unanimously voted that there should be no diminution of the yearly stipend of their minister, and that his usual summer vacation should be extended one month.—Boston Trans.

VACCINATION WITH A MAGNETIZED NEEDLE. Prof. Roca states that since 1856, hundreds of children have been thus vaccinated, with scarcely any failures occurring. The point of the needle is well saturated with the magnetic fluid before practising the vaccinations, which are then performed in the usual manner, a single magnetization serving for many vaccinations. It is quite surprising to observe the rapidity with which the vaccine virus is absorbed, when the needle is thus prepared.—London Illustrated News, March 13.

A GOOD RESOLVE.—The "Volunteer" Fire Company, at Salisbury Point, have voted that they will not allow intoxicating liquors in their engine house—will not drink spirituous liquors themselves, nor offer them to others to drink.

God sometimes converts wickedness into madness, and it is to the credit of human reason that man who are not in some degree mad are never capable of being in the highest degree wicked. Those who are, seemed dragged by Providence to make their own madness, the discoverer of their own flagitious machinations.—Edmund Burke.

Blood's Seedling Grape Vines, For Sale.
TWO varieties of Blood's Seedling GRAPE Vines, which have been tested by the subscriber for 13 years, and found superior to any other cultivated in the open air in this part of the country. This fruit is larger than the Isabella, and ripens in our climate about 5 weeks earlier. For several successive years it has been fully ripe the first week in September, and thus has escaped the early frosts which have in some seasons, cut off the Isabel's and other varieties.

"RUM DID IT."

Messrs. Editors:—When, about one year ago, in a low groggery in this city, a man in a drunken scuffle was accidentally killed, the verdict, "rum did it," was rendered by every reflecting mind, wherever the circumstances were known. When, later, a stranger, in a dark, stormy night was murdered, robbed, and thrown into the river, the same verdict was given. Now, when on one of those beautiful, calm, Sabbath evenings in early spring, which we so much love, and which smile down upon us the infinite love of our common Father, and are so well calculated to make us realize his care, and stir up better impulses and higher aspirations in our souls, we hear, instead, the murderous report, and seeking to know the cause, find a woman murdered at the door of her own house, we are again told, "rum did it."

Is this enough, or shall the sickening catalogue be extended? Do we not see in these crimes the retributive justice of God? Or shall we cry out there is no danger, and slumber on till a worse thing overtake us?

Does any one suppose that the unfortunate man who is now confined, would have been capable of committing such a deed, had it not been for drink? Brothers who handle this tempter that leads your companions and your friends to do such deeds, do you feel safe in allowing it in the least to obtain control over you? Do you not shudder when you realize that you might have been in his place? would he have believed, or you either, two weeks ago, that he could have been thus guilty? Temperance men, are you safe, your wives and families? may not rum get control of your best friend, and shoot down your wife or yourself? And who shall be the next victim of this insatiate monster; Can you answer that? Do we dare hope that this shall be the last judgment sent upon us if we heed not its warning? We are slaves. Shame to us that it is so, bound by this insulting tyrant in galling chains. Afraid to put this murderer from our midst, and thus submit to have women murdered at our very doors, and only thankful that it is no worse! Ministers, can you sleep till you have endeavored to stir up the people to reflection on this matter?

You know that with the united effort of all the churches in this place against it, rum would not be tolerated here a single week. Action is what is needed; we have had timid irresolution long enough. Shall we dare to take the life of, as we now imprison this man, and never say a word or make an effort to stay the onward march of that power to which he is a victim? The evil should be met by a bold determined front, armed with the majesty of the law. Which is better, to cravenly wait till we or our friends are killed, or to die striving to remove that which makes brutes and worse than brutes of those whom God made our brother men? I have heard the question asked, "which is most guilty, this man, or those who sold him liquor?" But I will ask, which is most to blame, this our unfortunate brother, or those who, realizing the danger and foreseeing the consequences, have, after repeated warnings of similar kind neglected to remove this temptation and that of a thousand others beyond their reach? Let us no longer be thus culpable; let us take warning now, and banish that which does no good, and is the agent of much evil, from our midst. Ours is too fair a city to be reeking with rum. The blessings of Heaven rest too thickly upon us, that this evil should be allowed to steal away all appreciation of them, and fill our hearts with sorrow, weeping and shame. Two families broken up in one short hour, and a lasting curse entailed upon innocent children; and—rum did it.

SENECA.

A STUMBLING BLOCKS.—Messrs. Editors: In the brick sidewalk in Vaughan street, not far from Congress street, there is something like an iron trap-door, leading to I know not what subterranean abode. But there is a part of it above ground, forming an obstacle against which many passengers damage their shoes, lose their patience, sometimes speak unadvisedly with their lips. Will the proper authority please to make it level, and much oblige

OLD SQUARE TOES.

☞ As the Chroniclers will keep Fast to-day, at least in so far as to refrain from our usual daily duties,—no Daily Chronicle will be issued on Friday morning. The Weekly Chronicle will be printed on Friday, as usual.

☞ The New House of Worship lately erected by the Freewill Baptist Society in this city, will be dedicated this day; public services to commence at 2 o'clock. Ministers of the city are respectfully invited to attend.

☞ The Granite State Bards—the Portsmouth Bards—give a concert at the Temple to-night. Everybody who has heard them sing (and everybody here has) knows they can sing finely; and all who read their programme—who know anything about programmes—will pronounce it a good one. With tickets at so low a price, the hall ought to be filled.

The lady singer announced to take part with the Bards, will no doubt add much to the interest of the entertainment—as she comes highly recommended, and is known to many of our citizens as a fine singer.

ENGINE COMPANIES.—The annual election of officers of some of the companies occured on Monday evening.

Laconia, No. 2.—William B. Grogan, Foreman; Charles H. Mason, Second Foreman; Joseph H. Gardiner, Clerk; Job Woodsum, Pipeman.

Gov. Langdon, No. 3.—William Cornelius, Foreman; William C. Hidden, Second Foreman; Rufus K. Oxford, Clerk; Robert Smart, Pipeman.

A MONSTER LEMON.—In the window of Mr. N. P. Thacher's apothecary establishment, corner of Market street, may be seen a very large and handsome Lemon—the like of which we never saw before.—Its circumference is 11 inches, length 6 inches, diameter 3¼ inches, weight 14½ ounces. A handsome display of Oranges, and of other Lemons, is also made here—and though we presume Mr. Thacher would hardly like to contract to match this Lemon often, yet he always keeps a good supply of fruits of this sort, of the best qualities.

MEETINGS THIS EVENING, &c.

Meeting for Prayer and Conference, in the Chapel of the Middle Street Church, this evening, at half past 7 o'clock.

The Class meetings of the Methodist Church will assemble at half past 7 o'clock this evening.

There will be services in the Temple at 10 A. M.

Prayer Meeting in the Methodist Vestry on Friday evening at 7 o'clock.

Prayer Meeting in the Fleet street Vestry, on Friday evening.

Young Men's Prayer Meeting at the Brick Vestry in Fleet street, this (Fast Day) afternoon, at 2 o'clock, to which all the young men in the city are invited.

We have good authority for stating, in reply to numerous inquiries, that the rumor that all the bachelor editors are to be married to-day, is an exaggeration.—Ballot.

"So say we, 'all' of us."

The Old Rochester Nurseries.

ROCHESTER, N. Y.

THE subscriber having been appointed Agent for this old, long-established and favorably known Nursery, respectfully solicits orders for FRUIT AND ORNAMENTAL TREES, FLOWERING SHRUBS, &c., which will be delivered to the purchaser at the Catalogue prices free of charge.
The Proprietor in presenting his Catalogue for 1858 to the public, remarks that they will find it an exact inventory of what he has to offer: the height of the trees, their age, and that everything will not only be found true to its kind, but of the most perfect quality. The climate where these Nurseries are located is the same as that of New Hampshire, rendering it certain that trees transplanted here, will flourish as well as there.
Great care will be taken in packing, rendering the Trees perfectly safe for thousands of miles of transit.
☞ Catalogues, together with "brief instruction" for Orchard, Planting, and Culture of Fruits, with hints for the selection of Trees, may be had of the Agent. G. N. CARLETON,

IMMORTELLES.

IMMORTALITY.

A voice within us speaks that startling word,
"Man thou shalt never die!" Celestial voices
Hymn it unto our souls; according harps,
By angel fingers touched when the mild stars
Of morning sing together, sound forth still
The song of our great immortality:
Thick clustering orbs, and this our fair domain,
The tall dark mountains, and the deep toned seas,
Join in this solemn, universal song.
O, listen, ye our spirits; drink it in
From all the air! 'Tis in the gentle moonlight;
'Tis floating 'midst day's setting glories; Night,
Wrapped in her sable robe with silent step
Comes to our bed, and breathes it in our ears;
Night, and the dawn, bright day and thoughtful eve,
All time, all bounds, the limitless expanse,
As one vast mystic instrument, are touched
By unseen, living Hand, and conscious chords
Quiver with joy in their great jubilee.
The dying hear it, and as sounds of earth
Grow dull and distant, wake their passing souls
To mingle in this heavenly harmony.—[Dana.

THE STARS.

Tell me, ye splendid orbs! as from your throne,
Ye mark the rolling powers that govern man,
Your sway—what beings fill those bright abodes?
How formed, how gifted? what their powers, their state,
Their happiness, their wisdom? Do they bear
The stamp of human nature? Or has God
Peopled those shrines round with lower forms
And more celestial minds? Does innocence
Still wear her native and untainted bloom?
Or has Sin breathed his deadly blight abroad,
And sowed corruption in those fairy bowers?
Has War trod o'er them with his foot of fire?
And Slavery forged his chains; and Wrath, and Hate,
And sordid Selfishness, and cruel Lust,
Leagued their base hands to tread out light and truth,
And scatter wo where Heaven had planted joy?
—[Ware.

The following remedies are offered to the public as the best, most perfect, which medical science can afford. AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS have been prepared with the utmost skill which the medical profession of this age possesses, and their effects show they have virtues which surpass any combination of medicines hitherto known. Other preparations do more or less good; but this cures such dangerous complaints, so quick and so surely, as to prove an efficacy and a power to uproot disease beyond any thing which man has known before. By removing the obstructions of the internal organs and stimulating them into healthy action, they renovate the fountains of life and vigor,—health courses anew through the body, and the sick man is well again. They are adapted to all ages and all diseases only, if taken by one in health they produce but little effect. This is the perfection of medicine. It is antagonistic to disease, and no more. Tender children may take them with impunity. If they are sick they will cure them, if they are well they will not hurt them.

Give them to some patient who has been prostrated with bilious complaint: see his bent-up, tottering form straighten with strength again; see his long-lost appetite return; see his clammy features bloom into health. Give them to some sufferer whose foul blood has burst out in scrofula till his skin is covered with sores; who stands, or sits, or lies in anguish. He has been drenched inside and out with every potion which ingenuity could suggest. Give him these PILLS, and mark the effect; see the scabs fall from his face and see the new, fair skin that has grown under them; see the late leper that is clean. Give them to him whose angry humors have planted rheumatism in his joints and bones; move him, and he screeches with pain; he has tried everything which man could devise; his body sick with liniments and salves; give him these PILLS to purify his blood; they may not cure him, for, alas! there are cases which no mortal power can reach; but mark, he walks with crutches now, and now he walks alone; they have cured him. Give them to the lean, sour, hard dyspeptic, whose gnawing stomach has long ago eaten every smile from his face and every muscle from his body. See his appetite return, and with it his health; see the new man. See her that was radiant with health and loveliness blighted and too early withering away; want of exercise or mental anguish, or some lurking disease, has deranged the internal organs of digestion, assimilation or secretion, till they do their office ill. Her blood is vitiated, her health is gone. Give to her these PILLS; they eradicate the vital principle into renewed vigor, to cast out the obstructions, and infuse a new vitality into the blood. Now look again—the roses blossom on her cheek, and where lately sorrow sat joy bursts from every feature. See the sweet infant wasted with worms. Its wan, sickly features show it suffers; its restless sleepings, tell the dreadful truth in language which every mother knows. Give it the PILLS in large doses to sweep these worms from its system forever. Now turn again and see the ruddy bloom of childhood. Is it nothing to do these things? Nay, are they not the marvel of this age? And yet they are done around you every day.

Have you the less serious symptoms of these distresses? They are the easier cured. Jaundice, Costiveness, Headache, Sideache, Heartburn, Foul Stomach, Nausea, Pain in the Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, King's Evil, Neuralgia, Gout, and kindred complaints all arise from the derangements which these PILLS remove. Take them perseveringly, and under the counsel of a good Physician if you can; if not, take them judiciously by such advice as we give you, and the distressing, dangerous diseases they cure, which afflict so many millions of the human race, would sink like the Giants of old—they must burn in the brutes and in the sea. Price 25 cents per box—5 boxes for $1.

Through a trial of many years and through every nation of civilized men, AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has been found to afford more relief and to cure more cases of pulmonary disease than any other remedy known to mankind. Cases of apparently settled consumption have been cured by it, and thousands of sufferers who were deemed beyond the reach of human aid have been restored to their friends and to full health and to all the enjoyments of life, by this all-powerful antidote to disease of the lungs and throat. Here a cold had settled on the lungs. The dry, hacking cough, the glassy eye, and the pale, thin features of him who was lately hearty and rosy whisper to all him Consumption. He tries every thing; but the disease is gnawing at his vitals, and shows its fatal symptoms more and more over all his frame. He is taking the CHERRY PECTORAL now; it has stopped his cough and made his breathing easy; his sleep is sound at night; his appetite returns, and with it his strength. The dart which pierced his side is broken. Scarcely any neighborhood can be found which has not some living trophy like this to shadow forth the virtues which have won for the CHERRY PECTORAL an imperishable renown. But its usefulness does not end here. Nay, it accomplishes more by prevention than cure. The countless colds and coughs which it cures are the seed which would have ripened into a dreadful harvest of incurable diseases. Bronchitis, Croup, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Pleurisy, Whooping Cough, and all irritations of the throat and lungs are easily cured by the CHERRY PECTORAL if taken in season. Every family should have it by them, and they will find it an invaluable protection from the insidious approach which creeps on unperceived from many a flock, the darling lamb from many a home.

Authenticated evidence of these facts, with directions for the treatment of each complaint, may be found in AYER'S AMERICAN ALMANAC, of which we publish a new edition every year, and scatter them broadcast over the earth, in order that the sick every where may have before them the information it contains. Druggists and dealers in medicine generally have them for distribution gratis, and can give for sale these remedies, prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER, Practical and Analytical Chemist, Lowell, Mass.

MOSES & DOWNIE,

SOLE Agents for the above Goods, have on hand a large Stock of the same, suitable for shore and sea wear

These fabrics, since their first introduction to the public, (almost three years since,) have been fully tested, and the result has proved them to possess all the qualities requisite to make a perfect article. They have sent hundreds of testimonials from gentlemen in the navy and merchant service, which they would be pleased to show any one who would favor them with a call. They have been supplying some of the officers of the Falmouth, who have tested the Rubber goods, and found them unfit for sea service.

THE RESTORATIVE OF Prof. O. J. WOOD is for restoring hair perfectly and permanently, has never yet had a trial. Volumes after volumes might be given from all parts of the world and from the most intelligent to prove that it is a perfect Restorative; but read the circular and you cannot doubt; read also the following.

THE HAIR.—People have for centuries been afflicted with bald heads, and the wig remedy, heretofore known, has been those abominable wigs. By a recent discovery of Professor Wood these articles are being last dispensed with, but a great many persons still patronize them, because they have been so often imposed upon by Hair Tonics of different kinds. To all such persons we earnestly make the request that they will try Wood's Restorative; there is no such thing as bald. We know of a lady who was bald, who used the article a short time, and her head is covered completely with the finest and most beautiful curls imaginable. We know of numerous cases where hair was rapidly falling out, which it restored in greater perfection than it ever had been before.

It is also without doubt one of the best articles for keeping the hair in good condition, making it soft and glossy, removing dandruff, and has proved itself the greatest enemy to all the ills that hair is heir to.

It is the duty of every one to improve their personal appearance though some may differ in regard to the ways of doing it; but every one will admit that a beautiful head of hair, either in man or woman, is an object much to be desired, and there are no means that should be left untried to obtain such a consideration.—Woman's Advocate, Philadelphia.

COCHECTON, Ohio, Nov. 17, 1856.

O. J. Wood & Co.—Gents: As I have been engaged in selling your Restorative, I feel it my duty to inform you of your local agents (R. M. Hackinson,) and having experienced the beneficial effects of it myself, I would like to obtain an agency for the sale of Ohio and adjoining states, and should you wish to make such an arrangement, as I am convinced there is nothing equal to it in the United States, for restoring the hair, I can do well by it.

Prepared Hair Dye business for several years, and have sold various preparations for the hair, but have found nothing that restores the secretive organs or brings out a new growth of numbers to my mind, that your restorative is what you represent it to be, I would like to engage in the sale of it, for I am satisfied it must sell.

Yours truly, S. T. STOCKMAN.

WAYLAND, Mass., Feb. 5, 1857.

Prof. O. J. Wood & Co.—Gentlemen: Having realized the good effects of your Hair Restorative, I wish to state, that finding my hair growing thin, as well as gray, I was induced from what I read and heard, to try the article prepared by you, to promote its growth and change its color as it was in youth, both of which it has effected completely. In the operation I have used nearly 3 bottles.

Yours &c., JAMES FRANCIS.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Managers would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2 50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There are no complicated numbers to puzzle the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $70,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers

The Prizes are all in money, and are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to. will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. S. D. & H. W. Smith,
—MANUFACTURERS OF—
Melodeons, Organ Melodeons,
—and—
PEDAL BASS MELODEONS.
No. 511 Washington St., Boston.

The first premium over all competitors, at the Fair of the Mass. Charitable Mechanic Association, of the National Fair, Washington, D. C., also at the Ohio State Fair, held at Columbus, Ohio, was awarded to these Manufacturers.

By means of a new method of Voicing, known only to themselves, they have succeeded in removing the harsh, buzzing sound which formerly characterized the instrument, and rendering the tones full, clear and organ like. The action is prompt and reliable, enabling the performer to execute the most difficult music without blurring the tones. The swell is arranged to give great expression.

THE PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

Are designed particularly for Churches, Lodges, Halls, &c. It is arranged with two manuals, or banks of Keys, the lower set running an octave higher than the other, and may be used separately, and thus obtain one case of two distinct instruments; or by use of the coupler, the two banks of keys may be played at the same time by use of the front set only. This connection is also used to produce the effect of a large organ, and is sufficiently heavy to fill a house that seats from 1000 to 1500 persons.

THE ORGAN MELODEON

is designed for parlor and private use. The innovation in this instrument is the Organ Bellows, being arranged with two banks of Keys, and when used together, by means of the coupler, is capable of a great volume of power like the Church Instrument when used without the pedals. Also, every variety of MELODEONS for Parlor use.

Purchasers may rely upon instruments from our Manufactory, being made in the most complete and thorough manner. Having removed to the spacious Buildings

511 Washington Street,

We have every facility for manufacturing purposes, and employ none but the most experienced workmen in our business. In short, we will promise our customers an Instrument equal, if not superior, to any Manufacturer, and guarantee an entire and perfect satisfaction.

Music Teachers, Leaders of Choirs, and others interested in musical matters, are respectfully invited to visit our Rooms at any time and examine other competitor's instruments on exhibition for sale at their pleasure.

As a still further guarantee to the public as to the excellence of the MELODEONS from our Manufactory, we have leave to refer, by permission, to the following

Piano Forte Manufacturers of Boston, who have examined our Instruments, and will give their opinion when called upon:

Chickering & Sons, Hallett & Cumston,
T. Gilbert & Co., Wm. P. Emerson,
Brown & Allen, J. W. Ladd & Co.,
George Hewes, Woodward & Brown,
Newhall & Co.

MELODEONS RENTED.

Persons who wish to hire Melodeons with a view of purchasing, have the privilege of so doing, have the rent credited as part payment of the purchase money. This matter is worthy of special note, as it enables those who desire a fair test of the instruments before purchasing, to obtain it at the expense of the manufacturers, to the extent at least of a year's rent.

Orders from any part of the country or world, sent direct to the manufactory in Boston, with cash, or satisfactory reference, will be promptly attended to, and as faithfully executed as if the purchaser were present, or employed an agent to select, and on as reasonable terms.

AN INTEREST PROBLEM.—The following problem, although seemingly simple, has puzzled some of our best accountants. We give the problem and correct answer, leaving it to our readers to cypher out the manner in which the result is attained:

"A, residing in Illinois, holds the promissory note of B. of Boston, bearing date six months ago, and payable one year from date for $750 and interest. A. writes B., saying if you will pay me this note now, I will allow you at the rate of 12 per cent. a year for the time this note has yet to run. B. wishes to know what sum he must remit to cancel the note?"

The answer is $726.75.—Boston Journal.

Messrs. Editors:—The above answer is not correct; will you therefore please publish the following.

The correct answer to the problem which appeared in the Boston Journal of April 3d, is $726.45.8 76-103, and is obtained as follows:—At the end of 12 months and grace, the note would be worth $795.37½, and the present worth of this amount, due in 6 months and grace, is $772.20.8 76-103. The note has now to run six months and three days, for which A. offers to allow double interest on the face of the note, $750, which is $45.75. $772.20.8 76-103, minus 45.75, leaves $726.45.8 76-103, the answer.

The first six months the note had only earned $22.20.8 76-103, not $22.50; because $22.50 was not due at the end of the first six months, but would have been due at the end of 12 months and grace.

The answer given with the question was obtained by supposing the note had earned the first 6 months $22.50, plus $750 gives 772.50, minus $45.75, leaves $726.75, the answer given in the Journal. C. S.

A CHURCH ON HORSEBACK.—The Boston Transcript tells us that—

Mr. Perring, the English tenor, has been added to the choir of the Cavalry Church, New York, (the Rev. Dr. Hawks's).

We suppose the Calvary Church is meant.

This little error reminds us that we see notices in some papers of Putman's Monthly, and often see Putman given as a name, though no family on this earth ever had such a name. The name is Putnam.

The New York Evening Post says:—

A rather illiterate clergyman was preaching in a parish, the head deacon of which rejoiced in the name of Varnum. After the conclusion of his sermon, he read a notice that a meeting would be held the next Friday evening (D. V.) at 7 1-2 o'clock. In explanation of the cabalistic initials he said: "My brethren, you will see that the meeting is to be held D. V., which I presume means at Deacon Varnum's."

D. V.—A contraction of Deo Volente, i. e. God Willing.

A JAILER'S WIFE.—At Watertown, N. Y., on Sunday morning last, three prisoners, by feigning sickness, got the jailer, Mr. Barker, in their power, gagged and bound him, and locked him in a cell.—This done they robbed him of his money and the keys of the prison, and were calmly taking their leave, when they were "brought up all standing" by beholding the jailer's little wife pointing at them through a railing, a loaded revolver, and calmly informing them that she would put a bullet through the first man who attempted to come forward. A parley ensued in which the prisoners threatened to kill her husband if she did not let them pass out, but she avowed her determination to fire upon them the moment one attempted to pass the door, and held them at bay for about half an hour, when help arrived, and they were driven back to their cells.—Traveller.

STATE REFORM SCHOOL.—A Manchester correspondent of the Traveller says:—

The Reform school is rapidly approaching a state of completion, and will be opened with appropriate exercises on the 5th of May. Thomas M. Edwards, Esq., of Keene, will deliver an address, and an original ode is to be written for the occasion by William Stark, Esq. Appropriate music will be furnished by Mr. Geo. W. Stratton. I am informed by the Treasurer and chairman of the Commissioners, Hon. F. Smyth, that many of the distinguished official and other gentlemen of the State will be present, and that this humane and benevolent institution will be opened with all the notice which its praiseworthy object deserves.

☞ Joseph H. Martin alias Wixter, has been arrested in Philadelphia for wife abandonment and polygamy. Joseph has been living in Philadelphia some five years, is about forty-five years old, and, it is alleged, has a wife and five children in Chicopee, Mass., whom he has deserted.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston,
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remmitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immesurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
"From the present Commissioner.
August 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

Coggswell's Medical Salt,
A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE
FOR THE
LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.
INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—has but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: SUBDUE INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. Is it asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a quill dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.

DEDICATION.—The Foxcroft Baptist Meeting House, on the north-east corner of Pearl street, in front of the Steam Factory, was dedicated on Fast Day afternoon. It is a neat house of wood, which will seat 350 persons. It has been built in the last four months, at an expense of $2500. The house is sufficiently elevated to allow of a vestry or school room beneath. The Society has for some years occupied the old South Church, and is under the pastoral care of Rev. S. W. Perkins.

The services were commenced with the anthem "I was glad," and interspersed with suitable hymns. Invocation, by Rev. Mr. Hall, of the Methodist Church; Reading Select Scriptures, by Rev. Dr. Lamson, of the Baptist Church; Prayer, by Rev. Mr. Rogers, of Stratham; Sermon, by Rev. Mr. Caverno, of Dover; Dedicatory Prayer, by Rev. Mr. Rand, of Amesbury; Address to Church and Society, by Rev. Mr. Whiting, of the North Church; Hymns were read by Rev. Messrs. Peabody and Holmes; Benediction by the Pastor, Rev. Mr. Perkins.

The Society, which is of limited means, are grateful for the liberal aid they have received from several sources, and hope yet to have that further assistance which will give them their house unencumbered by debt.

BAPTISM OF NINETY-SEVEN PERSONS.—Newburyport, April 5.—The ordinance of baptism, by immersion was administered yesterday (Sunday, at Newburyport, by Rev. Daniel P. Pike, to ninety-seven persons. The occasion was one of great interest, and attracted an immense concourse of people, variously estimated from five to ten thousand. Large numbers were present from the neighboring towns, and hundreds of teams of all descriptions might be counted in the vicinity of the landing. The people began to collect before 12 o'clock, and at the hour of commencement (2 o'clock) every available spot and every building surrounding the locality, where a view could possibly be had, was crowded with people. The landing was completely blockaded with boats crowded with persons. Notwithstanding the crowd, good order prevailed throughout, and all seemed to be deeply impressed with the solemnity of the occasion.

The first one baptized was a lame person, a young man, who was taken from a boat. Then followed males and females, in groups. In the first were thirteen; five groups of fourteen each, and the seventh thirteen. The age of the youngest person was sixteen, and the eldest sixty. In one group there were three sisters, a brother and his wife; in another three brothers and their wives; and in another a brother and two sisters. The last was a group of young men, among them the pastor's son. The number of males baptized was forty-four and of females fifty-three. Of the number who received the right hand of fellowship sixty-four were heads of families. The time occupied less than one hour and a quarter.

At 4½ o'clock the recognition services took place at the Unitarian church on Pleasant street, which was kindly granted by that Society for the purpose. The house was crowded to overflowing and the services were of a very impressive character. The right hand of fellowship was extended to one hundred and seven persons, ten of whom were formerly baptized. The males were first called—each individual by name—and as the right hand of fellowship was extended, the pastor in a very feeling manner, alluded to each in language applicable to their own cases, and presented each one with a certificate. The Bible was then presented to them as their creed, as the exponent of a living, practical religion. It was held up to them as the only true gospel which was to guide them through life. The services at the church occupied an hour and a half.

THE COFFEE SWINDLE.

A Swindling Coffee Company has just been detected in New York. "Oliphant, Bartlett & Co." of 206 Broadway, had by means of circulars induced country merchants to become agents for the sale of their coffee, duping many of them into the payment of about $20 each in advance. The swindlers, it is believed, realized $30,000 in a few weeks. One of them, named Phillips, has been arrested, and Mayor Tiemann has seized many letters addressed to the firm.

We have seen one of these circulars, addressed to Messrs. Wm. Simes & Co. of this city, dated Feb. 17.

The coffee is stated to be pure, rich and excelling in flavor any in the market—Prime No. 1 costs 6 cents per lb., No. 2, 8 cents, and No. 3, 10 cents.

15,000 circulars were addressed to dealers throughout the country, to whom specimen samples of 200 lbs. would be forwarded on the receipt of $18. On all purchases afterwards made, 8 months credit would be given.

To a note of inquiry made them, without making any remittance, however, the following reply was made:

NEW YORK, Feb. 25, 1858.

Messrs. Wm. Simes & Co.—Gents.—Your favor is at hand, in reply, our Mr. Oliphant is on his way here from the West Indies, and expected in a few days, when we shall forward terms with all particulars, he having made very extensive arrangements on the plantations.

Respectfully yours, &c.,
OLLIPHANT, BARTLETT & CO.

Answers had begun to pour in at the rate of nearly a hundred a day, when the scheme was cut short by the officers. The clerk, Mr. Phillips, when arrested at the Post Office by Sergeant Berney and Officer Dubois, had in his possession about 60 letters that he had just taken from the letter box, many of them being registered letters, and all doubtless containing money. These were handed over to the Mayor, who has them now in charge.

The "extensive warehouse" at No. 206 Broadway, consisted of a single, small room, furnished with two small desks and a couple of chairs, no other furniture of any description being visible to the naked eye.

The huge stock of coffee, from which those fifteen thousand merchants were to be supplied, consisted of precisely three pounds. One pound of each of the three sorts of coffee, was all that was found, and Mr. Phillips says that for the three weeks he has been there these identical packages have done duty, and that this is all the coffee the Company have ever had.

He states that although it was but four or five weeks since the first of these circulars were sent, the amount received had been for the past week or two, about $1,000 per day.

The next new state after Minnesota and Kansas are fairly let in to Uncle Sam's family, will perhaps be Ontonagon, which now comprises the part of Michigan and Wisconsin between lakes Superior and Michigan. It is separated from both parent states by natural barriers and can have no local interests in common with them. The great copper region situated in this tract has already drawn in a population of 100,000, and the lumber trade will soon double the number if properly conducted. Clear the way for Ontonagon!

For the Chronicle.

MEXICO, CUBA, CENTRAL AMERICA.

It is very surprising that any enlightened citizen of our free States should advocate the extension of the limits of this republic. Have we not now territory enough for a population of three or four hundred millions? Are not our present boundaries too extensive for a republic? And is not a large portion of our Southern population through ignorance and for other reasons, unsuited for free institutions? Before we advocate an enlargement of the empire, let us consider whether we can long hold together what we already have. The extension advocates reproach the North for having opposed the purchase of Louisiana.—We admit that it has been beneficial, giving us the free navigation of the Mississippi; but we must not forget that the measure was unconstitutional. It remains to be proved whether all our other acquisitions will be beneficial. The history of the world shows that the most extensive empires have fallen to pieces by their own weight. Whether our nation will be an exception to the general rule, the future will determine.

But if the maxim of the founders of our government can be relied on—viz: That the general diffusion of knowledge and virtuous principles are the essential supports of our institutions, then it is certain that the acquisition of Mexico, Cuba and Central America would tend to the subversion of our self-government system. The peoples of the countries referred to are so grossly ignorant, depraved, indolent, and superstitious that they are wholly incapable of self-government. This is perfectly clear. The consequence of their annexation would be, that they could be governed only by standing armies among them, and at a vast expense. This would be contrary to the genius of our institutions; nor could we thereby derive any benefit. The peoples referred to, are but semi-civilized. Before we attempt to civilize them, let us use all the means in our power to civilize and christianize many millions, of different races now within our borders. Far better would it be for this country to engage in war to prevent their annexation, than to acquire their domain by the sword, or peacefully by purchase.

Their annexation would be the consumation of the Southern project of secession from the free States. The sceptre of power is now passing from the hands of the oligarchy. They are firmly resolved, at all hazards, to regain it, as they certainly would by extending the empire Southward. They reason correctly that their peculiar institution is unsafe, unless they can rule the nation. Hence their projects in respect to Mexico, Cuba, Central America, and perhaps still further South. But the extensionists say that were these countries annexed, our vigorous, enterprising North men would emigrate there and ultimately civilize the heathen, degraded population. Even could such be the result, the Southern gain would be the Northern loss. But in those warm climes, where the earth produces its fruits with little labor, the nations will ever be indolent. And indolence is the prolific mother of many vices. Numerous strong reasons may be assigned against adding these countries to our Union. Should so disastrous an event ever take place, our Republican glory would soon fade away.

VERSUM SATIS.

☞ Some people are fond of telling great stories. Such an one sent a description of the revival in New Ipswich, N. H., to a Boston paper. But a gentleman at New Ipswich informs the Manchester American that the story "is a misrepresentation." It was sent forth by some one who is an enemy to religion, and wished to make sport of it; and also an enemy to the Academy, and would like to have it seem that the students "were profane and profligate."

The facts are, that an extensive revival is in progress in that town, and perhaps some forty or fifty conversions have occurred, fifteen or twenty of which have been in the Academy. The students hold prayer meetings daily at 1 o'clock P. M., and the prospect is that there will be a still greater work. But no students have been "notoriously profane and profligate," and no follower of Voltaire has sought religion.

WHOLESALE CLOTHING HOUSE.—The attention of the dealers in Ready-made Clothing and Gentlemen's Furnishing Goods, is particularly invited to the advertisement of Messrs. Whiting, Galloupe, Bliss & Co., Boston, in to-day's paper. This is one of the oldest houses in Boston,—they sell at wholesale only,—and offer unusual inducements to purchasers.

CONGRESS.

WEDNESDAY, April 7.

The House went into Committee on the Deficiency Appropriation bill.

Mr. Letcher of Va., said the Committee on Ways and Means were placed in an embarrassing position. They had been fired on from the Democratic side of the House.

Some Democrats were against all of the provisions of the bill, and others were against particular provisions, but all seemed to concur in the conclusion that unless the bill, in its every provision, can be made acceptable to them, they are prepared to vote it down, and leave the government without the means of carrying out the policy which it has inaugurated.

Mr. Letcher is right in saying they are embarrassed. If an administration is out short of Ways and Means, by the House of Commons, or Representatives, it is as good as dead.

In the Senate the Minnesota bill was then taken up. It is very brief, consisting of a preamble and two sections, admitting Minnesota as a State, and allowing her two Representatives.

The amendments were concurred in, and the bill read a third time.

Mr. Wilson of Mass., called for the yeas and nays, on the passage of the bill.

Previous to the calling of the roll, Messrs. Bell, Houston, Brown, Johnson of Tenn., Crittenden, Stuart and Wilson made brief remarks on the clause in the Constitution permitting aliens to vote.

The final vote, that the bill pass, was—yeas 48, nays 3.

Nays—Messrs. Clay, Kennedy, and Yulee.

Absent—Messrs. Bates, Bayard, Benjamin, Davis, Fessenden, Foot, Henderson, Iverson, Pearce, Reid, and Thompson of Ky.

The Senate then went into executive session, and, on the opening of the doors again, Adjourned.

The proceedings in the House, on Thursday, April 8, were very important. One item was the rejection of the Deficiency Bill; and another the adhering to the vote of the House against the Lecompton swindle. The Traveller dispatch gives the following brief statements:

Deficiency Bill rejected—yeas one hundred and six, nays one hundred and twenty-four in the House. Cobb was on the floor of the House button-holing shaky membes.

The Lecompton Kansas bill is again before the House.

Mr. Montgomery of Pennsylvania, anti-Lecompton, moved to adhere, and called the previous question.

The call was sustained by 118 in favor.

Mr. Marshal of Kentucky paired off with Mr. Bowie of Maryland.

Mr Marshall said that if he had voted, it would have been in the affirmative.

The House voted to adhere—yeas 119, nays 111. Anti-Lecompton majority 8.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.

The vote in the House on adhering to its substitute for the Kansas bill, is the same as that of a week ago, on its adoption, with the exception that Marshal and Bowie did not vote, having paired off. Mr. Campbell, of Ohio, was a prominent agent in bringing together and cementing the elements of opposition to the bill, and rallying them on the Crittenden-Montgomery platform.

It is thought the vote rejecting the Deficiency Bill will be reconsidered to-morrow, and the bill passed in such a form as not to cripple the movements of the Utah expedition.

HAMPTON HOGS.—The veteran butcher, Capt. Jonathan Palmer, slaughtered ten hogs for David Brown, jr., esq., of Hampton, April 7, the aggregate weight of which was thirty-six hundred and fifty pounds, making an average of three hundred and sixty-five pounds each. They are sold to Boynton & Co., of Boston, and are pronounced to be very fine specimens of the porcine race.

L.

CHESHIRE COUNTY.—From this portion of New Hampshire we have encouraging accounts, in relation to Temperance. The Washington Total Abstinence Society of that County has never disbanded; and during the past few months it has renewed its activity. Public sentiment there is improving, and practical temperance makes an actual gain. Efforts of various kinds are to be continued.

☞ It is contemplated to erect a free-seated Presbyterian Church in New Orleans. The edifice is expected to cost about twenty-five thousand dollars, and to afford seats for about one thousand or twelve hundred persons. It is expected that the corner stone will be laid in May next.

☞ A retired merchant of Hartford acknowledges the receipt of $150 by letter, dated and post-marked New York city. It was sent for the purpose of making restitution.

GRAND MILITARY SHOW IN MAINE.—The military authorities of Maine are talking of having a grand encampment of all the uniformed companies in the State, to take place in Portland some time during the visit of the Leviathan.

☞ Reports of the spread and increase of the "Revival of Religion" continue to be received from all parts of the country.

FOR A SHORT TIME ONLY!
The Sight Preserved.
BLINDNESS PREVENTED.

By request of a great number of the citizens of PORTSMOUTH AND VICINITY,
Mr. J. JACOBS,
Celebrated Optician,
From the city of Rotterdam, Holland, has visited this place with a large selection of Telescopes, Microscopes, Good Eye Glasses, for Ladies and Gentlemen, Patent Double Vision Spectacles, Scotch Pebble Spectacles, and Wollaston's Concaveiex Spectacles, in Gold, Silver and Steel Frames.

ALONG continued practice in the art of Optics has enabled him to manufacture Glasses of peculiar form and superior quality, and adapt them to each individual, after a careful examination of the eye. Those Glasses which correspond with the defect of near, far or weak sightedness.

Persons in general, not acquainted with the art of Optics, are left to select their Glasses themselves, which abuse is surely injurious to the Eye, and has caused its prejudiced to avoid the use of them as long as possible, when selected as soon as the sight begins to fail, by a skillful Optician, the Eye will retain its natural strength, and be improved. The importance of this subject, as introduced by the subscriber, has been fully acknowledged by the highest authorities.

TESTIMONIALS.

UTICA, N. Y., April 28, 1858.

We the undersigned, having used Optical Instruments, (and Scotch Pebble Spectacles,) of the manufacture of JACOB JACOBS, and having thoroughly tested their powers and qualities do certify that we have found them to be good, and can recommend them to the public as well worthy of consideration. We can particularly recommend the Scotch Pebble Spectacles for the protection which they afford the Eye, and the increased clearness and power of vision they give.

DYSPEPSIA.
A. B. L. Myers: Dear Sir—I have suffered for a long time from Dyspepsia; and it gives me great pleasure to inform you that, after using one bottle of your Compound Extract of Rock Rose, I received so much benefit that I can cheerfully recommend it to any one thus afflicted, as being a valuable medicine, and the best I ever used.

LOCAL.

"WASH AND BE HEALED."—The Annual Meeting of Piscataqua Bath Company, is called at Dr. Treadwell's Office, on Pleasant Street, this afternoon. The patrons of that establishment ought to be numbered by hundreds instead of by tens; and Portsmouth should afford other bathing accommodations too, besides those furnished by nature. There ought to be a good public bathing establishment, situated on the salt water, somewhere—with all the modern accommodations for ladies and gentlemen; and we have no doubt that a judicious movement to that effect, would be well sustained. Won't somebody try it?

We hear incidentally that the Rockingham House, has just added to the attractions of that popular Hotel,—Bath Rooms, with Lockwood & Lumb's excellent fixtures for warm and cold baths. This ought to be done in every house, public and private—before anything is wasted on carpets and mahogany furniture. If people would learn to love water more, and other liquids less, it might be better for them.

A NEW CITY HALL.—Yes, why don't we have one? And why do we wait any longer for it? We learn that there is more than a probability that the Temple will be converted into a church proper again ere long—and in that case, the public would be "out doors" as to a place for public entertainments of any sort. Labor and materials are as cheap now as they can be expected to be—and we believe all the people are in favor of having a respectable city building at once. Why not call a public meeting to vote on the question? We believe "the ayes would have it," three to one.

☞ There is a good prospect of business in this vicinity, this spring, it seems to us. The new Custom House, at last, has been commenced in reality—and will furnish work for many hands, for several months. The Navy Yard will employ a large gang of laborers, and it is generally understood that a considerable amount is to be expended on Fort Constitution. There are four ships in course of construction here—two at Raynes' Yard, and one each at Tobey & Littlefield's and Marcy & Petigrew's. Then there is some talk of extensive alterations in two of our churches: and we ought to build a new City Hall—and there are quite a number of dwelling-houses being built, and several stores. Our Factory is running again—and altogether, the most of the hard times seems to be over. Old Portsmouth has stood the pressure better than almost any other city.

☞ The Granite State Bards sang to a large audience, on Fast evening—the Temple was full of our citizens, and many who came in from the neighboring towns. The entertainment was well received—everybody seeming bound to enjoy all the merits and beauties of the performances, and to let any trifling defects pass—looking upon them as our own home singers, and treating them as friends should be treated at home. We shall look at them in the same view.

The Bards have unusually fine voices—and considering their opportunity for practice, their performances were creditable—their last concert being much the best. Miss Julia A. Marston sang a solo and obligato part in one piece, and a song.—She has a pleasing voice, and evinced considerable power of execution. Mr. Pearson played the piano accompaniment in three of the pieces with his usual accuracy and good taste.

MEETINGS THIS EVENING, &c.

Union Prayer Meeting in the Middle street Church, from 8 to 9 o'clock this morning, to which all are invited.

The Monthly Concert of Prayer for Sabbath Schools will be held in the Vestry on Fleet St., at 7 o'clock on Sunday evening.

The Sunday School Concert of the Middle St. Church will be held in the Vestry on Sunday evening, at 7 o'clock.

Conference Meeting at the Sunday School Room of the Universalist Church, at 7 o'clock, Sunday evening.

Preaching in the Temple, Sunday evening at 7 o'clock.

Prayer Meeting in the Methodist Church on Sunday evening at 7 o'clock.

☞ E. Whitney will preach at the Advent Chapel this evening and to-morrow.

☞ Rev. Mr. Whittemore is expected to preach in the Universalist Church to-morrow.

☞ We understand that the Morning Prayer Meeting on Sunday morning, and during the week, is to be at the new Free-will Baptist Church.

☞ The Richmond Enquirer announces that the transfer of Mount Vernon to the Ladies' Mount Vernon Association is now a fixed fact.

REBUILDING.—The stores at the corner of Bow and Penhallow streets, are now rebuilding, with a brick division wall, making them more safe from fire.—One of the old stores in Market street is also undergoing extensive repairs and improvements.

☞ An elegant Organ, to cost $4000, is being built in Boston for the Stone Church. It has been proposed to place this in the rear of the pulpit, by enlarging the rear of the church on Court street, and also to remove the pews and place circular slips in their places. One of the liberal parishioners has made a munificent offer towards defraying a large portion of the expense of this improvement.

FREIGHT TO CONCORD.—A Concord merchant recently bought a cargo of lime which arrived in a vessel here, at nine o'clock in the forenoon; at one o'clock in the afternoon the merchant received by railroad one-half of the cargo, and the remainder was delivered at seven o'clock the same evening at Concord, even before the astonished dealer had received by mail the bill of the purchase.

ADVENTISTS.—The World's Crisis of March 31, says:—

The conference just closed, we think was the best we ever enjoyed. We thought last year we could hardly have a better, but the good Lord has given us a still richer feast than that, for which we give him all the glory. Wives have rejoiced in the conversion of their husbands—and christian husbands have seen their companions come to Christ and be buried with him in baptism; children long prayed for are now traveling with their parents in the way to life eternal. We have never seen christians more anxious for the conversion of their friends and neighbors than at the present time. A deep impression rests upon their minds, that this is truly "the last call of mercy."

WASHINGTON MATTERS.—The Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Enquirer says:—

"We had a revival of an old mode of punishment here a day or two ago. A fight having occurred between two colored men, one of them severely wounded the other by means of an axe. On being taken before the Magistrate, he proved to be a slave belonging to the Hon. A. H. Stephens (member of Congress from Georgia) and bearing his name. The law under these circumstances, require that the offender should be whipped, and this punishment was inflicted by one of the officers of the Court. This sort of thing has been of rare occurrence in this city for some years."

MURDER ON SHIPBOARD. A telegraphic despatch from New Orleans, of the 6th inst., at the Boston Exchange, states that the ship Martha Ridcout, from Boston, had arrived there, and that her second mate had been murdered by a boarding-house runner. The name of the murdered man is Ellis. He belongs in the State of Maine, where the vessel is owned.

☞ Intelligence has been received from Gardiner, Me. that the body of Mr. Francis Richards of that place, who was missed a few days since, and for whom the inhabitants turned out in great numbers to search, has been found in the river and recovered.

☞ Solomon B. Adams, of West Brookfield, Mass., a bachelor, living alone, was found dead in his house a few days since, and a coroner's jury concluded from circumstances that he died of delirium tremens.

The Old Rochester Nurseries.

ROCHESTER, N. Y.
THE subscriber having been appointed Agent for this old, long established, and favorably known Nursery, respectfully solicits orders for FRUIT AND ORNAMENTAL TREES, FLOWERING SHRUBS, &c, which will be delivered to the purchaser at the Catalogue prices free of charge.
The Proprietor in presenting his Catalogue for 1858 to the public, remarks that they will find it an exact inventory of what he has to offer: the height of the trees, their age, and that everything will not only be found true to its kind, but of the most perfect quality. The climate where these Nurseries are located is the same as that of New Hampshire, rendering it certain that trees transplanted here, will flourish as well as there.
Great care will be bestowed in packing, rendering the Trees perfectly safe for thousands of miles of transit.
☞ Catalogues, together with "brief instruction" for Orchard, Planting, and Culture of Fruits, with hints for the selection of Trees, may be had of the Agent. G. N. CARLETON,

IMMORTELLES.

A FARMER'S LIFE.

The very life I'd lead;
But fools would dly from it. For O, 'tis sweet
To find the heart out where there's one to feed.
And corners in't where stores of pleasure lodge
We never dreamed were there! To live 'mid nature
That are not neighbors to reproach; music
Whose melody is of the soul; and gifts
That were not made for interest, abundantly
Bestowed by nature's check and voice and hand!
It is to live on life and husband it;
To commune near the handiwork of heaven;
It is to view its greatness, bounty, power;
It is to nearer see our God.—[Sheridan Knowles.

THE DEAD.

I think about the dead by day,
I dream of them by night;
They seem to stand beside my chair,
Clad in the clothes they used to wear,
And by my bed in white.

The common places of their lives,
The lightest words they said,
Revive in me, and give me pain,
And make me wish them back again,
Or wish that I were dead.

I would be kinder to them now,
Were they alive once more;
Would kiss their lips, and kiss their hair,
And love them like the angels there,
Upon the silent shore.—[R. H. Stoddard.

THE MOON.

What art thou like?—sometimes I see thee rise
A far-off and calley on the perilous way,
While I reckly waves to up their silver spray;
Or seem to hold on thy glide,
Crowned by a lit of stars,
Like a the widow, through the white wide,
Whose child shed the midnight sorrow mars;
Sometimes I watch thee on from steep to steep,
Timidly lighted, by the vestal torch,
Till in a the Latmian cave I see thee creep,
To catch the young Endymion in his sleep,
Leaving the rest under a the jagged arch.
—[Hood.

The following remedies are offered to the public as the best, most perfect, which medical science can afford. AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has been prepared with the utmost skill which the medical profession of this age possesses, and their effects show they have virtues which surpass any combination of medicines hitherto known. Other preparations do more or less good; but this cures such dangerous complaints, so quick and so surely, as to prove an efficacy and a power to uproot disease beyond any thing which men have known before. By removing the obstructions of the internal organs and stimulating the vital powers, it quickly renovates the fountains of life and vigor, health comes anew through the body, and the sick man is well again. They are adapted to disease, and disease only, and when they are used in health they produce bad effects. This is the perfection of medicine. It is antagonistic to disease, and only to disease; children may take them with impunity. If they are sick they will cure them, if they are well they will do them no harm.

Behold there is some patient who has been prostrated with bilious complaint; see his bowels tottering from straighten with strength again; see his long-lost appetite return; see his clammy features blossom into health. Give them to some sufferer whose foul blood has burst out in scrofula till his skin is covered with sores, and his flesh is a mass of ulcers in anguish. He has been drenched inside and out with every potion which ingenuity could suggest. Give him these PILLS, and mark the effect; see the scales fall from his body; see the new, fair skin that has grown under them; see the late leper that is clean. Give them to him, whose many humors have planted rheumatism in his joints and bones; move him, and he screeches with pain; he too has been soaked through every muscle of his body with liniments and oils; give him these PILLS to purify his blood; they cure him at last, for, alas! there are cases which no mortal power can reach; but mark, he walks with crutches now, and now he walks alone; they have cured him. Give them to the worn, sour, haggard dyspeptic, whose gnawing stomach has long ago eaten every smile from his face and every muscle from his body. See his appetite return, and with it his health; see the new man. See her that was radiant with health and loveliness blasted—and too early withering away in a mass of excrescences, and pining at some lurking disease, has deranged the internal organs of digestion, assimilation or secretion, till they do their office ill. Her blood is vitiated, her health is gone. Give her these PILLS to stimulate the vital principle into healthy activity and expel the obstructions, and infuse a new vivality into the blood. Now look again—the roses blossom on her cheek, and where lately sorrow sat joy bursts from every features; the sweet infant wasted with worms. Its sun, pale, feverish, and languishing, its eyes dull and painfully distinct, that they are eating its life away. Its pinched up nose and ears, and restless sleepings, tell the dreadful truth in language which every mother knows. Give it the PILLS in large doses to worm it, and see the effect. Behold it now. Now turn again and see the ruddy bloom of childhood. Is it nothing to do these things? Nay, are they not the marvel of this age? And yet they are done around you every day.

Have you the Jaundice? Are the symptoms of these distempers, they are the easier cured. Jaundice, Costiveness, Headache, Sickness, Heartburn, Foul Stomach, Nausea, Pain in the Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, Kidney Pain, Neuralgia, Gout, and kindred complaints all arise from the derangements which these PILLS rapidly cure. Take them previously, and under the counsel of a good Physician if you can; if not, take them judiciously by such advice as we give you, and the distressing, dangerous diseases they cure, which afflict so many millions of the human race, will be unknown. Like the devils of old—they must barrow in the brutes and in the sea. Price 25 cents per box—5 boxes for $1.

Through a trial of many years and through every nation of civilized man, AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has been found to afford a power to cure more cases of pulmonary disease than any other remedy known to mankind. Cases of apparently settled consumption have been cured by it, and thousands of sufferers who were deemed beyond the reach of human aid have found health and their friends and usefulness, to second health and the enjoyments of life, by this all-powerful antidote to diseases of the lungs and throat. Have a cold had settled on the lungs. The dry, hacking cough, the glassy eye and the pulse, this disease, which was lately lusty and strong, whisper to all but him CONSUMPTION. He tries every thing; but the disease is gnawing at his vitals, and shows its fatal symptoms more and more over all his frame. He is taking the CHERRY PECTORAL now; it has stopped his cough and made his breathing easy; his sleep is sound at night; his appetite returns, and with it his strength. The dart which pierced his side is broken. Scarcely any neighborhood can be found which has not had some victim, who has to shadow forth the virtues which have won for the CHERRY PECTORAL an imperishable renown. But its usefulness does not end here. Nay, it accomplishes more by preventing this cure. The countless colds and coughs which it cures are the seed which would have sprouted into a dreadful harvest of incurable diseases. Influenza, Croup, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Pleurisy, Whooping Cough, and all affections of the throat and lungs are easily cured by the CHERRY PECTORAL. It is well known now; it has been tried long and long enough; and they will find it an invaluable protection from the insidious prowler which carries off the parent sheep from many a flock, the delicate lamb from the nearest fold.

Authenticated testimonials of its cures, with directions for the treatment of each complaint, may be found in Ayer's American Almanac, of which we publish three millions annually, and better them broadcast over the earth, in order that the sick every where may have before them the information it contains. Druggists and dealers in medicine generally have been for distribution gratis, and also for sale these remedies, prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER, Practical and Analytical Chemist, Lowell, Mass.

THE RESTORATIVE OF Prof. O. J. WOOD for restoring hair effectively and instantaneously has never yet had a rival. Volume after volume might be given from all parts of the world and from the mouths of thousands of persons that it is perfect Restorative; but read the circular and you cannot doubt; read also the following.

THE HAIR.—People have for centuries been afflicted with bald heads, and the only remedy, heretofore known, has been those abominable wigs. But a discovery is made which will save these articles are being just dispensed with, but a great many persons still patronize them, because they have been so often imposed upon by Hair Tonics of different kinds. To all such persons we earnestly make the request that they will try once again, for in Wood's Restorative there is no much room for fraud. We know of a lady who was bald, who used the article a short time, and her head is covered completely with the finest and most beautiful curls imaginable. We know of numerous cases where hair has rapidly falling out, which it restored in greater perfection than it ever had been before.

It is now the opinion of one of the best articles for keeping the hair in good condition, making it soft and glossy, removing dandruff, and has proved itself the greatest enemy to all the ills that hair is heir to.

It is the duty of every one to improve their personal appearance though some may differ in regard to the propriety of doing so. Everyone will admit that a beautiful head of hair either in man or woman, is an object much to be desired, and those who have been blessed with it should be left entire, to obtain such a consideration.—Woman's Advocate, Philadelphia.

COCHECTUN, Ohio, Nov. 17, 1856.

O. J. Wood & Co.—Gents: As I have been engaged in selling your Hair Restorative the last season for your agent, Dr. Hawkins, of Mt. Hackinson, and having experienced the beneficial effects of it myself, I would like to obtain an agency for the state of Ohio; and if you think the west, should you wish to make such an arrangement, as I am convinced there is nothing equal to it in the United States, for restoring the hair. I have been engaged in the Drug business for nearly 20 years, and have sold various preparations for the hair, but have found nothing that restores the secretive organs or invigorates the scalp as well as yours, being convinced that your restorative is what you represent it to be, I would like to engage in the sale of it, for I am satisfied it must sell.

Yours truly, S. T. STOCKMAN.

WAYLAND, MASS., Feb. 5, 1857.

PROF. O. J. WOOD & CO.—Gentlemen: Having realized the good effects of your Hair Restorative, I wish to state, that finding my hair growing thin, as well as gray, I was induced from what I read and heard, to try the mixture prepared by you, to promote its growth and change its color as it was in youth both of which it has effected completely. In the space of time I have used nearly 3 bottles.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have known commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Managers would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand, according to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $30,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Herald. Write your orders plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

PERSONS living at a distance should be extremely careful of those they order Lottery Tickets or Certificates of Packages of Tickets. The country is flooded with bogus and swindling Lotteries. Every inducement is held out to get persons to invest money in them. Capital Prizes of from $20,000 to $40,000 head their schemes—with tickets at One Dollar. $100,000 capital prizes are offered, tickets at $1 each, in every instance, are frauds, and if money is sent to them for tickets, it is so much thrown away without the shadow of a chance of getting a prize. Beware of all such schemes. Our schemes are by no means usually large in comparison to the price of tickets—in every instance where large prizes are offered for a small cost of tickets, all is down as a certain fraud.

The Kentucky State Lottery for the benefit of the Shelby College, under our management, is the only lottery in the United States now, or legally decided by the Maryland Drawings; all other lotteries which pur port to be decided by the Maryland Courts are frauds.

THE MARYLAND STATE LOTTERIES.

Purchase in the Maryland State Lotteries, then you are sure of being right. And in ordering in the Maryland Lotteries, you are sure of fair and honest drawings.

One thing look to, and that is, it you order from any licensed venders of Lottery Tickets, receive any but Managers' Tickets and Managers' Printed Certificates of Packages, The Managers' Certificates have the numbers printed and have the lithographic signature of R. France & Co.

No one has a right to send his individual certificates, if he does it, be sure there is a fraud at the bottom of it.

R. FRANCE & CO.,
F17 Managers of Maryland State Lotteries.

A PROCLAMATION

TO THE LADIES.

WHEREAS, for years that the days of right, honor, and integrity are fast falling away, and WHEREAS the unscrupulous and ignorant are daily taking advantage of the profound and learned, YOU ARE HEREBY FORWARD, to all, whether MAIDS, WIVES, OR WIDOWS, that Dr. CHEESEMAN'S FEMALE PILLS are ALONE the certain pancea for the troublesome and dangerous female disorganization; they ALONE correcting all painful menstruation, assuaging palpitations of the heart, disturbed sleep, pain in the side, and causing health and happiness to the whole sex—more especially to the MARRIED PORTION, as they are certain to bring on the monthly period with regularity.—AND WHEREAS, these PILLS are purely vegetable and entirely free from mineral; therefore perfectly harmless in their operations and wholly unlike those medicines thrust upon the public, purporting to effect the objects already detailed. THEREFORE, BE IT KNOWN, that NOTHING but the said PILLS of Dr. CHEESEMAN will accomplish the desired effect, when administered according to the regime of OTHER PILLS; and the Ladies will cause this Proclamation to spread amongst them, to their own everlasting benefit—always purchasing that said Proclamation in one case must be considered null and void; that is to say the PILLS—one not be taken when any female is in a condition that said Proclamation wise a MISCARRIAGE will be the inevitable result.

Explicit directions, to be carefully read, accompany each box. Price $1. Dr. CORNELIUS L. CHEESEMAN, Box No. 4 (74), Post Office, New York City. Sold by Druggists in every town in the United States.

S. D. & H. W. Smith,

—MANUFACTURERS OF—

Melodeons, Organ Melodeons,

—and—

PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

No. 511 Washington St., Boston,

The first premium over all competitors, at the Fair of the Mass Charitable Mechanic Associations, held at Faneuil Hall, Washington, D. C., also at the Ohio State Fair, held at Columbus, Ohio, was awarded to these Manufacturers.

By means of a new method of voicing, known only to themselves, they have succeeded in removing the harsh and buzzing sound which formerly characterized the instrument, and rendering them the most delicate and fine. The action is prompt and reliable, enabling the performer to execute the most rapid music without blurring its tones. The swell is arranged to give a great expression.

THE PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

Are designed particularly for Churches, Lodges, Halls, &c. It is arranged with two manuals, or banks of Keys, the lower set running an octave higher than the upper, and may be used separately, and thus get in one case two distinct instruments; or by use of the coupler, the octave higher keys may be used at the same time by use of the front set only. This, when used with the Pedal Bass, will produce the effect of a large organ, and is sufficiently heavy to fill a house that will contain 1,500 persons.

THE ORGAN MELODEON

Is designed for parlor and private use. The construction is similar to the Church instrument, being arranged with two banks of Keys, and is all-sufficient for a private house, and is capable of as great volume of power as the Church Instrument when used without the pedal. Also, every variety of MELODEONS for Parlor use.

Purchasers may rely upon instruments from our Manufactory, being made in the most complete and thorough manner. Having removed to the spacious Buildings

511 Washington Street,

We have every facility for manufacturing purposes, and employ none but the most experienced and skilful workmen. In short, we will produce an instrument, in every respect equal, if not superior, to any Manufactory, and guarantee an entire and perfect satisfaction.

Music Teachers, Leaders of Choirs, and others interested in musical instruments are respectfully invited to visit our Rooms at any time and examine or test the instruments on exhibition for sale at their pleasure.

As a still further guarantee to the public as to the excellence of the MELODEONS from our Manufactory, we beg leave to refer, by permission, to the following:

Piano Forte Manufacturers of Boston, who have examined our Instruments, and will give their opinion when called upon:

Chickering & Sons, Hallet & Cumston,
T. Gilbert & Co., Wm. P. Emerson,
Brown & Allen, A. W. Ladd & Co.,
George Hewes, Woodward & Brown,
Newhall & Co.

MELODEONS RENTED.

Persons who wish to hire Melodeons with a view of purchasing at the end of the year, can have the rent credited as part of payment, if purchase money. This matter is worthy of special note, as it enables those who desire a fair test of the instruments before purchasing, to obtain it at the expense of the manufacturers, to the extent at least of a year's rent.

Orders from any part of the country or world, sent directed to the subscribers, will be attended with cash, or satisfactory references, will be promptly attended to, and as faithfully executed as if the parties were present, or employed an agent to select, and on as reasonable terms.

VICISSITUDES OF LIFE.—The Cincinnati Enquirer has the following:—

Passing along the street yesterday, our attention was suddenly drawn to a scene not a little novel and interesting in its character. In an alley, with paste-pot in hand, and a roll of bills on his arm, whom should we see but Wesley Smead, late President of the Citizens' Bank, posting his own bills of property for sale, for the purpose of paying off the remaining debts of the bank. Heedless of the wondering gaze of the astonished passers-by, he laid on the paste and spread out the bills with all the readiness and facility of a practical poster, taking care to place them in the most conspicuous positions, and above the reach of boys and rag pickers.

43 years ago, Dr. Smead, was an apprentice in the Gazette establishment, and being the youngest, the duty devolved upon him of posting up the show bills, &c.—At this late period of his life, when overtaken by adversity, he is nobly struggling (a rare sight, indeed, among bankers,) to discharge all his obligations to his creditors.

INTERESTING TO INSOLVENT LIQUOR DEALERS.—A short time since, a liquor dealer, in Boston, named Leonard, went into insolvency, and on an examination of his affairs before the Judge of Insolvency, the insolvent refused to answer any questions relating to his traffic in liquor, and also withheld his account books, on the ground that such evidence would criminate himself under the Liquor Law. The objections of the insolvent were then sustained by the Court, but the subject was held under advisement until this week, when Judge Ames reaffirmed his decision, sustaining the objections taken by the insolvent debtor.

It now becomes an important matter of inquiry in what manner creditors of insolvent liquor dealers can compel them to deliver up their assets. At present they stand as a privileged class of debtors, and it will probably be difficult for them to obtain large credits unless good collateral is given.—Boston Herald.

THE UNION.—We frequently misapprehend others, from not understanding their peculiarities in the use of words.

In the Union newspaper of March 27, we find the following:

"The Democratic party is the bond of the Union—it is the Union itself."

With this explanation of what is intended by "the Union," many things become intelligible, otherwise wholly unintelligible, As, for example, the following from this same newspaper:

"The salvation of the Union lies in the success of the great measure now before Congress."

☞ The town of Scituate, Mass., this year abolished its High School and refused to elect a School Committee. We notice that a number of towns, Lexington, Georgetown, and others, have dispensed with high schools, preferring to elevate their grammar schools, and thus secure a higher standard of general education.

THE WEST INDIES.—Barbadoes dates are to the 20th February. It is anticipated the sugar crop at Barbadoes will this year, give the large return of sixty thousand hogsheads. The sugar crop at Grenada, this year, will be, it is said, more than an average one.

JEFFERSON'S OPINION OF ARDENT SPIRITS. "The habit of using ardent spirits by men in public office has occasioned more injury to the public service, and more trouble to me, than any other circumstance which has occurred in the internal concerns of the country during my administration; and were I to commence my administration with the knowledge I have acquired from experience, the first question I would ask in regard to every candidate for public office would be, is he addicted to the use of ardent spirits?"

Dobbs came home from church looking so melancholy last Sabbath, that his friends enquired if anything serious had happened. "Nothing, nothing," said the old fellow, at the same time making motions with a large bandana as though absorbing an April shower from his cheeks, "only I witnessed a presentation of plate to day, and it made me a little sad to give my last quarter to the little Hottentots."

EDITORIAL CASUISTRY.—A Pennsylvania editor says:—"Somebody brought one bottle of sour water into our office, with the request to notice it as lemon beer. If Esau was green enough to sell his birthright for a mess of pottage, it does not prove that we will tell a four shilling lie for five cents."

☞ An individual in Philadelphia, who committed perjury, by swearing that he was the owner of property to which he had no title, with a view to giving bail, has been sent to prison for three years.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston,
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND SKILLED WORK, I would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE.
Late Commissioner of Patents."
From the present Commissioner.
AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

Coggswell's Medical Salt,
A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE
FOR THE
LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.
INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—has but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: SUBDUE INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, just as easily as fire is extinguished by water. Is it asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a quill dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.

MONDAY, APRIL 12, 1858.

GAZETTE POLITICS.

On our 4th page to-day, we copy a leading editorial, from the N. H. Gazette of the 10th.

There are some remarkable statements in it, viz:

1. There is no essential difference between Pres. Buchanan's recommendation and the House Montgomery bill.

2. This bill as passed by the House, is a "triumph of the principles of the Democratic party!"

3. All the black republicans voted for it! Now let us add:

4. All the Administration Democrats in the House, 112, voted against it.

5. The Administration Democrats in the Senate voted against it, and sent it back to the House.

6. There the same black republicans voted again for these same democratic principles—20 Douglas Democrats voted with them, and 6 Americans,—while all the Buchanan Democrats voted the other way.

7. There seems to be some difference in Washington, between the two sides of this question,—and the President himself begins to see it through a glass, darkly.

A plain statement of the matter is just this: the Senate rejected the Crittenden amendment, passed the Lecompton swindle bill, and sent it down to the House. There, the Republicans voted alone, to reject it. But they were a minority, and could not do it. Now, the Douglas Democrats move to amend it, by the Montgomery Crittenden proviso,—the Americans and Republicans vote with them, they pass it, and send it up. The Senate non-concur, and send it down. The House vote to adhere, and there they stand.

NEW TACTICS.—The New York Herald, a Lecompton organ, says, since the defeat of the Administration in the House:

"It is within the province of the Senate to accept or reject the Lecompton Constitution; and as the important principle of slavery is not excluded from the Crittenden substitute, but is retained in it; as the destiny of Kansas will be precisely the same under any act, or in default of any act of admission, and as the only remaining consideration to every peacemaker now is the speediest possible removal of this bone of contention from Congress, why should not the majority of the Senate recede, or at least permit the Crittenden bill go through by default? It is not necessary that any administration member should vote for the bill. The absence of eight or ten Lecompton men when the vote is taken will answer the purpose."

The N. Y. Evening Post in commenting upon this new shuffle tells the following good one:

"The President's plan of conquering peace on the Kansas question, by begging his partizans to desert the field on the day of battle, reminds us of a military captain in North Carolina, years ago, who endeavored to distinguish himself by ordering his men to form a new figure, which he called the rattlesnake. From want of discipline, or something else, they got into confusion, and he was at his wit's end to know how to get them into a line again. After giving several ineffectual orders, which only seemed to increase the disorder, he cried out in stentorian tones, "Scatter!" That order, at least, he was sure his men knew how to obey. The President seem to have borrowed his policy from this militia captain. We hope he may be successful.

☞ The citizens of Milford, N. H., had a grand time on Monday evening, 5th inst., in getting up a donation party to Rev. Mr. Anderson. Two processions of young ladies were formed—seventy-five of the dear creatures drawing a wagon on which was a barrel of flour with $10 on the head; and fifty more young ladies followed with a hayrack containing a cord or more of wood. The minister was greeted with a speech from a lady, and of course he replied; Old Hundred was sung, and various other speeches wese made. Among the good gifts was $26. Next day, the boys of the village went and sawed and piled up all the wood for the parson.

This is all very nice—except the making truck-horses of the ladies. It is full bad enough that they should make clothes-horses of themselves.

THE LATE VOTE IN CONNECTICUT.—The vote at the late election in Connecticut was 70,000, the largest ever cast at a State election. Of these Mr. Buckingham, the Republican candidate for Governor, has 36,009; Mr. Pratt, Democrat, 33,245; scattering, 261.

☞ Godey's May Number is promptly received. "Shawls for the Ladies, and where they come from," will interest every lady reader, as it contains a vast amount of information. Let the ladies all read "Dress and its influence."

LETTER FROM COL. BENTON.—Washington, April 9.—The announcement in the House of the death of Col. Benton was premature. He is still alive, though in a sinking condition. Before the members separated, a letter was read, dated yesterday, written by Col. Benton to Senators Houston and Jones of Tennessee, saying, that in the event of his death, he expressly desires no notice to be taken of it; no rule of either House would justify such a proceeding, and, besides, it was contrary to his convictions, expressed many years ago.

THE DEATH-BED OF BENTON.—The Washington correspondent of the New York Tribune writes under date of April 6:

Col. Benton is dying. His disease—cancer of the bowels—has made such progress that he cannot survive much longer. He suffers extreme pain, and is exhausted to almost the last degree of physical prostration. But his mind is as clear and as powerful as ever, and the high, resolute, Roman spirit of the old statesman struggles with indomitable energy and fortitude against sickness and weakness and the awful presence of the king of terrors. He dies in harness, working to the last for his country and mankind. An old and intimate friend from Missouri called upon him this morning. Benton was in bed, scarcely able to move hand or foot, and not able to speak much above a whisper. But he was hard at work, closing up his Abridgment of the Debates of Congress, which he has brought down to 1850, to the passage of the Compromise measures.

Resting a few minutes from his task, Col. Benton entered into conversation with his Missouri friend. He told him that, in reviewing the events of 1850, he was glad to find that the animosities of the past had died out in his heart, and he was not only ready but eager to do justice to his former rivals and opponents. He spoke with much feeling of Mr. Clay, to whose merits and services he had awarded the highest praise in what he was writing about the Compromise period of 1850. In energetic whispers, he told his visitor that the same men who had sought to destroy the republic in 1850 were at the bottom of the accursed Lecompton business. Among the greatest of his consolations in dying was the consciousness that the house of Representatives have had baffled these treasonable schemes and put the heels of the people on the neck of the traitors. Few events in our history have given him so much satisfaction as the defeat of Lecompton. He warmly praised the intrepid and incorruptible Douglas Democrats.

DEATH OF COL. BENTON.—Washington, April 10.—Col. Benton died at half past 7 Saturday morning.—Boston Journal Corr.

A FUGITIVE SLAVE CASE.—Mr. Wm. M. Connolly, reporter of the New York Sun, has been arrested on a charge of having assisted in the escape of two slaves belonging to Charles A. Withers of Kentucky.—Connolly states that about a year ago while residing in Cincinnati, a man came to him saying that two colored persons, named Irvine Broadhus and Angeline Broadhus, needed shelter, and asked him to take care of them. He said they were not slaves.—Connolly assented, and took them into his house. He kept them until they were claimed by Withers as his property, the man who placed them with him receiving the reward which had been offered for them. Subsequent to his departure from Cincinnati, Connolly was indicted in Kentucky for aiding and harboring fugitive slaves. Connolly denies any intent of violating the laws, and anticipates a prompt acquittal.

"The man," or rather scoundrel, who placed them at his house, has richly earned the contempt which the public bestows upon him. John Randolph would hoot him from his door.

NEW LAW IN RELATION TO MURDER.—The provisions of the law relating to murder passed by the late Legislature of Massachusetts are as follows:

Murder committed with deliberately premeditated malice aforethought, or in the commission of an attempt to commit any crime punishable with imprisonment for life; or committed with extreme atrocity or cruelty, is murder in the first degree.

Murder not appearing to be in the first degree, is that in the second.

The degree of murder is to be found by the jury.

Whoever is guilty of murder in the first degree shall suffer the punishment of death for the same, subject, however, to such conditions regarding the time and manner of executing sentence, and the custody or imprisonment of the convict prior thereto, as shall have been otherwise provided by law.

Whoever is guilty of murder in the second degree shall be punished by imprisonment in the State Prison for life.

ROBBERY AT SOUTH BERWICK.—We learn, says the Great Falls Advertiser, that a man named Peter Stillings, belonging to North Berwick, was assaulted with a knife in the street in So. Berwick village, on Saturday evening of last week. His face was considerably cut and bruised, and he was robbed of what money he had with him at the time. A young man named Austin has been arrested on suspicion of having perpetrated the deed, and lodged in Alfred jail.

DWIGHT'S JOURNAL OF MUSIC.—This admirable musical journal is now published by O. Ditson & Co; and the accomplished editor, Mr. J. S. Dwight, is at liberty to devote his whole time and talents to the editorial department.

3 DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

The Royal Mail Steamship America, from Liverpool, 27th ult., arrived at Halifax, April 9.

GREAT BRITAIN.—In the House of Commons, Mr. Roebuck brought forward his motion for the abolition of the Irish Vice-Royalty. After some debate a motion for the previous question was negatived, by a majority of 127, when the subject was dropped, the main question not being put.

Disraeli moved for leave to bring in the bill amending the government of India, and explained its provisions at length. Like the bill of the former government, it abolishes entirely the East India Company, and Board of Control, and substitutes in their place a Council composed of President, Vice President, and eighteen members; the President to be the Secretary of State. It was not proposed to interfere with the powers of the Governor General.

The details of the bill were objected to by sundry members, but leave was given to bring it in.

The appointment of Pellissier as Ambassador from France, gave very general satisfaction in England.

The Times thinks the English nation may fairly be gratified by the appointment.

The Emperor is said to have declared that he selected this distinguished soldier as a tribute of respect to the alliance with the English people, and to the two armies.

The log of the frigate Niagara shows that on several occasions during her late trip to England, she ran over 300 miles in 24 hours. She arrived off Plymouth at 10 o'clock on the night of the 22d, and would have made a quicker run but for the bad quality of her coal.

The returns of the Board of Trade exhibit a falling off in the exports for February of over £2,000,000, compared with the same month last year.

CONGRESS.

FRIDAY, April 9.

SENATE.—The Senate is not in session, having adjourned yesterday till Monday.

HOUSE.—Mr. Lovejoy of Ill. made an ineffectual effort to introduce a resolution, calling on the Secretary of War to inform the House how many Army officers were absent from their duties, and at the seat of government; and how many hold civil office, by election or otherwise.

Mr. Branch of North Carolina spoke with reference to the reconsideration of the vote by which the Deficiency Bill was rejected.

He hesitated not to declare that the monstrous expenditures of the Army had reached a point to induce the entire country to rise and demand a reform, and pointed out the way by which this could be effected. He believed, as heretofore declared by the House in the form of a resolution, that Utah was in a state of rebellion. It is now too late and unjust to undertake to control the discretion of the President as to the disposal of the troops.

Mr. J. Glancy Jones, in reply, said the Quarter-master General did not send the estimates on his own responsibility, but they were received with the endorsement of the Secretary of War.

Mr. Branch was satisfied with the explanation, and was glad to find that no outrage on property had been perpetrated by any Bureau Officer.

The vote by which the bill was rejected, was reconsidered.

The House then refused to recommit the bill to the Committee on Ways and Means.

The bill was then passed—yeas 111, nays 97.

Many absent or not voting. Yeas, administration—nays, mostly Republicans—most of the other parties not voting.

The House agreed that when it adjourn, it shall be to Monday at 2 1-2 o'clock.

Mr. Morris of Pa. said he had just heard of the death of the Hon. Thos. Hart Benton and it was fit that the House should adj.

The motion was unanimously agreed to.

The printing investigation committee have substantially agreed to the bill of Mr. Taylor to establish a Government Printing Office under a Commissioner and the Secretary of the Interior. The committee will report next week.

The bill of Mr. Douglas creating an additional Judicial District in New Mexico, makes the submission of the constitution to the people hereafter requisite for admission in all territories of the United States, excepting Utah, and dispenses altogether with an enabling act.

SPIRITUALISM IN THE U. S. SENATE.—The correspondent of the Philadelphia Inquirer says:—

"Hon. N. P. Tallmadge, formerly a member of the United States Senate, in a letter defending modern Spiritualism from a recent attack upon it by Gen. Shields, intimates that a number of our present Senators are believers in the doctrine, and that the political history of 1860 will be greatly affected if not controlled by it. That the former assertion is entirely true, I happen to know, but that the latter will prove so, I prefer to entertain some doubts."

☞ On a recent occasion, Cumming, Spurgeon and Gough, all famous orators, addressed immense audiences at Brighton, Great Britain. The Brighton Herald says Gough took the lead in point of oratory.

And the best line to lead a woman with, is a Mascu-line.

FOR A SHORT TIME ONLY!
The Sight Preserved.
BLINDNESS PREVENTED.

By request of a great number of the citizens of PORTSMOUTH AND VICINITY,
Mr. J. JACOBS,
Celebrated Optician,
From the city of Rotterdam, Holland, has visited this place with a large selection of Telescopes, Microscopes, and Eye Glasses, for Ladies and Gentlemen, Patent Double Vision Spectacles, Scotch Pebble Spectacles, and Wollaston's Concentrative Spectacles, in Gold, Silver and Steel Frames.

A LONG continued practice in the art of Optics has enabled him to manufacture Glasses of peculiar form and superior quality, and adapt them to each individual, after a careful examination of the eye. Those Glasses which correspond with the defect of near, far or weak sightedness.

Persons in general, not acquainted with the art of Optics, are left to select their Glasses themselves, which abuse is surely injurious to the Eye, and has caused the prejudiced to avoid the use of them as long as possible, when selected as soon as the sight begins to fail, by a skillful Optician the Eye will retain its natural strength, and be improved. The importance of this subject, as introduced by the subscriber, has been fully acknowledged by the highest authorities.

TESTIMONIALS.

UTICA, N. Y., April 28, 1856.

We the undersigned, having used Optical Instruments, (and Scotch Pebble Spectacles,) of the manufacture of JACOB JACOBS, and having thoroughly tested their powers and qualities do certify that we have found them to be good, and can recommend them to the public as well worthy of consideration. We can particularly recommend he Scotch Pebble Spectacles for the protection which they afford the Eye, and the increased clearness and power of vision.

CLOTHING HOUSE.

TAKING advantage of the large Manufacturers' Auction Sales of CLOTHS, CASSIMERES,
Fancy Doeskins,
AND SATINETS,
which the necessities of the times have forced upon the Boston and New York markets, we have supplied ourselves from these and other sources, at low prices, with an unusually large and varied STOCK OF Ready-Made Clothing,
particularly adapted to the wants of the New England Trade. Our importations of Gentlemen's Furnishing Goods
have been large and varied; and the Trade may be assured of finding with us a stock not to be excelled, either in variety, style or extent, by any other in this market.

Our terms, either for cash or approved credit, shall be of the most liberal character; and we invite the attention of traders to an examination of our goods before concluding their purchases.

JUST RECEIVED AND FOR SALE AT
CHAS. T. EMERY'S,
No. 10 Market Square.
Where it may be seen in operation.

THIS machine is warranted to do all the work of a $100 machine—not liable to get out of order—and so simple in its construction that a child of ten years can work it. The needles will never break as they will on other machines. I will warrant to keep it in order for a year, for 25 cts. It will also work by the turning of the wheel either forward or backward—so that it is not liable to get out of order.

It is also small in size—not over 5 by 10 inches; can be worked with or without a table. In fact, IT IS THE VERY BEST MACHINE that has yet been invented, and it only wants to be seen to be appreciated.

Call and see it, and I will satisfy you of what I have here advertised.

A person can learn all about it and how to run it in 10 minutes. meb 31

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE IN WATER ST.

SIX BUILDINGS BURNT.

On Saturday night near 11 o'clock, a fire broke out in a cluster of large 3-story wooden buildings between Railway wharf and Long wharf in this city.

The fire first made its appearance in a shed belonging to Wm. B. & Sampson L. Russell, from which it quickly spread to the house and store of the same owners on the west, to the boat-builder's shop of Joseph Green on the east, and to a house belonging to Miss S. A. Salter on the north. These buildings were all close together.—This great body of fire soon extended itself easterly, over the long line of buildings on Railway wharf, belonging to Leonard Cotton,—and more northerly to buildings belonging to Capt. George Melcher.

The whole mass of wooden buildings to Long wharf seemed destined to speedy destruction. But the night was still, water was plentiful, and the fire department poured it on as if it cost nothing, so that a remnant each of three or four buildings stand as a monument of the fact that fires can be put out sometimes, by the favor of a good Providence, and the efforts of good firemen and good citizens.

The property destroyed is :—

1. Large storehouse of Leonard Cotton's on Railway Wharf, containing 800 barrels of various sorts, about 100 barrels of charcoal, a large lot of ships' knees, oakum, wedges, &c. Loss about $1,800. No insurance.

Mr. C. also lost two boats in another building.

2. Boat-builders' shop, owned and occupied by Joseph Green, who lost boats, tools, &c., to the amount of $1,000, and upwards. Building insured for $350, in the Portsmouth Mutual. One boat in same shop, belonging to J. R. Holbrook.

3. Large 3-story House and store on Railway wharf and Water street, owned by W. B.'& S. L. Russell,—the store occupied by the latter, and the tenement by Mr. Mills. Mills and family barely escaped with their lives, losing furniture, clothes, &c. The buildings half or two-thirds destroyed: stock of groceries removed in a hurry, with great loss and damage. Buildings insured for $750 in Portsmouth Mutual; $300 in the Home: grocories $900 in a New York office.

4. Three-story house, belonging to Miss Sarah A. Salter; insured for $500 in Portsmouth Mutual. Nearly burnt down, quite ruined.

5. Some outbuildings, consumed entirely.—6. House belonging to Capt. George Melcher; half burnt. Not known to us whether these were insured or not. 7.—Sheds, &c., on Long Wharf, scorched.

The poor Irish families, who were routed out of their lodgings, by the fire, are considerable losers, not in amount, but in convenience and privation. One Irish woman, who had saved her bureau and her baby, tended the latter, hushed him to sleep, and then very quietly put him in a bureau drawer, shut him in, out of the night air, and then stood calmly before the bureau, seeing her house burn.

The engine Frank Pierce, from the Navy Yard, came over under the command of Capt. Jenkins. She is a fine tub, and shew her qualities to advantage on this occasion. Laconia, No. 2, had the honor of throwing the first stream upon the flames.

The most beautiful sight in connection with the fire was probably that presented by the bark Thames soon after the flames broke out. Every portion of her spars and rigging was shown in a line of silver tracery.

A gentleman informs us that Mayor Morrison, early in the progress of the fire, issued an excellent order, viz. to close the grog shops, and not to open them again for the night. He states further that this order was obeyed,—and to this he attributes the general good order and remarkable sobriety of the many who were compelled to make a night of it.

It may interest some readers to know, that the great fire of 1813, which destroyed a vast amount of property, left off near where this began, viz. at Long wharf.

The origin of the fire is unknown. Mr. Wm. B. Russell informs us that he passed along by the building where it began, at 20 minutes before 11, and saw no fire.

There are stories of a tenant's being turned out of one of the houses, and making threats.—But they may not be well founded or reliable.

P. S. Another account, furnished by officers of the fire department, states that the fire was discovered at half past 10, in the house owned by Miss Salter.

☞ The Wilson or Appleton House, No. 6 Court street, was sold at auction on Saturday, by Joseph B. Adams, Esq., auctioneer, for $1890, to Wm. P. Jones, Esq.

A BURLESQUE.—On our fourth page today, we insert an article from the N. H. Gazette, signed Reason, designed, as the editor informs us, to burlesque some doings of Uncle Toby.

It used to be said, some time ago, that "it spoiled a joke to explain it." Uncle Toby don't think it holds good in the present case—for if the editor of the Gazette had not told his readers that "Reason's" talk was a burlesque, they would have thought he was in earnest.

But the editor's explanatory note is wider of the mark than the burlesque itself—for he says "it was written as a burlesque exposition of the inductions of Uncle Toby." Now it happens that Uncle T. has said very little about the matter. The first account was got up on Sunday night, by two young reporters, while Uncle T. was in bed and asleep; and they affixed the head "Rum did it," which he read next morning as news, 12 hours after half the city knew it.

The inductions have been made by respectable correspondents in nearly every case. The exceptions are these: When Uncle T. had carefully heard the testimony at the inquest, and was publishing the report of it, he said:

The fight began in an altercation of which the public will probably never know the exact truth. * * * Its origin, by both the conflicting statements of the two men, was somehow connected with the employment at the Navy Yard. * * * *

This provoking mutual taunting on facts was peculiarly irritating to ——, who appears to have been drinking just liquor enough to make his sense of honor very keen, but not enough to impede the use of his limbs.

In another place he said:

Now we have the legitimate fruit of the rum traffic, and of the public opinion which supports it in Portsmouth. We have seen some fruits each year. The 4th of July window-smashing in 1856; the killing of Flannigan in '57; and now of a woman in '58; are the proper fruits of that depraved and besotted public opinion which has proved itself here to be stronger than a wholesome law.

It will be difficult, either by burlesque or argument, to destroy these conclusions, and quite impossible to get rid of these facts.

Uncle T. does not feel himself personally and "individually liable" or responsible for the establishment of the prayer meetings—and every one knows he is not so for getting up the grog shops. But he will say, now the subject is up, that he is unable to see any striking analogy between the two institutions. No one, who knows anything of the matter, doubts that the men who got up the prayer meetings were moved by a kind and benevolent purpose in so doing. That they partake of human imperfection, weakness, and error in judgment, is quite credible, and no one will dispute it. But the grog shop—is there anything kind, benevolent, or useful in it? Does any neighborhood, when a new groggery opens on the corner, expect to see more order, sobriety, quiet and happiness?

Alas for the burlesque! Alas for Reason! Alas for common sense!

A CARD.—We the undersigned, in behalf of the citizens of Portsmouth, tender our greatful acknowledgements to the officers and members of the Navy Yard Engine, for their prompt attendance at the fire, on the morning of the 11th, and the valuable service rendered us by them on their arrival at the fire.

J. G. HADLEY, Chief Engineer.
LEONARD AKERMAN, Secretary.

CARD.—Wm. B. & S. L. Russell would most gratefully acknowledge the prompt and successful efforts of the members of the Fire Department and many others of their fellow citizens, in saving a portion of their property from destruction by fire. They would also tender their thanks to the officers of the Navy Yard for the fire engine belonging there, and to the men who did so good service with it.

We reckon "the news of" last week wasn't so prolific as some of the "sour fellows" (to say nothing of "the sweet creatures") counted on.

STRAY HOGS.—Two stray swine came into my enclosure on Sunday April 11.—The owner is requested to prove property, pay charges, and take them away.

C. W. HUTCHINSON, 1 Edward st.

☞ The Prayer Meeting on Sunday morning at the Middle Street Church, was wall attended; over four hundred persons being present.

ASSAULT.—William Saxon, an Englishman, one of the "strikers" at the James Mill, Newburyport, committed an assault Friday afternoon by striking one Michael Cary so violently that he remained in an unconscious state during the afternoon, and but faint hopes were entertained of his recovery. Saxon made his escape upon the railroad track, but was overtaken by Marshal Westcott at Rowley, and brought back.—Herald.

OPERATIVES RETURNING TO WORK.—The Salem Gazette states that a large part of the operatives in the Naumkeag Mill have gone back to their work at the offered by the company.

NEW YORK, Apr. 9.—Mayor Tieman today closed the Street Commissioner's office, and suspended Mr. Devlin from duty, untill the charges developed against him in the fraud investigations shall be thoroughly investigated, and his name cleared of reproach.

The Crittenden Montgomery Kansas Bill.

The Senate Lecompton Bill was defeated last week in the House, and the Crittenden amendment was substituted on motion of Montgomery, a Pennsylvania, Anti-Lecompton Democrat. The bill, as amended by the Crittenden Montgomery amendment, provides that "Kansas be and hereby is admitted into the Union on an equal footing with the original States," on the condition, precedent, that the Lecompton Constitution be submitted to a vote of the people of Kansas, and if accepted, the President is to be notified of the fact, and by proclamation render the admission complete and absolute; but should it be rejected, the bill provides for the formation of another constitution, which shall be submitted to the people, and if ratified, the Governor of the Territory within 20 days shall certify the same to the President, who shall announce it by proclamation, and without further proceedings, Kansas shall be a State on equal footing with the other States. The bill provides for a Board of Commissioners consisting of the Governor and Secretary of the Territory, the President of the Council and Speaker of the House of Representatives, which Board shall establish precincts, and have the general supervision of the elections. Severe penalties are provided for illegal voting and other election frauds.

Such is the bill passed by the House and now before the Senate. We can but consider it a triumph of popular sovereignty, and the principles of the Democratic party. On the question to reject the Senate bill, that is to completely discard the Lecompton Constitution as a basis of action, the black republican strength was but 95 to 187 in favor of such action. This 95 is the real strength of the Philadelphia, anti-popular sovereignty, Freesoil Republicans. And on the adoption of the Crittenden amendment, which admits Kansas under the Lecompton Constitution, if the people desire it, makes it a slave State if the people desire it, knocks down the "wall of fire" which the blacks were going to put between the free and slave States, and sends Kansas out of Congress, never again to monopolize the time and distract the peace of the nation, the entire black republican delegation voted yea.

We believe the unqualified admission of Kansas, with the right to change her constitution after admission, at pleasure, would be preferable to this bill, but after all, there is no essential difference; between the President's recommendation and the bill passed by the House, and we hope the Senate will so regard it. Let Kansas in, on the Crittenden Amendment, and the great principle of popular sovereignty achieves a mighty victory, the Democratic party conquers, and our opponents are deprived forever of the offensive weapons which they have wielded so disastrously to our party. We think the prospects are that the Senate will acquiesce in the House bill as the best compromise of the difficulty which can be expected.

From the N. H. Gazette.

THE PRAYER MEETING "DID IT."—The wife of H. Peck died in Providence, 4th inst, having been made insane by religious excitement about ten days before; and Mr. Peck himself is in the insane hospital from the same cause, without signs of recovery.—Chronicle.

"By these melancholy occurrences a house has been made desolate, and a family of young children deprived of both father and mother—babes and those of tender years made orphans, and thrown upon the cold care of strangers." The mother first made insane, and then consigned to the grave; and the father a helpless maniac! "A precious human life—a youthful wife and mother has thus been destroyed," and a father doomed to a living death! "Who did it? The murderer's name is on every tongue." The Prayer meeting, yes, the PRAYER MEETING "DID IT!" What an awful amount of responsibility rests upon the fomenters of the religious excitement—the clergy, the church, and all other participants in it—which has produced these sad and heart-rending consequences. Yes, and even the public authorities and the whole community, so far as they have countenanced this excitement, are involved in the guilt. Who is safe while this whirlwind of excitement in the name of religion is suffered to go on? Is it not time that such a mind and life destroying agency was put under the ban of the merciful and humane—received the discountenance of the entire community? "Who of our 'chief men' will lead forward the citizens in this work of boundless benefits to this and coming generations?"

We will not say, because it would be impious in any one but a clergyman, that these calamities are the "emphatic voice of God" to warn the Christian community to forsake the arts and ways of the Pharisees, and return to the precepts and instructions of the Saviour in the performance of their religious duties—to pray in secret that they may be rewarded openly, and not upon the house-top, and with the noise and excitement of the whirlwind, to be heard of man. But we leave the reader to reflect how many are the sources of evil in this mixed state of good and ill, with what facility even the blessings of life are perverted to this end, and how utterly absurd and impotent are the efforts of that one idea fanaticism, which seeks to remove the sins and abuses of the world by the impracticable and impossible method of suppressing and destroying necessary and useful passive agents, rather than by reforming the hearts and thereby subduing the bad passions and appetites of men. REASON.

☞ Those who have read the intemperate tirades of the Chronicle under the head of "Rum did it," will not need to be told that the above is written as a burlesque exposition of the false inductions of Uncle Toby, and not as a serious condemnation of a genuine revival of religion.—Ed. Gazette.

Mary Brainard was arrested in Buffalo for giving her liege lord an unmerciful thrashing, but let off upon showing that she had to support the family, while he, lazy, good-for-nothing fellow, "gave her ease" when she told him to run on an errand.

MOSES & DOWNIE,

SOLE Agents for the above Goods, have on hand a large Stock of the same, suitable for shore and sea wear.

These fabrics, since their first introduction to the public, (almost three years since,) have been fully tested, and the result has proved them to possess all the qualities requisite to make a perfect article. They have on hand numerous testimonials from gentlemen in the navy and merchant service, which they would be pleased to show any one who would call to see them with a call. They have been supplying some of the officers of the Falmouth, who have tested the Rubber goods, and found them unfit for sea service.

THE RESTORATIVE OF PROF. O. J. WOOD for restoring hair perfectly and permanently, has never yet had a rival. Volume after volume might be given from testimony with the tallest and most beautiful curls imaginable. We know of numerous cases where hair was rapidly falling out, which it restored in greater perfection than it ever had before.

It is also without doubt one of the best articles for keeping the hair in good condition, making it soft and glossy, removing dandruff, and has proved itself the greatest enemy to all the ills that hair is heir to.

It is the duty of every one to improve their personal appearance though some may differ in regard to the ways of doing it; but every one will admit that a beautiful head of hair either in man or woman, is an object much to be desired, and there are no means that should be left untried to obtain such a consideration.—Women's Advocate, Philadelphia.

COSHOCTON, Ohio, Nov. 17, 1856.

O. J. Wood & Co.—Gents: I have been engaged in selling your Hair Restorative the last season for one of your local agents (R. M. Hankinson,) and having experienced the beneficial effects of it myself, I would like to obtain an agency for the State of Ohio or some state in the west, should you wish to make such an arrangement, as I am convinced there is nothing equal to it for the hair. I have been engaged in the Drug business for several years, and have sold various preparations for the hair, but have found nothing that possesses the secretion organs or invigorates the scalp as well as yours, being convinced that your restorative is what you represent it to be, I would like to engage in the sale of it, for I am satisfied it must sell.

Yours truly, S. T. STOCKMAN.

WAYLAND, MASS., Feb. 5, 1857.

PROF. O. J. WOOD & CO.—Gents: Having realized the good effects of your Hair Restorative, I wish to state that finding my hair growing thin, and well as gray, I was induced from what I read and heard, to try the article prepared by you, to promote its growth and change its color as it was in youth. And it which has effected completely. In the operation I have used nearly 3 bottles.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $70,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

The numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

CAUTION NOTICE.

PERSONS living at a distance should be extremely cautious of whom they purchase Lottery Tickets or Certificates of Packages of Tickets.—The country is flooded with bogus and swindling Lotteries. Every inducement is held out to get persons to invest money in them. Capital Prizes of from $20,000 to $40,000 head their schemes—with tickets at One Dollar. $100,000 capital prizes are offered, tickets 25 cents, and so on. In instance, are frauds; and if money is sent to them for tickets, it is so much thrown away without the shadow of a chance of getting back any thing. In all Lotteries where the Capital Prize is unusually large in comparison to the price of tickets—in every instance where large prizes are offered for a small cost of tickets, put it down as a certain fraud.

The Kentucky State Lottery for the benefit of the Shelby College, under our management, is the only Lottery in the United States which is legally decided by the Maryland Drawings; all other Lotteries which pretend to be decided by the Maryland Drawings, are frauds.

THE MARYLAND STATE LOTTERIES.

Purchase in the Maryland State Lotteries, then you are certain of being right. And in ordering in the Maryland Lotteries, you are sure of fair and honest drawings.

One thing look to, and that is, if you order from any licensed vender in Baltimore, do not receive any but Managers' Tickets and Managers' Printed Certificates of Packages. The Managers' Certificates have the numbers printed, and have the lithographic signature of R. France & Co.

No one has a right to send his individual certificates, if he does it, be sure there is a fraud at the bottom of it.

A PROCLAMATION

TO THE LADIES.

WHEREAS, it appears that the days of right, honor, and integrity are fast fading away, and WHEREAS, the unscrupulous and ignorant are daily taking advantage of the credulity of females; BE IT RESOLVED, THEREFORE, to all, whether MAIDS, WIVES, or WIDOWS, that Dr CHEESEMAN'S FEMALE PILLS are alone the certain panacea for their ailments, and the best to remove disorganization; they ALONE correcting all painful menstruation, assuaging palpitations of the heart, disturbed sleep, pain in the side, and causing health and happiness to flow more equally to the MARRIED PORTION, as they are certain to bring on the monthly period with regularity.—AND WHEREAS, these PILLS are entirely vegetable and entirely free from mineral; therefore perfectly harmless in their operations and wholly unlike other medicines thrust upon the public purporting to effect the objects already detailed. THEREFORE, BE IT KNOWN, that NOTHING but the said PILLS of Dr. CHEESEMAN will accomplish the desired effect, when nature or Nature has been perverted under the regime of OTHER PILLS; and the Ladies will cause this Proclamation to spread amongst them, to their own everlasting benefit—always promising that said Proclamation in one case must be considered NULL and VOID; that is to say the PILLS MUST not be taken when any female is in a STATE OF PREGNANCY, otherwise a MISCARRIAGE will be the inevitable result.

Explicit directions, to be carefully read, accompany each box. Price $1. Sent by mail on enclosing $1 to Dr. CORNELIUS L. CHEESEMAN, Box No. 4,551, Post Office, New York City. Sold by Druggists in every town in the United States.

Given under my hand and seal.

—MANUFACTURERS OF—

Melodeons, Organ Melodeons,

—and—

PEDAL BASS MELODEONS.

No. 511 Washington St., Boston.

The first premium over all competitors, at the Fair of the Massachusetts Charitable Mechanic Association, of the National Fair, Washington, D. C., also at the Ohio State Fair, held at Columbus, Ohio, was awarded to these Manufacturers.

By means of a new method of Voicing, known only to themselves, they have succeeded in removing the harsh and burning sound which formerly characterized the instrument, and rendering the tones full, clear and large. The action is prompt and reliable, enabling the performer to execute the most rapid music without blurring the tones. The swell is arranged to give great expression.

THE PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

Are designed particularly for Churches, Lodges, Halls, &c. It is arranged with two manuals, or banks of Keys, the lower set running an octave higher than the other, and may be used separately, and thus get in one case two distinct instruments; or by use of the coupler, the two banks of keys may be played at the same time by use of the front set only. This connected with the Pedal Bass, will produce the effect of a large organ, and is sufficiently heavy to fill a house that seats from 1000 to 1500 persons.

THE ORGAN MELODEON

Is designed for parlor and private use. The construction is similar to the Church Instrument, being arranged with two banks of Keys, and when used together, by means of the coupler, is capable of as great volume of power as the Church Instrument, but used without the pedals. Also, every variety of MELODEONS for Parlor use.

Purchasers may rely upon instruments from our Manufactory, being made in the most complete and thorough manner. Having removed to the spacious Buildings

511 Washington Street,

We have every facility for manufacturing purposes, and employ none but the most experienced and skillful workmen. In short, we will promise our customers an Instrument equal, if not superior, to any Manufacturer, and guarantee satisfaction in every instance.

Music Teachers, Leaders of Choirs, and others interested in musical matters, are respectfully invited to visit our Rooms at any time, and examine our different instruments, on exhibition for sale at their pleasure.

As a still further guarantee to the public as to the excellence of the S. D. & H. W. SMITH'S Manufactory, we beg leave to refer, by permission, to the following who have exclusively used our instruments, and will give their opinion when called upon:

Piano Forte Manufacturers of Boston,

Chickering & Sons, Hallett & Cumston,
T. Gilbert & Co., Wm. F. Emerson,
Brown & Allen, A. W. Ladd & Co.,
George Hewes, Woodward & Brown,
Newhall & Co.

MELODEONS RENTED.

Persons wishing Melodeons with a view of purchasing at the end of the year, can have the rent credited as part payment of the purchase money. This matter is worthy of special note, as enables those who desire a fair test of the instruments before purchasing, to obtain it at the expense of the manufacturers, to the extent at least of a year's rent.

Orders from any part of the country or world, sent direct to the manufactory in Boston, with cash, or satisfactory reference, will be promptly attended to, and the instruments sent, as if the parties were present, or employed an agent to select, and on as reasonable terms.

VOL. 12. PORTSMOUTH, N. H., TUESDAY, APRIL 13, 1858. NO. 60.

SUICIDE.—On Thursday afternoon William H. Chamberlain jumped from the Railroad bridge across Connecticut River, at Bellows Falls, upon the rocks, and was instantly killed. He had been "on a spree" for several days, and was crazed with liquor at the time of taking his last jump.—Chamberlain and a young man by the name of Kilburn, of Alstead, had just left a notorious rum shop on this side of the river, and started for the Vermont side, and when within a few rods of the bridge, Chamberlain told Kilburn that he was going to jump off the bridge and end his days, and started on a run for the bridge. Kilburn caught hold of him, but Chamberlain being the strongest or soberest, got away, and instantly put his threat in execution.

Chamberlain was a blacksmith by trade, was about 32 years old, and leaves a wife with whom he has not lived for two or three years. Rum did it!—Claremont Eagle.

SILENCE.

From a volume, just published in London, of very pleasing poetry, entitled "The Rivulet: a Contribution to Sacred Song," by Thomas T. Lynch.

In silence mighty things are wrought—
Silently builded, thought on thought,
Truth's temple greets the sky;
And, like a citadel with towers,
The soul, with her subservient powers,
Is strengthen'd silently.

Soundless as chariots on the snow,
The saplings of the forest grow
To trees of mighty girth;
Each nightly star in silence burns,
And every day in silence turns
The axle of the earth.

The silent frost, with mighty hand,
Fetters the rivers and the land
With universal chain;
And smitten, by the silent sun,
The chain is loosed, the rivers run,
The lands are free again.

ARREST AND ATTEMPT TO RESCUE.—On Saturday evening, in Boston, the police of the Fourth Station arrested an Irishman named David Burke, for breaking windows near the Old Colony depot, when a large crowd of his countrymen assembled and prevented the officer from taking the prisoner to the Station House. Finding it probable his prisoner would be rescued he took him into the depot and sent for assistance.

When this arrived the crowd, which numbered several hundred, considered the discretion the better part of valor, and dispersed, allowing the officers to take the man to the lockup. Several bricks were thrown, but no one was injured.—Boston Ledger.

And of such worthies as these a body of voters is made, who really hold the balance of power in Boston elections, and who, by and by, will hold the power itself, unless some reform takes place.

AN INDIGNANT STRANGER.—A good looking officer of the police was standing near the corner of one of our streets last Sunday, (says the Boston Ledger,) when a slightly inebriated individual staggered up and opened the following conversation:—

"S-s-s-say! d'reet a fellar to the next rum sh-shop."

"It's Sunday, my friend," answered officer L., "and drinking saloons are not allowed to be kept open on that day."

"Wur dus that star mean? Are you a p'lice off'sir? I'm a stranger here and its your duty to show fellar where he want's go. Where's you chief p'lice—I'll report you, sir."

The drunken gravity and indignant emphasis with which the "stranger" delivered the threats was too much for the officer, who concluded it was better to show him where he ought to go, instead of where he wanted to.

WHO WAS FOOLED?—On the 1st of April a young Cincinnati lawyer was called upon by a gentleman who sought his advice in a very important case, as he called it. After some consultation the gentleman took his departure, agreeing to return the next morning, and leaving the attorney to prepare papers and to meditate upon the pleasing prospect of a new case in Court. It is needless to add that at last accounts the stranger had not returned, and probably will not till next fools' day. The young lawyer, however, nothing daunted by this discouraging denouement, hit upon an expedient for turning the tables, which might be classed under the head of sharp practice. It was nothing less than sending his "little bill" to the practical joker, charging him the very moderate sum of $10, for professional advice. He wants to be fooled again in the same manner, every first of April.

A young man who has recently taken a wife says, he did not find it half so hard to get married as he did to get the furniture.

Ten poor men can sleep tranquilly upon a mat, but two kings are not able to live at peace in a quarter of the world.

REMOVAL OF SLAVERY FROM MISSOURI.—The Alexandria Delta is another of the Missouri newspapers that encourages the cause of free white labor in that State.—Its issue of March 30th has the following;

Tens of thousands of persons in the east, who never before entertained the idea, are now seriously considering the propriety of a removal to Missouri. We should not wonder if the operation of this cause (emancipation) alone should bring 50,000 inhabitants into Missouri from the free States in one year from this date; and that 200,000 additional should follow from the same cause in two years.

SAMUEL COOPER,
Late Principal Examiner of Patents in the United States Patent Office, at Washington,
HAS REMOVED HIS OFFICE TO
WEBSTER BANK BUILDING,
13 EXCHANGE STREET, BOSTON.
PATENTS secured in the United States, and in all other patent granting countries. Specifications and drawings prepared, and Caveats filed. Reconsiderations procured, of applications that have been rejected upon imperfectly prepared papers. Interferences prosecuted. Reissues and extension procured in general, all business connected with the Patent Office transacted with care and promptness.
British and other foreign Patents procured through prompt and confidential agents in London and Paris.
Persons residing at a distance may obtain all necessary information, and have their business transacted, by writing to the subscriber, without the trouble and expense of a visit to Washington.
He begs leave to refer those unacquainted with him to the following testimonials:—
From Hon. Chas. Mason, Commissioner of Patents.
U. S. PATENT OFFICE, Feb 23, 1855.
I take great pleasure in stating that during the time I have been acting as Commissioner of Patents, Samuel Cooper, Esq., of Boston, has been engaged as Solicitor, and has been in that capacity in constant correspondence and intercourse with the office; he has evinced a thorough acquaintance with the Patent Law, and with the rules and practice of the office, a close attention to the interests of his clients, and a marked candor and courtesy that has rendered the transaction of business with him a pleasure. I have no hesitation in stating that I regard him as one of the very best agents for the transaction of business with this office with whom I am acquainted.
From the Examiners of the Patent Office.
The undersigned, Principal and Assistant Examiners in the United States Patent Office, have for several years been well acquainted with Mr. Samuel Cooper, late a principal Examiner in this office, and take pleasure in stating that he is a gentleman of the highest moral character, of unquestioned knowledge in the business and practice of the office, and that his scientific attainments are such as eminently fit him for the business in which he is about to engage.
HENRY B. RENWICK, L. D. GALE, S. H. LANE, } Principal Examiners.
T. R. TAYLOR, THOS. T. EVERETT, F. SOUTHGATE SMITH, WM. U. LANGDON, } Assistant Examiners.
From long acquaintance and intimate official relations with Mr. Cooper, I fully and heartily concur in the foregoing recommendation made by my late colleagues. W. P. N. FITZGERALD, Late Principal Examiner of Patents.

Coggswell's Medical Salt,
A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE
FOR THE
LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.
INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—has but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: SUBDUES INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. It is asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a quill dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.

BIBLE AND TRACT SOCIETIES.

The American Bible and Tract Societies will both have warm work, at their approaching Anniversaries.—The Tract Society will have the second part of last year's discussion and dissension on the question of slavery. They may also have to consider an economical question, whether it is better to sell, as they now do, by auxiliaries and agents only,—or as in England, by the booksellers also. The latter course is much the cheapest.

The Bible Society have made work for repentance by a backward step.

In October 1847, the Committee of Versions, one of the Standing Committees of the Board of the Bible Society, were directed by the Board to have prepared under their supervision, a Standard Edition of the Holy Scriptures, as circulated by this Society in the English language. In February 1848, the Committee entered upon this work; and they prosecuted it diligently from that time onward, till May 1851, when they reported to the Board that their work was accomplished, and the principles upon which it had been conducted. Their Report was accepted, and ordered to be printed: and the copy of the Bible prepared by them was adopted as the Standard Copy of this Society, to which all future editions by it should be conformed.

The Editions thus prepared, thus adopted, and thus afterward published, have been ever since in use by the Society; going everywhere, until within a few months past, without known dissent, wherever the Holy Scriptures in English, as distributed by this Society, have been accustomed to circulate.

Objections, however, have recently been presented against these Editions. These objections were started by Rev. Mr. Coxe, a High Churchman, and were seconded and carried through, by the Old School Presbyterian clergymen in and near New York city.

The duty and aim of the committee, according to vote, was not to make a new version at all, but only "to have a Standard Edition of the Bible in English, of King James's version, prepared for the Society; which should be made as perfect as possible, be cleansed of all typographical errors, and be the model to which all future editions should be conformed." This they did to the best of their ability.

The accessories to the version—including particularly the Headings of columns, and the Contents of Chapters—they had tried to amend, and to bring more exactly into conformity with the text of the Scriptures, and with the Constitution of the Society itself. In this they did only what previous editors had frequently done, and what they supposed no one could object to. The "version" itself—i. e.—the Translated Text of the Scriptures—they meant to leave only improved and perfected in the manner of its imprint.

The character of the Committee—embracing as it did, Dr. Spring as chairman; with Dr. Turner, the venerable professor of Sacred Literature in the Episcopal Theological Seminary in New York city; Dr. Robinson of the Union Theological Seminary; Dr. J. McClintock, of the Methodist Church; Dr. Cock, of the Society of Friends, a man of conservative character, and one of the Senior Vice-Presidents of the Society; Dr. Vermilye, of the Reformed Dutch Church; and Dr. Storrs, of the Congregational—was a sufficient guaranty that nothing rash or reckless could be done by it; and that the aim of the Committee would be, as it was, simply and purely to make the best Edition possible of the English Bible, in King James's version, for the use of the Society. And nothing was done by this Committee without entire unanimity, at least so far as the principles and rules involved were concerned.

For six years after their Report was made, was published by the Board, and was profusely distributed in all parts of the land, no criticism was heard on it. For six years after these editions were published, and while they had been sent, literally by millions, into all parts of the country, no objection was made to them. But the Rev. Mr. Coxe, above alluded to, published a pamphlet against the expurgated edition,—and Rev. R. J. Breckenridge, of the Old School Presbyterian church, denounced it as "the new bible,"—And these movements have been at length successful, in destroying the new editions with their plates, and going back to the old, errors and all.

How this was done will be seen in the next paragraph.

The Old School Presbyterians having fifteen out of the thirty-six elected Managers of the Bible Society, while the Dutch Church has but two, the Congregationalists not a single one;—the Old School Presbyterian ministers in the vicinity of the Bible House, from New York city, Elizabethtown, New Brunswick, etc., being many of them Life Members of the Society, and so entitled to vote in the meetings of the Board, and having been moved by the unusual pressure brought upon them to avail themselves on this occasion of this rarely-claimed right:—the whole course of action of the Society for the last seven years has been violently reversed; the carefully prepared editions, circulated in that period, are ordered to be broken up, and the old ones, which have been practically displaced by these, to be reinstated; the very Protest of the Committee of Versions against this course—although the members of that Committee had served the Board from ten to twenty years apiece, at great sacrifice to themselves, through mere love of the cause, and though their Protest was entirely temperate and decorous in its terms—is refused a place on the Minutes of the Board: the Committee, finally, are driven in self-respect to resign their places, Dr. Spring alone yielding to the now prevalent influence, and retaining his commission!!!

All this will bring on a debate in the annual meeting of the American Bible Society, such as has never before been known in that usually harmonious body.

THE LARD SWINDLE.

Some days ago, we mentioned the Coffee Swindle. Now we unmask a Lard Swindle of the same sort. The following bogus letter was sent the bakers in this city.

BOSTON, March 22d, 1858.

Dear Sir:—We take the liberty of addressing you, stating that we have bought the assignee stock of lard, belonging to the late firm of Bosworth, March, & Co., amounting to thirty thousand dollars, and are anxious to dispose of the same, at greatly reduced prices for cash. It is put in packages of 500 lbs. each, which we offer you at the low price of 8 cts. and warrant it as good an article, as can be purchased in Boston Market for 10 1-2 cts. If you would like one package or more enclose the cash for half amount you order, and let the balance stand for sixty days, when our agent will call upon you and if the article is not the first quality of No. 1 Leaf Lard, present your bill to him for your trouble and it will be cheerfully paid.

Respectfully,
GEORGE H. BARNES & Co.
Commission Merchants,
to whom all orders must be addressed.

It is only necessary to add, that there is no such firm, but the whole is a trap to catch remittances, and then disappear.

BOGUS LOTTERIES BROKEN UP.—On Friday last, an onslaught was made by Sergeant Birney of the Mayor's Office, New York City, on several bogus lottery-circulating and printing establishments in Norwich and New London, Conn., by which fifteen arrests were made of persons directly or by implication concerned in this kind of business.

The extent to which these bogus companies have been enabled to practise their system of fraud and make victims of such foolish devotees on the wheel of fortune as were willing to invest their funds on the strength of the shallow promise of a lottery agent, has been very great, and the business in New England has been carried on to a larger extent then has been generally supposed.

REMARKABLE ESCAPE.—Mr. Peter Connell, while drawing water on the premises of Mr. John Allen, in Woonsocket, fell head-foremost into the well, a distance of about sixty feet, on Friday. He managed to crawl out safely and then became unconscious from fright. How a man could fall headforemost into a well so deep, and yet escape with so small injury, is a puzzle. It is wonderful that he was not killed instantly.

☞ On Sunday last, the wife of Mr. John Logan, of Bloomingdale, N. J., met with a very sudden death. Mr. Logan left the house for a few moments, and upon his return found her standing on the outside of the house with her head in the window, and the sash resting on the back of her neck. She was dead.

☞ A company of Washington ruffians who went to Alexandria on Sunday with the remains of one of their comrades, on leaving the latter city, discharged twelve or fifteen pistol shots from the cars, shooting a negro woman in the mouth, and severely wounding her. Other persons narrowly escaped the balls of the demon outlaws.

ELECTION IN LOUISVILLE.—At the recent municipal election in Louisville, Ky., the American candidates were chosen in every ward in the city.

☞ The New Orleans, Jackson, and Great Northern Railroad is at length completed to Canton—a continuous railway for two hundred and six miles.

THEODORE PARKER ON "TRUE REVIVALS." The audience at the Music Hall, Boston, on Sunday morning, says the Traveller, was crowded to excess, and hundreds could not obtain admittance. Mr. Parker's text was the 48th verse of the 5th chapter of Matthew. His subject he stated to be "the religious revival which we need, and the way to bring it about."

In defining religion, Mr. Parker said that the innermost life was veiled, and none but God and ourself could ever read it. Mankind was loyal to religious truth. We always took an interest in the man who was trying to gain it. The affection of religion was the universal plural, embracing God and all his works.

A true revival of piety in our midst would behold the will and the conscience going side by side; vice, poverty, slavery, drunkenness at an end: no brutal lusts, not an Irishman drunk—not even a member of Congress. What we wanted was no increase of intellectual theology, but a revival of pure piety in people's hearts. We wanted people to get under or over or thro' the bars of that old winter cowyard of the church, and bask in the light of spring without. This very present movement in our churches, selfish as were its managers, and poorly as it was conducted, showed that the people were longing for and needed vital piety.

The five great evils which existed in our community were portrayed by the preacher, namely—"war, political corruption, slavery, selfish antagonism in society, and the degradation of woman." Yet he found hope in the belief that all these evils were never before so small as now; that our institutions, with one exception, are the best in the world. History was a progress onward and upward.

Yet there was a great work to do, and nothing but the religious faculty could aid us to do it. It was the province of the minister to awaken, quicken, strengthen and guide that feeling. He was the teacher of the church, not the master. The church was an association to promote piety and morality among its own members, and thence send it abroad into the community. Our ministers generally did not think it their business to remove either of the five great evils spoken of, but rather to make men adherents of the ecclesiastical theology preached in our orthodox meeting houses. The American Tract Society was one of their embodiments; its object was theologic, and not religious, and so it attacked no great popular wickedness. The agents of the revival churches had come to him, but they had not asked him to be better as a father, a philanthropist, a better neighbor, preacher, friend, husband, but only to come into their creed.

Mr. Parker then spoke at some length of true religion as manifested in life. In this connection he made the remark that you cannot convey a thousand women or a thousand hogsheads of sugar from Boston to New York, without starting a hoop. He would have religion showing itself in the life: the faces of a man's wife and child were the best certificates of his conversion. True revivals would not come by prayer alone; prayer was a pleasure and an encouragement; but it was not a substitute for work. Revivals of piety came little by little, not as the lightning which shineth from the East to the West, but as the morning, slowly and steadily growing to the perfect day.

WAR UPON CARPETS.—The editor of the "Musical World" (R. S. Willis) is writing exceedingly interesting reminiscences of his life in Germany. In the sketch of Rink the composer, and his home, there occurs this passage:—"There is no carpet on the floor: the German home has generally no carpet, as we understand the term. Perhaps a square rug is placed under the centre table, and this is called a carpet.—But the floor is so spotless, that it were a pity to cover over its immaculateness with anything. Indeed, after a short residence in countries where a certain intimacy is maintained between floor and scrubbing brush, even to one accustomed to this luxury, the carpet seems a not over-tidy thing. Like the habitual black silk neckerchief, against which some Englishmen entertain such a prejudice, from the fact that it goes not weekly to the laundress, so a carpet that cannot be washed, dawns upon one gradually as not a particularly neat institution! It is all a matter of association; a habit of wearing washable neckerchiefs induces a dislike to a grimy, black silk one—the habit of walking on a scrubable and tidy floor induces a dislike to carpets."

BILLY BOWLEGS could not be expected to hold out forever: we are not surprised at being reliably informed that he has surrendered his old rusty sword, himself and his whole tribe of ragmuffins over to the government to accept its terms to go West. Billy has undoubtedly been at the head of a great set of rascals and cut-throats, and the news from Tampa informs us that the "tribe" represents every color and shade from pure black to a light cream color, it having pretty seriously amalgamated with runaway slaves and white scoundrels generally. Billy is represented by the Madison Fla., Messenger, as an old gentleman in a shockingly ragged and dirty condition. Whatever others may say of Billy, we shall always have a deep regard for him, for aside from his military prowess, which has filled the country with his renown, he has several times emptied the sub-treasury and furnished us with scores of pungent and thrilling paragraphs.—Charlestown Advertiser.

FIRE IN TAUNTON.—Woman Burnt to Death.—The dwelling of house Edmund Powers in East Taunton was destroyed by fire about nine o'clock last evening. His wife, while attempting to save some articles in the attic, was suffocated by the dense smoke and perished in the flames.

FOR A SHORT TIME ONLY!
The Sight Preserved.
BLINDNESS PREVENTED.

By request of a great number of the citizens of PORTSMOUTH AND VICINITY,
Mr. J. JACOBS,
Celebrated Optician,
From the city of Rotterdam, Holland, has visited this place with a large selection of Telescopes, Microscopes, and Eye Glasses, for Ladies and Gentlemen, Patent Double Vision Spectacles, Scotch Pebble Spectacles, and Wollaston's Conservative Spectacles, in Gold, Silver and Steel Frames.
A LONG continued practice in the art of Optics has enabled him to manufacture Glasses of peculiar form and superior quality, and adapt them to each individual, after a careful examination of the eye. Those Glasses which correspond with the defect of near, far or weak sightedness.
Persons in general, not acquainted with the art of Optics, are left to select their Glasses themselves, which abuse is surely injurious to the Eye, and has caused the prejudiced to avoid the use of them as long as possible, when selected as soon as the sight begins to fail, by a skillful Optician, the Eye will retain its natural strength, and be improved. The importance of this subject, as introduced by the subscriber, has been fully acknowledged by the highest authorities.
TESTIMONIALS.
UTICA, N. Y., April 28, 1856.
We the undersigned, having used Optical Instruments, (and Scotch Pebble Spectacles,) of the manufacture of Jacob Jacobs, and having thoroughly tested their powers and qualities do certify that we have found them to be good, and can recommend them to the public as well worthy of consideration. We can particularly recommend the Scotch Pebble Spectacles for the protection which they afford the Eye, and the increased clearness and power of vision.

SEWING MACHINES,
Price $5
JUST RECEIVED AND FOR SALE AT
CHAS. T. EMERY'S,
No. 10 Market Square.
Where it may be seen in operation.
THIS machine is warranted to do all the work of a $100 machine—not liable to get out of order—and so simple in its construction that a child of ten years can work it. The needles will never break as they will on other machines. I will warrant to keep it in order for a year, for 25 cts. It will also work by the turning of the wheel either forward or backward—so that it is not liable to get out of order.
It is also small in size—not over 5 by 10 inches; can be worked with or without a table. In fact,
IT IS THE VERY BEST MACHINE
that has yet been invented, and it only wants to be seen to be appreciated.
Call and see it, and I will satisfy you of what I have here advertised.

Blood's Seedling Grape Vines,
For Sale.
TWO varieties of Blood's Seedling GRAPE Vines, which have been tested by the subscriber for 18 years, and found superior to any other cultivated in the open air in this part of the country. This Grape is larger than the Isabella, and ripens in our climate about 2 weeks earlier. For several successive years it has been fully ripe the first week in September, and thus has escaped the early frosts which have in some seasons, cut off the Isabella and other varieties.

A CARD TO THE LADIES.
DR. DUPONCO'S
French Periodical Golden Pills,
FOR FEMALES;
Infallible in Removing Stoppages or Irregularity of the Menses.
THESE Pills are nothing new, but have been used by the Doctor for many years, both in France and America, with unparalled success in every case; and he is urged by many thousand ladies who have used them to make the Pills public, for the alleviation of those suffering from any irregularities whatever, as well as to prevent pregnancy in those ladies whose health will not permit an increase of family. Pregnant females, or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using these Pills while pregnant, as the proprietor assumes no responsibility after the above admonition, although their mildness would prevent any mischief to the child; otherwise these Pills are recommended. Full and explicit directions accompany each box.
Price, $1 dollar. Sold in Portsmouth by JOSEPH H. THACHER, in Dover by Chas. W. Ham, Exeter by C. A. Merrill, and in Newmarket by J. A. Prendergast. They will supply dealers at the Proprietor's prices, and also send the Pills to the Ladies (confidentially) by mail to any part of the city or country, on receipt of $1 through the Post Office.
N. B.—Ladies will be particular in asking for Dr. Duponco's Golden Pills. Observe the signature J. Duponco is upon each box. You will then obtain a Pill you can rely upon.

The Great English Remedy.
SIR JAMES CLARKE'S
Celebrated Female Pills.
Prepared from a prescription of Sir Jas. Clarke M.D., Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.
THIS invaluable Medicine is unfailing in the cure of all those painful and dangerous disorders to which the female constitution is subject. It moderates all excess, removes all obstructions, and a speedy cure may be relied on.
TO MARRIED LADIES
It is peculiarly suited. It will, in a short time, bring on the monthly period with regularity.
Each bottle, Price One Dollar, bears the Government Stamp of Great Britain, to prevent counterfeits.
CAUTION.
These Pills should not be taken by females that are pregnant, during the FIRST THREE MONTHS, as they are sure to bring on Miscarriage, but at every other time and in every other case they are perfectly safe.
In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics, and Whites, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed, and although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or any thing hurtful to the constitution.
Full directions accompany each package.

LOCAL.

SOMETHING PRACTICAL ABOUT FIRES.—A man of much experience in fires, formerly a fireward, and now active in the department, speaking of the Water street fire, says:—"On the whole it was a bad fire, but well managed by our noble firemen, who were quite short-handed in consequence of their fiscal year having expired, and many having left their companies. It is to be regretted that so many of our citizens attend the fires with a determination not to assist our enginemen when asked by a director of a tub to help at the brakes. The universal answer is, "We do not belong to the fire department; the enginemen are paid—let them do the work." This is not right; our enginemen should receive cheerfully every assistance which great fatigue and heavy work require. We cannot close our remarks without expressing our gratitude to our real friends with the Navy Yard engine; they arrived in good season, and did great execution. Our axe companies, which were disbanded a few years since by the Chief Engineer, were very much needed at the late fire."

CORRECTION.—We are now informed by a shopkeeper, whom we consider perfectly good authority in the case, that the Mayor did not issue any order to close the grogshops on Saturday night, as we were before informed; but that they were not open, being kept closed by the owners, who would not have sold any liquor that night, while property was in danger.

The fire undoubtedly commenced in a building on the Salter estate, and not on the premises of the Messrs. Russell.

MEETINGS THIS EVENING, &c.

Union Prayer Meeting in the Free Will Baptist Church, from 8 to 9 o'clock this morning, to which all are invited.

Prayer Meeting in the vestry of the Methodist Church, this evening, beginning at 7 1-2 o'clock.

There will be a business meeting of the Society in the Temple Vestry, this evening, at 7 o'clock, to which all members are invited.

There will be a Spiritual Meeting at Academy Hall this evening.

SPIRITUALISM.—Messrs. Editors:—Dr. Sherman delivered at Academy Hall, on Sabbath evening, a highly interesting and instructive lecture on Spiritualism. As the audience was small, he has consented to repeat it this (Tuesday) evening. To those who love to listen to a good lecture, we would say, do not fail to go. The speaker is a man past the prime of life, and seems to have embodied the best thoughts of years of reflection, reading, and Philosophic research in this lecture. Those who go, however much they may oppose the subject, will not fail to be interested; while any who feel the slightest interest in the matter, will have opportunity of gaining much valuable information, and also an intellectual treat. ALEXIS.

GRANITE STATE ENGINE COMPANY, No. 1. Take this method of returning our warmest thanks to Mr. George Stackpole and Mr. Cunningham for their bountiful supply of hot coffee and other refreshments at the fire on Saturday.

THE LATE ACCIDENTAL DEATH OF SENATOR ADAMS.—We have received a note from John Heard, of Townsend, Mass., in regard to the late melancholy death of Hon. Samuel Adams of that town, stating that the aconite which caused his death was given him by a neighbor as a cure for rheumatism, several years since, and Mr. Adams had entirely forgotten the directions attending it, which led him to take it internally instead of making an outward application.—Traveller.

☞ On Monday morning, at 1 o'clock, at Woonsocket, fire was discovered close to the furnace in the Baptist meeting house, situated near the depot. The church was entirely destroyed with all its furniture. Insured for $6000.

☞ At Ripley, Ohio, the proprietor of a gambling saloon was recently converted, and at his request a daily prayer meeting was organized in his rooms, and is being carried on with great animation.

☞ The Young Men's Christian Association of Philadelphia are now constructing a huge tent, capable of holding 4000 persons, to be used by them during the summer for preaching in destitute and isolated localities.

☞ A man named Lee, charged with abducting slaves, has been convicted at Norfolk, on four indictments, and sentenced to receive fifty stripes, publicly laid on, at the rate of five per day, and to be confined in the penitentiary for 25 years.

The President distinctly disclaims all intention of supporting the Crittenden amendment. He says he has been misrepresented.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—The Union says that the interview between Colonel Benton and the President, on Friday night, was protracted, and that the latter afterwards expressed exceeding gratification at his visit. Col. Benton spoke of his extreme solicitude for the condition of public affairs, and his painful sense of the imminent dangers which threaten the country, and exhorted the President to rely upon Divine suport and guidance, and not on that of men, who would deceive him.

The remains of Col. Benton go west to-morrow afternoon, via the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad to Wheeling.

The Secretary of the treasury has invited proposals till the 10th of May for the issue of any portion or the whole of $85,000,000 in Treasury notes, in exchange for gold.

Messrs. Powell and McCullough, the Peace Commissioners to Utah, leave Washington to-morrow.

FUNERAL HONORS TO THOMAS H. BENTON. St. Louis, Apr. 10.—A well atended meeting was held here at noon to-day, for the purpose of making appropriate arrangements to do honor to the memory of Thomas H. Benton. Eulogies were pronounced by several gentlemen. Appropriate resolutions were adopted, and a committee of prominent citizens appointed to take such action as may be necessary for a public demonstration of respect to the remains of the deceased, when brought hither for interment.

WASHINGTON ITEMS.—Monday, April 12. Messrs. Powell and McCullock, Commissioners to Utah, started on their journey, but when arrived at the depot were overtaken by a messenger from the President, with an order to stop.

Col. Benton's funeral services will be performed to-day (Monday) at two o'clock. The pall bearers selected are Secretary Floyd, Senator Houston, Gen. Jessup, Messrs. W. H. Appleton, Jacob C. Rivers, James B. Clay, W. W. Seaton and Jacob Hall of Missouri. Mr. Benton's youngest grandchild, a son of Mr. Jones, died yesterday (Sunday) morning. Col. Benton's will was opened on Saturday. His residence here is bequeathed to Mrs. Jones, and his library to Carey Jones, as literary legatee. The residue of the estate is distributed among their children. The executors are Wm. Carey Jones, John C. Fremont, Richard T. Jacobs, Montgomery Blair, and Philip Lee.

MARRIED.

In this city, April 11th, by Rev P Chesley, Mr Ulysess Parke to Miss Eliza Gilman, both of this city.

In Dover, Almanzor R Towle to Emma F York.

In Wolfboro', Richard Boothby, of Saco, Me, to Emma B Moody.

DIED.

In this city, April 12th, Wilton Fields Mason, son of Nicholas G. and Sarah E. Mason, aged 14 months.

Funeral to be at the residence of Joseph Philbrook, jr., in Rye, on Wednesday afternoon at ½ past 2.

In this city, at the Almshouse, Mr Charles Greenough, aged 46.

In Rye, April 11th, of pulmonary consumption, Mrs Mary Esther Walker, aged 31 years, wife of J T Walker. She has been a worthy member of the Congregational Church the last 25 years, and her loss is lamented by a large circle of sympathising friends and relatives.

In Boston, April 10, Mrs. Mary, widow of the late Hon. Jeremiah Mason, and mother of Rev. Charles Mason, formerly Rector of St. Peter's Church in Salem,—aged 80 years

In Dover, Ann L Penner, aged 16.—Mrs Susan V Hocking, aged 45, wife of Thomas Hocking.—Andrew N Hill, Esq, aged 70, of Strafford.

TORONTO MARKET REPORT.

Front Street, Corn Market Square,
TORONTO, C. W., April 7, 1858.

FLOUR—Our Market last week was very buoyant, large purchases caused some excitement, and prices advanced on my last quotation fully 15 cents a barrel for all grades; but to-day's market closed dull, with more sellers than buyers, especially of the lower grades, at a concession of ten cents on extreme prices paid last week.—The higher grades are, however, firmly held, as choice wheats are in very moderate stock; family extras will maintain their prices for some time. Navigation is now fully open on the lakes and Welland Canal, and should the present mild weather continue, we may have water communication with Montreal by the 15th inst., and it is officially announced that the Erie opens on the 20th. The new crop never looked more promising.

WHEAT.—We have had our market well supplied for ten days back—receiving from farmers alone about 5000 bushels a day, which meets with eager purchasers, especially Prime Winter, which is in great request, from the knowledge that such quality is in unusually small stock at this season. The quantity of wheat is large in the country, but strictly choice and prime are scarce, and from the knowledge of this fact, it is believed that such grade of wheat will advance rather than decline.

In coarse grains, not much doing.

Fine Flour, $6 00 to 0.00 per bl.; No. 2 Superfine 3 50 to 3.65; No. 1 do., 4 05 to 4 10; Fancy, 4 25 to 4 30; Extra, 4 50 to 4.55; Double Ex. 4.80 to 5 50.

In quantities not less than 100 bbls. of any one grade.

Wheat.—Prime white winter 105 to 110c; fair average do. 98 to 100c; Spring 84 to 86c; per 60 lbs.

Oats 28c per 34 lbs. Barley 50 a 55c per 48 lbs.

Rye 58c per 56lbs. Peas 55 a 60c per 60 lbs.

Bank Drafts on New York par to ½ per cent. premium; Boston par; American bills at ½ per cent. advance of New York quotations.

Freights from Toronto by rail and steamer, to Boston 85c a 1d., to Portland 90c. a 1d., 28c. bush.; to New York 60c a 1d.; to Oswegatchie 30c. a 1d.,

Charges on Wheat are 6c per bus., which covers commission for purchasing, storing, bagging, and putting on board. On Flour—1 per c. with funds in hand, or ½ drawing with Bill Lading.

T. M. CLARK, PURCHASING BROKER, and Consular Agent for the United States.

The Old Rochester Nurseries.
ROCHESTER, N. Y.
THE subscriber having been appointed Agent for this old, long established, and favorably known Nursery, respectfully solicits orders for FRUIT AND ORNAMENTAL TREES, FLOWERING SHRUBS, &c., which will be delivered to the purchaser at the Catalogue prices free of charge.
The Proprietor in presenting his Catalogue for 1858 to the public, remarks that they will find it an exact inventory of what he has to offer: the height of the trees, their age, and that everything will not only be found true to its kind, but of the most perfect quality. The place where these Nurseries are located is the same as that of New Hampshire, rendering it certain that trees transplanted here, will flourish as well as there.
Great care will be taken in packing, rendering the Trees perfectly safe for thousands of miles of transit.
☞ Catalogues, together with "brief instruction" for Orchard, Planting, and Culture of Fruits, with hints for the selection of Trees, may be had of the Agent. G. N. CARLETON, IMMORTELLES.

THE STARS.

The stars are nearer to us than the fields,
I'd grown an atheist in those towns of trade,
Were't not for stars. The smoke puts heaven out;
I meet sin-blosted faces in the street,
And shrink as from a blow. I hear wild oaths,
And curses spit from lips that once were sweet,
And sealed for Heaven by a mother's kiss;
I meet with men whose hearts of human flesh,
Beneath the petrifying touch of gold,
Have grown as stony as the trodden ways.
I see no trace of God, till in the night;
While the vast city lies in the arms of gain,
He doth reveal himself to me in heaven.
—[Alex. Smith.

MUTABILITY.

We rest—a dream has power to poison sleep;
We rise—one wandering thoughtpollutes the day;
We feel, conceive or reason, laugh or weep;
Embrace fond woe, or cast our cares away;

It is the same!—For be it joy or sorrow,
The path of its departure still is free,
Man's yesterday may ne'er be like his morrow;
Nought may endure but Mutability.—[Shelley.

AMBITION.

——Ambition only, gives
Even of bitterness, a bland (till!
Friendship is but shadow awaking dream,
Troubled at best—Love is a lamp unseen,
Burning to waste, or, if its light be found,
Nursed for an idle hour, then idly broken—
Gain is grovelling care! and Folly never tires,
And Quiet is a hunger never fed—
And from Love's very bosom, and from Gain,
Or Folly, or a Friend, or from Repose—
From all but keen Ambition—will the soul
Snatch the first moment of forgetfulness
To wander like a restless child away.—[Willis.

The following remedies are offered to the public as the best, most perfect, which medical science can afford.—AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS have been prepared with the utmost care, and with which the medical profession of this age possesses, and their effects show they have virtues which surpass any combination of medicines hitherto known. Other preparations do more or less good; but this cures such dangerous complaints, so quick and so surely, as to prove an efficacy and a power to uproot disease beyond any thing which men have known before. By removing the obstructions of the internal organs and stimulating them into healthy action, they renovate the fountains of life and vigor,—health courses anew through the body, and the sick man is well again. They are adapted to disease, and disease only, for when taken by one in health they produce but little effect. This is the perfection of medicine. It is antagonistic to disease, and no more. Tender children may take them with impunity; if they are sick they will cure them, if they are well they will do them no harm.

Give them to some patient who has been prostrated with bilious complaint; see his bent-up, tottering form straighten with energy; see his lost, languid appetite return; see his clammy features blossom into health. Give them to some sufferer whose foul blood has burst out in scrofula till his skin is covered with sores; who stands, or sits, or lies in anguish. He has been drenched inside and out with every potion which humanity could suggest. Give him these PILLS, and mark the effect; see the scabs fall from his body; see the new, fair skin that has grown under them; see the late leper that is clean. Give them to him whose angry humors have planted rheumatic pains in his joints and bones; move him, and he screeches with pain; he too has been soaked through every muscle of his body with liniments and salves; give him these PILLS to purify his blood; they may not cure him, for, alas! there are cases where the human power can reach; but mark, he walks with crutches now, and now he walks alone; they have cured him. Give them to the lean, sour, haggard dyspeptic, whose gnawing stomach has long ago eaten every smile from his face and every much from his body. See his appetite return, and with it his health; see the new man. See her that was radiant with health and loveliness blasted and too early withering away; want of exercise or mental anguish, or some lurking disease, has deranged the internal organs of digestion, assimilation, or secretion; till they do their office ill. Her blood is vitiated, her health is gone. Give her these PILLS to stimulate the vital principle into renewed vigor, to cast out the obstructions, and infuse a new vitality into the blood. Now look again—this sunken hollow has filled up her cheek, and where lately sorrow sat joy bursts from every feature. See the sweet infant wasted with worms. Its wan, sickly features tell you without disguise, and painfully distinct, that they are eating its life away. Its parents have watched for years, and wearisome sleepings, tell the dreadful truth in language which every mother knows. Give it the PILLS in large doses to sweep these vile parasites from the body. Now turn again and see the ruddy bloom of childhood. Is nothing yet impossible to disease? Why, are they not the marvel of this age? And yet they are done around you every day.

Have you the less serious symptoms of these distempers, they are the easier cured. Jaundice, Costiveness, Indigestion, Sick-headache, Heartburn, Foul Stomach, Nausea, Pain in the Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, King's Evil, Neuralgia, Gout, and kindred complaints all arise from the derangements which these PILLS rapidly cure. Take them perseveringly, and under all climates and years, and diseases if you can; if not, take them judiciously by such advice as we give you, and the distressing, dangerous diseases they cure, which afflict so many millions of the human race, are cast out like the devils of old—their victims are saved from the grave! Price 25 cents per box, or 5 boxes for $1.

Through a trial of many years and through every nation of civilized men, AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has been found to afford more relief and to cure more cases of pulmonary disease than any other remedy known to mankind. Many a hopelessly settled consumption have been cured by it, and thousands of sufferers who were deemed beyond the reach of human aid have been restored to their friends and usefulness, to sound health and the enjoyments of life, by its agency in curing the diseases of the lungs and throat. Here a cold had settled on the lungs. The dry, hacking cough, the glassy eye, and the pale, thin features of him who was lately busy and strong, whisper to all but him Consumption. He tries every remedy, but the disease is gnawing at his vitals, and shows its fatal symptoms more and more over all his frame. He is taking the CHERRY PECTORAL now; it has stopped his cough and made his breathing easy; his sleep is sound and refreshing; his appetite returns, and with it his strength. The dart which pierced his side is broken. Scarcely any neighborhood can be found which has not some living trophy like this to shadow forth the virtues which have won for the CHERRY PECTORAL an permanent place in our affections. Nor does not end here. Nay, it accomplishes more by prevention than cure. The countless colds and coughs which it cures are the seed which would have ripened into a dreadful harvest of incurable diseases. Influenza, Croup, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Pleurisy, Whooping Cough, and all irritations of the throat and lungs are easily cured by the CHERRY PECTORAL if taken in season. Every family should have it by them, and they will find it an invaluable protection from the insidious prowler which carries off the parent sheep from many a flock, the darling lamb from many a home.

Authenticated evidence of these facts, with directions for the treatment of each complaint, may be found in Ayer's American Almanac, of which we publish large editions, and scatter them broadcast over the earth, in order that the sick every where may have before them the information it contains. Druggists and dealers in medicine generally have them for distribution gratis, and for sale these remedies, prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER, Practical and Analytical Chemist, Lowell, Mass.

SOLD BY

W. R. Preston and all the Druggists in Portsmouth, and all Druggists everywhere. feb11

MOSES & DOWNIE,

SOLE Agents for the above Goods, have on hand a large Stock of the same, suitable for shore and sea wear

These fabrics, since their first introduction to the public, (almost three years since,) have been fully tested, and the result has proved them to possess all the qualities requisite to make a perfect article. They have on hand numerous testimonials from gentlemen in the navy and merchant service, which they would be pleased to show any one who would favor them with a call. They have been supplying some of the officers of the Falmouth, who have tested the Rubber goods, and found them unfit for sea service.

NEW ENGLAND STATES

IN ONE YEAR.

THE RESTORATIVE OF Prof. O. J. WOOD for restoring hair perfectly and permanently, has never yet had a rival. Volume after volume might be given from all parts of the world and from the most distinguished men, that it is a new first Resurrection; but read the circular and you cannot doubt; read also the following.

THE HAIR.—People have for centuries been afflicted with bald heads, and the only remedy, heretofore known, has been those abominable wigs. By a recent discovery of Professor Wood, these artifices are being fast dispensed with, but a great many persons still patronize them, because they have been so often imposed upon; they are made of different kinds. To all such persons we earnestly make the request that they will try once again, for in Wood's Restorative there is no deception. I had been for years a lady who was bald, who used the article a short time, and her head is covered completely with the tiniest and most beautiful curls imaginable. We know of numerous cases where hair was rapidly falling out, which it restored in greater perfection than it ever had been before.

It is also the most brilliant one of the best articles for keeping the hair in good condition, making it soft and glossy, removing dandruff, and has proved itself the greatest enemy to all the ills that hair is heir to.

It is the duty of every one to improve their personal appearance though some may differ in regard to the means adopted; but every one will admit that a beautiful head of hair, either in man or woman, is an object much to be desired, and whoever has the means of this equally as inexpensive and to obtain such a consideration.—Woman's Advocate, Philadelphia.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Nov. 17, 1856.

O. J. Wood & Co.—Gents: As I have been engaged in selling your Hair Restorative the last season, I have witnessed its effects on Mr. Hawkinson, and having experienced the beneficial effects of it myself, I would like to obtain an agency for the State of Ohio; and as soon as the weather should permit, I wish to make such an arrangement, as I am convinced there is nothing equal to it in the United States, for restoring the hair. I have been engaged in the Drug business for several years, and have sold various preparations for the hair, but have found nothing that restores the secretive organs or invigorates the scalp so well as yours, because it contains no injurious ingredients. Your restorative is what you represent it to be, I would like to engage in the sale of it, for I am satisfied it must sell.

Yours truly, R. T. STOCKMAN.

WAYLAND, Mass., Feb. 5, 1857.

Prof. O. J. Wood & Co.—Gents: Having realized the good effects of your Hair Restorative, I wish to state, that finding my hair growing thin, as well as gray, I was induced from what I read and heard, to try the article prepared by you, to promote its growth and change its color as it was in youth, both of which it has effected completely. In the operation I have used nearly two bottles.

I am &c., JAMES FRANCIS.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the chances being fair and the tickets as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $1; halves, 50; quarters, $2 50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $50 to $70,000; every prize being drawn and result of drawing published for all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Washington Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Dog Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia.

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. m181y

Maryland State Lotteries.

R. FRANCE & CO.....MANAGERS.

CAUTION NOTICE.

PERSONS living at a distance should be extremely cautious of whom they order Lottery Tickets or Certificates of Packages of Tickets—as a great deal is flooded with bogus and swindling Lotteries. Every inducement is held out to get persons to invest money in them. Capital Prizes of from $500 to $30,000 are held out by schemes with tickets at One Dollar. $100,000 capital prizes are offered, tickets $5. All such, in every instance, are frauds and the money is sent to them for tickets, it is so much thrown away without the shadow of a chance of getting a prize. Beware of all Lotteries where the Capital Prize is much below the amount of money for which the tickets are—in every instance where large prizes are offered for a small cost of tickets, put it down as a certain fraud.

The Kentucky State Lottery for the benefit of the Shelby College, under our management, is the only Lottery in the United States which is legal to order. All other Lotteries of the Many Hundred Lotteries which purport to be decided by the Maryland Drawings, are frauds.

THE MARYLAND STATE LOTTERIES.

Purchase in the Maryland State Lotteries, then you are sure of being right. And in ordering in the Maryland Lotteries, you are sure of fair and honest dealings.

One thing look to, and that is, if you order from any licensed vender in Baltimore, do not receive any but Managers' Tickets and Managers Printed Certificates of Packages. The Managers' Certificates have the numbers printed and have the lithographic signature of R. France & Co.

No one has a right to send his individual certificates. If he does it, be sure there is a fraud at the bottom of it.

R. FRANCE & CO.,

A PROCLAMATION

TO THE LADIES.

WHEREAS, it appears that the days of right, honor, and integrity are fading away, and WHEREAS the unscrupulous and ignorant are daily taking advantage of the profound and learned. BE IT KNOWN THEREFORE, to all, that Dr. CHEESEMAN'S CELEBRATED WOMAN'S FEMALE PILLS are alone the certain panacea for the the troubles incident to female disorganization; they assist correcting all painful menstruation, assuaging palpitations of the heart, disturbed sleep, pain in the side, and causing health and happiness to whole sex; more especially to those whom nature, or art, has therefore bring on the monthly period with regularity.—AND WHEREAS, these PILLS are purely vegetable and contain no poisons, or mineral, therefore perfectly harmless in their operation and wholly unlike other medicines thrust upon the public, purporting to effect the objects already detailed. Pennsylvania, New York, Boston, and all the PILLS of Dr. CHEESEMAN will accomplish the desired object, when DISAPPOINTMENT has been experienced under the regime of OTHER PILLS; and the Ladies will cause this Proclamation to spread amongst them, to their own everlasting benefit—always promising that said Proclamation in one case must be addressed to the Ladies, and you that is to say the PILLS can not be taken when any female is in an INTERESTING SITUATION, otherwise a MISCARRIAGE will be the inevitable result.

Explicit directions, to be carefully read, accompany each box. Price $1. Sent by mail on enclosing $1 to Dr. Cheeseman, No. 1, Cheesman's Row, No. 4.54, Post Office, New York City. Sold by Druggists in every town in the United States.

S. D. & H. W. Smith,

—MANUFACTURERS OF—

Melodeons, Organ Melodeons,

—and—

PEDAL BASS MELODEONS.

No. 511 Washington St., Boston.

The first premium over all competitors, at the Fair of the Mass. Charitable Mechanic Association, of the National Fair, Washington, D. C., also at the Ohio State Fair, held at Columbus, Ohio, was awarded to these Manufacturers.

By means of a new method of Voicing, known only to themselves, they have succeeded in removing the harsh and buzzing sound which formerly characterized the instrument, and rendering the tones full, clear and organ like. The action by their improved Patent Action, they enable the performer to execute the most rapid music without blurring the tones. The swell is arranged to give great expression.

THE PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

Are designed particularly for Churches, Lodges, Halls, &c. It is arranged with two manuals, or banks of Keys, the lower set running an octave higher than the other, and may be used separately, and then it is no more two distinct instruments; or by use of the coupler, the two banks of keys may be played at the same time by use of the front set only. This connected with the Pedal Bass, will produce the effect of a large organ, and is sufficiently heavy to fill a house that seats from 1000 to 1500 persons.

THE ORGAN MELODEON

Is designed for public and private use. The construction is similar to the Church Instrument, being arranged with two banks of Keys, and when used together, by means of the coupler, is capable of a great volume of power as the Church Instrument when used without the pedals. Also, every variety of MELODEONS for Parlor use.

Purchasers may rely upon instruments from our Manufactory, being made in the most complete and thorough manner. Having removed to the new Warerooms,

511 Washington Street,

We have every facility for manufacturing purposes, and employ none but the most experienced and skilful workmen. In short, we will promise our customers an instrument equal, if not superior to any in the country, and guarantee an entire and perfect satisfaction.

Music Teachers, Leaders of Choirs, and others interested in musical matters, are respectfully invited to visit our Rooms at any time and examine or test the instruments on exhibition for sale at their pleasure.

As a still further guarantee to the public as to the excellence of the MELODEONS from our Manufactory, we beg leave to refer, by permission, to the following gentlemen:

Piano Forte Manufacturers of Boston, who have examined our Instruments, and will give their opinion when called upon:

Chickering & Sons,	Hallett & Cumston,
T. Gilbert & Co.,	W. M. T. Emerson,
Brown & Allen,	A. W. Ladd & Co.,
George Hewes,	Woodward & Brown,
	Newhall & Co.

MELODEONS RENTED.

Persons who wish to hire Melodeons with a view of purchasing at the end of the year, can have the rent credited as part payment of the purchase money. This matter is worthy of special note, as it enables those who desire a fair test of the instruments before purchasing, to obtain it at the expense of the manufacturers, to the extent at least of a year's rent.

Orders from any part of the country or world, sent direct to the manufactory in Boston, with cash, or satisfactory reference, will be promptly attended to, and as faithfully executed as if the parties were present, or employed an agent to select, and on an intermediate profit.

TION.—We have seen many specimens of alliteration, and of play upon words, but the following, from the Great Falls Advertiser contains a moral aside from the jingle, thereby far excelling all "tales told true to a T."

Messrs. Editors—It is not the expectation of one in my humble station, by any illustration of my limited education, to produce a great sensation or excite the admiration of your organization. But if my brief oration should escape the imputation of pride or ostentation, and elicit a demonstration of the hearty approbation of the present congregation, and prove an augmentation of the interest of your publication, surely such an intimation would be a source of gratification beyond all calculation, and in my estimation be an ample compensation for my mental occupation in procuring such variation of words of the same termination, but of different signification. I say in all moderation and without equivocation, that the realization of such an anticipation would be a consummation above all valuation, and confer an obligation as lasting as Creation.

With this declaration (though with some hesitation) I proceed to an investigation of the causes of agitation which are shattering to its foundation the universal Yankee nation and threatening desolation of Uncle Sam's plantation, while with fear and consternation we witness the perpetration of every violation of the administration of our great confederation. Through the insubordination of a foreign population it is a certain indication that we are under obligation to make due preparation for the speedy extirpation of such a botheration, and thus secure the perpetuation of our country's reputation free from molestation to the latest generation.

Were that august Association who signed the Declaration to take a short vacation and leave their habitation, and take a situation on some lofty elevation, and there from that location take a full observation of each secret combination and hellish machination which are now in operation for our political subjugation, as well as moral degradation; methinks an exclamation of utter condemnation of that kind of legislation which grants naturalization with little or no probation would accompany an exhortation to our national representation to come to a determination to make a speedy alteration of our laws in this relation, and thus produce a reformation by an utter termination and total annihilation of all foreign usurpation. Thus ends my cogitation, and I close my communication by subscribing myself, with the highest consideration, and most profound veneration,

Yours without affectation,
PETER PENETRATION.

DECLARED A FAILURE.—The Washington Correspondent of the New York Journal of Commerce (a favorer of the admission of Kansas under the Lecompton Constitution) says the plan is a failure and cannot be carried into execution. The writer, with apparent bitterness says:

"It is in the power of the administration to prevent the admission of Kansas upon any other plan, and that power will no doubt be exercised. It is no longer considered very important that Kansas should be admitted at all. A great change of opinion has taken place on that subject. There is no hazard now in leaving Kansas out of the Union, at least until she shall have the necessary population to entitle her, under the present apportionment, to one Representative.

There is no longer any urgent necessity for bringing another rotten borough State into the Union. The troops will be withdrawn, and the Territorial Government continued. If the people continue to be turbulent, it will only be a proof that they are not fit to be admitted as a community into the Union. They must remain out of it on probation."

"I tell you wot, Julius, I had a monstrous 'sputo wid massa, dis mornin', down in de cotton patch." "Wa, wa, wot you 'sputo about?" "Why, you see, Julius, massa come down da wha' I was hoin', and massa he say squash grow best on sandy ground, an' I say so too; sod dar we 'sputo about it for mor'n one hour.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston,
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice he has enjoyed during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. This, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, H. ll. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. Regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
From the present Commissioner.
AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

Coggswell's Medical Salt,
A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE
FOR THE
LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.
INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—has but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, (to wit) SUBDUES INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. Is it asked, how it does this? simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely that adhere to the point of a quill dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 14, 1858.

LETTER FROM KANSAS.

WYANDOTTE CITY, KANSAS, }
APRIL 1, 1858. }

Dear Friend:—It is a long time since I last wrote to you and I presume you will not be displeased to hear once more from Wyandotte, the future metropolis of the far west. Spring is with us, clothed in all her freshness; already the trees are in blossom and greet us with their fragrance, on every hand.

We have enjoyed delightful weather for the past month, reminding one rather of June, than March; the high winds which prevailed here last spring at this time, have failed to visit us, and we have every prospect now of an abundant harvest.

The river, at this point, was closed for only about two weeks, early in February, just long enough for us to get our ice-houses filled, of which we have a number in town, giving us an abundant supply of that dog-day luxury both for home consumption and for river trade, which is not a small item, for the boats use immense quantities. The Missouri is now in fine boating order; the Kansas is, however, very low. The "Minnie Bell" arrived from Lawrence, last evening, on her second return trip; she will start up again in a day or two; they found navigation rather difficult, owing to the unusual scarcity of water in the river.

The good people of Lawrence are building a boat, which, it is expected will draw much less water even than the "Minnie Belle," and which, they are confident, will navigate easily, at any and all times when the river is open; she is to be furnished with copper-boilers, and in all other respects will be built as light as she can possibly be made. There are also two light draft boats building at Pittsburg expressly for the Kansas river, with two wheels on each side, to enable them to make the short turns in the channel.

Improvements are constantly progressing; everywhere the sound of the saw and the hammer is heard; it is expected that at least fifty substantial brick buildings will be put up the coming season; three large warehouses for temporary use have been erected on the levee, in the office of one of which I am now writing. Messrs. Overton and McHenry have but just established themselves any yet their warehouse is quite respectably filled, with freight for Lawrence and other parts of the territory. Mr. W. P. Overton is one of our most substantial citizens, he is an old resident, is improving largely and is soon to commence a large brick warehouse on one of the levee lots.

As you have probably heard, the governor neglected to sign the bill incorporating us as a city, so our election of city officers on the second of March was an abortion. We, however, having organized under a township form of government, have elected a board of Supervisors, with George Russell (free state candidate for Mayor in the city election) as chairman. The other members of the board are W. P. Overton and J. W. Funk, both enterprising men and good citizens. Under their direction we shall look to a speedy completion of the southern road, so essential to the welfare of this town.

One of the ferry companies is now in Pittsburg for the purchase of a boat to ply across the Missouri at this point. A road will be soon open through Clay county, Missouri, which skirts the river opposite this town. When these two enterprises are accomplished, and they soon will be, we may look with confidence for a growth and prosperity unequaled by any city in the West; and we shall then attain the position, which Nature intended us to occupy, the metropolis of the far West!

I have occupied far more space than I intended on subjects of a local character, and I can only urge as an excuse, the interest I take in the welfare of a town in whose ultimate unrivaled prosperity I have unbounded faith, and which I expect yet to live to see the largest city, not only of Kansas, but of the whole Missouri Valley.

The Constitutional Convention is yet in session at Leavenworth, waiting for an acceptance or rejection of the Lecompton constitution before taking action.

The emigration this spring is not so much of the "carpet bag" order as that of last year, but those who do come have every appearance of having come to stay. There are a great many boats on the river this season, two or three, and some days five or six each way; and all have a fair load of freight and passengers. The 'Omaha' just passed down loaded with passengers from "above," going down for goods; she has been up to Sioux City.

Yours, in haste, F. E. B.

For the Chronicle.

SPIRITUALISM.

This subject seems to attract a portion of public attention in this part of the country, but we are not aware that it does in other countries. We propose to bring it to a test, in respect to truth or falsehood. We submit, therefore, the question—can mortal man call the spirits of the dead, and will they come to earth at his bidding? The affirmative must be proved, in order to maintain the truth of modern Spiritualism. If the negative of the question be true, then the whole doctrine of "spiritual mediums" are nothing but deception and a gross imposition upon the public credulity. For it must be conceded that if the main point be false, the other parts are the juggler's arts. But few believe the absurd doctrine that the soul or spirit rests in the grave until the great judgment day—for the ashes of more than half the human family will not be there, but scattered over the earth, or mingled with the waters of rivers and seas.

Some profess the belief that the spirits of the dead now hover over this earth.—This fanciful idea is embraced by the mediums, but is not supported by the divine revelations to man. Enlightened christians reject it; philosophy and reason are opposed to it. Their spirits could remain on earth for no useful purpose, nor can we suppose that their residence here would be required by the divine will or law, unless for punishment for sins prior to the dissolution of the body. The true christian believes, in conformity to the sacred scriptures, that at death the spirit returns to God who gave it. We have no revelation in respect to any locality, or where it will remain until the final judgment. But we cannot believe that it will be nearer than the sun or the distant planets, or the stars in the heavens. Indeed we can have no conception of its locality, or of the locality of heaven or hell.

With these brief remarks let us seriously consider the position and pretensions of the medium, juggler, or necromancer, or whatever name he may assume. By a few "raps" he professes to call to himself the spirits of the dead. In a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, obeying his raps, they come. No matter whether they be hovering in a distant part of the earth or sky—no matter whether they be beyond the sun or the stars, at his bidding they come with a thousand times greater velocity than the rays of light from the orb of day! Such a miracle would seem to require the power of the Almighty, or else that He should delegate His authority to a medium—the medium of course would be a devoted christian under divine influence, and not a person travelling about the country for the purpose of getting money from the credulous.

The spirits come, and what do they do? They tell some things that are true, and many things that are not true—write names on pieces of paper and the ages of some—they upset or raise tables, play on the violin, and produce electric shocks upon human limbs. What kind of science or philosophy is that which teaches that a disembodied spirit can speak to us, without having the organs of speech; or that it can raise tables, write, and play on the fiddle, without hands or material instruments? But it is the medium only that translates the raps into human language, and we must confide in the money-making medium that the translation is correct!—Now unless the spirits come with greater velocity than lightning or the solar rays, the spirits, in countless numbers, must be in near proximity to the medium, in order to obey his call, inasmuch as he can instantly call the spirits of the deceased relatives, friends or acquaintances of the living inquirers. Judging from all the published marvellous accounts, even if all true, we ask what good—what new or useful information—has been obtained? If the spirits did come, would they not communicate something useful in respect to a future state of existence, instead of seizing upon fiddles and tables?

But the money-seeking medium announces in his handbills, that, by his agency with the spirits, he proves "the immortality of the soul!" We must be permitted to believe that the christian revelation upon that subject needs not any corroborative evidence from the thousand (the computed number) mediums of doubtful character, who travel the country, performing for money. The very profession of such miraculous power or gift, affords, to our judgment, evidence not only of the depravity of the medium, but that his whole performance is a base deception and imposition. Indeed the twelve inspired apostles did not claim the power to work such miracles as the modern uninspired mediums pretend to do.

While we hold to true spiritualism, and that the divine influence may be the means of converting and sanctifying sinners*—while we would never treat with levity sacred or religious subjects, we express our honest conviction that no medium can call up the spirits of the dead, and, therefore, that modern Spiritualism should be ranked with ancient demonology, sorcery, necromancy, jugglery, and the magicians' arts, which in the dark ages of the world were among the popular superstitions. The magicians even exceeded the skill of modern Spiritualists; for they not only called up evil as well as good spirits, but depicted them to the eyes of the spectators. At the present enlightened age, some things seem to be involved in mystery, but when they shall be fully explained, will appear to be perfectly simple. INVESTIGATOR.

*Phil. 2—13: "For it is God which worketh in you both to will and to do of his own good pleasure."

☞ The Philadelphia Gazette complains of the great number of incendiary fires in that city, which it says are chiefly caused by young rowdies belonging to the fire department, which department causes a great many more fires than it extinguishes. It says that last week five different incendiary attempts were made in one neighborhood in one night, and out of the sixty arrests made for arson, fifty were recognized adherents of fire companies.

Philadelphia has always been notorious for its rowdy firemen, and it will probably so continue till volunteer system is annulled.

☞ In Philadelphia, on Monday, a young man was admitted to the hospital under the following circumstances:—He was passing along the street when he was offered by an acquaintance a "loaded" cigar. He accepted it and while in the act of smoking, it exploded, burning his face in the most shocking manner, and injuring his eyes to such an extent that it is feared his sight has completely gone.

THE UTAH TRADE.—St. Louis, April 12. Col. St. Vrain arrived here yesterday from Santa Fe, with the advance mail.

He reports that Captain Marcy left the camp ground, 40 miles from Fort Union, on the 18th of March. He had about 1200 animals, mostly mules, an abundant supply of forage, and plenty of provisions for his men. 150 regulars, and the same number of herdsmen and mountaineers were with him, and he expressed entire confidence in being able to reach Camp Scott without difficulty. He intended to travel slowly, so as to keep the animals in good conditon, but expected to join Col. Johnston before the 1st of May.

An express from Fort Leavenworth, with orders to Gen. Garland to furnish Marcy with a strong escort, was met on the 10th of March, 6 miles east of Santa Fe.

A large number of Indians were also met, all of whom expressed a desire for peace with the Americans.

The grass on the plains was growing rapidly.

The Republican learns that on the 27th of March a hurricane passed over Bertonville, Arkansas, blowing down nearly every house in the town, killing 25 persons, and wounding a great number of others.

SIGNIFICANT.—The following is the concluding paragraph of the annual report of the town of Ipswich:

"The only department of town business that yields profit, is the liquor business; but it cannot probably be extended so as to give sufficient revenue, unless we are afflicted with an illness worse than taxation."

FRIVOLOUS EXCEPTIONS.—At the present law term of the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts, holden in Boston, the Court ordered in the case of John Shelton et als. vs. the Gardiner Bank, that the exceptions be over-ruled and judgment entered for plaintiff, with double costs on account of the frivolousness of the exceptions.

'How do you and your friends feel now?' said an exultant republican to one of our Western States, to a rather irritable member of the democratic party. 'I suppose,' said he, "we feel just as Lazarus did when he was licked by dogs."—Ex.

SERMON OF A QUAKER.—My friend, bridle thy tongue, to enable thee to remain quiet; mind thine own business, and thee will not have much time to attend to that of others, and thee will have many friends and few enemies.

SINGULAR MARRIAGE.—Two couples were married in New Baltimore one day last week, under peculiar circumstances. Twin sisters married twin brothers, the parties being each 23 years of age, and the wedding day of the brides was the anniversary of their birth.

NEW YORK, April 12.—George H. Ricker, a native of Boston, was killed on Sunday morning, in consequence of his jumping from his chamber window while in a state of somnabulism.

Some one says of a certain congregation, that they pray on their knees on Sundays, and on their neighbors the rest of the week.

HOW TRUE IT IS!

There are a couple of old proverbs that it would be well for us all to keep in mind. One is, "a stitch in time saves nine!" and another, "an ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure." We all, in theory, acknowledge the truth of these proverbs, yet the practice of the most of us gives them the lie. Myers' Extract of Rock Rose, as a preventative of all those diseases arising from impure blood and viscid humors, is acknowledged to be superior to anything in Materia Medica. It purifies the blood, strengthens the digestive organs and invigorates the constitution.

BLINDNESS PREVENTED.

By request of a great number of the citizens of PORTSMOUTH AND VICINITY,

Mr. J. JACOBS,
Celebrated Optician,

From the city of Rotterdam, Holland, has visited this place with a large selection of Telescopes, Microscopes, and Eye Glasses, for Ladies and Gentlemen, Parent Double Vision Spectacles, Scotch Pebble Spectacles, and Wollaston's Conservative Spectacles, in Gold, Silver and Steel Frames.

A LONG continued practice in the art of Optics, has enabled him to manufacture Glasses of peculiar form and superior quality, and adapt them to each individual after a careful examination of the eye. Those Glasses which correspond with the defect of near, far or weak sightedness.

Persons in general, not acquainted with the art of Optics, are left to select (unfitted) for themselves, which abuse is surely injurious to the Eye, and has caused the prejudiced to avoid the use of them as long as possible, when selected as soon as the sight begins to fail, by a skilful Optician the Eye will retain its natural strength, and be improved. The importance of this subject, as introduced by the subscriber, has been fully acknowledged by the highest authorities.

TESTIMONIALS.

UTICA, N. Y., April 28, 1856.

We the undersigned, having used Optical Instruments, (and Scotch Pebble Spectacles,) of the manufacture of Jacob Jacobs, and having thoroughly tested their powers and qualities do certify that we have found them to be good, and can recommend them to the public as well worthy of consideration. We can particularly recommend the Scotch Pebble Spectacles for the protection which they afford the Eye, and the increased clearness and power of vision.

A CARD TO THE LADIES.

DR. DUPONCO'S
French Periodical Golden Pills,
FOR FEMALES;

Infallible in Removing Stoppages or Irregularity of the Menses.

THESE Pills are nothing new, but have been used by the Doctor for many years, both in France and America, with unparalled success in every case; and he is urged by many thousand ladies who have used them to make the Pills public, for the alleviation of those suffering from any irregularities whatever, as well as to prevent pregnancy in those ladies whose health will not permit an increase of family. Pregnant females, or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using these Pills while pregnant, as the proprietor assumes no responsibility after the above admonition, although their mildness would prevent any mischief to health; otherwise these Pills are recommended. Full and explicit directions accompany each box.

Price $1. Sold in Portsmouth by JOSEPH H. THAURER, in Dover by Chas. A. Tufts, in Exeter by C. A. Merrill, and in Newmarket by J. A. Prendergast. They will supply dealers at the Proprietor's prices, and also send the Pills to the Ladies (confidentially) by mail to any part of the city or country, on receipt of $1 through the Post Office.

N. B.—Ladies will be particular in asking for Dr. Duponco's Golden Pills. Observe the signature J. Duponco is upon each box. You will then obtain a Pill you can rely upon.

LOCAL.

In a communication to the president of the Senate, the Secretary of the Navy says that the old line-of-battle ship Franklin, now on the stocks at Kittety, Me., will shortly be converted into a screw steamer, with full steam power. This vessel has not been in commission since 1824, when she was flag-ship of the Pacific squadron, under Commodore Stewart.—Exchange.

All this is true in theory, and on the records of the Navy. But the Franklin now on the stocks at Kittery Me., comes about as near being "the old line-of-battle ship," as the White House where President Buchanan lives, comes to being the old president's house where President Madison was burnt out. The present Franklin is a first rate new vessel, with a few pieces of timber from the old, enough to keep the name.

One More Correction.—While it is neither very desirable nor flattering, for anybody to be continually acknowledging their own errors—nor very probable that (newspaper) people make erroneous statements merely for the sake of correcting them, as some people are apt to to imagine—yet it is desirable to be "o. k." if possible. In our report of the Water street fire on Monday morning, we gave to Laconia Engine Company, No. 2, the credit of wetting the flames first. Our information was derived from common hearsay, on the fire-ground; but now we are informed by the most excellent, efficient, accurate, and reliable Foreman of Granite State Company, No. 1, that this tub chanced to merit that "honorable mention" on that occasion. Everybody knows, at any rate, that "you must rise early to get ahead of" No. 2.

☞ Mr. Harvey is continually receiving additions to his large and varied stock of musical merchandise. See advertisement this morning, of new Sheet Music.

Mr. Cobb also always keeps an extensive selection of the best and most popular music of the day.

Our city was never so well supplied with music stores before—and advantages are thus offered our citizens in buying of responsible and experienced dealers at home, fully as cheap and more safely than they can do elsewhere.

The Dying Shipmate,—a song, words by John F. Leverton, music by H. P. Crane, of this city. Such is the title of a plaintive melody just published by Oliver Ditson & Co. Boston—for a copy of which we are indebted to our friend, Mr. Leverton. He is a young man of considerable talent, and much worth: and this song is descriptive of an actual occurrence at sea—the death of a young shipmate. The verses, particularly the last, evince something of poetry in the soul of the writer; and the music is well adapted to the sentiment. Those who procure copies, which we presume may be had at the music stores, will secure a song worth adding to their stock, and aid in encouraging a worthy young man.

Accidents.—A few days since, a little son of Mr. Edward Rand fell while playing in a barn near his father's house, and broke his arm near the wrist. He is doing well.

Rev. Dr. Lamson, having risen to minister to the wants of a sick son, on Saturday night, ran forcibly against a stair railing—injuring himself so severely as to be unable to occupy his pulpit on the Sabbath. Rev. Mr. Medbery officiated in his stead. Mr. L. is recovering.

A young lad living with Mr. Raynes fell on an axe in the ship-yard, a few days since—cutting a fearful gash in his leg.

A horse belonging to Mr. Joseph Currier, by some accident broke one of his legs, in Congress street, near Market Square, on Monday—and was killed on the spot.

Strike Ended.—The Newburyport Herald of Tuesday says:—

The James Mill commenced running on Monday, when all the old hands returned to their places, except three. One is in jail for a ruffianly assault, one sick, and the third has left. The strike is at an end.

The Bartlet Mills, for a temporary purpose, started a part of their machinery on Monday morning, when either from habit, or thinking that it were better to accept the offers of the company than be idle, quite a number of the operatives, as soon as they saw the smoke, started for the factories and went to work. We hear that the mills of that corporation will commence running this morning, when some of the hands as are disposed to do so will go to work, and the remaining places will be filled by new persons as they shall be required.

CONGRESS.

Monday, April 12.

Senate.—A message was received from the House, announcing its adherence to its vote on the Kansas bill; also, that it had passed the Deficiency Appropriation bill.

Mr. Green of Missouri gave notice that he would move to take up the Kansas bill to-morrow at one o'clock.

Mr. Hale of N. H. presented the petition of the inmates of the Military Asylum, asking for a subsistence instead of continuing within the Asylum, in which they complain of abuses. Referred to a special committee, with power to report a bill, and to send for persons and papers.

The Senate then adjourned to attend Col. Benton's funeral.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

The Traveller's dispatch of Monday evening says:—

Mr. Helper, author of a book called the "Southern Crisis," which was quoted by Gen. Wilson in his speech, to-day demanded an explanation of Mr. Craige, of North Corolina, on account of Craige's denunciation of Helper.

Mr. Craige, who is a Democratic member from North Carolina, called Helper a puppy, and struck him several times.—Helper returned the blows, and knocked Craige down, after having struck him heavily several times. Craige, however, got up, rallied, and struck back, when they grappled, and a desperate fight ensued until members rushed to the scene and parted them.

Helper was arrested and released on bail. Senator Hale became his security.

Mr. Helper is himself a native of North Carolina.

Other accounts say:—

Nearly all the members, who, after the House adjourned, lingered in the House, conversing either in groups or in their seats, were startled by a fight between Mr. Craige of North Carolina, and Mr. Helper, author of a book entitled "The Impending Crisis," and formerly from the same State. They had just before been angrily engaged in conversation.

Crowds of members and others rushed in and separated the combatants, while they were engaged in dealing heavy blows. Mr. Helper was taken in charge by the Sergeant-at-Arms. A number of ladies, who were on the floor and witnesses of the proceedings, were much frightened.

A pistol and knife were found on Mr. Helper, who made no attempt to use them. An investigation was held this afternoon, and Senator Hale and Montgomery Blair, Esq., appeared as his counsel. The Justice held him in bonds to keep the peace.

The accounts of the crops from Texas are encouraging. Wheat and corn were beyond the danger of rains.

The ship National Guard had cleared from Galveston for Liverpool, with 3000 bales of cotton.

Col. Ripley had declined locating the government arsenal at San Antonio, on account of the high price of land.

The funeral service of Mr. Benton was attended, among others, by the President, members of the Cabinet, Foreign Ministers and members of Congress. The corpse was conveyed to the cars for transmission to Missouri.

Senator Bigler to-day presented to the President a tender, from the Adjutant General of Pennsylvania, of a regiment of volunteers.

The Cabinet held a long session to-day with reference to the affairs of Utah. It is said the President contemplates sending a message to Congress on the subject.

Thirty-Four States.—The Washington Union of the 8th says:

The Senate yesterday passed the bill to admit the State of Minnesota into the Union. That body has thus done its share, during its present session, towards the admission of two new States. A bill to admit Oregon has already been reported, and will come up next in order. At the close of the present session of Congress, the Union will embrace thirty-four States."

Washington Matters.—The following gossip is from the Washington correspondence of the New York Evening Post, dated 11th:

The Lecompton Democrats of the Senate and House will caucus to-morrow morning, and decide what policy to pursue with the amended Kansas bill. If they are satisfied that the anti-Lecomptonites will refuse a committee of conference, they will not ask for one. The anti-Lecomptonites agreed, yesterday, after a long conference, to decline a committee of conference. While they are aware that such a committee has never been refusedj when asked for, they are also aware that such an extraordinary case has never before presented itself where the majority of the House is refused the right to investigate into frauds perpetrated against the laws—the Speaker packing a special committee against the majority to strangle such investigation! The majority of the House cannot trust the Speaker to appoint a committee of conference, and therefore will vote against one.

When the Lecomptonites ascertain that a committee will be refused, I learn that Mr. Toombs will submit a proposition that the Senate pass the bill with the Crittenden Montgomery amendment, declaring, in addition, that in doing so Kansas is admitted as a slave State, and that in future there shall be no opposition made to the admission of States asking for admission with slavery!

I regret to be compelled to announce that Mr. Sumner's health is quite poor.—He attempted to walk from the Capitol to his lodgings yesterday, but the return of the pains in his back were so severe that he was put into a carriage and conveyed home. He is far from being a well man and should avoid all excitements. He is anxious to resume his official duties, but is not sufficiently recovered yet to do so.

IMMORTELLES.

USE OF TEARS.

How little of ourselves we know,
Before a grief the heart has felt;
The lessons that we learn of woe,
Make strong the soul, as well as melt.

The energies too stern for mirth,
The reach of thought, the strength of will,
'Mid clouds and tempest have their birth,
Through blight and blast their course fulfil.

And yet 'tis when it mourns and pines,
The laden spirit feels forgiven;
And through the mist of falling tears
We catch the clearest glimpse of heaven.

UNIVERSAL GOOD.

O, yet we trust that somehow, good
Will be the final goal of ill,
To pangs of nature, sins of will,
Defects of doubt and taints of blood;

That nothing walks with aimless feet;
That not one life shall be destroyed,
Or cast as rubbish to the void,
When God hath made the pile complete;

That not a worm is cloven in vain;
That not a moth with vain desire
Is shriveled in a fruitless fire,
Or but subserves another's gain.

Behold! we know not anything;
We can but trust that good shall fall
At last,—far off,—at last, to all,
And every winter change to spring.
—(Tennyson.

GOLD.

And 'tis gold
Which makes the true man kill'd, and saves the thief;
Nay, sometimes hangs both thief and true man.
What can it not do, and undo?—(Shakspeare.

The following remedies are offered to the public as the best, most perfect, which medical science can afford. AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS have been prepared with the utmost skill which the medical profession of this age possesses, and their effects show they have virtues which surpass any combination of medicines hitherto known. Other preparations do more or less good; but this cures such dangerous complaints, so quick and so sure, as to prove an efficacy and a power to uproot disease beyond any thing which men have known before. By removing the obstructions of the internal organs and stimulating them into healthy action, they renovate the fountains of life and vigor,—health courses anew through the body, and the sick man is well again. They are adapted to disease, and disease only, for when taken by one in health they produce but little effect. This is the perfection of medicine. It is antagonistic to disease, and no more. Tender children may take them with impunity. If they are sick they will cure them, if they are well they will do them no harm.

Give them to some patient who has been prostrated with bilious complaint: see his bent-up, tottering form straighten with strength again; see his long-lost appetite return; see his clammy features bloom into health. Give them to some sufferer whose foul blood has burst out in scrofula till his skin is covered with sores; who stands, or sits, or lies in anguish. He has been drenched inside and out with every potion which ingenuity could suggest. Give him these pills; see the dark tide clear; see the scabs fall from his body; see the new, fair skin that has grown under them; see the late leper that is clean. Give them to him whose angry humors have planted rheumatism in his joints and bones; move him, and he screeches with pain; he too has been sought through every nostrum of his body with liniments and salves; give him these PILLS to purify his blood; they may not cure him, for, alas! there are cases which no mortal power can reach; but mark, he walks with crutches now, and soon he walks alone; he was cured by them. Give them to the lean, sour, haggard dyspeptic, whose gnawing stomach has long ago eaten every smile from his face and every muscle from his body. See his appetite return, and with it his health; see the lean man fatten, see the sallow complexion health and loveliness blasted and too early withering away; want of exercise or mental anguish, or some lurking disease, has deranged the internal organs of digestion, assimilation or secretion, till they do their office ill. Her blood is vitiated, her health is gone. Give her these PILLS to stimulate the vital principle into renewed vigor, to cast out the obstructions, and infuse a new vitality into the blood. Now look again—the rose blossom on her cheek, and where lately sorrow and joy bursts from every feature. See the sweet infant, lately racked with worms. Its wan, sickly features tell you without disguise, and painfully distinct, that they are eating its life away. Its pinched-up nose and sars, and restless sleepings, tell the dreadful truth in language which very mother knows. Give the little angel doses to sweep these vile parasites from the body. Now turn again and see the ruddy bloom of childhood. Is it nothing to do these things? Nay, are they not the marvel of this age? And yet they are done among you every day.

Have you the less serious symptoms of these distempers, they are the easier cured. Jaundice, Costiveness, Headache, Sideache, Heartburn, Foul Stomach, Nausea, Pain in the Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, Rising in Evil, Nervous Gout, and kindred complaints all arise from the derangements which these PILLS rapidly cure. Take them perseveringly, and under the counsel of a good Physician if you can; if not, take them judiciously by such advice as we give you, and the most alarming, dangerous diseases they cure, which afflict so many millions of the human race, are cast out like the devils of old—they must bur row in the brutes and in the sea. Price 25 cents per box—5 boxes for $1.

Through a trial of many years and through every nation of civilized men, AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has been found to afford more relief and to cure more cases of pulmonary disease than any other remedy known to mankind. Cases of apparently settled consumption have been cured by it, and thousands of sufferers who were thought beyond the reach of human aid have been restored to their friends and usefulness, to sound health and the enjoyments of life, by this all-powerful antidote to diseases of the lungs and throat. Here a cold had settled on the lungs; the hollow cough, the feverish glassy eye, and the pale, thin features of him who was lately lusty and strong, whisper to all but him CONSUMPTION. He tries every thing; but the disease is gnawing at his vitals, and shows its fatal symptoms more and more, day by day, to friends. He is taking the CHERRY PECTORAL now; it has stopped his cough and made his breathing easy; his sleep is sound at night; his appetite returns, and with it his strength. The dart which pierced his side is broken. Scarcely any disease can be found which has not some living trophy like this to shadow forth the virtues which have won for the CHERRY PECTORAL an imperishable renown. But its usefulness does not end here. Nay, it accomplishes more by prevention than cure. It protects colds and coughs which it cures are the seed which would have ripened into a dreadful harvest of incurable diseases. Influenza, Croup, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Pleurisy, Whooping Cough, and all irritations of the throat and lungs are easily cured by the CHERRY PECTORAL if taken in season. Every family should have it by them, and they will find it an invaluable protection from the insidious prowler which carries off the parent sheep from many a flock, the destroying lamb from many a fold.

Authenticated evidence of these facts, with directions for the treatment of each complaint, may be found in Ayer's American Almanac, of which we publish three millions, and scatter them broadcast over the land, or may be had on the side of every house they have before them the information it contains. Druggists and dealers in medicine generally have them for distribution gratis, and also for sale these remedies, prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER, Practical and Analytical Chemist, Lowell, Mass.

MOSES & DOWNIE,

SOLE Agents for the above Goods, have on hand a large Stock of the same, suitable for shore and sea wear.

These fabrics, since their first introduction to the public, (almost three years since,) have been fully tested, and the result has proved them to possess all the qualities requisite to make a perfect article. They have on hand numerous testimonials from gentlemen in the navy and merchant service, which they would be pleased to show any who may call at their store with a call. They have been supplying some of the officers of the Falmouth, who have tested the Rubber goods, and found them unfit for sea service.

THE RESTORATIVE OF Prof. O. J. WOOD for restoring hair perfectly and permanently, has never yet had a rival. Volumes after volume might be given to show what the world and from the most intelligent to prove that it is a perfect Restorative; but read the circular and you cannot doubt; read also the following.

THE HAIR.—People have for centuries been afflicted with bald heads, and the only remedy, secretions known, has been the abominable wigs. By a recent discovery of Professor Wood these articles are being fast dispensed with, but a great many, removing doubtful wigs, have proved they have been so often imposed upon by Hair Tonics of different kinds. To all such persons we earnestly make the request that they will try once more, for in Wood's Restorative there is no such thing as fail. We know of a lady who was bald, who used the article a short time, and her head is now covered with a fine, silky growth of the most beautiful curls imaginable. We know of numerous cases where hair was rapidly falling out, which it restored in greater perfection than it ever had before.

It is also without doubt one of the best articles for keeping the hair in good condition, making it soft and glossy, removing dandruff, and preventing itself the greatest enemy to all the life that hair is hair to.

It is the duty of every one to improve their personal appearance though some may differ in regard to the ways of doing it; but every one will admit that a beautiful head of hair, either in man or woman, adds much to the appearance, and, if there are no means that should be left untried to obtain such a consideration.—Woman's Advocate, Philadelphia.

COCHECTON, Ohio, Nov. 17, 1856.

O. J. Wood & Co.—Gents: As I have been engaged in selling your Hair Restorative the last season for one of your local agents (R. M. Hackinson,) and having experienced the beneficial effects of it myself, I would like to obtain an agency for the State of Ohio or some state in the west, should you wish to make such an arrangement. I am convinced there is nothing equal to it in the United States, for restoring the hair. I have been engaged in the Drug business for several years, and have sold various preparations for the hair, but have found nothing which will restore the secretive organs or invigorates the scalp as well as yours, being convinced that your restorative is what you represent it to be, I would like to engage in the sale of it, if I am satisfied it must sell.

Yours truly, S. T. STOCKMAN.

WAYLAND, MASS., Feb. 5, 1857.

Prof. O. J. Wood & Co.—Gents: Having realized the good effects of your Hair Restorative, I wish to state, that finding my hair growing thin, as well as gray, I was induced from what I read and heard, to try the article prepared by you, to promote its growth and change its color as it was natural Nature, for restoring the hair. I have been engaged in the Drug business for several years, and have sold various preparations for the hair, but found nothing which will restore the secretive organs or invigorates the scalp as well as yours, being convinced that your restorative is what you represent it to be, I would like to engage in the sale of it, if I am satisfied it must sell.

Yours truly, S. T. STOCKMAN.

Prof. O. J. WOOD & Co.—Gents: Having seen a bottle of your Hair Restorative, I wish to state, that finding my hair growing thin, and fearing baldness, I was induced to try the article prepared by you, to promote its growth and change its color as it was natural. I have found nothing which has effected completely in the operation I have used nearly 3 bottles.

Yours &c., JAMES FRANCIS.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to satisfy the buyer. Prizes vary from $50 to $10,000; every prize being drawn, and result drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

CAUTION NOTICE.

PERSONS living at a distance should be extremely cautious of whom they order Lottery Tickets or Shares, or Certificates of Packages of Tickets. The country is flooded with bogus and swindling Lotteries. Every inducement is held out to get persons to invest money in them. Capital Prizes of from $500 to $10,000 in Schemes, and Tickets with tickets at One Dollar. $100,000 capital prizes are offered, tickets 65. All such, in every instance where the money is sent to them for tickets, it is so much thrown away without the shadow of a chance of getting a prize. Beware of all Lotteries where the Capital Prize is unusually large or numerous Prizes offered, tickets in every instance where large prices are offered for a small cost of tickets, put it down as a certain fraud.

The Kentucky State Lottery for the benefit of the Shelby College, under our management, is the only Lottery in the United States which is legally decided by the Maryland Drawers and all other Lotteries which purport to be decided by the Maryland Drawings, are frauds.

THE MARYLAND STATE LOTTERIES.

Purchase in the Maryland State Lotteries, then you are sure of being right. And in ordering in the Maryland Lotteries, you are sure of fair and honest drawings.

One thing look to, and that is, if you order from any licensed vender in Baltimore, do not receive any but Managers' Tickets and Managers Printed Certificates of Packages. The Managers' Certificates have the numbers printed and have the lithographic signature of R. France & Co.

No one has a right to send his individual certificates, if he does it, be sure there is a fraud at the bottom of it.

A PROCLAMATION TO THE LADIES.

WHEREAS, it appears that the days of right, are fast drawing to a close, and the night is at hand, and WHEREAS the unscrupulous and ignorant are daily taking advantage of the profound and learned. BE IT KNOWN THEREFORE, to all, whether sexes, virtue, or vicious, that MORRISON'S FEMALE PILLS are alone the certain panacea for the the troubles incident to female disorganization; they cause correct and duly regulated menstruation, assuaging palpitations of the heart, disturbed sleep, pain in the side, and causing health and happiness to whole sex; more especially to those contemplating the sacred duties to bring on the monthly period with regularity.—AND WHEREAS, these PILLS are purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, and therefore perfectly harmless in their operations and wholly unlike other medicines thrust upon the public, purporting to do the objects already detailed. THEREFORE, BE IT KNOWN, that these FEMALE PILLS of Dr. CHEESEMAN will accomplish the desired object, when improvidence has been expended upon the vicious nostrums of THREE PILLS; and the Ladies will cause this Proclamation to spread amongst them, to their own everlasting benefit, always promising that said Proclamation in one case must be considered true, and that is to say that PILLS MUST NOT be taken when any female is in an INTERESTING SITUATION, otherwise a MISCARRIAGE will be the inevitable result.

Explicit directions, to be carefully read, accompany each box. Price $1. Sent by mail on enclosing $1 to Dr. CORNELIUS L. CHEESEMAN, Box No. 4,571, Post Office, New York City. Sold by Druggists in every town in the United States.

—MANUFACTURERS OF—

Melodeons, Organ Melodeons,

—and—

PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

No. 511 Washington St., Boston.

The first premium over all competitors, at the Fair of the Mass. Charitable Mechanic Association, of the National Fair, Washington, D.C., also at the Ohio State Fair, held at Columbus, Ohio, was awarded to these Manufacturers.

By means of a new method of Voicing, known only to themselves, they have succeeded in removing the harsh and bursting sound, which formerly characterized the instrument, and rendering the tones full, clear and organ like. The action is prompt and reliable, enabling the performer to execute the most rapid music without blurring the tones. The swell is arranged to give great expression.

THE PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

Are designed particularly for Churches, Lodges, Halls, &c. It is arranged with two manuals, or banks of Keys, the lower set running an octave higher than the other, and may be used separately, and then in one case two distinct instruments; or by use of the coupler, the two banks of keys may be played at the same time by use of the lower set only. This connected with the Pedal Bass, will produce the effect of a large organ, and is sufficiently heavy to fill a house that seats from 1000 to 1500 persons.

THE ORGAN MELODEON

Is designed for public and private use. The construction is similar to the Pedal Bass Instrument, being arranged with two banks of Keys, and when used together, by means of the coupler, is capable of as great volume of power as the Church Instrument when used without the pedals. Also, every variety of MELODEONS for sale.

Purchasers may rely upon instruments from our Manufactory, being made in the most complete and thorough manner. Having removed to the spacious rooms

511 Washington Street,

We have every facility for manufacturing purposes, and employ none but the most experienced and skilful workmen. In short, we will promise our customers an instrument equal, if not superior, in every manner, and guarantee an entire and perfect satisfaction.

Music Teachers, Leaders of Choirs, and others interested in music, are respectfully invited to visit our Rooms at any time and examine or test the instruments on exhibition for sale at their pleasure.

As a still further guarantee to the public as to the excellence of the MELODEONS from our Manufactory, we beg leave to refer, by permission, to the following

Piano Forte Manufacturers of Boston,

who have examined our Instruments, and will give their opinion when called upon:

Chickering & Sons,	Hallett & Cumston,
T. Gilbert & Co.,	W. P. Emerson,
Brown & Allen,	A. W. Ladd & Co.,
George Hewes,	Woodward & Brown,
	Newhall & Co.

MELODEONS RENTED.

Persons who wish to hire Melodeons with a view of purchasing at the end of the year, can have the rent credited as part payment of the purchase money. We call the attention of parties to this note, as it enables those who desire a fair test of the instruments before purchasing, to obtain it at the expense of the manufacturers, to the extent at least of a year's rent.

Orders from any part of the country or world, sent direct to the manufactory in Boston, with cash, or satisfactory references, will be promptly attended to, and as faithfully executed as if the parties were present, or employed an agent to select, and on so favorable terms.

ARITHMETICAL PROGRESSION.
While engaged in the tobacco and cigar business, I used to have for a customer in cheap cigars, one of those knowing fellows whose knowledge serves better to bore his victims than advance science. You could not make him believe that—oh, no! Tell him there were relagia cigars that cost forty dollars per thousand! it might do to sniff down the throat of one of them that knew no better: he was none of them. And so it was with everything, he always knew best. It always appeared to be his delight to draw me into some controversy, no matter what the subject was, to hear himself drawn forth. I tried every way I could think of to circumvent him, and at length I succeeded in laying him out as flat as a flounder. It was Saturday afternoon, he came in, made his usual purchase, and seated himself to deal out his usual portion; but I was awake for him.
"Captain," said I, "I have made up my mind to go to California, and if you wish to go into speculation, now is your time."
"As how," said he.
"Why, you see these eighteen boxes of cigars, well, there are two hundred and fifty in each box, and I will let you have the whole eighteen at a low rate, providing you take them all."
"Very well," said my friend, "let us hear the conditions."
"You give me one cent for the first box, two cents for the second, four cents for the third, and so on, doubling on every box."
"Done," said he, "fetch on your cigars. Suppose you think I have not got money enough—oh?"
"Not at all, so let us proceed. Here's your first box."
He drew from his pocket a leathern purse and out of it a handful of coin.
"And here is your cent," said he, depositing a green, discolored copper on the counter.
"Here is your second box."
"Here is your two cents."
"Very well, here is your third box."
"And here is your four cents," said he chuckling.
"Here is your fourth box."
"Exactly. And here is your eight cents! ha! ha! old fellow, go on."
"Here is your fifth box," said I, handing down another.
"And here is your sixteen cents."
"Here is your sixth box."
"And—ha! ha! ha! here is your thirty-two cents."
"Here is your seventh box."
"And here—ha! ha! the joke is getting too rich—here is your sixty-four cents, and half your cigars are gone."
"Here is your eighth box," said I assuming a cold indifference that perfectly surprised the fellow.
"And here is your dollar and twenty-eight cents."
"Here is your ninth box."
"Here is your—let me see—ah! two dollars and fifty-six cents."
"Here is your tenth box."
He drew his wallet thoughtfully, and on the slate made a small calculation.
"And here is your five dollars and twelve cents."
"Here is your eleventh box."
"And here is your—twice five is ten, twice twelve is twenty-four—ten dollars and twenty-four cents."
At this stage of the game he had got quite docile, and I continued—
"Here is your twelfth box; hand over twenty dollars and forty-eight cents."
Here the globules of perspiration, large as marrow-fat peas, stood out in bold relief on his face, but at length he doled out the sum.
"Here is your thirteenth box; pile out forty dollars and ninety-six cents.
Here the light appeared to break into his thick skull, and he fairly yelled out—"I'll see you damned first, and then I won't!"
With that he left, and I have never been able to get near him since.

EXETER SCHOOLS.—The News Letter of Monday says:
The public schools in this village begin their terms to-day. Nearly all the teachers of the past year have been re-engaged in District No. 1. Rev. S. S. Fletcher takes the Grammar School in Spring street, and its former teacher, Miss Page, goes into the primary school in Court street. The old Court Room, we understand, is hereafter to be used for this school.

STAMPEDE OF SLAVES.—From information which has reached us, there would seem to have been a considerable stampede of slaves from the border valley counties in Virginia during the late Easter holidays. We have heard of seven making their escape from the plantation of Mr. Mason of Loudon county, near the point of Rocks, and two from Berkely county. It is supposed others have also gone.—Baltimore Sun.

REMOVAL.
UNITED STATES AND FOREIGN
PATENT AGENCY.
SAMUEL COOPER,
Late Principal Examiner of Patents in the United States Patent Office, at Washington,
HAS REMOVED HIS OFFICE TO
WEBSTER BANK BUILDING,
13 EXCHANGE STREET, BOSTON.
PATENTS secured in the United States, and in all other patent granting countries. Specifications and drawings prepared. Caveats filed.—Reconsiderations procured. Applications that have been rejected upon imperfectly prepared papers. Interferences prosecuted. Reissues and extensions obtained, and in general, all business connected with the Patent Office transacted with care and promptness.
British and other foreign patents procured through prompt and confidential agents in London and Paris.
Persons residing at a distance may obtain all necessary information as to have their business transacted, by writing to the subscriber, without the trouble and expense of a visit to Washington.
He begs leave to refer those unacquainted with him to the following testimonials:
From Hon. Chas. Mason, Commissioner of Patents.
U. S. PATENT OFFICE, Feb 23, 1856.
I take great pleasure in stating that during the time I have been acting as Commissioner of Patents, Samuel Cooper, Esq., of Boston, has been engaged as Solicitor, and has been in that capacity in constant correspondence and intercourse with the office; he has proved himself thoroughly acquainted with the Patent Law, and with the rules and practice of the office, a close attention to the interests of his clients, and a marked candor and courtesy that has rendered the transaction of business with him a pleasure. I have no hesitation in stating that I regard him as one of the very best agents for the transaction of business with this office with whom I am acquainted.
From the Examiners of the Patent Office.
The undersigned, Principal and Assistant Examiners in the United States Patent Office, have for several years been well acquainted with Mr. Samuel Cooper, late a principal Examiner in this office, and take pleasure in stating that he is a gentleman of the highest moral character, of unquestioned knowledge in the business and practice of the office, and that his scientific attainments are such as eminently fit him for the business in which he is about to engage.
HENRY B RENWICK, L. D. GALE, S. H. LANE, T. R. PRATT, } Principal Examiners.
THOS. T. EVERETT, F. SOUTHGATE SMITH, WM. C. LANGDON, } Assistant Examiners.
From long acquaintance and intimate official relations with Mr. Cooper, I fully and heartily concur in the foregoing recommendation made by my late colleagues. W. P. N. FITZGERALD,
Late Principal Examiner of Patents.

Coggswell's Medical Salt,
A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE
FOR THE
LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.
INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—but but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: SUBDUES INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. It is asked, how it does this?—Simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a gill dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.
☞ Of its intrinsic value, the enlightened community, and not the discoverer, must be the judge.

Morning Chronicle.

THURSDAY, APRIL 15, 1858.

A BOOK FOR THE TIMES.

We have before us, in a neat dollar volume of 366 pages octavo, the Pitts Street Chapel Lectures, published in Boston by Jewett & Co., and sold in this city by J. F. Adams and J. P. Morse.

The origin of the book was this. Last year,(winter of 56—7,)ministers of six denominations preached sermons (one each) in the Pitts Street Chapel, all on the text, What shall I do to be saved? The lectures were largely attended, and heard with great interest. This year,(winter of 57—8) there have been six lectures delivered, one by each of six clergymen of Boston, of as many different denominations—each minister of the six being of good and somewhat eminent standing among his own brethren.

The first was by Rev. Wm. R. Clark, in the question, Why am I a Methodist? The second by Rev. Thos. B. Thayer, on the similar question, Why am I a Universalist? The third, by Rev. James N. Sykes, Baptist. Fourth, Rev. Dr. Nehemiah Adams, Trinitarian Congregationalist. Fifth, Rev. Dr. George M. Randall, Episcopalian. Sixth, Rev. Dr. Orville Dewey, Unitarian.

We have read these lectures carefully through; and do not hesitate to say that the peculiar views of each denomination are fully and ably presented; and we may add that in this book the religious readers of all the six will find a better and fairer statement of the views of their neighbors, than they usually get at second hand.

The lectures have these three excellences: 1, each sect paints its own portrait; 2, we see wherein sects differ; and 3, we see in how many things they agree. The seventh and closing lecture, by Rev. T. S. King, is on Spiritual Life,—and is worthy of its distinguished author. The preface, by Rev. S. H. Winkley, (a native of this city,) is a catholic and pleasant introduction to the valuable book.

CRIME IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.—The Manchester Mirror informs us that at Pelham, last Sunday, one Charles Dixon, a young man about 23 years of age, who has been prowling around Manchester for two years past, was accused, arrested and arraigned before Mr. Marshall, for rape on a harmless inoffensive woman about 35 years of age. The Mirror adds:

Dixon has a wife here, about 19 years of age. He hails from Rhode Island.

The women in the neighborhood feel more secure from personal assault, and the owners of hen-roosts have greater confidence in the safety of their favorite biddies than they did a few days since.

Moody Hobbs, Esq., was applied to on Tuesday morning to issue a warrant for his arrest for his threatning to knock the brains out of the head of his wife's sister. He is a desperado.

Dixon is in Amherst jail.

The Manchester American gives the following police court report:

Jacob Rosebush was complained of for an assault upon one Julia Comfort. The parties were French, and reside in Goffstown. The respondent's only defence was a pint of rum. Fined $2 and costs, $6.70, which was promptly paid.

One John Edwards, married man, and Mrs. Margaret Parkhurst, wife of the "celebrated" Dr. Parkhurst, now in Amherst jail, were arraigned on the charge of adultery, on the 11th inst. Both plead guilty, and were each put under bonds of $200 for their appearance at the higher Court. Committed.

ARRAIGNMENT.—The Bath Organ says,—David Y. Dudley, who was arraigned yesterday before the Supreme Court for the murder of Eliphalet Berry of Topsham, is a young man, probably about twenty-five years of age, of prepossessing appearance, a bright, intelligent eye, was dressed neatly, and in all respects his appearance before the Court was calculated to impress the large company in attendance favorably. He was attentive while the indictment was being read by the clerk, and answered "not guilty." We are told that he is naturally of a peaceable disposition, and that the homicide was the fruit of a drunken broil in which there was evidently no premeditated malice.

IMPORTANT INSURANCE DECISION—The Albany Evening Journal reports that the Court of Appeals has decided in the suit growing out of the Harper's fire in New York in 1853, that when the insurance company insures on a work-shop, they take the risk of all the articles ordinarily and necessarily used in the trade carried on, and that the fact of camphene being on the premises does not violate the insurance, because it was necessarily used in the business.

CONGRESS.

TUESDAY, April 13.

SENATE.—At 1 o'clock, the Kansas bill came up, and Mr. Green of Missouri, without any remarks, moved that, as the House had disagreed, the Senate would insist, and ask a Committee of Conference, in lieu of resolving to adhere.

The yeas and nays were taken and resulted—yeas 30, nays 24.

NAYS—Messrs. Bell, Broderick, Cameron, Chandler, Clark, Collamer, Crittenden, Dixon, Doolittle, Douglas, Fessenden, Foote, Foster, Hale, Hamlin, Harlan, King, Seward, Simmons, Stuart, Sumner, Trumbull, Wade, Wilson.

ABSENT—Messrs. Bates, Davis, Durkee, Pearce, Pugh, Reid, Thompson of Ky., and Yulee.

Messrs. Green, Hunter, and Seward were appointed the committee to confer with a similar committee, if appointed by the House.

The Senate then took up the bill for the construction of a telegraph to the army in Utah.

Mr. Wilson then submitted some amendments, modifying the bill so as to make it more acceptable.

Messrs. Wilson, Broderick, Doolittle, Douglas and Cameron, spoke in favor of the bill, and Messrs. Iverson, Hunter, Johnson of Arkansas, Fessenden and Hale opposed it.

Mr. Wilson wished to refer the bill back to the committee for a week, for further amendment of estimates, etc.

Mr. Iverson, however, moved that it be postponed till December next, which was carried—28 against 17. Adjourned.

HOUSE.—The House went into Committee of the Whole on the Senate bill to establish a guard of protection to life and property in Washington.

A sharp debate ensued, personal and political. No question taken.

WASHINGTON, April 13.—The Senate's request for a Committee of Conference on the Kansas bill, will by general agreement, be acted upon by the House to-morrow at 1 o'clock. There is a strong probablity that the House will grant the Committee. The Lecomptonites firmly calculate on a joint arrangement to admit Kansas under the Lecompton Constitution, if not in the precise words of the Senate bill, with such modification as will not sacrifice the principle of that measure.

The President has determined to take the volunteer regiments from the Western States.

A memorial from the citizens of Carson Valley, asking for the erection of a Territorial Government, has been transmitted to the House by the President, and referred to the Committee on Territories.

Messrs. Hale, Mason and Bigler are the Committee of the Senate appointed to investigate the complaints of the inmates of the Military Asylum near Washington against the management and discipline of the institution.

NEW YORK, April 14.—(Washington Correspondence.)—Speaker Orr has pledged himself in case the opposition assent to a Conference Committe, to appoint Messrs. Stephens, Montgomery and some leading Republicans. It has transpired that the anti-Lecompton Democrats held a caucus last week, and decided to vote for a Committee of Conference if asked for by the Senate, but against the House asking one.

FROM CALIFORNIA.

TWO WEEKS LATER.

NEW YORK, April 13.—Steamship Star of the West, from Aspinwall on the evening of the 4th inst., with 163 passengers, the California mails of March 22d, and $1,350,000 in specie, arrived at this port this afternoon.

The U. S. sloop-of-war Jamestown left Aspinwall on the 3d, for San Juan.

The Star of the West connected with the Sonora which brought down to Panama nearly $1,700,000 in specie.

The Panama Herald contains a card, signed by nearly 300 steerage passengers, who arrived at Aspinwall in the opposition boat, the Northern Light, but finding no connection at Panama had been left at that place in the greatest distress for want of food and shelter. Their wants had been relieved by the Pacific Mail Steamship Company.

The California Senate had passed the resolutions previously adopted by the Assembly in favor of Lecompton. The Senate had refused to provide for a Constitutional Convention.

A large number of cattle had been drowned on the Upper Sacramento by the high water succeeding heavy rains.

Storell the claimant of the slave Archy, had been arrested as a kidnapper.

A movement was on foot, to emigrants to settle the Gadsden purchase.

The Supreme Court had rendered a decision adverse to Col. Fremont's claiming the gold taken from his Mariposa land.

Oregon advices are uninteresting.

Sandwich Island advices are unimportant.

The San Francisco Market was rather buoyant at the begining of the fortnight. There had been large importations of Eastern assorted merchandize, the most desirable portions of which were taken up at fair prices, but at the close the market was more quiet, with a decidedly weaker tone. The Money Market was dull and easier, and gold dust was coming in more freely.

Anti-Lecompton Democratic meetings had been held in various places, at which the course of Senator Douglas was fully endosed.

The California Chronicle says that out of 60 papers in the State, of which 38 are Democratic, only 5 support the President on the Lecompton issue. McClorkly a member of Congress, and other leading Democrats, are in favor of the position of Douglas.

4 DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

NEW YORK, April 13.—Steamer City of Washington, from Liverpool, March 31st, arrived shortly before 2 o'clock.

Cotton declined 1-8 to 1-4 of a penny. Flour neglected and nominal; corn dull and depressed.

Parliament had adjourned over Easter holidays.

The British Admiralty have announced that the Agamemnon would be put in commission immediately to assist in laying the Atlantic cable.

The Admiralty judgment against the American ship Carlyle, for having caused the loss of the bark Grazia, has been reversed by the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council.

The cotton mill of L. & G. Williams, at Manchester, is burned. Loss £100,000.

INDIA.—The Bombay mails of March 9 had arrived at Suez, whence intelligence had been telegraphed to England.

The King of Delhi's trial was still progressing. The statement that he had been convicted and sentenced was therefore erroneous.

The English ladies, held prisoners at Lucknow, are reported alive and well treated.

Advices from Lucknow are to March 6. Sir Colin Campbell had reached to within a mile of Lucknow on the 1st.

Gen. Outram was attacked Feb. 21st, at Alumbagh, by a large force of rebels, and again on the 25th, defeating them on both occasions with great slaughter. He crossed the Goomtee March 6 with 6000 troops, and took position within range of Lucknow, where he was again attacked, but repulsed the assailants.

Gen. Franks had joined Campbell with 4000 troops.

The army now before Lucknow amounts to 50,000 men, with 120 guns, and also 10,000 cavalry.

The columns of Generals Rose and Whitelock were advancing on the Ghansi and Allahabad roads to intercept the insurgents in those directions.

Gen. Franks had an engagement near Shandina. He took a large rebel force, killing and wounding nearly 3000, and capturing all their guns.

The Punjaub is quiet.

Further intelligence from Lucknow, by telegraph, has been received, bringing dates down to March 8. The rebels had erected a strong line of defence along the canal, which would require siege artillery.

CHINA.—The latest advices from China say the allied Ambassadors, together with the American Commissioner, were busy at Canton, in settling the details of a Custom House establishment.

The Hong Kong correspondent of the London Times says hopes are entertained of a speedy settlement of affairs, as papers have been found which indicate that the Emperor is not averse to an amicable adjustment.

The U. S. frigate Mississippi was at Shanghae, and the Minnesota in the Canton river.

Martial law has been proclaimed in Canton. Commissioner Reed was going to Manilla till the time for holding a conference of the four powers at Shanghae.

The American Minister had an interview with Lord Elgin at Canton, after which he returned to Hong Kong, deferred his projected journey northward, and sent the Minnesota up the river. At about the same time; a special courier arrived from the Russian Embassy, whereupon the Times' correspondent arrives at the conclusion that certain overtures made by the British and French Ambassadors had been accepted, and that the four powers would thereafter act in concert.

MR. BENTON'S PRIVATE LIFE.—The Newburyport Herald says, though Mr. Benton was violent in temper, and thereby led occasionally into imprudent acts—though he was sometimes rough in language, and implacable to his foes, yet when out of politics and in the retirement of his home, he was as simple and kind and tender as a child. Never was a man more affectionate to his wife—never one more devoted to his children. In the last days of his wife, he always, while in his study, had her seat by his side, and when mind and body were decaying together, he worked on with his books and pen, holding her hand in his and extending every little act of kindness that could give her pleasure. So he was to his family—to his son, deceased some years since, and to his three daughters, Mrs. Fremont, Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Carey, who survive and mourn one of the truest and best of fathers.

ONE OF THE PARAGRAPHS.—Woman is like ivy—the more you are ruined, the closer she clings to you. Somebody adds: Ivy is like woman—the closer it clings to you, the more you are ruined. Poor rule that won't work both ways.

But the truth of both statements depends on what kind of a woman she is, whether good or bad, a help-meet or a destroyer, or whether wise or foolish.

BLACK COALITION.—The Concord Democratic Standard says:

If there are any democratic editors who are now exulting at the success of the Crittenden amendment, supported by the Black Coalition in Congress, but still suppose that they are within the pale of the Democratic Party, it would be well for them to pause and review their positions. If they will take that course with themselves, they will find that they are but a step from an actual enlistment into the ranks of the enemy.

CONSUMPTION, the great scourge by which so many are doomed to a premature grave, could in many cases be effectually cured by simple remedies, if taken in season.—Wistar's Cherry Balsam has cured hundreds within a few years. ¶

FOR A SHORT TIME ONLY!
The Sight Preserved.
BLINDNESS PREVENTED.

By request of a great number of the citizens of PORTSMOUTH AND VICINITY,
Mr. J. JACOBS,
Celebrated Optician,

From the city of Rotterdam, Holland, has visited this place with a large selection of Telescopes, Microscopes, and Eye Glasses, for Ladies and Gentlemen, Patent Double Vision Spectacles, Scotch Pebble Spectacles, and Wollaston's Conservative Spectacles, in Gold, Silver and Steel Frames.

A LONG continued practice in the art of Optics has enabled him to manufacture Glasses of peculiar form and superior quality, and adapt them to every individual, after a careful examination of the eye, those Glasses which correspond with the defect of near, far or weak sightedness.

Persons in general, not acquainted with the art of Optics, are left to select their Glasses themselves, which abuse is surely injurious to the Eye, and has caused the prejudiced to avoid the use of them as long as possible, when selected as soon as the sight begins to fail, by a skilful Optician the Eye will retain its natural strength, and be improved. The importance of this subject, as introduced by the subscriber, has been fully acknowledged by the highest authorities.

TESTIMONIALS.

UTICA, N. Y., April 28, 1856.

We the undersigned, having used Optical Instruments, (and Scotch Pebble Spectacles,) of the manufacture of Jacob Jacobs, and having thoroughly tested their powers and qualities do certify that we have found them to be good, and can recommend them to the public as well worthy of consideration. We can particularly recommend the Scotch Pebble Spectacles for the protection which they afford the Eye, and the increased clearness and power of vision.

Grass Seed.

A FRESH stock of HERD'S GRASS SEED, used by the Doctor for many years, both in France and America, with unparalled success in every case; and he is urged by many thousand ladies who have used them, to make the Pills public, for the benefit of those suffering from any irregularities whatever, as well as to prevent pregnancy in those ladies whose health will not permit an increase of family. Pregnant females, or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using these Pills while pregnant, as the proprietor assumes no responsibility after the above admonition, though their mildness would prevent any mischief to health; otherwise these Pills are recommended. Full and explicit directions accompany each box.

Price $1. Sold in Portsmouth by JOSEPH H. THACHER, in Dover by Chas. A. Tufts, in Exeter by C. A. Merrill, and in Newmarket by J. A. Prendergast. They will supply dealers at the Proprietor's prices, and also send the Pills to the Ladies (confidentially) by mail to any part of the city or country, on receipt of $1 through the Post Office.

N. B.—Ladies will be particular in asking for Dr. Duponco's Golden Pills. Observe the signature J. Dupontes upon each box. You will then obtain a Pill you can rely upon.

SALEN'S DAGUERREAN GALLERY,
CONGRESS BLOCK.

Melainotypes, beautifully colored, (imitation of Ivory Painting,) taken in superior style, on light or dark ground.

Photographs, Ambrographs, Oilographs, plain and splendidly finished in oil, any size up to Life Size, from $8 to $35.

Pictures taken on Patent Leather, Enamelled Cloth and Bristol Board for sending in letters, or to put in Hats, Caps, Porte-Monnaies, Albums, &c., very cheap.

Please call at Salen's Daguerrean Gallery, Congress Block, only one flight of stairs.

N. B.—Any size of picture taken from a small likeness of a Deceased Friend. m 8

☞ The only place in this city where an Ambrotype can be obtained, is at Davis' Ambrotype Gallery, No. 3 Daniel Street, as they have the Patent, and all infringements will be prosecuted. sept9

☞ Notwithstanding the statements of competitor NEIGHBORS to the contrary, Gregory continues to make the MOST DURABLE Ambrotypes, Melainotypes, Photographs, and all other kinds of pictures that are worth making, at his OLD STAND, No. 38 Congress street, where he is ever happy to FIX the smiling faces of his friends and patrons.

AUCTION.

We have received this day a large lot of WHITE LINENS, of the celebrated manufacture of "Richardson, Sons & Owden." They were bought at Auction, and we shall offer them at prices to which we invite the attention of purchasers.

Also, 350 LINEN BOSOMS, made to order, from a very FINE, PURE LINEN, which we are selling at GREAT BARGAINS.

NUMBER FIFTEEN MARKET ST.
ALLEN & PAINE.

☞ Reader, do you want THE picture of the day? If so, have one of Gregory's Photographs in Oil Colors, which he is selling at about half the Boston and New York prices.

HOW TRUE IT IS!

There are a couple of old proverbs that it would be well for us all to keep in mind. One is, "a stitch in time saves nine;" and another, "an ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure." We all, in theory, acknowledge the truth of these proverbs, yet the practice of the most of us gives them the lie. Myers' Extract of Rock Rose, as a preventative of all those diseases arising from impure blood and viscid humors, is acknowledged to be superior to anything in Materia Medica. It purifies the blood, strengthens the digestive organs and invigorates the constitution.

BUY AND TRY IT!!

SMITH'S CURATIVE CLEANSING COMPOUND which has been sold extensively in Portsmouth and vicinity, for a few weeks past, by the proprietor, for the cure of pains, &c., may be had of Wm. R. Preston, Brackett Hutchings, Asa S. Tilton, Jenkins & Goodrich, F. Duprey, C. E. Leighton, Oliver P. Gerrish, Joseph Harvey & Son, Thomas S. Gammon, in Portsmouth.

None genuine unless bearing my trade mark (J. S.) attached to the autograph on the wrapper.

MOTHERS! MOTHERS!! MOTHERS!!!
AN OLD NURSE FOR CHILDREN.

DON'T fail to procure MRS. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. It has no equal on Earth. No mother who has ever tried MRS. Winslow's SOOTHING SYRUP for Children will ever consent to let her child pass through the distressing and critical period of teething without the aid of this invaluable preparation. If life and health can be estimated by dollars and cents, it is worth its weight in gold.

Millions of Bottles of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP are sold every year in the United States. It never fails in the hands of a tried remedy.—None genuine unless the fac simile of "Curtis & Perkins" is on the outside wrapper.

PRICE ONLY 25 CENTS A BOTTLE.

Sold by DAVID KIMBALL No. 36 Market Street and by Druggists generally. july21d&wly

A CARD TO THE LADIES.

DR. DUPONCO'S
French Periodical Golden Pills,
FOR FEMALES;

Infallible in Removing Stoppages or Irregularity of the Menses.

THESE Pills are nothing new, but have been used by the Doctor for many years, both in France and America, with unparalled success in every case; and he is urged by many thousand ladies who have used them, to make the Pills public, for the benefit of those suffering from any irregularities whatever, as well as to prevent pregnancy in those ladies whose health will not permit an increase of family. Pregnant females, or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using these Pills while pregnant, as the proprietor assumes no responsibility after the above admonition, though their mildness would prevent any mischief to health; otherwise these Pills are recommended. Full and explicit directions accompany each box.

Price $1. Sold in Portsmouth by JOSEPH H. THACHER, in Dover by Chas. A. Tufts, in Exeter by C. A. Merrill, and in Newmarket by J. A. Prendergast. They will supply dealers at the Proprietor's prices, and also send the Pills to the Ladies (confidentially) by mail to any part of the city or country, on receipt of $1 through the Post Office.

N. B.—Ladies will be particular in asking for Dr. Duponco's Golden Pills. Observe the signature J. Dupontes upon each box. You will then obtain a Pill you can rely upon.

J. DUPONCO, Proprietor.

LOCAL.

☞ On Fast evening, as a young gentleman and lady were riding up Deer street, from Market, a wheel of their chaise passed over a high heap of manure, stretching out into the street from the sidewalk—which upset the carriage, and threw them both out. As the horse had sense enough to stop on being spoken to, neither of them was seriously injured, though their clothes were much torn and otherwise damaged, and they themselves considerably bruised. Their escape from death was very narrow; and the city, and the man who obstructed the street thus, must be legally as well as morally liable.

☞ A project is on foot among some of the most enterprising members of the South Parish (Stone Church) to make extensive and important alterations and improvements in their Church. The design is, to place their new organ in the rear of the pulpit; to accommodate which, a recess is to be built out at the southern end of the building. Then new pews or slips are to be put in place of the old ones—and thus a larger number of persons can be accommodated. A plan of the alterations has been prepared; and the matter is to come before a meeting of those interested, at the Court Street Chapel this (Thursday) evening, for consideration.

If not absolutely necessary, the changes proposed, we should judge, would be decidedly agreeable to all who are not too strongly attached to old landmarks. The place for an organ, and for a choir, is certainly where the people can see and join with them—and where the minister can confer with the chorister, if desired. So fine an organ as this Society is to have, should never, in these days of information on the subject, be placed high above the people's heads.

MEETINGS THIS EVENING, &c.

Union Prayer Meeting in the Free Will Baptist Church, from 8 to 9 o'clock this morning, to which all are invited.

The Class meetings of the Methodist Church will assemble at half past 7 o'clock this evening.

Prayer and Conference meeting at the Vestry in the Temple, this evening at half past 7 o'clock.

Ladies' General Charitable Society will meet this afternoon at 3 o'clock, at the house of Rev. N. Modbery, 31 State street.

MARRIED, in this city, some time last week, by Current Report, Esq.,—Mr. Mind-His-Own-Business to Miss Do-Just-As-She-Pleases. Also, Mr. Take-His-Own-Time to Miss Go-off-When-She-Gets-Ready. Also, Mr. Shan't-Be-in-a-Hurry-About-It, to Miss Make-Haste-Slowly. The favorite hue of the dresses on the occasion, was invisible green.

ATLANTIC ENGINE CO., No. 6.—Officers for the ensuing year:—Albert Foye, Foreman: George Manent, 2d Foreman. J. Gilman Folsom, Clerk; O. W. Ham, 1st Pipeman; George Woods, 2d Pipeman: Albert Spinney, 1st Assistant; Joshua Downing, 2d Assistant.

☞ A member of Laconia Engine Company, No. 2, desires us to state that No. Two threw the first stream on the Water Street fire, Saturday night—and that any impression or statement to the contrary is incorrect, and can be proved so.

A CARD.

Gov. Langdon Engine Co. No. 3, return their sincere thanks to Messrs. Bailey & Marden for the bountiful supply of refreshments furnished them after the fire on the 10th inst.

Also to Mr. Cunningham for that hot Coffee. Per Order.

JOHN H. TREDICK, Clerk.

PORTSMOUTH, April 15.

An inventor of a new Virmifuge who has sent us a package to examine and puff, is informed that neither our person, our paper nor our politics are wormy, and therefore we have no means of testing the value of his invention. A squirming is expected among some of our Lecompton friends, and with his consent we will pass it over to them.—Bath Organ.

NO SALVATION FOR BLACK MEN.—Rev. S. D. Baldwin, a Methodist minister, in a recent work, brings forward the original idea that the descendants of Ham and Shem "enjoy no promise of persuasion or conversion, of faith and confession, as races;" and that "Millenial glory does not anticipate their full regeneration." This idea has in it the seed of a new argument in support of slavery.

LIQUOR SPILLING.—The landlord of the Stage House, impelled by some motive best known to himself, on Monday night took into the street his whole stock of liquors, and emptied them into the gutter. The stock consisted of a quantity of rum, gin, brandy, whiskey and wine. We learn that he has pledged himself to keep hereafter a temperance house.—Paris (Me.) Democrat.

☞ This day is the appointed Fast, in Maine and Massachusetts.

MARRIED.

In Washington, N H, Mr T Kneeland Ames to Miss Louisa Little, both of Peterboro'.

AN INDIAN WEDDING.—The Nebraska City News of the 3d inst., contains a long account of the marriage of a Pawnee Chief to a blood royal squaw of the Ottoe tribe. The bridegroom was named Whitewater, and the bride Wah-mush-pe-shinga.

The chieftain's daughter was elegantly dressed in a red flannel skirt with blue calico border, a checked apron, a summer-killed buffalo robe, and a white felt hat. Her jewels were magnificent. From either auricular depended bright ornaments of brass, tin and copper.

We must not omit to mention that Miss Wah-mush-pe-shinga also wore a "red petticoat," embroidered according to a design of her own, with porcupine quills, representing a desperate dog fight. Her entire wardrobe and jewelry could not have cost less than six thousand dollars in Fontelle money.

The bridegroom was attired in all the magnificence which his rank and wealth demanded. He wore a standing shirt-collar, a medal of President Pierce, a blue straight-collared soldier coat with brass buttons, and an elegant pair of Spanish spurs, while his stalwart loins were admirably clothed in an ancient coffee sack. Altogether the appearance of both bride and groom was appropriate to their high sphere in life. The most sumptuous feast awaited the guests at the residence of the bride's father. It was spread in a camp kettle and suspended over the fire that burned in centre of that princely lodge. It consisted of young dog meat, very tender, blue corn, and old dog meat, beaver tails and mule steak, fresh fish and sugar, making altogether one of the most palatable and nourishing compounds that ever graced a camp kettle. The horn spoons of occidental luxury seldom convey to the educated palate viands more tempting and delicious. As for drinks, corn whiskey, made of red pepper, tobacco plugs and rain water, together with molasses-sweetened coffee, made up the list.

Among the distinguished persons present, we did not fail to notice the six Mesdames Petanasharo, the wives of that eminent "Injin" who is now at Washington visiting James Buchanan on official business. Also, Mr. Whitecow of Omaha principality, Mr. Big Soldier, Esquire Wild-cat and the Hon. Short tailed Elk.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT, PORTLAND.—APRIL TERM.—Geo. W. Barton vs. Willard Walker. Replevin for a quantity of liquor seized under the law of 1855, by deft. in his capacity of City Marshal in July of 1855. The complaint and libel were dismissed on a hearing before the Court at the August term, 1855. This action was brought to recover the value of the liquor taken. It appearing from the testimony of plff. that the liquor in question was intended for sale, the Court ordered a nonsuit, saying that it had been recently decided by the full Court—though the opinion is not yet published—that no action could be maintained for the recovery of the liquor which was kept or intended for an unlawful sale and seized under that law.

HOOPS.—A lady in a neighboring town entered a store the other day, and after inquiring for the above named article, on being shown a set of steel ones, replied, "Not the kind I want, sir. I don't want to subject myself to the inconvenience of undressing every time there comes up a thunder shower."—Northampton Courier.

Last Saturday, at the meeting at Burton's theatre, New York, Henry Ward Beecher made the sweeping assertion that all present were sinners. "Not so," said a Methodist brother, who suddenly jumped from his seat in a very excited manner—"Not so, for I have been sanctified."—"Glory to God in the highest," shouted Beecher at the top of his voice, "you ought to have been in Heaven long ago, you aint fit to live in this world."

☞ One Pratt, the teller of the Grafton Bank, with a boy named Albert Stockwell, whom Pratt used as his tool, robbed the Grafton, Ms. Bank, of $12,000. The boy being accused, confessed, and Pratt has given up the money, all but $80.

The Old Rochester Nurseries.

ROCHESTER, N. Y.

THE subscriber having been appointed Agent for this old, long-established and favorably known Nursery, respectfully solicits orders for FRUIT AND ORNAMENTAL TREES, FLOWERING SHRUBS, &c, which will be delivered to the purchaser at the Catalogue prices free of charge.

The Proprietor in presenting his Catalogue for 1858 to the public, remarks that they will find it an exact inventory of what he has to offer: the height of the trees, their age, and that everything will not only be found true to its kind, but of the most perfect quality. The climate where these Nurseries are located is the same as that of New Hampshire, rendering it certain that trees transplanted here, will flourish as well as there.

Great care will be taken in packing, rendering the Trees perfectly safe for thousands of miles of transit.

☞ Catalogues, together with "brief instruction" for Orchard, Planting, and Culture of Fruits, with hints for the selection of Trees, may be had of the Agent, JOHN BARROW.

NATURE.

Pleasant were many scenes, but most to me
The solitude of vast extent, untouched
By hand of art, where nature sowed herself,
And reaped her crops; whose garments were the clouds;
Whose minstrels brooks; whose lamps te moon and stars;
Whose organ-choir, the voice of many waters;
Whose banquets morning dews; whose heroes storms;
Whose warriors nightly winds; whose lovers flowers;
Whose orators the thunderbolts of God;
Whose palaces the everlasting hills;
Whose ceiling heaven's unfathomable blue:
And from whose rocky turrets battled high,
Prospect immense spread out on all sides round.
—[Pollok.

THE CLOUD.

I bring fresh showers for the thirsting flowers,
From the seas and the streams;
I bear light shade for the leaves when laid
In their noonday dreams.
From my wings are shaken the dews that waken
The sweet birds every one,
When rocked to rest on their mothers breast,
As she dances about the sun.
I wield the flail of the lashing hail,
And whiten the green plains under;
And again I dissolve in rain,
And laugh as I pass in thunder.—[Shelly.

SEA-SHELLS.

And I have sinuous shells of pearly hue;
Shake one, and it awakens, then, and there
Its polished lips to your attentive ear,
And it remembers its august abodes,
And murmurs as the ocean murmurs there.
—[Lander.

The following remedies are offered to the public as the best, most perfect, which medical science can afford. AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS have been prepared with the utmost skill which the medical profession of this age possesses, and their effects show they have virtues which surpass any combination of medicines hitherto known. Other preparations do more or less good; but this cures such dangerous complaints, so quick and so surely, as to prove an efficacy and a power in eradicating disease beyond any thing which mankind have known before. By removing the obstructions of the internal organs and stimulating them into healthy action, they renovate the fountains of life and vigor,—health courses anew through the body, and the sick man is well again. They are adapted to disease, and disease only, for when taken by one in health they produce but little effect. This is the perfection of medicine. It is antagonistic to disease, and no more. Tender children may take them with impunity. If they are sick, they will cure them, if they are well they will do them no harm.

Give them to some patient who has been prostrated with bilious complaint: see his bent-up, tottering form straighten with strength again; see his long-lost appetite return; see his sallow features bloom into health. Give them to some sufferer whose foul blood has burst out in scrofula till his skin is covered with sores; who stands, or sits, or lies in anguish. He has been drenched inside and out with every potion which ingenuity could suggest. Give him three Pills, and mark the effect: see the scabs fall from his body; see the new, fair skin that has grown under them; see the late leper that is clean. Give them to him whose angry humors have planted rheumatism in his joints and bone; move him, and he answers with yells; he too has been soaked through every muscle of his body with liniments and salves; give him these Pills to purify his blood; they may not cure him, for, alas! there are cases which no mortal power can touch; he may be crippled for life, perhaps now, and now he walks alone; they have cured him. Give them to the lean, sour, haggard dyspeptic, whose gnawing stomach has long ago eaten every smile from his face and every muscle from his body. See his appetite return, and with it his health; see the new man. See her that was radiant with health and loveliness blasted and too early withering away; want of exercise or mental anguish, or some lurking disease, has deranged the internal organs of digestion, nauseated her stomach, till they do their office ill. Her blood is vitiated, her health is gone. Give her these Pills to stimulate the vital principle into renewed vigor, to cast out the obstructions, and infuse a new vitality into the blood. Now look again—the roses blossom on her cheek, and where lately emaciation stared you in the face, every feature. See the sweet infant wasted with worms. Its wan, sickly features tell you without disguise, and painfully distinct, that they are eating its life away. Its pinched-up nose and tars, and restless sleepings, tell the dreadful story, too plainly for any mother known. Give it the Pills in large doses to sweep these vile parasites from the body. Now turn again and see the ruddy bloom of childhood. Is it nothing to do these things? Nay, are they not the marvel of this age? And yet they are done around you every day.

Have you the less serious symptoms of these distempers, they are the easier cured. Jaundice, Costiveness, Headache, Sick-ache, Heartburn, Foul Stomach, Nausea, Flatulency, Dizziness, Tiredness, Loss of Appetite, King's Evil, Neuralgia, Gout, and kindred complaints all arise from the derangements which these Pills rapidly cure. Take them perseveringly, and under the counsel of a good Physician if you can; if not, take them boldly, and follow such advice as we give you, and the distressing, dangerous diseases they cure, which afflict so many millions of the human race, are cast out like the devils of old—they must burrow in the brutes and in the sea. Price 25 cents per box—5 boxes for $1.

Thousands will testify how many years and through every nation of civilized men, AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has been found to afford more relief and to cure more cases of pulmonary disease than any other remedy known to mankind. Cases of apparently settled consumption have been cured by it, and thousands of sufferers who were deemed beyond the reach of human aid have been restored to their friends and usefulness, to sound health and the enjoyments of life, by this all-powerful antidote to diseases of the lungs. Hoarseness, a cold had settled on the lungs. The dry, hacking cough, the glassy eye, and the pale, thin features of him who was lately hasty and strong, whisper to all but him CONSUMPTION. He tries every thing; but the Cherry Pectoral is all in vain. Its use should first be commenced when the first alarming symptoms appear, and have such a warning been neglected, should it be taken on the first appearance of the fatal symptoms more and more over all his frame. He is taking the CHERRY PECTORAL now; it has stopped his cough and made his breathing easy; his sleep is sound at night; his appetite returns, and with it his strength. Its effects surprised his side is broken. Scarcely any neighborhood can be found which has not some living trophy like this to shadow forth the virtues which have won for the CHERRY PECTORAL an imperishable renown. But its usefulness does not end here. Nay, it saves children more by prevention than cure. The countless colds and coughs which it cures are the seed which would have ripened into a dreadful harvest of incurable disease. Influenza, Croup, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Pleurisy, Whooping-Cough, and irritations of the throat and lungs are easily cured by the CHERRY PECTORAL if taken in season. Every family should have it by them, and they will find it an invaluable protection from the insidious prowler which creeps stealthily upon them from many a fleck, the darling lamb from many a home.

Authenticated evidence of these facts, with directions for the treatment of each complaint, may be found in Ayer's American Almanac, of which we publish three million a year, and scatter them broadcast over the earth, in order that the sick every where may have before them the information it contains. Druggists and dealers in medicine generally have them for distribution gratis, and also for sale these remedies, prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER, Practical and Analytical Chemist, Lowell, Mass.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Managers would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent without the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $70,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

CAUTION NOTICE.

PERSONS living at a distance should be extremely cautious of whom they order Lottery Tickets or Certificates of Packages of Tickets.—The country is flooded with bogus Lottery Tickets and Schemes. Every inducement is held out to get persons to invest money in them. Capital Prizes of from $20,000 to $40,000 head their schemes—with tickets in Quarter Shares, 100,000 capital prizes are offered, tickets $5. All such, in every instance, are frauds; and if money is sent to them the sender will be sadly disappointed about the shadow of a chance of getting a prize. Beware of all Lotteries where the Capital Prize is unusually large in comparison to the price of tickets—every instance where the Capital Prize is offered for a small cost of tickets, put it down as a certain fraud.

The Kentucky State Lottery for the benefit of the Shelby College, under our management, is the only Lottery in the United States which is legally decided by the Maryland Drawings; all other Lotteries which pretend to be decided by Maryland Drawings, are frauds.

THE MARYLAND STATE LOTTERIES.

Purchase in the Maryland State Lottery, then you are sure of being right. And in ordering in the Maryland Lotteries, you are sure of fair and honest drawings.

Do not be misled, look to, and that is, to your order from any licensed vendor in Baltimore, do not receive any but Managers' Tickets and Managers' Printed Certificates of Packages of Tickets and Certificates have the numbers printed and have the lithographic signature of R. France & Co.

No vendor has a right to send his own certificates, if he does it, be sure there is a fraud at the bottom of it.

A PROCLAMATION

TO THE LADIES.

WHEREAS, it appears that the days of right, honor, and integrity are last fading away, and WHEREAS the unscrupulous and Unprincipled are daily taking advantage of the profound and learned. BE IT KNOWN THEREFORE, to all, whether MAIDS, WIVES, or WIDOWS, that Dr. CHESEMAN'S MARRIAGE PILLS are a sure and safe remedy for the troubles incident to female disorganization; they ALONE correcting all painful menstruation, assuaging palpitations of the heart, disturbed sleep, cold sides, and causing health and happiness to whole sex; more especially to the MARRIED PORTION, as they are certain to bring on a monthly period with regularity.—AND WHEREAS, these PILLS are purely vegetable and entirely free from minerals, therefore perfectly harmless in their operations and unlike other medicines thrust upon the public, purporting to effect the objects already detailed. THEREFORE, be it KNOWN, that NOTHING but the said PILLS can Dr. CHESEMAN'S will accomplish the desired object, when DISAPPOINTMENT has been experienced under the regime of OTHER PILLS; and the ladies will cease this Proclamation to spread amongst them, to their own everlasting benefit—always promising that said Proclamation in one case must be considered null and void; that is to say the PILLS will EVER FAIL when any female is in an INTERESTING SITUATION, otherwise a MISCARRIAGE will be the inevitable result.

Explicit directions, to be carefully read, accompany each box Price $1. Sent by mail on enclosing $1 to Dr. CORNELIUS L. CHESEMAN, Box No. 4, Old Post Office, New York. Sold by Druggists in every town in the United States.

S. D. & H. W. Smith,

—MANUFACTURERS OF—

Melodeons, Organ Melodeons,

—and—

PEDAL BASS MELODEONS.

No. 511 Washington St., Boston.

The first premium over all competitors, at the Fair of the Mass Charitable Mechanic Association, of the National Fair, Washington, D. C., also at the Ohio State Fair, held at Columbus, Ohio, was awarded to these Manufacturers.

By means of a new method of Voicing, known only to themselves, they have succeeded in removing the harsh and buzzing sound with formerly characterized the instrument, and rendering the tones full, clear and organ like. The action is prompt and reliable, enabling the performer to execute the most rapid music without blurring the tones. The swell is arranged to give great expression.

THE PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

Are designed particularly for Churches, Lodges, Halls, &c., to be used with two manuals, or banks of Keys, the lower set running an octave higher than the other, and may be used separately, and thus get the case two distinct instruments; or by use of the coupler, the two banks of keys may be played at the same time by use of the front set only. This connected with Pedal Bass, will produce the effect of a large organ, and is exceedingly heavy to fill a house that seats from 1000 to 1500 persons.

THE ORGAN MELODEON

is designed for parlor and private use. The construction is similar to the Church Instrument, being arranged with two banks of Keys, and when used together, by means of the coupler, is capable of a great volume of power as the Church instrument when used without the pedals. Also, every variety of MELODEONS for Parlor use.

Purchasers may rely upon instruments from our Manufactory, being made in the most complete and thorough manner. Having removed to the spacious Buildings

511 Washington Street,

We have every facility for manufacturing purposes, every instrument being in the most experienced and skilful workmen. In short, we will promise our customers an Instrument equal, if not superior to any in the market, and guarantee an entire and perfect satisfaction.

Music Teachers, Leaders of Choirs, and others interested in musical matters, are respectfully invited to visit our Rooms and examine and examine or test the instruments on exhibition for sale at their pleasure.

We would further guarantee to the public as to the excellence of the MELODEONS from our Manufactory, we beg leave to refer, by permission, to the following

Pianos Forte Manufacturers of Boston,

who have examined our Instruments, and will give their opinion when called upon:

Chickering & Sons, Hallett & Cumston,
T. Gilbert & Co., Wm. P. Emerson,
Brown & Allen, A. W. Ladd & Co.,
George Hewes, Woodward & Brown,
Newhall & Co.

MELODEONS REWRITED.

Persons who wish to hire Melodeons with a view of purchasing at the end of the year, can have the rent credited as part payment of the purchase money, if they so request. We would special note, as it enables those who desire a fair test of the instruments before purchasing, to obtain it at the expense of the manufacturers, to the extent at least of a year's rent.

Orders from any part of the country or world, sent direct to the manufactory in Boston, will be or satisfactorily executed, and promptly attended to, and as faithfully executed as if the parties were present, or employed an agent to select, and on as reasonable terms.

VOL. 12. PORTSMOUTH, N. H., FRIDAY, APRIL 16, 1858. NO. 63.

THE DEAD LETTER.

BY E. W. DEWEES.

I have a story in my mind, dear reader, which I am going to tell you, though I am witheld by a doubt—the doubt, which of all others should least enter the head of a writer—a doubt of his heroine. Now I hold that on this point an author's heroine should embody, as far as he is able to do it, his idea of perfect womanhood.—Let him do his best. Let him make her the most admirable creature the world ever saw, according to his way of thinking, and he will find plenty of readers who differ from him entirely in their estimate of her. The author's representation of what is sweet, gentle, and lovely, will be found by the reader to be silly, flat, and namby-pamby; his portraiture of sprightly gayety will be pronounced vulgar hoydenishness, and so on. Therefore, if the highest ideas of us poor authors deteriorate thus when laid before the public, what must be my bashful misgivings at this moment, conscious of the design of introducing a heroine that I do not even admire myself?

I solemny protest to my gentle public and appeal to you, Mr. Editor, to endorse my assertion, that heretofore my heroines have been as proper and "au fait" as I could possibly make them.

But this one, though I disapprove of her, haunts me—torments me—I feel compelled to impale her on the point of my pen, as a naturalist does a bug on a pin, and so get rid of her, at your expense, dear reader.

In one respect, Susan Morley (she had not even a decent name, the jade) was not deficient, she had good common sense.

But what, pray, does one want with common sense in a heroine? It is altogether a useless commodity. It is in fact, a superfluous quality in any woman, till she is over thirty. Who wants to see a young girl sedate, sensible, and well regulated? To be sure, after thirty, these qualities are not without their value. But as no heroine ever reached that age, the author very properly dispenses entirely with these ingredients in compounding her.

To proceed. The unfortunate, unheroic girl, in spite of only second rate attractions and her ugly name, had a lover, and withal a very sentimental, handsome, martial-looking lover, whom I present to the reader without a blush, as a perfectly proper hero.

This young man, Midshipman Hartman by name, having some leisure on his hands one summer, had found some amusement in making love to Susan, whose only redeeming quality was, that she was rather pretty. But for this circumstance, which covers a multitude of sins, as all novel readers know, I should never have had the face to bring her forward at all.

Susan, in her common-place way, took all these attentions very coolly; but for all that, there is reason to believe she did not hear all the flatteries of the young midshipman quite unmoved; and no wonder, for it certainly must have been a most unexpected pleasure for a circumspect creature like her, to hear herself called angel, goddess, and what not.

Still, weeks and months went by, and though the youth said a great many pretty things, he did not say the prettiest thing of all—"Susan, will you marry me?" and Susan, it mortifies me to admit, took notice of this omission.

Now Susan was the oldest of a large family in straightened circumstances, and she had early come to a fixed determination, under no circumstances whatever, to become an old maid. I am happy to note this fact, as proving community of sentiment, at least on one point, between her and other heroines.

When, therefore, another suitor for her favor most unexpectedly appeared in the person of John Plainsail, merchant, she welcomed him with rapture, and, what is more, she coolly determined to marry him, if Fred Hartman should prove delinquent. (Pity me, kind reader, my task is a painful one.) The new lover, John Plainsail, merchant, was very different from the old one. He talked less about love and angels, never quoted poetry, and did not wear brass buttons; but somehow he seemed much more in earnest than the midshipman, and Susan perceived it. Besides, he was a well to do man of business, and I actually should not be surprised if Miss Susan had thought of that too:—but perhaps it would be unjust to bring so heavy a charge without the strongest proof, so I withdraw it.

The time for the expiration of the midshipman's leave of absence was now at hand, and he seemed as far as ever from the point; but Mr. Plainsail came to a more speedy decision, and proposed point blank.

Miss Susan pretended to be taken by surprise, (the artful minx!) and demanded time for deliberation.

The time thus gained, she used in a manner entirely without precedent, authority, or propriety—but that is not my fault—I wash my hands of the acts of this young lady. She actually sat down and wrote a letter to the midshipman, in which she told him of the offer she had had, and very plainly intimated that now was his time to propose if ever he intended doing so.

For several days Miss Susan waited for an answer to this precious epistle, amusing that credulous gentleman, Mr. Plainsail, meanwhile, with sundry excuses; but as no answer came, and as she moreover learned that Midshipman Hartman had already left Philadelphia to join his ship in New York harbor, she resigned her hopes in that quarter, and prudently made use of her second string to her bow.

The courtship of this couple was somewhat hum-drum and prosaic, as the reader will doubtless conjecture; but they got through with it somehow, and it terminated, as courtships are apt to do with your sensible people, in marriage.

Years went by, and I suppose time and custom reconciled Mr. and Mrs. Plainsail to their fate, for they did not seem to repine at it.

Susan, indeed, did as I have seen other sensible women do before her; she became a devoted wife and mother, and her husband really seemed to respect and admire her exceedingly, but, as I have hinted, he was probably a person easily imposed upon. I certainly must admit, however, that Susan did improve with her years.—The prudence and circumspection which were revolting in a heroine, seemed not inappropriate in a matron at the head of an establishment.

Concluded to-morrow.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Also, Reissues, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
THE Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immesurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has been successful in obtaining, and improve, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skillful Patent solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
From the present Commissioner.
AUGUST 7, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

Coggswell's Medical Salt,
A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE
FOR THE
LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.
INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—has but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: SUBDUES INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. Is it asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a quill dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.

Morning Chronicle.

FRIDAY, APRIL 16, 1858.

CONGRESS.

On Wednesday, April 14, in the Senate, the Pacific Railroad bill was considered, but an adjournment took place, after an executive session, before any action was taken.

The House took up the police bill, and discussed it till one o'clock,

At that time the Kansas bill was taken up. Mr. Montgomery moved to insist on adherence, and demanded the previous question. The report is a little obscure, but it appears that the motion for the previous question was lost. Afterwards, on motion of Mr. English, a Committee of Conference was agreed to. The vote standing a tie, 108 to 108, the Speaker voted in the affirmative.

The New Hampshire Representatives all voted throughout, against the conference. We consider it, in substance, a victory of the Lecompton swindle and crush, over two or three impressible Douglas democrats. It is not so considered, however, in Washington, as a dispatch of the 14th to the Allied Press says.

The anti-Lecompton Democrats of the House were this morning two hours in caucus. About one half of them were in favor of the appointment of a Committee to meet that of the Senate in conference on the Kansas bill, because, as they said, it was understood the Speaker would give a committee favorable to their side of the question. They say in taking this course they do not wish to be considered as abandoning their opposition to the Lecompton Constitution, but wished to show a becoming respect to the Senate. If it had been necessary to secure the appointment of the Committee, Messrs. Cockerell and Foley would have voted in the affirmative in the House on Mr. English's motion, in company with Messrs. English, Hall of Ohio, Pendleton, and Owen Jones, who sustain the Montgomery substitute.

The Boston Advertiser remarks:—

We must not, however, regard this action of the House as necessarily implying a willingness to abandon the noble stand which that branch of the legislature has taken, challenging the admiration of the world.

It is observable that not only was the vote of the speaker necessary to carry the proposition, but also his assurance that he would appoint a conference fairly representing the dominant sentiment of the House. This, indeed, is the rule of parliamentary law as stated by Cushing in his elaborate treatise (§2267.) "Every member of each committee" (of conference) he says, "is to represent the prevailing party of the house to which he belongs on the disagreeing vote in question." And he further says that both committees, of House and Senate, must act separately in the conference.

If the speaker fairly fulfils his promise in this respect, retrocession by the House is impossible. The House committee, especially after the vote "to adhere," can never assent to it.

It is not at all impossible, therefore, that this seeming gain of the administration may prove only to make their defeat more pointed, and thus to enhance the glory of the victory of the opposition.

We ardently hope this may prove to be the case, although we await the result with a solicitous apprehension.

[We can hardly say we hope for it. We certainly do not expect it. We wait the result, expecting to see the Speaker pack this committee as he did the other; and expecting also to see just enough votes, with the speakers' casting vote again, to fasten political slavery on Kansas. We expect also to see this result trumpeted abroad, as a great triumph of the "great principle of popular sovereignty."]

PORTLAND AFFAIRS.—Mr. Jewett, the new Mayor, gives a business man's address. His predecessor in office, with the county and State governments, have authorized the construction of important buildings, viz. County and City Hall, Alms House and Jail.—The new Mayor says:

As it is a very favorable year for the construction of buildings, owing to the reduced prices of labor and materials, I would recommend that early measures be taken to complete the plans and specifications, so that contracts may be made this year for its construction at the earliest date possible.

Of the Reform School, he says:—

I have no doubt that our citizens will desire us to keep at the Reform School those lads who have been sent there, and who, by the above named law, will be chargeable to the city; and I would recommend an appropriation for that purpose.

As the United States government coldly refuses to provide hospitals for sailors sick with infectious diseases, a city, which like ours has been built up mainly by commerce, ought not to imitate that bad example; but promptly prepare some suitable place for the poor sailor, whose infectious disease has probably been acquired by his exertions to add to our wealth and prosperity.

For all spring complaints, use Myers' Extract of Rock Rose, for sale by all apothecaries. Quart bottles only $1.

EXETERIANA.

Eudoxus.—What say you?
Franciscus.—Nothing!—Old Play.

EXETER, Thursday, April 15.

Dear Chronicle:—It is related of a talented English bishop, that he was on a certain occasion surprised to find on his pulpit, in lieu of his usual written sermon, merely some sheets of blank paper. His presence of mind, however, did not desert him; and he is said to have preached one of the best sermons he ever delivered, from his text—nothing. He commenced as usual, turning over the leaves, by saying:—"Here, my brethren, is nothing; out of nothing God created the world, etc."—Whatever we may write at this time—

"Perhaps it may turn out a song,
Not probably a sermon"—

will, we fear, be constructed of but little better material. However, we are getting lengthy, and truly the example of Macroscripts ought not to be followed, who wrote a learned article of three or four hundred lines to which were more than sixty pages of preface.

While the past few weeks among you has been a season of startling occurrences, in Exeter universal quiet has reigned supreme. Business is dull, the Factory has not yet commenced running, and amusements are scarce. "The Grand Pano-Dioramа of the Arctic Regions," with a string of other attractions as long as John Chinaman's pig-tail, has astonished the natives for the space of four nights. This wonderful panorama is got up regardless of expense; it might also be added, and of perspective and a few other artistic laws.

The April term of the Court of Common Pleas commenced a session on Tuesday, with Judge French on the bench. Prayer was made by Rev. Mr. Archibald, of the Elm st. (Baptist) Church. The first case was Gregg v. Taylor, an action for trespass committed on a water privilege in Derry. Court will possibly sit here two weeks.

The Jury returned a verdict this morning; damages to the amount of $5 for pliff., and costs, restricted to $5. Carter v. Silloway was given to the Jury to-day. Verdict for Deft. Hilton v Stickney & Cilley is now on trial.

An amusing incident occurred in one of our churches a few Sabbaths since. The choir, while attempting to sing the last afternoon hymn, suddenly came to a bar they couldn't get over, i. e. 'flatted down.' The indignant chorister immediately exclaimed, loud enough to be heard by all the congregation, "Commence again; and it we can't sing that, we will leave the church!" They sang it.

Agreeably to a vote of the town, the Superintending School Committees have just published their report. In six districts, containing 14 schools, are 806 scholars, for whom an annual expenditure of $3998 is made. The High School, under Mr. N. F. Carter, is most highly spoken of by the Committee.

Morning and evening prayer meetings are held here; and though at the eleventh hour, the interest felt in the revival is none the less fervent. Yours, F. G.

ATLANTIC MONTHLY.—The April number of this favorite periodical is on our table. Its contents are as follows:—The Hundred Days; My Journal to my Cousin Mary; Amours de Voyage; The Catacombs of Rome; Happiness; The Pure Pearl of Diver's Bay; The Story of Karin; The Abbe de l'Epee; Who is the Thief; Telling the Bees; Persian Poetry; The Autocrat of the Breakfast-Table; Sandalphon; Mr. Buchanan's Administration; Literary Notices.

The article on Mr. Buchanan's Administration is exceedingly caustic, and is understood to be from the pen of Parke Goodwin, Esq., of New York.

Every politician, of whatever school, will be apt to have both his ears tingle as he reads, before he gets to the end of it.

FRATRICIDE IN BEVERLY.—The Traveller states that two Irishmen of the name of Davis, by trade fish peddlers, who have been residing for a short time in the vicinity of Tuck's Point, Beverly, were Tuesday morning in an intoxicated condition, and got into a quarrel and fight, during which one brother drew a knife and stabbed the other, inflicting a wound of which he died in a short time. The murderer was at once arrested by officer Dennis, and conveyed to Salem jail.

GEOGRAPHY—CHICAGO.—Chicago is a bustling city. It was formerly in Illinois, but now Illinois is in it. Lake Michigan is situated in Chicago. The principal productions of Chicago are corner lots, statistics, wind, the Democratic Press, and Long John Wentworth. The population of Chicago is about sixteen millions, and is "rapidly increasing." The people are very unassuming and moral—almost too much so. The real estate dealers are all honorable men, like Brutus, and would n't tell a lie for any thing. Chicago is not in the Temperate Zone, the habits of the people not being at all in that way.—Cleveland Plaindealer.

A YOUNG GIRL IN A TRANCE FORTY-EIGHT HOURS.—The New York Evening Post relates that on Thursday evening, in Poughkeepsie, N. Y., a young girl named Isabella Ellison, while at the altar of the Methodist Church in that city, suddenly lifted up her hands and fell backward, apparently a corpse. Her eyes were glazed and set, her features pale as marble, her lips colorless, and her feet and hands cold. The people who rushed to her assistance, however, shortly discovered that she breathed, and she was conveyed to her residence, the preacher declaring that she was in a trance; and when it was suggested that medical assistance should be procured, the preacher objected, saying that Jesus Christ had thrown her into this mysterious state, and he would, at his own time, raise her to testify to his goodness. The girl continued in this state until Saturday evening, at which time a number of church members were in the house singing her favorite hymn, when she suddenly lifted up her hands and cried out, "Glory! Hallelujah!" She then turned to one of her friends and calling her by name, said "Repent, repent! Oh, if you had seen what I have, you would not live another moment in your sins, but would pray to God to have mercy upon you. I have been in Heaven; Heaven is a tree; it is lit up with the glory of God, and around the throne were thousands of angels singing sweetly and praising the King of Heaven. Jesus came past and spoke to me. I also saw the great gulf, and could scarcely see the bottom of it." She was very weak when she awoke from the trance, but was strong enough to attend church last Sabbath. The case has created much excitement in Poughkeepsie.

A SAD CASE.—The insanity of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Peck, at Providence, R. I., and the consequent death of the latter, as the result of over excitement in religion, is a very sad affair. The Providence Post giving an account of the circumstances, before Mrs. Peck's death, said:—

"Both of them have felt much interest in the revival now progressing here, and recently have allowed religious subjects to so constantly press upon their thoughts as to prevent them from eating or sleeping with much regularity. Within a few days both have manifested unmistakable signs of insanity, and Mr. Peck, when not under the influence of chloroform, has had to be handcuffed to prevent him from injuring himself and those about him. Mrs. Peck, as is usual in such cases, believed that God commanded her to fast, and has thus refused food for seven days, save on one or two occasions. She had also imagined that her children had been commanded to fast; insisted that they should refuse food, and was so reckless in her chastisement of them when they disobeyed her, that she also had to be confined."

SUICIDE BY A NEGRO.—A strange instance of human folly and perversity, says the Clayton Banner, occurred in Henry county, Ala., a few days ago, in the suicide of a slave beloning to Mr. J. H. Davis, near Lawrenceville. The negro, a valuable fellow, was as we learn, very indignant at the fit of certain shirts which had been made for him, by his mistress, and declared his determination not to wear them.—Having been moderately chastised for the purpose of improving his taste, he precipitated himself into a well, fractured his skull, and died.

GIBBS'
NEW PATENT
SEWING MACHINES,
Price $15.

JUST RECEIVED AND FOR SALE AT
CHAS. T. EMERY'S,
No. 10 Market Square.
Where it may be seen in operation.

THIS machine is warranted to do all the work of a $100 machine—not liable to get out of order—and so simple in its construction that a child of ten years can work it. The needles will never break as they will on other machines. I will warrant to keep it in order for a year, for 25 cts. It will also work by the turning of the wheel either forward or backward—so that it is not liable to get out of order.

It is also small in size—not over 5 by 10 inches; can be worked with or without a table. In fact, IT IS THE VERY BEST MACHINE that has yet been invented, and it only wants to be seen to be appreciated.

Call and see it, and I will satisfy you of what I have here advertised.

A person can learn all about it and how to run it in 10 minutes. mch 31

Blood's Seedling Grape Vines, For Sale.

TWO varieties of Blood's Seedling GRAPE Vines, which have been tested by the subscriber for 13 years, and found superior to any other cultivated in the open air in this part of the country. This Grape is larger than the Isabella, and ripens in our climate about 5 weeks earlier. For several successive years it has been fully ripe the first week in September, and thus has escaped the early frosts which have in some seasons, cut off the Isabel's and other varieties.

AS A SPRING MEDICINE

MYERS' EXTRACT ROCK ROSE is invaluable. It changes foul vitiated humors, opens the pores of the skin, promotes insensible perspiration, thereby purifying the blood and invigorating the system. A free use of this medicine, in the spring months, will not only cure all diseases caused by impurities of the blood, but will beget a healthy action and prepare the system to resist the attacks of fevers, derangement of the bowels, &c, so prevalent in the summer season.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

The only place in Portsmouth where a fine Mellotype (taken on Glass and by the aid of heat brought in the glass,) can be procured, is at SALEN'S DAGUERREAN GALLERY, CONGRESS BLOCK.

Melainotypes, beautifully colored, (imitation of Ivory Painting,) taken in superior style, on light or dark ground.

Photographs, Ambrographs, Oilographs, plain and splendidly finished in oil, any size up to Life Size, from $8 to $35.

Pictures taken on Patent Leather, Enamelled Cloth and Brittol Board for sending in letters, or to put in Hats, Caps, Porte-Monnaies, Albums, &c., very cheap.

Please call at Salen's Daguerrean Gallery, Congress Block, only one flight of stairs.

N. B.—Any size of picture taken from a small likeness of a Deceased Friend. m 6

☞ The only place in this city where an Ambrotype can be obtained, is at Davis' Ambrotype Gallery, No. 8 Daniel Street, as they have the Patent, and all infringements will be prosecuted. sept9

☞ Notwithstanding the statements of competitor NEIGHBORS to the contrary, Gregory continues to make the MOST DURABLE Ambrotypes, Melainotypes, Photographs, and all other kinds of pictures that are worth making, at his OLD STAND, No. 33 Congress street, where he is ever happy to FIX the smiling faces of his friends and patrons.

AUCTION.

We have received this day a large lot of WHITE LINENS,

☞ Reader, do you want THE picture of the day? If so, have one of Gregory's Photographs in Oil Colors, which he is selling at about half the Boston and New York prices.

HOW TRUE IT IS!

There are a couple of old proverbs that it would be well for us all to keep in mind. One is, "a stitch in time saves nine;" and another, "an ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure." We all, in theory, acknowledge the truth of these proverbs, yet the practice of the most of us gives them the lie. Myers' Extract of Rock Rose, as a preventative of all those diseases arising from impure blood and viscid humors, is acknowledged to be superior to anything in Materia Medica. It purifies the blood, strengthens the digestive organs and invigorates the constitution.

BUY AND TRY IT!!

SMITH'S CURATIVE CLEANSING COMPOUND which has been sold extensively in Portsmouth and vicinity, for a few weeks past, by the proprietor, for the cure of pains, &c., may be had of Wm. E. A CARD TO THE LADIES.

DR. DUPONCO'S
French Periodical Golden Pills,
FOR FEMALES;

Infallible in Removing Stoppages or Irregularity of the Menses.

THESE Pills are nothing new, but have been used by the Doctor for many years, both in France and America, with unparalled success in every case; and he is urged by many thousand ladies who have used them to make the Pills public, for the alleviation of those suffering from any irregularities whatever, as well as to prevent pregnancy in those ladies whose health will not permit an increase of family. Pregnant females, or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using these Pills while pregnant, as the proprietor assumes no responsibility after the above admonition, although their mildness would prevent any mischief to health; otherwise these Pills are recommended. Full and explicit directions accompany each box.

Price $1. Sold in Portsmouth by JOSEPH H. THAYER, 31 Dover by Chas. A. Tufts, in Exeter by C. A. Merrill, and in Boston market by J. A. Prendergast. They will supply dealers at the Proprietor's prices, and also send the Pills to the Ladies (confidentially) by mail to any part of the city or country, on receipt of $1 through the Post Office.

☞ B.—Ladies will be particular in asking for Dr. Duponco's Golden Pills. Observe the signature J. Duponco is upon each box. You will then obtain a Pill you can rely upon.

The Great English Remedy.
SIR JAMES CLARKE'S
Celebrated Female Pills.

Prepared from a prescription of Sir Jas. Clarke M.D., Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

THIS Invaluable Medicine is unfailing in the cure of all those painful and dangerous disorders to which the female constitution is subject. It moderates all excess, removes all obstructions, and a speedy cure may be relied on.

TO MARRIED LADIES

it is peculiarly suited. It will, in a short time, bring on the monthly period with regularity.

Each bottle, Price One Dollar, bears the Government Stamp of Great Britain, to prevent counterfeits.

CAUTION.

These Pills should not be taken by females that are pregnant, during the FIRST THREE MONTHS, as they are sure to bring on Miscarriage, but at every other time and in every other case they are perfectly safe.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics, and Whites, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed, and although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or any thing hurtful to the constitution.

Full directions accompany each package.

LOCAL.

☞ We chronicle under the appropriate head, this morning, the marriage of our old friend and brother editor, Edward N. Fuller, Esq., formerly publisher of the New Hampshire Gazette in this city, but now publishing a Daily Journal in Newark, New Jersey. The interesting ceremony took place at the residence of His Honor Mayor Morrison; and was attended only by a few of the most intimate friends of the parties. The morning was bright and beautiful, as it made for the occasion. May it prove auspicious of all the days of the happy couple.

It was a cheerful though solemn occasion—for while one home loses a loved daughter, she goes to share Fuller joys, and make glad another home.

In the excitement of the occasion, it was not definitely noted, which of the young gentlemen "put the right foot forward" at the critical moment; but "Current Report, Esq.," who was there, says he is sure it was a certain ex-President of the "Mercantile"—not the "desirable" young gentleman who at present honors that office, but his original illustrious predecessor—who having grown gray, has retired from official duties.

Prayer Meeting in the vestry of the Methodist Church, this evening, beginning at 7 1-2 o'clock.

Prayer Meeting at the Freewill Baptist Church this evening.

☞ Rev. Henry D. Moore of Portland, now in this city on a visit, is to preach at the Middle street church on Sunday, at the usual hours, day and evening.

PISCATAQUA, ENGINE CO. No. 4.—At the annual meeting on the 12th inst., the following officers were chosen:—Henry Danielson, Foreman; Charles Shannon, Assistant Foreman; Joseph Moulton, Clerk.

ANOTHER VICTIM.—In Newburyport, on Sunday night, a man was found stretched upon the sidewalk, wholly insensible. He complained of his head and stomach.—Bruises were visible upon his chest, as also about one eye. On Tuesday morning he died, and an inquest was held. It was stated in evidence, by a companion who was with him on Sunday night, that they called at the Franklin House and drank some gin, and started for the north part of the city, but called at a house kept by an Irish woman named Harrigan, for more gin, as they went along. At this house the witness remarked that the gin was of so poor a quality that he could not drink it; but the deceased poured out a tumbler full, which was nearly a half pint, and drank it. After drinking, being much intoxicated, he was led to the door of his house in the Alexander block, and left. The bruises, the witness supposed, were either caused by falling down stairs or by coming in contact with some post, which together with the exposure was the cause of his death. The verdict of the jury was in accordance with these facts. The name of the deceased was Maurice Broderick. He was 21 years of age, a strong, athletic, peaceable and industrious man, and but for rum drinking might now be alive and well.

We hope this case of accidental death, or rum death, or violent murder, whichever it may be, will awaken this community to a sense of their duty and danger. Here is a young man in the strength of his days murdered. We don't care particularly whether the gin killed him, the running against a post, (which is imaginary,) or some person with him—it was murder in either case. We permit the sale of mixtures of drugs and poisons, in unnumbered and unlicensed houses—that taken into the stomach are sure to produce sickness, insanity and death. Let those who think these liquids see here what are the effects. No man puts a glass of this stuff to his mouth, but trifles with his reason and his life and may in the next hour die from the poison he takes, or in the temporary madness it begets, hurry others to the grave.—The time was when spirituous liquors could be used with comparative impunity. Men grew old in the constant—hourly habit of drinking grog; but that day has gone by. The cup now contains poison and ruin, and the person who drinks it is worse than a madman, and should be put into a straight jacket to be kept from suicide. And if it is death to drink it, what crime is it to sell the "rot gut" of these low groggeries? Where are the police and the city authorities, that they allow so many sinks of pollution and vice, that stand open day and night for their maddened victims?—Herald.

WHOLESALE CLOTHING HOUSE.

TAKING advantage of the large Manufacturers' Auction Sales of

CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, FANCY DOESKINS, AND SATINETS,

which the necessities of the times have forced upon the Boston and New York markets, we have supplied ourselves from these and other sources, at low prices, with an unusually large and varied STOCK OF

Ready-Made Clothing,

particularly adapted to the wants of the New England Trade. Our importations of

Gentlemen's Furnishing Goods

have been large and varied; and the Trade may be assured of finding with us a stock not to be excelled, either in variety, style or extent, by any other in this market.

Our terms, either for cash or approved credit, shall be of the most liberal character; and we invite the attention of traders to an examination of our goods before concluding their purchases.

Wolfe's Celebrated Schiedam Aromatic SCHNAPPS.

This medicinal beverage is manufactured by the proprietor, at Schiedam, Holland, expressly for medicinal use, by a process peculiar to his own Factory. It is the pure Tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, whose more vinous extract is distilled and rectified with its spirituous solvent, which thus becomes a concentrated tincture of exquisite flavor and aroma, altogether, transcendant in its cordial and medicinal properties to any alcoholic stimulant now made in the world. It is now prescribed by more than 5,000 physicians in the United States, in cases of Gravel, Gout, Dropsy, and Bladder and Kidney Complaints.

Put up in Quart and Pint Bottles, in cases of one dozen qts., and cases of two dozen pts., and for sale by all Druggists and Country Merchants.

IMMORTELLES.

THE WORLD IS TOO MUCH WITH US.

The world is too much with us; late and soon,
Getting and spending, we lay waste our powers;
Little we see in nature that is ours;
We have given our hearts away, a sordid boon!
This sea that bares her bosom to the moon,
The winds that will be howling at all hours,
And are up-gathered now like sleeping flowers;
For this, for everything, we are out of tune;
It moves us not. Great God! I'd rather be
A pagan suckled in a creed outworn;
So might I, standing on this pleasant lea,
Have glimpses that would make me less forlorn;
Have sight of Proteus coming from the sea;
Or hear old Triton blow his wreathed horn.
—[Wordsworth.

TO A BUTTERFLY.

Child of the Sun! pursue thy rapturous flight,
Mingling with her thou love'st in fields of light;
And, where the flowers of paradise unfold,
Quaff fragrant from their cups of gold.
There shall thy wings, rich as an evening sky,
Expand and shut with silent ecstacy!
Yet where thou once a worm, a thing that crept
On the bare earth, there wrought a tomb and slept
—And such is man; soon from his cell of clay
To burst a seraph in the blaze of day.—[Rogers.

NAMES.

There is more force in names
Than most men dream of; and a life may keep
Its course a whole age longer, if it skulk
Behind the shield of some fair seeming name.

JUDGMENT.

Robes and furred gowns hide all. Plate sin with gold,
And the strong lance of justice hurtless breaks;
Arm it in rags, a pygmy's straw doth pierce it.
—[Shakspeare.

The following remedies are offered to the public as the best, most perfect, which medical science can afford. Dr. AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS have been prepared with the utmost skill which the medical profession of this age possesses, and their effects show they have virtues which surpass any combination of medicines hitherto known. Other preparations do more or less good; but this cures such dangerous complaints, so quick and so surely, as to prove an efficacy and a power to control disease beyond any thing which men have known before. By removing the obstructions of the internal organs and stimulating them into healthy action, they renovate the fountains of life and vigor,—health courses anew through the body, and the sick man is well again. They are adapted to disease, and disease only, for when taken by one in health they produce but little effect. This is the perfection of medicine. It acts suitably to disease, and no more. Tender children may take them with impunity. If they are sick they will cure them, if they are well they will do them no harm.

Give them to some patient who has been prostrated with bilious complaint: see his bent-up, tottering form straighten with strength again; see his long-lost appetite return; see his clammy features blossom into health. Give them to some sufferer whose foul blood has burst out in scrofula till his skin is covered with sores; who stands, or sits, or lies in anguish. He has been drenched inside and out with every potion which humanity could suggest. Give him these PILLS, and mark the effect; see the scales fall from his body; see the new, fair skin that has grown under them; see the late leper that is clean. Give them to him whose angry humors have planted a hundred tortures in his joints and bones; move him, and he screeches with pain; he too has been soaked through every muscle of his body with liniments and salves; give him these PILLS to purify his blood; they may not cure him, for, alas! there are some ills which no mortal power can reach; but mark, he walks with crutches now, and now he walks alone; they have cured him. Give them to the lean, sour, haggard dyspeptic, whose gnawing stomach has long ago eaten every smile from his face and every muscle from his body. See his appetite return, and with it his health, see the new man. See her that was radiant with health and loveliness blasted and too early withering away, a victim of exercise of mental anguish, or some lurking disease, has deranged the internal organs of digestion, assimilation or secretion, till her do their office ill. Her blood is vitiated, her health is gone. Give her these PILLS to stimulate the vital principle into renewed vigor, to cast out the obstructions, and infuse a new vitality into the blood. Now look again—the sallow face is fair, her cheek, and where lately sorrow sat joy bursts from every feature. See the sweet infant wasted with worms. Its wan, sickly features tell you without disguise, and painfully distinct, that they are eating its life away. Its pinched cheek, its fever eye, and restless sleepings, tell the dreadful truth in language which every mother knows. Give it the PILLS in large doses to sweep these vile parasites from the body. Worm again and see the ruddy bloom of childhood. Is it nothing to do these things? Nay, are they not the marvel of this age? And yet they are done around you every day.

Have you the less serious symptoms of these distempers, they are the easier cured. Jaundice, Costiveness, Headache, Sick Headache, Heartburn, Foul Stomach, Nausea, Pain in the Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, King's Evil, Neuralgia, Gout, and kindred complaints all arise from the derangements which these PILLS rapidly cure. Take them perseveringly, and under the counsel of a good Physician if you can; if not, take them judiciously by such advice as we give you, and the distressing, dangerous diseases they cure, which afflict so many millions of the human race, are cast out like the devils of old—they shall harrow in the brutes and in the sea. Price 25 cents per box, five boxes for $1.

Through a trial of many years and through every nation of civilized men, AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has been found to afford more relief and to cure more cases of pulmonary disease than any other remedy known to mankind. Many apparently settled consumption have been cured by it, and thousands of sufferers who were deemed beyond the reach of human aid have been restored to their friends and usefulness, to send health and the enjoyments of life, by this powerful antidote to diseases of the lungs and throat. Have a cold but settled on the lungs. The dry, hacking cough, the glassy eye, and the pale, thin features of him who was lately ruddy and strong, whisper to all but him that CONSUMPTION. He knows nothing; but the disease is gnawing at the vitals, and where the fatal symptoms move and move over all his frame. He is taking the CHERRY PECTORAL now; it has stopped his cough and made his breathing easy; his sleep is sound and refreshing, his appetite returns, and with it his strength. The day-mark is on his side is broken. Scarcely any neighborhood can be found which has not some living trophy like this to shadow forth the virtues which have won for the CHERRY PECTORAL an enviable renown. But its usefulness does not end here. Not, it accomplishes more by prevention than cure. The countless colds and coughs which it cures are the seed which would have ripened into a dreadful harvest of incurable diseases. Influenza, Croup, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Pleurisy, Whooping Cough, and all irritations of the throat and lungs are easily cured by the CHERRY PECTORAL if taken in season. Every family should have it by them, and they will find it an invaluable protection from the insidious power which carries off the parent sheep from many a flock, the darling lamb from many a home.

Authenticated evidence of these facts, with directions for the treatment of each complaint, may be found in AYER'S American Almanac, of which we publish three millions, and scatter them broadcast over the earth, in order that the sick every where may have before them the information it contains. Druggists and dealers in medicine generally have them for distribution gratis, and also for sale these remedies, prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer, Practical and Analytical Chemist, Lowell, Mass.

THE RESTORATIVE OF Prof. O. J. WOOD for restoring hair perfectly and permanently, has never yet had a rival. Volume after volume might be given from all parts of the world and from the most intelligent to prove that it is a perfect Restorative; but read the circular and you cannot doubt; read also the following.

THE HAIR.—People have for centuries been afflicted with bald heads, and the only remedy, heretofore, has been those abominable wigs. By a recent discovery of Professor Wood those articles are being just dispensed with, but a great many persons still patronize them, because they have been so often deceived by Hair Dyes, Tonics of different kinds. To all such persons we earnestly make the request that they will try once again, for the Wood Restorative there is no such thing as fail. We know of a lady who was bald, who used the article a short time, and her head is covered now with the finest and most beautiful curls imaginable. We know of numerous cases where hair was rapidly falling out, which it restored in greater perfection than it ever had been before.

It is also without doubt one of the best articles for keeping the hair in good condition, making it soft and glossy, removing dandruff, and has proved itself the greatest enemy to all the ills that hair is heir to.

It is the duty of every one to improve their personal appearance though some may differ in regard to the ways of doing it; but every one will admit that a beautiful head of hair, either in man or woman, is an object much to be desired, and there are no means that should be left untried to obtain such a consideration.—Woman's Advocate, Philadelphia.

COCHECTON, Ohio, Nov. 17, 1856.

O. J. Wood & Co.—Gents: As I have been engaged in selling your Hair Restorative the last season for one of your agents (R. M. Hackleton,) and having experienced the beneficial effects of it myself, I would like to obtain an agency for the State of Ohio or some other state in the west, should you wish to make such an arrangement, as I am convinced there is nothing equal to it in the United States, for restoring the hair. I have been engaged in the Drug business for several years, and have sold various preparations for the hair, but have found nothing that restores the secretive organs or invigorates the scalp as well as yours, being convinced that your restorative is what you represent it to be, I would like to engage in the sale of it, for I am satisfied it must sell.

Yours truly, S. T. STOCKMAN.

WAYLAND, Mass., Feb. 5, 1857.

PROF. O. J. WOOD & Co.—Gents: Having realized the good effects of your Hair Restorative, I think it safe to state that finding my hair growing thin, as well as gray, I was induced from what I read and heard to try the article prepared by you, to promote its growth and change its color as it was in youth, both of which it has effected completely. In the operation I have used nearly 3 bottles.

Yours &c., JAMES FRENCH.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Managers would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten will draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers or mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $70,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia.

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. m15ly

CAUTION NOTICE.

PERSONS living at a distance should be extremely cautious of whom they order Lottery tickets or Certificates of Packages of Tickets—The country is flooded with bogus and swindling Lotteries. Every inducement is held out to get persons to invest money in them. Capital Prizes of from $20,000 to $40,000 are drawn in schemes with tickets at One Dollar. $100,000 capital prizes are offered, tickets $5. All such, in every instance, are frauds; and it is sent with them for tickets, it is so much thrown away without the shadow of a chance of getting a prize. Beware of the draw poker where the Capital Prize is unusually large in comparison to the price of tickets—in every instance where large prizes are offered for a small cost of tickets, put it down as a certain fraud.

The Kentucky State Lottery for the benefit of the Shelby College, under our management, is the only one in the United States which is legally decided by the Maryland Court of Appeals. All other Lotteries which purport to be decided by the Maryland Courts are frauds.

THE MARYLAND STATE LOTTERIES.

Purchase in the Maryland State Lotteries, then you are sure of being right. And in ordering in the Maryland State Lotteries, you are sure of fair and honest drawings.

One thing look to, and that is, if you order from any recognized vendor in Baltimore, do not receive any but Manager's Tickets and Managers' Certificates have the numbers printed and have the lithographic signature of R. FRANCE & Co.

No one has a right to send his individual certificates. If he does it, be sure there is a fraud at the bottom of it.

A PROCLAMATION

TO THE LADIES.

WHEREAS, it appears that the days of right, honor, and integrity are last fading away, and WHEREAS, the unscrupulous are exceeding, are daily taking advantage of the profound and learned. BE IT KNOWN THEREFORE, to all, whether MAIDS, WIVES, OR WIDOWS, that MAN'S FEMALE PILLS are ALONE the certain panacea for the troubles incident to female disorganization, they alone correcting all painful menstruation, assuging palpitation of the heart, disturbed sleep, pain in the side, and causing beauty, happiness to whole sex; more especially to the married portion, as they are certain to bring on the monthly period with regularity—AND WHEREAS, these PILLS are purely vegetable and entirely free from mineral, therefore perfectly harmless in their operations and entirely unlike other medicines thrust upon the public, purported to be of the same subjects, already devulged. THEREFORE, be it known, that genuine MAN'S FEMALE PILLS or DR. CHEESEMAN will accomplish the desired effect, when DISAPPOINTMENT has been experienced under the name of THESE PILLS; and the Ladies will cause this Proclamation to spread amongst them, to their own everlasting benefit—always promising that said Proclamation in one case must be considered as a law, that is to say the PILLS OUGHT NOT be taken when any female is in an INTERESTING SITUATION, otherwise a MISCARRIAGE will be the inevitable result.

Explicit directions, to be carefully read, accompany each box. Price $1. Sent by mail on enclosing $1 to DR. CORNELIUS L. CHEESEMAN, Box No. 4,531, Post Office, New York City. Sold by Druggists in every town in the United States.

S. D. & H. W. Smith,

—MANUFACTURERS OF—

Melodeons, Organ Melodeons,

—and—

PEDAL BASS MELODEONS.

No. 511 Washington St., Boston.

The first premium over all competitors, at the Fair of the Mass Charitable Mechanic Association, of the National Fair, Washington, D. C., also at the Ohio State Fair, held at Columbus, Ohio, was awarded to these Manufacturers.

By means of a new method of Voicing, known only to themselves, they have succeeded in removing the harsh and buzzing sound which formerly characterized the instrument, and rendering the tones full, clear and organ like. The action is prompt and reliable, enabling the performer to execute the most rapid music without blurring he tones. The swell is arranged to give great expression.

THE PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

Are designed particularly for Churches, Lodges, Halls, &c. It is arranged with two manuals, or banks of Keys, the lower set sounding an octave higher than the other, and may be used separately, and thus get in one case two distinct instruments; or one of the coupler, the two banks of keys may be played at the same time by use of the front set only. This connection with the Keys alone, will produce the effect of a large organ, and is sufficiently heavy to fill a house that seats from 1000 to 1500 persons.

THE ORGAN MELODEON

is designed for parlor and private use. The construction is similar to the Church instrument, being arranged with two banks of Keys, and when used together, by means of the coupler, is capable of as great volume of power as the Church Instrument when used without the pedals. Also, every variety of MELODEONS for Parlor use.

Purchasers may rely upon instruments from our Manufactory, being made in the most complete and thorough manner. Having removed to the spacious Buildings

511 Washington Street,

We have every facility for manufacturing purposes, and employ the best of labor, but also the most experienced and skilful workmen. In short we will promise our customers an instrument equal, if not superior, to any Manufacturer, and guarantee an entire and perfect satisfaction.

Music Teachers, Leaders of Choirs, and others interested in musical matters, are respectfully invited to visit our Manufactory without the expense or test the instruments on exhibition for sale at their pleasure.

We still further guarantee to the public as to the excellence of the MELODEONS, from our Manufactory, we beg leave to refer, by permission, to the following

Piano Forte Manufacturers of Boston, who have examined our Melodeons, and will give their opinion when called upon.

Chickering & Sons, Hallett & Cumston,
T. Gilbert & Co., Mason & Hamlin,
Brown & Allen, A. M. Emerson,
George Hewes, Woodward & Brown,
Newhall & Co.

MELODEONS RENTED.

Persons who wish to hire Melodeons with a view of purchasing at the end of the year, can have the rent credited as part payment of the purchase money. Rent is reckoned by the quarter of a year, and enables those who desire a fair test of the instruments before purchasing, to obtain it at the same of the manufacturers, to the extent at least of a quarter.

Orders from any part of the country or world, sent direct to the manufactory in Boston, with cash, or satisfactory reference, will be promptly attended to, and as faithfully executed as if the parties were present, or employed an agent to select, and on as reasonable terms.

THE DEAD LETTER.

BY E. W. DEWEES.

Concluded from yesterday.

At all events, I thought I had never seen Susan so interesting (or interesting at all for that matter), as she appeared to me one evening when, having walked up street with her husband, I stepped in with him, in a social way, without announcement.

She was sitting in the corner of a large sofa, beside a cosy wood fire, which cast a warm glow on her bright cheek. Her children, three or four, I don't know which, were climbing about her,—some behind her on the sofa, some on her lap, and some at her feet. The unfortunate idea of a kangaroo with its young was just suggesting itself to my uneducated bachelor fancy, when I heard the enraptured Plainsail murmuring something about Madonna and cherubs, and I instantly, with a facility for which I cannot but give myself credit, substituted that comparison for my own.

Susan started up at sight of her husband, and shoving the children right and left, very unceremoniously, greeted him heartily; then having apologized to me with a not unbecoming blush for the disarrangement of her hair, which one of the children had "pulled down," as she said, she withdrew to rearrange it I suppose.

On her reappearance in a dainty little cap, which gave her a pretty, matronly air, her husband drew from his pocket a soiled and crumpled letter, crowded with post-marks and written directions, saying,

"There, Susan, is a letter which has been seeking you this many a year, if one may judge by its appearance; an old friend of mind rescued it from the dead letter office just as it was about to be burned."

Susan took the letter, and turned it over in her hand. Its original post-mark appeared to be from on board the ship——, which sailed from New York on a long cruise some five years ago. It was directed simply to Miss Susan Morley, without other address or direction. Apparently the writer had supposed all the world must know that the illustrious lady in question lived in Philadelphia. But post-office people being proverbially stupid, had been at fault as usual, and the epistle, after many trips and counter trips, had only found its distinguished owner by the merest chance, after five years of journey and waiting.

Having opened and read this long delayed letter, Susan burst into a laugh, remarking,

"It is not often a woman receives an offer five years after marriage." Having said this, she burst into tears, and having thus some as near to hysterics as a sensible woman ever does, she threw the letter to her husband.

Plainsail, and I, by invitation, looking over his shoulder, read as follows:

"MY ANGEL—Your sweet note struck me like a four-pounder. What the mischief does old Plainsail mean by cutting in before me? Cut him dead, my little jewel, and I'll marry you as sure as my name's Fred Hartman, as soon as I get back from this cursed cruise. I got my orders before I got your sweet note, my charmer, which I've had not time to answer till now, for I had to be on p. h. like a shot from Philadelphia, to be in time for the ship.

"Au revoir, my angel; believe me your adoring lover and future husband,

FRED H.

"Throw old Plainsail overboard at once."

The personage mentioned thus unceremoniously, having finished the epistle, began to pace up and down the room in a perturbed manner, casting troubled glances from time to time at his wife, who had again returned to her corner of the sofa, and was vehemently kissing and caressing her youngest child. The good fellow was manifestly perplexed and troubled. At last he paused opposite his wife, and demanded in his plain, awkward way,

"I say, Susan, what does this mean?"

"What, John," (innocently and sensibly:) "surely you know Fred Hartman was an old lover of mine."

"Yes, I know," admitted Plainsail, but he resumed his discontented walk.

After a time, pause number two.

"But, Susan, what does it mean?"

"What, John? That letter should have come five years ago."

"Yes, I know."

Walk number three — pause number three.

"But, Susan, that is not what I want to know. What did you mean by crying just now? and how would things have been, if that letter had arrived in proper time?"

"Come, John," said Susan, laughing, "I don't think it's worth your while to be jealous of a dead man—for I saw by the papers that poor Fred died of intemperance six months ago. But I'll be candid with you, John, as I always have been, you know. If that letter had come in time I would not have been your wife; but if you want to know what made me cry, I will tell you that it was from nervous dread and joy, to think what misery I escaped, and what happiness I gained, all from the miscarriage of a letter. Oh, John, not to have a million a minute, and found, for the rest of my life, would I have had that letter come in time!" (Practical still—the reader perceives.)

As Susan finished this somewhat long speech, her hand was stretched out to her husband, and her brimming eyes raised, with an expression of sincerity it was impossible to doubt, to his face.

Plainsail was enraptured, and instantly made a suitable connubial recognition of his wife's satisfactory explanation—a liberty in my presence, which I resented, but pardoned, after a short, but sharp, inward Christian struggle.

Indeed, I must confess, though I am not fond of sweet, domestic scenes myself, (since, being an old bachelor, they rather grate on my feelings) that Susan with her sleeping babe on her lap, and her face all alight with affection, did appear to more advantage than I ever expected to see her.

The tender scene I have described was followed by a short, confidential whisper from Mrs Plainsail to her husband. The latter immediately sprung up from the sofa with a lively air, and rang the bell briskly.

The servant appeared.

"Jim!" cried his master, "go to the corner and bring us a hundred of the best oysters—and, Jim, bring us anything else nice there is in the house!"

The oysters appeared in good time, and were excellent, as I can testify, for I was easily prevailed on to stay and help this sensible couple to celebrate in this sensible manner the arrival, or rather the miscarriage of the (at first) dangerous dead letter.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston,
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions, and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantage for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS the best PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These render his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skillful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
From the present Commissioner.
AUGUST 17, 1856.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the duties, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

Coggswell's Medical Salt,
A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE
FOR THE
LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.
INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—has but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING; to wit: SUDDEN INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form, or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is controlled, by the simply its fire is extinguished by water. Is it asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a pail dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.

THE DEAD.

BY ALBERT LAIGHTON.

I cannot tell you if the dead,
That loved us fondly when on earth,
Walk by our side, sit at our hearth,
By ties of old affection led;

Or, looking earnestly within,
Know all our joys, hear all our sighs,
And watch us with their holy eyes
Where'er we tread the paths of sin;

Or if, with mystic lore and sign,
They speak to us, or press our hand,
And strive to make us understand
The nearness of their forms divine.

But this we know,—in many dreams
They come to us from realms afar,
And leave the golden gates ajar,
Through which immortal glory streams.

CITY COUNCIL.

In BOARD OF ALDERMEN, on Thursday evening, a remonstrance was received against the right of the three Aldermen from Ward 1 to seats at the Board, they not having received a majority of the votes cast at the annual election. GAS MADE TO HAND.—Look into Messrs. Allen & Paine's store for a cheap and elegant arrangement, by which every one can have gas of his own manufacture, where it is not convenient to introduce the pipes. The flame is a regular bet-wing. The expense is from five to seven mills per hour. Go and see it.

A site for a new post office in Boston, has been selected, at the corner of Summer and Channcey streets. The erection of a building is to be forthwith commenced, unless it should be stopped thro' the influence of the merchants who are opposed to taking it so far from their accustomed resorts of business.

A correspondent of the Boston Courier writing from Washington, gives an account of the death of one of the Pawnee Indian delegation—Tuck-a-lin-tah, a brave of twenty-five years only. The thought of dying away from the graves of his fathers and the bosom of his family was a cause of much unhappiness—to his three squaws, all sisters, he sent affectionate parting messages. A rich mahogany coffin was profusely decorated with flowers, and the dead brave was laid in state for several hours previous to the funeral. Tuck-a-lin-tah's companions were deeply affected, while the party of Sioux, were comparatively unmoved.

There are forty-one Indians now at the Capitol, twenty-six Sioux and fifteen remaining of the Pawnees. All these, arrayed in their best garbs, in carriages provided for the occasion, followed the remains of their red brother to the Congressional Burying Ground. In addition to the usual ceremonies by a Presbyterian clergyman, a funeral oration was delivered at the grave by a venerable Pawnee chief. The Government made suitable provision for medical and other attention for this poor son of the forest, while sick, and honored him, as well as itself, by accompanying his funeral with marks of particular respect. His arms and buffalo robe were buried with him.

A TELEGRAPH TO UTAH.—The Committee on Military Affairs in the Senate, to whom was referred the memorial of Henry O'Reilly and others, proposing to establish a telegraphic communication between the Army of Utah and the War Department, have reported in favor of the measure.

The memorialists propose to connect Washington with the army of Utah in one hundred days from the time the ground is broken.

CHURCHES IN KANSAS.—A Leavenworth correspondent of the Boston Traveller mentions the progress of the churches in that place as follows' Rev. G. D. Henderson, who is spoken of, is the eldest son of Mr. George Henderson of this city.—

CRIMINAL PRACTICE.—The Traveller contains a letter from Concord, giving a detailed account of the manner of detecting McNulty, as the murderer of Hodsdon. We copy an item or two.

He (McNulty) had with him in his employ, while stealthily creeping about the cities of Portsmouth, Portland and Dover, committing crimes, visiting gambling and drinking saloons, a youth by the name of Benson, whose parents live in Charlestown. This boy was ever kept on the look-out to give alarm to McNulty if signs of detective police were about while he was in-doors, the boy being kept in the streets to watch movements.

While we tolerate such places, and keep our small, poorly paid police, we shall be sure to harbor such rascals.

The writer says, speaking of the State Prison:

There were five prisoners committed with McNulty, all of whom were implicated with him in crimes at Dover, one of whom had just escaped out of a window in Providence or Hartford, in the court-room, up stairs, just as the Judge closed his sentence upon him. McNulty and one of his companions freed themselves of their irons when they arrived in Concord, on their way to prison, and ran quite a distance, and came very near effecting their escape. The five plead guilty at Dover upon their last offence, and the Court sentenced them upon but one of their four offences, not trying them, as the counsel for the prisoners made the arrangement for their pleading guilty upon one indictment. McNulty was sentenced for three years, and young Benson for one year.

Is it the duty of a lawyer in defending criminals, to advise them so as to keep clear of deserved punishment for known crimes? If so, he must be the slave of some demon, not a servant of God.

We have supposed it was his duty to see that no right of the accused was trampled upon or disregarded—but we never could see why the lawyer should make a criminal of himself by partaking of the crimes of such fellows as M'Nulty and his gang.

If there be usage in favor of such dirty practice,—it is high time to reform it. If there be, (as we don't believe,) a majority of public opinion for it,—this opinion ought to be changed.

It may be, however, that both the Counsel and the Court used only a wise discretion in these cases. It is often best, in a trial, not to attempt too much.

It does seem, however, that when four bills each, have been found against a band of five robbers they ought to be tried on more than one, while the witnesses are alive, and before they forget all about the matter, or become scattered to the ends of the earth. Sentence might be suspended on a part of them.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

In the Senate, Mr. Houston gave notice that on Monday he would move that the Senate take up his resolution in relation to a protectorate over Mexico.

The diplomatic and consular appropriation bill was then taken up and passed.

The Pacific Railroad bill was then taken up, debated, and postponed till Friday.

The Clerk of the House notified the Senate of the appointment of Messrs. English, Stephens and Howard as the committee of conference of that branch on the Kansas bill.

Dispatches of the 16th say:

Mr. Toombs has nearly completed his bankrupt bill, and Mr. Ward of the House has one nearly matured. The Senate Committee on Commerce have decided that it is inexpedient to prosecute the river and harbor improvements with borrowed money.

The Conference Committee of the two Houses held an informal meeting last evening to exchange views. They adjourned to 11 o'clock this (Thursday) A. M. Mr. English declares that he will consent to nothing short of a submission of the Lecompton Constitution to a fair vote of the people. A final disagreement of the Committee is regarded as nearly certain.

FROM EUROPE.—Sandy Hook, April 16, 10 A. M.—The British steamship Africa, from Liverpool 3d inst., has just arrived off this point. Her dates are three days later than those already received.

Cotton, lower qualities, declined another 8th of a penny. Breadstuffs a shade lower.

The Atlantic Cable was being taken on the Niagara and Agamemnon rapidly, and was expected to be all shipped by the 10th of May. Some deep sea experiments are to be made before the final attempt.

Fears are expressed for the safety of the African mail steamer Cambria, nearly a month overdue in England.

A vessel had arrived at Liverpool, with the first cargo of produce from the river Niger.

It was rumored in England that the Leviathan is for sale in its present incomplete state.

THE SPIRITS.

Messrs. Editors:—I noticed another puerile attack upon Spiritualism, in your columns, Thursday,—abounding in confident assertions of what Spiritualists believe, and what the Bible does not teach,—showing that the writer knows nothing of the first, and had better have been studying the latter, as with a slight acquaintance he might not feel qualified to speak quite so confidently. He asks, "can mortal man call the spirits of the dead, and will they come to earth at his bidding?" But how will he settle the question? The very fact that a man wishes to testify in the affirmative, no matter how much he may have seen and how credible in any other statement he might make, is evidence that he is insane or an impostor—and he is at once ruled out. Once a thing was established by the mouth of two or three witnesses—now as many millions are not sufficient.

But he goes further than this, and says if the thing is done, it is only evidence of jugglery. Like the Irishman who, arguing a point from principle, said a thing could not be so, and was reminded that the facts proved it; "So much the worse for the facts," was the prompt reply. Let the same principle be carried into life, and we cannot prove that the sun shines, or our own existence. Supposing I could not walk, and asserted that others did not and could not—how could "Investigator" prove they do? By walking, of course.—But I should reply that that was only jugglery, and the very assumption that he could do such a thing, was evidence of imposture.

If he can find no law or useful purpose for which the spirits could be permitted to remain near the earth, will he tell us by what law they are transported beyond the sun or fixed stars and confined there? Of course he never would have thought of such an absurd or "fanciful idea," without proof more definite than seeing. Will he please point out what passage in the Bible sanctions his view. The Jews believed they were confined in the centre of the earth, and as all God "ever designed to communicate to man," was given to them, why does not he accept it? He was evidently never in a spiritual circle, or thinks his readers never were, and is practicing on their credulity, when he says the mediums call the spirits by the raps! Now in my investigations, I have never found the medium that professed to have the slightest control over the spirits. If you go to them, and if your friends wish to communicate with you, they will do so if possible; if not, no effort of the medium can induce or compel them to. The mediums do not translate the raps, but it is necessary to have some system so that you can tell yes from no; and if not satisfied with the medium's arrangement, any enquirer can arrange with the spirits to suit himself.

One more question—will "Investigator" tell us the difference, in principle, between the medium who takes money for holding spiritual circles, and the minister who takes it for preaching? and the reason why one should be denounced as a "money-seeker," and the other complimented?—Mediums are chosen from church members and even ministers, as well as those that are not; but did it ever occur to "Investigator," what an egregious mistake was made by One in olden time, in choosing publicans and sinners for his companions and disciples, instead of the pious and devoted Scribes and Pharisees, who so zealously guarded and warned the people against a certain deceiver—who, possessed of a devil, was going about claiming to be the Son of God?

From his apparent ignorance of the most simple facts connected with the matter, we should think he would be a poor judge whether the spirits communicated anything of value or not. For ourselves, we have found much that is of profit both for reflection and practice, not only with regard to the future but the present, and have seldom known the spirits to seize upon "tables and fiddles" when those were not softer than the skepticism of those present. How do embodied spirits use the organs of speech, and do spirits have no mode of communicating with each other? If the very pretension of miraculous power or gift, is evidence of imposture or depravity, certainly the proof against those of olden time is as great as against those of to-day.

How absurd and ridiculous do those appear, who, refusing the testimony of thousands of living witnesses to-day, accept that of half a dozen that lived centuries ago, and were regarded in their day as lunatics and impostors! Is not the testimony of a credible man as good to us as Peter, John, or Paul? We know that Peter had not backbone enough to tell the truth when there was at one time danger in so doing. If we believe the ancient record, we know that Angels were sent to earth; and God has nowhere said he would send them no more. Neither have we any record that Jacob's ladder has been drawn up; and is it not a fair inference, that it is yet where God placed it?

The church by the course it is pursuing, is rapidly drifting into sadduceeism, and on its rocks will inevitably be stranded, unless it receives the messengers God sends to warn it of its course. Man's eyes are not in the back of his head, that he should be ever gazing on the receding lights of the past; but in front, that he may receive the broad glow of Heaven that is streaming on his brow to day. For my part, while grateful for the light of the past as it reflects on my way, I prefer a living God and living Angels in their conscious presence, to a record that they have existed in the past. ONE OF THE DELUDED.

EFFECT OF WEIGHT ON THE HORSE.—A correspondent of the London Review, in commenting on the effect of weight on the action and endurance of the horse, says, in illustration:—"Three hundred miles in seventeen days—that is, about eighteen miles a day—ruined the cavalry horses of Lord Cardigan during the Crimean expedition. And whilst our (too) heavy horses and men were knocked up, the Turkish cavalry were quite fresh."

John Reeve was accosted in the Kensington road by an elderly man with a small bottle of gin in his hand. "Pray, sir, I beg your pardon, is this the way to the poor house?" John gave him a look of clerical dignity, and pointing to the bottle very gravely said: "No, sir; but that is."

We advise all those who are in the habit of taking some Spring Medicine, to try a bottle of Myers' Rock Rose. See advertisement in another column.

HOW TRUE IT IS!
There are a couple of old proverbs that it would be well for us all to keep in mind. One is, "a stitch in time saves nine;" and another, "an ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure." We all, in theory, acknowledge the truth of these proverbs, yet the practice of the most of us gives them the lie. Myers' Extract of Rock Rose, as a preventative of all those diseases arising from impure blood and vicuid humors, is acknowledged to be superior to anything in Materia Medica. It purifies the blood, strengthens the digestive organs and invigorates the constitution.

THE "UNION" PRAYER MEETINGS.

Messrs. Editors:—As your columns have been open to correspondence concerning the Union Morning Meetings commenced some time ago in this city, and still in progress, and as certain articles have appeared, calculated to leave erroneous impressions upon the public mind with regard to my connexion with these meetings, I deem it an act of justice to myself personally, and the cause of truth especially, to relate briefly the circumstances of the case. I know that forbearance is a christian virtue; and for a time I was well nigh concluding that I would make no report of the matter. But when a man's motives, his honor, and integrity are laid under suspicion, I doubt much whether forbearance would longer be a virtue.

It is currently reported that my motive in attending these meetings was to create disunion,—in the common parlance, "to make disturbance." This is a grave charge. But I will only say, God forgive the originator and those who repeated it. From the beginning, I have felt an interest in this religious awakening. When I saw in our press a call like the following, "A Daily Prayer Meeting is proposed in this city, of one hour each morning, from eight to nine o'clock. This meeting will not be confined to business men, as in some larger cities, but all are invited, men and women without distinction of sect," I gladly accepted it, and as soon as my domestic relations would admit of my absence, I attended the meeting, first on Saturday, March 20th, at the Middle St. Chapel.

Previous to my attendance, an active member of these meetings had personally solicited me to come and participate in the services, and had also expressed his desire that our Church should be opened for its accommodation. The fraternal hand really seemed to be extended to me, and from my heart I grasped it most cordially. I was ready and glad to lend my mite in the extension of Christian principles, and for the wider diffusion of the Christian spirit.

At my first meeting with the Union there was much Christian fellowship apparent in the exercises of the hour. I enjoyed the meeting,—felt a hearty approval and sanction of any thing which savored of brotherly love, and out of the abundance of the heart my mouth was moved to utterance; not an exhortation, nothing like a sermon, simply a prayer.

On Monday morning, I again attended the meeting. The vestry had become too limited for the numbers who gathered together, and now it was convened in the Methodist Church. On this morning, besides taking part in the services, believing in the heartfelt sincerity of the Union, I proffered to a member of the committee the Universalist Church. This member expressed satisfaction at my interest in the meeting, said he would lay the matter before the committee, but gave it as his personal opinion that they would go to our church. After consulting our wardens, that I might thereby remove any hesitancy on account of mere personal obligation, I again called upon this same member of the committee and renewed my invitation with the hearty concurrence of the Wardens. At this interview it was apparent that, either through the expressed objections of others, or the further reflections of his own mind, he felt less inclined to favor the acceptance of our invitation. Some barriers were raised by him, which I endeavored to remove. He thought the people who usually took part in these meetings might feel restrained and fettered in our church. I told him I wished them to come, feeling the largest liberty, to speak and pray as the spirit should give utterance. I had been gratified with the exhibitions of Christian charity hitherto, and if the same tenor prevailed, I should be more than satisfied; that nothing save an apparent effort to trample upon our feelings and opinions should elicit from me a theological defense.

On Tuesday morning other engagements prevented my attendance. On Wednesday and Thursday mornings I was present but took no part.

Rumor had been busy with the opinion that Universalists were not regarded as Christian members of the Union, but simply as subjects for conversion, and that there would be no such thing as going to our Church. Possessing as I do, a faith broad as human need, I did not feel myself answerable to the charge of anti-christian, but still in the position of an unwelcome guest. I desired to ascertain the feelings of the Clergymen in regard to this matter, that I might not be led from false impressions to withdraw from the Union, or continue my attendance and participation where I was not wanted: and accordingly remained in my pew until they reached me in passing out, when I simply asked them concerning it. Our conversation immediately took a Theological swing, which did not leave me long in ignorance as to their position.

Rev. Messrs. Whiting and Lamson were plain and unequivocal in expressing the conviction that we could not work together as Christian brethren; and the tenor of their entire remarks was intended to make it appear that they were justifiable in their position, inasmuch as they labored to save men from endless misery, while I labor to save them from sin. They very courteously remarked that our intercourse as men had been pleasant, and they hoped this occurrence would not mar these relations; to which expressions of respect I did and do most heartily respond. (But Brothers, believe ye not, that when Christianity is denied to a man, he is openly shorn of that which has most made him a man, and entitled him to respect as man?) Rev. Mr. Hall was willing I should come to the meetings and take part, provided I said nothing in conflict with the general sentiments of the meeting. Rev. Mr. Holmes had no objection to my attending. But all had objections to removing the meetings to our Church. (Mr. Holmes has since explained that he objected to going to our Church because he thought it disastrous to the interests of such a meeting to remove it, and wished to have it kept in one place.)

The conversation of this morning closed me outside the pale of the Union. If I could not attend as a Christian minister and co-laborer for truth, I could not go at all. I feel myself neither a heathen nor an infidel, that I should go for conversion.

I have abundant reason for believing that the people had no objection to my attendance and co-operation. Indeed I was asked repeatedly by persons not connected with my society, why I had ceased to take part in the Morning Meeting.

Accordingly I asked the opportunity of explaining my position in a note as follows.

PORTSMOUTH, March 26, 1858.

To the Ministers and Committee having in charge the "Union Morning Meetings," in this city.

Dear Brethren: It is known to you that I have attended and taken part in some of your meetings. I did so in good faith, believing that Christ was in the movement, and that good would result from it. I wished to cultivate the kind and fraternal spirit which your call exhibited, and to labor with my Christian Brethren for the conversion of sinners, and for the upbuilding of Christ's kingdom in our midst and hearts.

I can meet with you no longer. Your doors are closed against me. Are you willing that your people should know the truth in relation to this matter? Are you willing that I should state publicly to them, my reasons for uniting with them at the commencement of this series of meetings, and for withdrawing from them now? I only desire that they may know the truth.

Yours for Truth and Righteousness,
A. J. PATTERSON.

I do not think this request unreasonable, as all I ask is that the people may know the truth; and truth can surely never be disastrous to the interests of a good cause. In reply to this note I received the following.

PORTSMOUTH, March 26, 1858.

REV. A. J. PATTERSON,

Dear Sir,—In reply to your note of the 26th inst., we would say, that it would be inconsistent with the single object of our morning meeting, to have any such explanation there as you propose.—And permit us to hope that your professed sympathy in the movement, and in the great object which we have at heart, will lead you to refrain from insisting on a measure which would be so detrimental to that object. Trusting that upon farther reflection you will see the matter in the same light that we do, we are,

Very Truly, Yours,
WILLIAM LAMSON,
L. WHITING.
THOMAS HOLMES,
JONATHAN HALL,

The week succeeding this correspondence I was confined to my room—most of the time to my bed—with the measles.—In answer to an anonymous correspondent of your paper, there appeared on Tuesday of that week, the following card.

Messrs. Editors—Please inform the public that the undersigned clergymen have no place in the management of the Daily Morning Prayer Meeting; and, that the assertion of "Fact" in the Chronicle this morning, that "the Pastor of a large Society bearing the Christian name has been forbidden to take part in these union meetings," is wholly false, so far as we are concerned.

L. WHITING,
W. LAMSON,
JONATHAN HALL.

Portsmouth, March 29, 1858.

This card has in the minds of some people, laid me under the charge of falsehood. Though there may be two avenues of egress from the position of falsifiers: either a play upon the word "forbidden" which your correspondent used, or the term "Christian Society" which was also quoted from the anonymous correspondent—these quirks are not accepted by the public mind. Those who entered the field of controversy in my defense, certainly did so from my statement of the matter.—They would not accept the epithet anti-Christian, though the whole evangelical church were to point it at them. Therefore I observe one of those defenders charitably concluding that a play upon the word "forbidden" was intended by these clergymen. Whatever may have been their exact position in relation to this part of the note, is not for me to judge. They certainly have acted a part in the "management" of these meetings; whether from right or assumption is not relevant to the case. The impression their published card has left upon the public mind, has called for this article.

The facts, as they appear to my understanding, are now before the public. If I have misinterpreted or misjudged any man's motives or position in this matter, no one will be readier for reconciliation than myself. If there exists in the hearts of the clergy a larger Christian fellowship than has been apparent to me, I shall rejoice to be made aware of the fact; for, in my opinion, brotherly kindness, in its active demonstration, is convincing evidence of the existence and sway of the Christian spirit. Meanwhile, if my impressions from this circumstance are correct, I am glad to be thus early made aware of the estimate in which I am held by the clergymen of this city. May this revival continue, until men everywhere "break off their sins by righteousness, and their iniquities by turning to the Lord, who will have mercy upon them, and to our God, who will abundantly pardon."

A. J. PATTERSON.

MEETINGS THIS EVENING, &c.

Union Prayer Meeting in the Free Will Baptist Church, from 8 to 9 o'clock this morning, to which all are invited.

Preaching in the Temple, Sunday evening at 7 o'clock.

Prayer and Conference meeting in the Fleet st. Vestry, at 7 o'clock on Sunday evening.

☞ Rev. Henry D. Moore of Portland, now in this city on a visit, is to preach at the Middle street church on Sunday, at the usual hours, day and evening.

☞ We understand that Rev. Mr. Medbery will preach at the Old South church, on Sunday afternoon at the usual hour.

☞ J. Couch will preach in the Hanover St. Chapel on Sunday.

Prayer Meeting in the Methodist Church on Sunday evening at 7 o'clock.

☞ Rev. Mr. Patterson having recovered his health in good measure, will resume his pulpit labors in the Universalist Church on Sabbath morning, when he intends to preach a sermon on The Revival.

On Sunday evening at 7 o'clock, in place of the usual exercises of the Conference Meeting in the Sunday School room, Rev. T. H. Miller will deliver a discourse on the New Birth, from John 3: 7, "Marvel not that I said unto thee, Ye must be born again."

The Union Prayer Meeting will be in the Methodist Church on Sunday morning at half-past 8 o'clock,—on Monday morning and through the week, at the Hanover street Chapel, at 8 o'clock.

RELIGIOUS.—The interest in the noon prayer meetings in Washington Hall, has entirely ceased. On Saturday noon last no gentleman was present, though the ladies assembled as usual.—Amesbury Villager, 15th.

In this city it is quite otherwise. The morning prayer meetings have varied in numbers,—but one of the most rainy mornings this week, there were more than 60 present, mostly men, among them four ministers.

FIRE.—The alarm of fire on Friday evening, soon after 10 o'clock, was caused by the burning of an old barn on Boyd's road. The barn was the property of Ira Haselton, Esq., and contained, besides a few tons of hay, a number of carriages of different sorts. The fire is surmised to have been set by a certain loose character, who, with a female companion, has lately seen fit to make the barn his lodging place, and who was reprimanded by Mr. Haselton, on Friday, for so doing.

The barn being near the Woodbury mansion, attracted a large crowd, who fancied that fine residence was in flames. We were told by a young man in the employ of Mr. Haselton, that scorched matches and paper were found in the barn, Friday morning; and that though it was thought the above-named couple (the man being the same who was sentenced last year for passing rum to prisoners in our jail,) were not in the barn on this occasion—yet he met a couple of drunken chaps, Friday, at dusk, who said they were going thither.—So in either case it may be said, "Rum did it!" Loss $300 or $400—no insurance.

CITY OFFICERS.—We print on the second page, a list of our new City Officers, elected by the Aldermen on Thursday evening. The new City Marshal is a tanner, in the employ of Moses H. Goodrich, Esq., we believe. We regret to see the efficient and popular Chief Engineer of Fire Department, of last year, superseded. Gen. Hadley has been for many years a member of our Fire Department—and has proved himself a competent and active Chief Engineer; and we see nothing to be gained by changing this officer each year. He has labored hard, and done much for our Firemen; and we understand that his removal is displeasing to a large majority of them—irrespective of whoever might be his successor.

After roll-call, on return from the fire of Friday evening, a vote was taken in the Hook & Ladder Company, (all but seven members present,) and it was unanimously the voice of the meeting, that they deprecate the proposed change of Chief Engineer. Similar expression was or will be made by the other Fire Companies.

Kittery, April 5th, 1858.

The Old Rochester Nurseries.
ROCHESTER, N. Y.

THE subscriber having been appointed Agent for this old, long established and favorably known Nursery, respectfully solicits orders for FRUIT AND ORNAMENTAL TREES, FLOWERING SHRUBS, &c, which will be delivered to the purchaser at the Catalogue prices free of charge.

The Proprietor in presenting his Catalogue for 1858 to the public, remarks that they will find it an exact inventory of what he has to offer: the height of the trees, their age, and that everything will not only be found true to its kind, but of the most perfect quality. The climate where these Nurseries are located is the same as that of New Hampshire, rendering it certain that trees transplanted here, will flourish as well as there.

Great care will be taken in packing, rendering the Trees perfectly safe for thousands of miles of transit.

☞ Catalogues, together with "brief instruction" for Orchard, Planting, and Culture of Fruits, with hints for the selection of Trees, may be had of the Agent. G. N. CARLETON.

Wolfe's Celebrated Scheidam Aromatic SCHNAPPS.

This medicinal beverage is manufactured by the proprietor, at Scheidam, Holland, expressly for medicinal use, by a process peculiar to his own Factory. It is the pure Tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, whose more vinous extract is distilled and rectified with its spirituous solvent, which thus becomes a concentrated tincture of exquisite flavor and aroma, altogether, transcendant in its cordial and medicinal properties to any alcoholic stimulant now made in the world. It is now prescribed by more than 5,000 physicians in the United States, in cases of Gravel, Gout, Dropsy, and Bladder and Kidney Complaints.

Put up in Quart and Pint Bottles, in cases of one dozen qts., and cases of two dozen pts., and for sale by all Druggists and Country Merchants.

ANALOGIES OF NATURE

IN FAVOR OF MAN'S IMMORTALITY.

Look nature through, 'tis revolution all;
All change, no death; day follows night and night
The dying day; stars rise and set, and set and rise;
Earth takes the example. See the summer gay,
With her green chaplet and ambrosial flowers,
Droops into pallid autumn. Winter gray,
Horrid with frost, and turbulent with storm,
Blows Autumn and his golden fruits away,
Then melts into the Spring; soft Spring, with breath
Favonian, from warm chambers of the South,
Recalls the first. All, to reflourish, fades;
As in a wheel, all sinks to reascend;
Emblems of man, who passes, not expires.
[Young.

REST.

Why are we weighed upon with heaviness,
And utterly consumed with sharp distress,
While all things else have rest from weariness?
All things have rest. Why should we toil alone?
We only toil who are the first of things,
And makes perpetual moan,
Still from one sorrow to another thrown.
[Tennyson.

SABBATH MORN.

With silent awe I hail the sacred morn,
That scarcely wakes while all the fields are still;
A soothing calm on every breeze is borne,
A gentle murmur marks the grove's retiring rills,
And softer sings the linnet from the thorn;
The sky-lark warbles, in a tone less shrill.
Hail, light serene! hail, sacred Sabbath morn!
The sky a placid yellow lustre throws;
The gales that lately sighed along the grove
Have hushed their rustling wings in dead repose;
The hovering rack of clouds forgets to move,
So soft the day when the first morn arose.
[Dryden.

The following remedies are offered to the public as the best, most perfect, which medical science can afford. Ayer's Cathartic Pills have been prepared with the utmost skill which the medical profession of this age possesses, and their effects show they have virtues which surpass any combination of medicines hitherto known. Other preparations do more or less good; but this cures such dangerous complaints, so quick and so surely, as to prove an efficacy and a power to uproot disease beyond any thing which men have known before. By removing the obstructions of the internal organs and clearing them into healthy action, they renovate the fountains of life and vigor,—health courses anew through the body, and the sick man is well again. They are adapted to disease, and disease only, for when taken by one in health they produce but little effect. This is the perfection of medicine. It is adapted to disease, and no more. Tender children may take them with impunity. If they are sick they will cure them, if they are well they will do them no harm.

Give them to some patient who has been prostrated with bilious remittent; see his bent-up, tottering form straighten with strength again; see his long-lost appetite return; see his clammy features blossom into health. Give them to some sufferer whose foul blood has burst out in scrofula till his skin is covered with sores; who stands, or sits, or lies in anguish. He has been drenched inside and out with every potion which ingenuity could suggest. Give him these Pills, and mark the effect; see the scabs fall from his body; see the new, fair skin that has grown under them; see the late leper that is clean. Give them to him whose angry humors have planted rheumatism in his joints and bones; move him, and he screeches with pain; he too has been soaked through every muscle of his body with liniments and salves; give him these Pills to purify his blood, and he may cast aside his staff, for, alas! there are cases which no mortal power can reach; but mark, he walks with crutches now, and now he walks alone; they have cured him. Give them to the lean, sour, haggard dyspeptic, whose gnawing stomach has long ago eaten every smile from his face and every muscle from his body. See his appetite return, and with it his health; see the new man. See her that was radiant with health and loveliness blasted and too early withering away; worn down with pain, and mental anguish, or some lurking disease, has deranged the functions of digestion, assimilation or secretion, till they do their office ill. Her blood is vitiated, her health is gone. Give her these Pills to stimulate the vital spark into renewed vigor, to cast out the obstructions, and infuse a new and healthy blood. Now look again—the roses blossom on her cheek, and where lately sorrow sat joy bursts from every feature. See the sweet infant wasted with worms. Its sun, sickly features tell you without words what ails it. Give it a few of these Pills, and the pale, pinched-up nose and eyes, and restless sleepings, tell the dreadful truth in language which every mother knows. Give it the Pills in large doses to sweep these vile parasites from the body. Now turn again and see the child in its healthy childhood. Is it nothing to do these things? Nay, are they not the marvel of this age? And yet they are done around you every day.

Have you the less serious symptoms of these diseases, they are the same in kind, only less in degree? Jaundice, Costiveness, Headache, Sickness, Heartburn, Foul Stomach, Nausea, Pain in the Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, King's Evil, Neuralgia, Gout, and kindred complaints all arise from the derangements which these Pills remove. Take them perseveringly, and under the counsel of a skilful Physician if you can; if not, take them judiciously by such advice as we give you, and the distressing, dangerous diseases they cure, which afflict so many millions of the human race, are cast out like the devils of old—they must leave at the mention and in the sea. Price 25 cents per box—5 boxes for $1.

Through a trial of many years and through every nation of civilized men, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral has been found to afford more relief and to cure more cases of pulmonary disease than any other remedy known to mankind. Cases of apparently settled consumption have been cured by it, and thousands of sufferers who were deemed beyond the reach of hope, will have been restored to their friends and usefulness, to the joys of life, the enjoyments of life, by this all-powerful antidote to diseases of the lungs and throat. Here a cold had settled on the lungs. The dry, hacking cough, the glassy eye, and the pale, thin features of him who was lately lusty and strong, whispered to but him Consumption. He tries every thing; but the disease is gnawing at his vitals, and shows its fatal symptoms more and more over all his frame. He is taking the Cherry Pectoral now; it has stopped his cough, and he sleeps; his breathing easy; his sleep is sound at night; his appetite returns, and with it his strength. The dart which pierced his side is broken. Scarcely any neighborhood can be found which has not some living trophy like this to show forth the virtues of what have won for the Cherry Pectoral an imperishable name. Its usefulness does not end here. Nay, it accomplishes more by prevention than cure. The countless colds and coughs which it cures are the seed which would have ripened into a dreadful harvest of incurable diseases. Influenza, Coughs, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Pleurisy, Whooping Cough, and all irritations of the throat and lungs are easily cured by the Cherry Pectoral if taken in season. Every family should have it by them, and they will find it an invaluable protection from dangerous illnesses which carries off the parent sheep from many a flock, the darling lamb from many a home.

Authenticated evidence of these facts, with directions for the treatment of each complaint, may be found in Ayer's American Almanac, of which we publish three millions, and scatter them broadcast over the earth, in order that the sick every where may have before them the information it contains. Druggists and dealers in medicine generally have them for distribution gratis, and can tell you the remedies, prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer, Practical and Analytical Chemist, Lowell, Mass.

THE RESTORATIVE OF Prof. O. J. WOOD for restoring hair perfectly and permanently, has never failed to restore a vigorous growth where might be given from all parts of the world and from the most intelligent to prove that it is a perfect Restorative. Nature's own Restorative and you cannot doubt; read also the following.

The Hair.—People have for centuries been afflicted with bald heads, and a fine, only remedy heretofore known, has been those abominable wigs. By a recent discovery of Professor Wood these articles are being cast aside, never to be worn, but a great many persons still patronize them, because they have been so often imposed upon by Hair Tonics of different kinds. To all such persons we earnestly make the request that they will try once again, for in Wood's Restorative there is no such thing as fail. We know of a lady who was bald, with not a hair on her head, but now her head is covered completely with the finiest and most beautiful curls imaginable. We know of numerous cases where hair was rapidly falling out, which it restored in greater perfection than it ever had been before.

It is also without doubt one of the best articles for keeping the hair in a healthy condition, making it soft and glossy, removing dandruff, and has proved itself the greatest enemy to all the ills that hair is heir to.

It is the duty of every one to improve their personal appearance though some may differ in regard to ways of doing it; but every one will admit that a beautiful head of hair either in man or woman, is an object much to be desired, and there are no means that should be left untried to obtain such a consideration.—Woman's Advocate, Philadelphia.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Nov. 17, 1856.

O. J. Wood & Co.—Gents: As I have been engaged in selling your Hair Restorative the last season for one of your local agents (R. M. Hackney, Jr.) and having experienced the beneficial effects of it myself, I would like to obtain an agency for the State of Ohio or some state in the west. Said agent will make such an arrangement as I am convinced there is nothing else in the United States, for restoring the hair. I have been engaged in the Drug business for several years, and have sold various preparations for the hair, but have found nothing that restores the secretive organs or invigorates the scalp as well as yours, because I received the very results from it that you represent it to be, I would like to engage in the sale of it, for I am satisfied it must sell.

Yours truly, S. T. Stockman.

Wayland, Mass., Feb. 5, 1857.

Prof. O. J. Wood & Co.—Gents: Having realized the good effects of your Hair Restorative, I wish to state, that finding my hair growing thin, as well as gray, I was induced from what I read and heard to try the article prepared by you, to promote its growth and change its color as it was in youth, both of which it has effected completely. In the operation I have used nearly 3 bottles.

Yours &c., James Francis.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interest of prizes at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have the same right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in a lottery must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes are from $50 to $70,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. m31ly

CAUTION NOTICE.

PERSONS living at a distance should be extremely cautious of whom they order Lottery Tickets or Certificates of Packages of Tickets—the country is flooded with bogus vendors of Lotteries. Every inducement is held out to induce persons to invest money in them. Capital Prizes of from $5,000 to $40,000 head their schemes—with tickets at One Dollar. The $40,000 capital prizes are offered; tickets $5. All such, in every instance, are frauds, and if money is sent to them for tickets, it is no much better than throwing the shadow of a chance of getting a prize. Beware of all Lotteries where the Capital Prize is unusually large in comparison to the price of tickets—in every instance where large prizes are offered for a small cost of tickets, put it down as a certain fraud.

The Kentucky State Lottery for the benefit of the Shelby College, under our management, is the only Lottery in the United States which is legal. It decides by Maryland Drawings; all other Lotteries which pur port to be decided by the Maryland Drawings, are frauds.

THE MARYLAND STATE LOTTERIES.

Purchase in the Maryland State Lottery, then you are sure of being right. And in ordering in the Maryland Lotteries, you are sure of fair and honest dealing.

One thing look to, and that is, it you order from any licensed vender in Baltimore, do not receive any but Managers' Tickets and Managers' Printed Certificates of Packages. The Managers' Certificates have the numbers printed and have the lithographic signature of R. France & Co.

No one has the right to issue Virtual certificates, if he does it, be sure there is a trick at the bottom of it.

—MANUFACTURERS OF—

Melodeons, Organ Melodeons,

—and—

PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

No. 511 Washington St., Boston.

The first premium over all competitors, at the Fair of the Mass. Charitable Mechanic Association, of the National Institute, Washington, D. C., also at the Ohio State Fair, held at Columbus, Ohio, was a second premium to these Manufacturers.

By means of a new method of voicing, known only to themselves, they have succeeded in removing the harsh and buzzing sound which formerly characterized the instrument, and rendering the tones full, clear and musical, and the action is prompt and reliable, enabling the performer to execute the most rapid music without blurring or confusion. The swell is arranged to give great expression.

THE PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

Are designed particularly for Churches, Lodges, Halls, &c. It is arranged with two manuals, or banks of keys, the former set running an octave higher than the other, and may be used separately, and thus get in one case two distinct instruments; or by use of the coupler, the two banks of keys may be played at the same time by use of the front set only. This connected with the Pedal Bass, will produce the effect of a large organ, and is adapted by many to fill a house that seats from 1000 to 1500 persons.

THE ORGAN MELODEON

is designed for parlor and private use. The construction is similar to the Church instrument, being arranged with two banks of keys, and when used together, by means of the coupler, is capable of as great volume of power as the Church instrument when used without the pedals. Also, every variety of Melodeons for Parlor use.

Purchasers may rely upon instruments from our Manufactory, being made in the most complete and thorough manner. Having removed to the spacious Buildings

511 Washington Street,

We have every facility for manufacturing purposes, and employ none but the most experienced and skillful workmen. In all cases, we will promise our customers an Instrument, equal if not superior, to any Manufacturer, and guarantee entire satisfaction.

Music Teachers, Leaders of Choirs, and others interested in musical matters, are respectfully invited to call at our Rooms at any time and examine or test the instruments on exhibition for sale at their pleasure.

As a still further guarantee to the public as to the excellence of the MELODEONS from our Manufactory, we beg leave to refer, by permission, to the following

Piano Forte Manufacturers of Boston, who have purchased our Instruments, and will give their opinion, in their behalf, viz:

Chickering & Sons, Hallett & Cumston,
T Gilbert & Co., Wm. P. Emerson,
Brown & Allen, J. W. Ladd & Co.,
George Hewes, Woodward & Brown,
Newhall & Co.

MELODEONS RENTED.

Persons who may wish to hire Melodeons with a view of purchasing at the end of the year, can have the rent credited as part payment of the purchase money. This matter is worthy of special notice, as persons who desire a fair test of the instruments before purchasing, to obtain it at the expense of the manufacturers, to the extent at least of a year's rent.

Orders from any part of the country or world, sent direct to the manufactory in Boston, with cash, or satisfactory reference, will be promptly attended to, and satisfaction guaranteed as if the parties were present, or employed an agent to select, and on as reasonable terms.

SCHOOLS IN PORTLAND.—Mayor Jewett, in his address, remarks thus sensibly on education:

The largest annual expenditure for any one purpose in our city is that for public schools, and no tax has ever been more cheerfully paid than that levied on education.

The cost per scholar for maintaining public schools in Baltimore is $21.59; in Philadelphia, $15.88; Chicago, $14; Boston, $13.55; Providence, $13,02; New York, $12.25; Buffalo $11.61; Oswego, $10.01; Bangor, $9.76; Springfield, Ms., $9.23; Rochester, $9.97; Portland has expended the last year (less repairs) $24,-415. Whole number attending, 4158, or $5.85 per scholar.

It was formerly the practice to teach sewing in all schools, and I would suggest whether by its introduction, by relaxing the continued routine of mental studies, might not be beneficially made in our public schools; its advantages to a large class wh o attend these schools must be known to all.

Singing, to a limited extent, has already been introduced into our public schools, with beneficial effects. The low songs that once grated upon our ears at the corners of our streets, have given place to the school room hymns; thus every moral sentiment borne in the sweet tones of childhood to the homes of the lowly, is a messenger of civilization and knowledge that could gain admission there by no other means; and we thus educate and elevate the adult through the child.

In this view I would suggest whether a greater attention ought not to be paid to instruction in music, in all our public schools.

NEW YORK NEWS.—Fifteen Pawnee Indians, are stopping at the Astor House and living high; they are less afraid of fire-water than the Turk was last month.

The fare in the steerage by the Star of the West which leaves New York for California on the 20th, is $125.—Apropos of California, a new fashioned revolver has reached New York from England, which has eighteen barrels; by the same vessel came a stock of liquors amounting to only three barrels, which are warranted to do at least 186 times as much execution at twice the distance. Here then is a problem for our best accountants. X equals the revolver's worst. Then X ⋈ 186 (2 ⋈ 2) 6 equals the force of the liquor, with 5858 added for the poisonous drugs fraudulently put in it. The answer reduced to its lowest terms is Delirium Tremens.—Lowell Adv.

UNITED STATES AND FOREIGN
PATENT AGENCY.
SAMUEL COOPER,
Late Principal Examiner of Patents in the United States Patent Office, at Washington,
WAS REMOVED HIS OFFICE TO
WEBSTER BANK BUILDING,
13 EXCHANGE STREET, BOSTON.
PATENTS secured in the United States, and in all other countries granting monopolies. Specifications and drawings prepared. Caveats filed.—Reconsiderations procured, of applications that have been rejected upon imperfectly prepared papers. Interferences prosecuted. Reissues and extension procured, and in general, all business connected with the Patent Office transacted with care and promptness.
British and other foreign patents procured through prompt and confidential agents in London and Paris.
Persons residing at a distance may obtain all necessary information, and have their business transacted, by writing to the subscriber, without the trouble and expense of a visit to Washington.
He begs leave to refer those unacquainted with him to the following testimonials:—
From Hon. Chas. Mason, Commissioner of Patents.
U. S. PATENT OFFICE, Feb 20, 1858.
I take great pleasure in stating that during the time I have been acting as Commissioner of Patents, Samuel Cooper, Esq., of Boston, has been engaged as Solicitor, and has been in that capacity in constant correspondence and intercourse with the office; he has evinced a thorough acquaintance with the Patent Law, and with the rules and practice of the office, a close attention to the interests of his clients, and a marked caution and courtesy that has rendered the transaction of business with him a pleasure. I have no hesitation in stating that I regard him as one of the very best agents for the transaction of business with this office with whom I am acquainted.
From the Examiners of the Patent Office.
The undersigned, Principal and Assistant Examiners in the United States Patent Office, have for several years been well acquainted with Mr. Samuel Cooper, late a principal Examiner in this office, and take pleasure in stating that he is a gentleman of the highest moral character, of unlimited knowledge in the business and practice of the office, and that his scientific attainments are such as eminently fit him for the business in which he is about to engage.

Coggswell's Medical Salt,
A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE
FOR THE
LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.
INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—has but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: SUBDUES INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. Is it asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a pin dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.
☞ Of its intrinsic value, the enlightened community, and not the discoverer, must be the judge.

Morning Chronicle.

MONDAY, APRIL 19, 1858.

LETTER FROM KANSAS.

LEAVENWORTH CITY, K. T., April 8.

I have seen enough to know that Leavenworth has improved not a little during my absence of five months. If you were to land here to-day, you would think you had stopped at the wrong place, so much has it improved since you left; Cherokee, Delaware and Shawnee streets are graded through; Main, Second and Third are graded through to Seneca street; some of the sidewalks are put down, and a large number of first class frame, stone and brick dwelling and business houses erected, and the population of the town largely increased.

Emigration has set in pretty brisk; the city is full of strangers, and considerable immigration to the interior. We do not expect to reach anything like the number of last year, especially of transient emigration.

Money is rather scarce. The government has flooded the town and county with orders payable after the appropriation bill passes. This operates against us.

Well, what do you think of Lecompton by this time? Don't you think we have some little chance of making a free State down here? The news of the Lecompton defeat was received here (night before last) with every demonstration of joy—firing of cannon and guns, cheering speeches, illuminations, &c. On Saturday night we are to have another grand glorification. We are well aware that the administration has one or two more moves on the chess board against us; but as sure as fate we are running them into the corner, and will beat them. Old Buck's administration has now proved itself a complete failure.

For the Chronicle.

RUNNING WHEN A VISITOR COMES.—Christians do not see alike on all points of doctrine, and they differ on the forms of Church government; and hence there are different denominations. It is their duty, however, to cultivate kind feelings with each other, and to live and labor on in love and peace.

Ministers of different denominations, by exchanging pulpits with each other, can do much to help bring about the harmony and good feelings that are desired. So thought two in a back town towards the mountains where I happened to be on a sunny Sabbath not long ago. The meetings are in the same village. But at one of them, just before the time of service, several found out what the arrangement was, and 15 or 20 went to the meeting where the minister of that Church was to be. The said minister, instead of being pleased, was rather mortified at their course, and hit them in a few words on the subject that made them feel. Their sermon, of course, was not enjoyed as they anticipated. At noon they retired, some of them trying to smile away their painful sense of impropriety, and others looking as if they did not wish to meet any one.

People of good sense and good breeding will not need a hint as to the course they should pursue when there are such exchanges. Their love of order and respect for him who for the time officiates at their own church, will induce them to attend their meeting, instead of stampeding to the other.

A TRAVELLER.

BOSTON TRIALS.—The Travellers says, three cases under the nuisance act were tried and resulted in conviction in the Municipal Court, Friday. In each of them the evidence of selling liquor was beyond a doubt. The first jury, in the case of John Lynch, was out four hours. It is stated they stood at first nine to three. The second jury, in the case of Murtagh Williams, returned a verdict of guilty in about an hour. John C. Park, for defendant, took the ground that the Legislature had no right to declare the selling of liquors to be a nuisance, but the Court instructed the jury that it was not for them to determine the powers of the Legislature—they were simply to say whether or not the defendant was guilty of the offence charged. Joanna Cotter was the third party, convicted in fifteen minutes by the second jury. There are many other cases of the kind which stand for trial, with the probability of conviction, if the evidence shall warrant it.

☞ Benj. F. Barton of Croydon, N. H., widely known for many years as a pedlar of "Yankee Notions," died very suddenly in Sutton, from bursting a blood vessel.—He was engaged at play in a game of ball, and suddenly fell, expiring immediately.

☞ A man named Joseph C. Wyatt, hung himself in Boston, at a station house on Friday.—He was a mechanic, with a family; was driven by want to theft, and then, fearful of disgrace by trial, driven to suicide.

Mrs. Jane B. Holton said that Wyatt and his family formerly boarded with her, and that he was in the habit of calling there. Last week he called and borrowed seventy cents of her, as he said he needed it to keep his family from starvation. He repaid the sum on Monday, and had since been there in a hungry condition. Yesterday, as she stated, he called there, and cut five yards of carpeting from a roll, and left with it, without her knowledge.

The deceased has always had a character for respectability, though for some time he has been in straitened circumstances, and out of work. He was a carpenter by trade, but has for some years, and until recently, been proprietor of a large gas-fitting establishment at 23 Devonshire st.

He was about 40 years old, and leaves a wife and four children, who reside on Telegraph street, South Boston.

There is no doubt but that the deceased was driven to despair by want, and resolved to resort to theft, if a theft was committed, as a last relief for his poverty.

The degradation which he supposed must follow the discovery of his crime, induced him to commit the fatal act.

CONGRESS.—In the Senate, on Thursday, April 15, the Senate debated the Pacific Railroad bill.

Mr. Hale was in favor of a Pacific Railroad, without saying when or where it shall be constructed. He had learned that there will soon be a bill offered to borrow $30,000,000 or $20,000,000 at least. It was also mentioned in Mr. Slidell's recent speech, that Cuba may be had by negotiating. He wished to know if this was the settled purpose of the administration; because after paying $200,000,000 for Cuba, it may not have enough to pay $100,000,000 for the Pacific Railroad. Although he admitted the energy of the country, he did not think it was competent to do both.

Mr. Polk—Not at once.

Mr. Hale wanted to know which would be done first.

Mr. Polk made no reply.

Mr. Doolittle moved to amend Mr. Polk's amendment by substituting that the northern point be at Breckenridge, at the confluence of the Bois des Sioux with the Red River of the North, on the northern boundary of Minnesota. The route was surveyed by Mr. Stevens, and is capable of being thickly settled across the whole continent.

Mr. Foster moved that all the iron used in the railroad should be of American manufacture.

The bill was then postponed till Friday.

The Senate passed thirty-five private bills and then adjourned.

The House was mainly engaged on private bills.

Mr. Clingman of N. C., in responding to a former remark by Mr. Leiter, explained that he left the Whig party because it became abolitionized, and since then he had found Captain Rynders to be an honorable man who had been badly slandered.

Mr. Giddings recollected when he and Mr. Clingman stood side by side, and added that his leaving that party was for its own good.

Mr. Clingman replied that the gentleman's party had been defeated ever since he left it, and their vote on the Crittenden substitute was a good proof of their penitence.

The colloquy caused much merriment.

FROM WASHINGTON.—New York, April 17.—Mr. Stephens is still sick; therefore it is doubtful if the conference committee do anything to-morrow. Mr. English takes his stand on the first part of the Crittenden amendment, which provides for submitting Lecompton.

Mr. Woodworth, member of the Leavenworth constitutional convention, arrived yesterday with a copy of the new constitution, which he delivered to Mr. Parrott.—Mr. W. says the organization of the Free State men is so complete that the voters in the Territory, and the political sentiments of each are ascertained, and the pro-slavery number only two thousand.

Mr. Dimmick, member from Pennsylvania, Lecompton Democrat, is so ill that his life, thought to be in danger.

CLAIM ALLOWED.—A Washington item of April 16, says:

A report from the Court of Claims, adverse to Hon. M. Clay, having been taken up in Committee of the Whole to-day, a motion was made that instead, a bill for his relief be reported to the House, in effect to abrogate the decision of that court. The power to do so was questioned, but Mr. Nichols, chairman, decided the motion in order, and the bill was finally passed. This is the first of the kind, and is considered an important precedent, affecting all classes rejected by the court.

THE PROPOSED ADJOURNMENT OF CONGRESS.—Both Houses have agreed to adjourn the session on the seventh of June, but the correspondence of the Philadelphia Press thinks that unless the Appropriation bills are considered and passed soon, the Senate requiring time to consider and passed soon, the Senate requiring time to consider and amend them, if amendment be required, the day will be put as distant as July.

"RUM DID IT."

PARAGRAPH REDUCED.—Some days ago, it was stated that in Beverly, an Irishman had murdered his brother, and both had been drinking hard. Now it turns out that it was not fratricide, but suicide.

As the brothers were known to be intemperate, and had frequent quarrels while in an intoxicated state, and the surviving brother was found over the body of the deceased, quite in liquor, the report soon spread that it was a case of fratricide. But a post-mortem examination was conducted by Drs. Haddock of Beverly, and Peirson of Salem, who, in view of the appearances by them minutely described, expressed it as their opinion that the cause of death was congestion of the brain and lungs, as a consequence of the excessive and continued use of alcoholic stimulants. The jury, after a session of about five hours, returned the following verdict:—"That said Edward Thomas came to his death between the hours of 4 and 9 on the morning of April 13, 1858, from congestion of the brain and lungs, induced by excessive use of intoxicating liquors."

Two men, having in a fit of intoxication kicked up a disturbance in a house in Weston, Me., were turned out of doors by a gentleman who was present. In a short time it was found that they had set the barn on fire in revenge, and it was burned, together with seven head of cattle, five sheep, one horse, twenty-two tons of hay, and various farming implements. The scoundrels were arrested for the crime, and the man who sold them liquor, has been sued for the value of the property destroyed, under the provisions of the liquor law. Calais, Me., Adv.

The body of a man belonging in Augusta, was found within a few rods of the eastern end of the rail road bridge in that city last week. He had been missing for a week. A jug of rum was found near him, which accounts for his death. It was of the the true R. G. brand, and some of it smelt more like camphene than aught else, and a lighted match thrust into it was immediately extinguished. He leaves a wife and large family.—Kennebec Journal.

THE LICENSE LAW—FIREMEN.—Concerning temperance in Portland the new Mayor says:

The most casual observer must have seen, that the sale of intoxicating drinks has greatly increased in our city within the past two years. Over 1500 persons have been arrested in Cumberland county the past year for drunkenness, of which 1053 were made in our city since April 18 1857. Nearly one thousand of these have been committed to prison, costing the State over Five Thousand Dollars. The existing law in its fifteenth section, says, that "no person shall keep a drinking house or tippling shop within the State," and the last Legislature passed an act such to take effect, declaring "all buildings or places used for the illegal sale or keeping of intoxicating liquors, to be common nuisances, and to be so regarded and treated as such."

If under the provisions of these acts drinking houses and tippling shops can be diminished or closed, I should do injustice to my own convictions of duty, did I not assure you that my aid shall be given to carry out the present, or any future law, that professes to close these fountains of intemperance.

However ungrateful the task, our oaths of office require us to enforce the laws on this subject, as we would all others, State or Municipal, temperately and judiciously, but imparfially and firmly.

Considering the onerous and hazardous duties of a fireman, who soldier-like takes his life, as he takes his coat, in his hand; I am sure that our fellow citizens will not consider the present rate of pay—$20 per year—excessive or even adequate compensation for the generous services performed.

MELANCHOLLY INFATUATION.—We have lately heard of another sad case of "free love" infatuation. A gentleman of excellent education, well connected, and a popular writer, has recently become interested in spiritualism, and has been led by the discussion of free love affinities and such nonsense, to the conclusion that the wife with whom he has lived happily for twenty years, and who has made him the father of an interesting family, is not his "affinity." He made a mistake and married the wrong woman, because he was not spiritually enlightened. Consequently he has forsaken his wife and family, and while he provides for their support, and now occasionally visits them, he has renounced the relation of husband and father, and makes his home elsewhere.

He has discovered that his actual affinity is for a young lady medium, and to her he gives the society which belongs to his wife. He finds no fault with his wife. He admits that she is the same excellent woman that she has ever been, and no cause of alienation on her part is alleged. It is the discovery, by the light of spiritualism, of his own affinity, which has made it his religious duty to forsake his wife and children, and leave them desolate and broken hearted. The man seems sane on everything else. He is not a dissolute man, using spiritual free love as a cloak to his natural vileness. He is simply infatuated with an idea, and his infatuation is bringing disgrace and misery upon all connected with him.

It is safe to let such matters alone.—The man who thrusts his hand into the fire, is pretty certain to be burned.—Springfield Republican.

GEORGE PEABODY.—The London correspondent of the New York Commercial Advertiser states, that on the 1st of April, George Peabody & Co., repaid to the Bank of England in full all the money borrowed from that institution during the crisis in November, although it would not become due until August. At the same time the firm cancelled the remainder of the credit unused, and released all the securities given by them to the bank.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Mrs. Willett, aged 80 years, resident in Boston, while returning from a prayer meeting on Wednesday evening, dropped dead on Washington street, opposite Florence street. Just as she fell, she said to her companion, "I'm going." She was a native of Nova Scotia, but had resided in Boston for many years, and had been a member of the Church of the Messiah for the past ten years.

OSWEGO, April 16.—There are now afloat from Lake Michigan for this port 25,000 bushels of wheat and 50,000 of corn, mostly from Chicago.

THE FLOOD ON THE MISSISSIPPI.—New Orleans, April 17.—The crevasse opposite the city continues in full force. There are no signs yet of a fall in the river.

☞ Reader, do you want THE picture of the day? If so, have one of Gregory's Photographs in Oil Colors, which he is selling at about half the Boston and New York prices.

HOW TRUE IT IS!

There are a couple of old proverbs that it would be well for us all to keep in mind. One is, "A stitch in time saves nine;" and another, "an ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure." We all, in theory, acknowledge the truth of these proverbs, yet the practice of the most of us gives them the lie. Mysay's Extract of Rock Rose, as a preventative of all those diseases arising from impure blood and viscid humors, is acknowledged to be superior to anything in Materia Medica. It purifies the blood, strengthens the digestive organs and invigorates the constitution.

BUY AND TRY IT!!

SMITH'S CURATIVE CLEANSING COMPOUND which has been sold extensively in Portsmouth and vicinity, for a few weeks past, by the proprietor, for the cure of pains, &c., may be had of Wm. R. Preston, Brackett Hutchings, Asa S. Tilton, Jenkins & Goodrich, F. Dupray, C. E. Laighton, Oliver F. Gerrish, Joseph Harvey & Son, Thomas S. Gammon, in Portsmouth.

MOTHERS! MOTHERS!! MOTHERS!!!

AN OLD NURSE FOR CHILDREN.

DON'T fail to procure Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. It has no equal on Earth. No mother who has ever tried Mrs. Winslow's SOOTHING SYRUP for Children will ever consent to let her child pass through the distressing and critical period of teething without the aid of this invaluable preparation. Life and health can be estimated by dollars and cents, it is worth its weight in gold.

Millions of Bottles of Mrs. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP are sold every year in the United States. It is an old and well tried remedy.—None genuine unless the fac simile of "Curtis & Perkins" is on the outside wrapper.

A CARD TO THE LADIES.

DR. DUPONCO'S
French Periodical Golden Pills,
FOR FEMALES;

Infallible in Removing Stoppages or Irregularity of the Menses.

THESE Pills are nothing new, but have been used by the Doctor for many years, both in France and America, with unparalled success in every case; and he is urged by many thousand ladies who have used them to make the Pills public, for the alleviation of those suffering from any irregularities whatever, as well as to prevent pregnancy in those ladies whose health will not permit an increase of family. Pregnant females, or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using the Pills, as though harmless, the proprietor assumes no responsibility after the above admonition, although their mildness would prevent any material ill to health; otherwise these Pills are recommended. Full and explicit directions accompany each box.

Price $1. Sold in Portsmouth by JOSEPH H. THACHER, in Dover by Chas. A. Tufts, in Exeter by C. A. Merrill, and in Newmarket by J. A. Prendergast. They will supply dealers at the Proprietor's usual wholesale rates. The Pills to the Ladies (confidentially) by mail to any part of the city or country, on receipt of $1 through the Post Office.

N. B.—Ladies will be particular in asking for Dr. Duponco's Golden Pills. Observe the signature J. Duponco is upon each box. You will then obtain a Pill you can rely on.

J. DUPONCO, Proprietor.

The Great English Remedy.

SIR JAMES CLARKE'S

Celebrated Female Pills.

Prepared from a prescription of Sir Jas. Clarke M.D., Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

THIS invaluable Medicine is unfailing in the cure of all those painful and dangerous disorders to which the female constitution is subject. It moderates all excess, removes all obstructions, and a speedy cure may be relied on.

TO MARRIED LADIES

It is peculiarly suited. It will, in a short time, bring on the monthly period with regularity.

Each bottle, Price One Dollar, bears the Government Stamp of Great Britain, to prevent counterfeits.

CAUTION.

These Pills should not be taken by females that are pregnant, during the FIRST THREE MONTHS, as they are sure to bring on Miscarriage, but at every other time and in every other case they are perfectly safe.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics, and Whites, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed, and although a powerful remedy, do not contain Iron, calomel, antimony, or any thing hurtful to the constitution.

Full directions accompany each package.

Sole Agent for the United States and Canada

JOB MOSES,

LOCAL.

FIRE POLICE.—Messrs. Editors:—A petition was presented to the Board of Aldermen, on Thursday evening last, that certain young men be appointed special police, without pay, to protect property from damage in removal, or from being stolen, in times of fire. A number of the young men of our city have formed themselves into an association for this purpose, under the plan of an institution existing here several years since; and have applied to our city government for authority to act when needed; without receiving any remuneration—under the direction of the Mayor of the city. They are not liable to act in any rash or imprudent manner, but being instructed beforehand in their duties, we feel that they would prevent much destruction of property now inevitable under the present circumstances, where there is no regulation and no guard whatever. CITIZEN.

☞ The alarm of fire on Saturday forenoon, was caused by the voluminous smoking of a chimney in the old house on the corner of Bridge and Deer streets, opposite the C. & P. Railroad station.

☞ A friend of "liberal christianity" has ordered a large edition of the remarks on the Union Prayer Meetings, which were published in the Daily Chronicle of Saturday, to be printed on an extra sheet, for gratuitous circulation throughout the city.

☞ It is really refreshing and encouraging to see and know that somebody has at last got hold of our new Custom House, who knows how to build it, has got something to build it with, and means to do it. Mr. Superintendent Blaisdell says that he intends to have the building ready for the roof by the first of December next, if the stone is seasonably forwarded. The granite will be received at the station of the Concord & Portsmouth Railroad, in its rough state, and hammered on the ground of the Railroad,—and for which purpose long sheds have been built.

Nobody will be better accommodated by the new Post Office department than we of the Chronicle—so we shan't charge a cent for overseeing the job.

☞ The Gazette understands that the sloop-of-war Portsmouth, lately attached to the East India squadron, has been ordered to this naval station, and will probably arrive during the month of May.

☞ A new flag-staff one hundred and fifty feet in height, has just been erected on "Franklin Square," opposite the gate leading to the Commodore's mansion, at the Navy Yard, near the bust of Franklin. The National ensign was first flung to the breeze from the new topmast head on Monday.

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS.

EXETER, April 17.

The case of Hilton v. Cilley and Stickney has been on trial for the last three days. It is an action founded on two notes alleged by the defence to have been paid. A verdict this morning was rendered for the defence. Bennett v. Smith will be first in order next week.

NEW HAMPSHIRE LAW.—In Manchester Police Court, April 13, D. T. Norris, of the City Hotel, was brought up for keeping liquors for sale. The proof against him was founded on a search warrant, whereby a schedule of tools and implements, and various "colored beverages," was obtained. He plead nolo contendere, and gave bonds to respond to the September term of the Court, and not to sell in the meanwhile.

In Concord, same day, for the same offence, Patrick Bresnaham and John Bresnaham were partially examined, when they both waived an examination, and gave bonds in the sum of $200 for their appearance at the next term of the Supreme Judicial Court.—Mirror.

WATCH THIEF.—A man in dress and appearance of a clergyman, stole a watch from the store of J. M. Ford, jeweller, Boston, on Friday. The watch was found on him. The Traveller says:—At first he gave the name of Smith, but subsequently he assured Mr. Ford that his name was Wm. H. Sigeton, that he was an English clergyman, of Independent faith, residing in Princeton street, East Boston, and that he had preached several times in this country, having been here but a short time. He very coolly said that, seeing the boys very negligent in the store, he took the watch, intending to return it the next day, with a rebuke for their carelessness. He is a man about 50 years old, hair considerably gray, of prepossessing appearance, rather above the medium height.—Waiving examination in the Police Court, he was held in $800 for trial.

MARRIED.

In Great Falls, Simon Trafton to Mrs Sarah J Shepard.—Samuel D Glass to Mary F Waldron, both of Dover.—Henry Sweet to Martha Crayton of Eliot.—Rufus Hamilton to Mrs Margaret Lane of Hollis, Me.

DIED.

In this city, April 17th, George Edwin, aged 8 months, son of Joseph and Mary F Burnham.

Funeral this (Monday) afternoon at half-past 2, from No. 10 High street.

In Sterling, Ill, Miss Georgianna Page, aged 24, formerly of Exeter.

DECLINE IN TEAS.—The following is from Baring's circular regarding Tea:

Tea—Some sales of good Congou have been made the last day or two, at a considerable reduction in price. Common Congous are also lower, the present quotations being 1s. 1-2d. per lb.

METHODIST CONFERENCE.—At a meeting of the New York (East) Methodist Conference, anti-slavery resolutions were presented by Dr. Wheedon and discussed.—The resolutions were supported by the mover and Mr. Hatfield, and opposed by Dr. Bangs, who said the church had nothing to do with the affair, and he did not believe it to be a sin to own slaves. The resolutions were not finally acted on.

GOT THROUGH.—Rev. A. R. Nickerson, about whose ordination at N. Woburn, such a rumpus was made last winter, has finished the term for which he was engaged in that place, and the society declining to re-engage him, he has left. Inverting the old maxim—behold how little a spark a great fire becomes.—Lowell News.

ALBANY, April 16.—This afternoon, a boy named Joseph Cullahan, Jr., aged 14, while playing marbles with another boy, named Michael Naughton, aged 13, was stabbed with a butcher knife, and died in half an hour. They were engaged in a dispute, when the blow was given by Naughton, who has been arrested and committed to jail.

☞ In 1790, Jonathan Hartop was living at Aldborough, in Yorkshire, England, at the age of 189 years, having been born in the year 1653. He witnessed and perfectly remembered the great fire in London in 1666.

☞ The Chicago Journal states that David A. Neal, late Vice-President of the Illinois Central Railroad, has commenced a suit against the company in the United States Circuit Court for $250,000, for services rendered to the company while in its employ.

ST. JAMES REVISION.—The Canton, Mo. Repository states that the Legislature of Missouri, at the session of 1856–'57, passed an act instructing the "State Librarian to furnish each member of the Legislature with a copy of the Holy Bible, St. James Revision."

☞ Samuel Chandler, Esq., the father of Senator Chandler of Michigan, is living at Bradford, N. H., at the age of eighty-four years. He is in the enjoyment of good health, and takes an earnest interest in all the leading events of the day.

☞ Mr. John Case, of East Fishkill, Duchess county, New York, died at his residence a few days since, at the advanced age of 100 years.

☞ J. W. Gray, editor of the Cleveland Plaindealer, lost the sight of one eye on Friday last, from the explosion of a percussion cap which his little son was firing from a toy gun.

☞ In the Virginia Legislature the bill to prohibit the emancipation of slaves by will was defeated.

☞ Governor McWillie of Miss., and his wife, have just been blessed with a twenty-first pledge of conjugal affection.

AS A SPRING MEDICINE

MYERS' EXTRACT ROCK ROSE is invaluable. It changes the viscid humors, opens the pores of the skin, promotes insensible perspiration, thereby purifying the blood and invigorating the system. A free use of this medicine, in the spring months, will not only cure all diseases caused by impurities of the blood, but will beget a healthy action and prepare the system to resist the attacks of fevers, derangement of the bowels, &c, so prevalent in the summer season

Blood's Seedling Grape Vines,
For Sale.

TWO varieties of Blood's Seedling GRAPE Vines, which have been tested by the subscriber for 18 years, and found superior to any other cultivated in the open air in this part of the country. This Grape is larger than the Isabella, and ripens in our climate about 5 weeks earlier. For several successive years it has been fully ripe the first week in September, and thus has escaped the early frosts which have in some seasons, cut off the Isabel's and other varieties.

Wolfe's Celebrated Scheidam Aromatic
SCHNAPPS.

This medicinal beverage is manufactured by the proprietor, at Scheidam, Holland, expressly for medicinal use, by a process peculiar to his own Factory. It is the pure Tincture of the Italian Juniper berry, whose more vinous extract is distilled and rectified with its spirituous solvent, which thus becomes a concentrated tincture of exquisite flavor and aroma, altogether, transcendant in its cordial and medicinal properties to any alcoholic stimulant now made in the world. It is now prescribed by more than 5,000 physicians in the United States, in cases of Gravel, Gout, Dropsy, and Bladder and Kidney Complaints.

Put up in Quart and Pint Bottles, in cases of one dozen qts., and cases of two dozen pts, and for sale by all Druggists and Country Merchants.

LANGSYNE.

Langsyne!—yes, in the sound I hear
The rustling of the summer grove;
And view those angel features near
Which first awoke the heart to love.
How sweet it is in pensive mood,
At windless midnight to recline,
And fill the mental solitude
With spectres from Langsyne!

Langsyne!—ah, where are they who shared
With us its pleasures bright and blithe?
Kindly with some hath fortune fared;
And some have bowed beneath the scythe
Of death; while others lie in all time,
Calm or convulsed—in breeze, or gale, or storm,
Icing the pole, or in the torrid clime
Dark-heaving; boundless, endless and sublime—
The image of Eternity—the throne
Of the Invisible; even from out thy slime
The monsters of the deep are made; each zone
Obeys thee; thou goest forth, dread, fathomless, alone.—[Byron.

TO SLEEP.

Come, gentle sleep! attend thy votary's prayer,
And, though death's image, to my couch repair;
How sweet, though lifeless, yet with life to lie,
And without dying, O how sweet to die!
—[Warton.

CLOUDS.

We often praise the Evening clouds,
May we also hope to be
But seldom think upon our God,
Who tints those clouds with gold.—[Scott.

The following remedies are offered to the public as the best, most perfect, which medical science can afford. AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS have been prepared with the utmost skill which the medical profession of this age possesses, and their effects show they have virtues which surpass any combination of medicines hitherto known. Other preparations do more or less good; but this cures such dangerous complaints, so quick and so surely, as to prove an efficacy and a power to uproot disease beyond any thing which men have known before. By removing the obstructions of the internal organs and stimulating them into healthy action, they renovate the fountains of life and vigor,—health courses anew through the body, and the sick man is well again. They are adapted to disease, and disease only, for when taken by one in health they produce but little effect. This is the perfection of medicine. It is antagonistic to disease, and no more. Tender children may take them with impunity. If they are sick they will cure them, if they are well they will do them no harm.

Give them to some patient who has been prostrated with bilious complaint: see his bent-up, tottering form straighten with strength again; see his long-lost appetite return; see his clammy features bloom from health. Give them to some sufferer whose foul blood has burst out in scrofula till his skin is covered with sores; who stands, or sits, or lies in anguish. He has been drenched inside and out with every potion which ingenuity could suggest. Give him these PILLS, and mark the effect; see the scaba fall from his body; see the new, fair skin that has grown under them; see the late leper that is clean. Give them to him whose angry humors have planted rheumatism in his joints and bones; move him, and he cries out with pain; he too has been soaked through every muscle of his body with liniments and salves; give him these PILLS to purify his blood; they may not cure him, for, alas! there are cases which no mortal power can reach; but mark, he walks with crutches now, and soon he walks alone; this is the effect of these PILLS. Give them to the lean, sour, haggard dyspeptic, whose gnawing stomach has long ago eaten every smile from his face and every muscle from his body. See his appetite return, and with it his health; see the new man. See that stone-worn wretch with his sallow and loveliness blasted and too early withering away; want of exercise or mental anguish, or some lurking disease, has deranged the internal organs of digestion, assimilation or secretion, till they do their office ill. See that worse wretch with his health gone. Give her these PILLS to stimulate the vital principle into renewed vigor, to cast out the obstructions, and infuse a new vitality into the blood. Now look again—the roses blossom on her cheek, and where lately sorrow sat smiling from every feature. See the sweet infant wasted with worms. Its wan, sickly features tell you without disguise, and painfully distinct, that they are eating its life away. Its pinched-up nose and ears, and restless sleep, tell the drooping mother what ails the child every mother knows. Give it the PILLS in large doses to sweep these vile parasites from the body. Now turn again and see the ruddy bloom of childhood. Is it nothing to do these things? Nay, are they not the marvel of this age? And yet they are done around you every day.

Have you the less serious symptoms of these distempers, they are the easier cured. Jaundice, Costiveness, Headache, Sickness, Heartburn, Foul Stomach, Nausea, Pain in the Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, King's Evil, Neuralgia, Gout, and kindred complaints all arise from the derangements which these PILLS rapidly cure. Take them perseveringly, and under the counsel of a good Physician if you can; if not, take them judiciously by such advice as we give you, and the distressing, dangerous diseases they cure, which afflict so many millions of the human race, are cast out like the devils of old—they must burrow in the brutes and in the sea. Price 25 cents per box—5 boxes for $1.

Through a trial of twenty years and throughout every nation of civilized men, AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has been found to afford more relief and to cure more cases of pulmonary disease than any other remedy known to mankind. Cases of apparently settled consumption have been cured by it, and thousands of sufferers who were deemed beyond the reach of human aid have been restored to their friends and usefulness, to sound health and the enjoyments of life, by this all-powerful antidote to diseases of the lungs and throat. Have a cold had settled on the lungs. The dry, hacking cough, the glassy eye, and the pale, thin features of him who was lately lusty and strong, whisper to all but him CONSUMPTION. He tries every thing; but the disease is gnawing at his vitals, and shows its fatal symptoms more and more every day for him. He is taking the CHERRY PECTORAL now; it has stopped his cough and made his breathing easy; his sleep is sound at night; his appetite returns, and with it his strength. The dart which pierced his side is broken. Incurably low must the blood be found which has not some living trophy like this to shadow forth the virtues which have won for the CHERRY PECTORAL an impenishable renown. But its usefulness does not end here. Nay, it accomplishes more by preventing than curing cases. The incurable colds and coughs which it cures are the seed which would have ripened into a dreadful harvest of incurable diseases. Influenza, Croup, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Pleurisy, Whooping Cough, and all irritations of the throat and lungs are easily cured by the CHERRY PECTORAL if taken in season. Every family should have it by them, and they will find it an invaluable protection from the insidious prowler which carries off the purest sheep from many a flock, the darling lamb from many a home.

Authenticated evidence of these facts, with directions for the treatment of each complaint, may be found in Ayer's American Almanac, of which we publish three millions, and scatter them broadcast over the earth, in order that the sick every where may have before them the information it contains. Druggists and dealers in medicine generally have them for distribution gratis, and also for sale these remedies, prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER, Practical and Analytical Chemist, Lowell, Mass.

THE RESTORATIVE OF PROF. O. J. WOOD for restoring hair perfectly and permanently, has never yet had a rival. Volume after volume might be given testimony of what he used to say, that the most intelligent to prove that it is a perfect Restorative; but read the circular and you cannot doubt; read also the following.

THE HAIR.—People have for centuries been afflicted with bald heads, and the only remedy, heretofore known, has been those abominable wigs. By a recent discovery of Professor Wood these articles are being last dispensed with, but a great many persons still patronize them, because they have been so often imposed upon by Hair Tonics of different kinds. To all such persons we earnestly make the request that they will try once again, for in Wood's Restorative there is no such thing as fail. We know of a lady who was bald, who used the article a short time, and her head is covered completely with the finest and most beautiful curls imaginable. We know of numerous cases where hair was rapidly falling out, which it restored in greater perfection than it ever had been before.

It is also without doubt one of the best articles for keeping the hair in good condition, making it soft and glossy, removing dandruff, and has proved itself the greatest enemy to all the ills that hair is heir to.

It is the duty of every one to improve their personal appearance though some may differ in regard to the ways of doing it; but every one will admit that a beautiful head of hair either in man or woman, is one of the things to be desired, and there are no means that should be left untried to obtain such a consideration.—Woman's Advocate, Philadelphia.

CONCORD, Ohio, Nov. 17, 1858.

O. J. Wood & Co.—Gents: As I have been engaged in selling your Hair Restorative the last season for one of your local agents (E. M. Hackinson,) and having experienced the beneficial effects of it myself, I would like to obtain an agency for the State of Ohio or some state in the west, should you wish to make such an arrangement as I am convinced there is nothing equal to it in the United States, for restoring the hair. I have been engaged in the Drug business for several years, and have sold various preparations for the hair, but have found nothing that produced the secretive organs or invigorates the scalp as well as yours, being convinced that your restorative is what you represent it to be, I wish to engage in the sale of it, for I am satisfied it must sell.

Yours truly, S. T. STOUGHTON.

WATLING, MASS., Feb. 6, 1857.

PROF. O. J. WOOD & CO.—Gents: Having realized the good effects of your Hair Restorative, I wish to state, that finding my hair growing thin, as well as gray, I was induced from what I read and heard, to try the article prepared by you, to promote its growth and change its color as it was in youth, both of which it has effected completely. In the operation I have used nearly 3 bottles.

Maryland State Lotteries.
R. FRANCE & CO.....MANAGERS.

CAUTION NOTICE.

PERSONS living at a distance should be extremely cautious of whom they order Lottery Tickets or Schemes of Packages of Tickets—The country is flooded with bogus and swindling Lotteries. Every inducement is held out to get persons to invest money in them. Capital Prizes of from $20,000 to $30,000 are drawn by their schemes with tickets at One Dollar. $100,000 capital prizes are offered, tickets $5. All such, in every instance, are frauds, and if anyone is so foolish as to order tickets, it is so much thrown away without the shadow of a chance of getting a prize. Beware of all Lotteries where the Capital Prize is unusually large in comparison to the price of tickets—in every instance where large prizes are offered for a small cost of tickets, put it down as a certain fraud.

The Kentucky State Lottery for the benefit of the Shelby College, under our management, is the only Lottery in the United States which is legally chartered by the Maryland Drawings: all other Lotteries which pu port to be decided by the Maryland Drawings, are frauds.

THE MARYLAND STATE LOTTERIES.

Purchase in the Maryland State Lotteries, then you are sure of being right. And in ordering in the Maryland Lotteries, you are sure of fair and honest drawings.

One thing look to, and that is, it you order from any licensed vender in Baltimore, do not receive any but Managers' Tickets and Managers' Printed Certificates of Packages. The Managers' Certificates have the numbers printed, and have the individual signature of R. France & Co.

No one has a right to send his individual certificates. If he does it, be sure there is a fraud at the bottom of it.

A PROCLAMATION
TO THE LADIES.

WHEREAS, it appears that the days of right, honor, and integrity are last fading away, and WHEREAS the unscrupulous and the knavish are daily taking advantage of the profound and learned. BEIT KNOWN THEREFORE, to all, whether women or men, that the Dr. CHESEMAN'S FEMALE PILLS are alone the certain pancacea for the the troubles incident to female disorganization; they alone correcting all painful menstruation, assuaging palpitation of the heart, disturbed sleep, pain in the side, and causing health and happiness to whole sex; more especially to the anxious matron, a blessing to be greeted to bring on the monthly period with regularity.—AND WHEREAS, these PILLS are purely vegetable and entirely free from minerals, therefore perfectly safe in the management and effect, unlike other medicines thrust upon the public, purporting to effect the objects already detailed. THEREFORE, BE IT KNOWN that the same PILLS of Dr. CHESEMAN will accomplish the desired object, when DISAPPOINTMENT has been experienced under the regime of OTHER PILLS; and the Ladies will cease this Proclamation to spread amongst them, to their own everlasting benefit—always promising that said Proclamation in one case must be considered, and vote; that is to say the PILLS MUST NOT be taken when any female is in an INTERESTING SITUATION, otherwise a MISCARRIAGE will be the inevitable result.

Explicit directions, to be carefully read, accompany each box. Price $1. Sent by mail on enclosing $1 to Dr. Cheesman L. Cheseman, Box No. 4561, Post Office, New York City. Sold by Druggists in every town in the United States.

S. D. & H. W. Smith,

—MANUFACTURERS OF—

Melodeons, Organ Melodeons,

—and—

PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

No. 511 Washington St., Boston,

The first premium over all competitors, at the Fair of the Mass Charitable Mechanic Association, of the National Fair, Washington, D. C., also at the Ohio State Fair, held at Columbus, Ohio, was awarded to these Manufacturers.

By means of a new method of Voicing, known only to themselves, they have succeeded in removing the harsh and buzzing sound which formerly characterized the instrument, and rendering the tones full, clear and organ like. The action is prompt, and reliable, enabling the performer to execute the most rapid music without jarring the tones. The swell is arranged to give great expression.

THE PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

Are designed particularly for Churches, Lodges, Halls, &c. It is arranged with two manuals, or banks of Keys, the lower set running an octave higher than the other, and may be used separately, or coupled, one case two distinct instruments; or by use of the coupler, the two banks of keys may be played at the same time by use of the front set only. This connected with the Pedal Bass, will produce the effect of a large organ, and is sufficiently heavy to fill a house that seats from 1000 to 1500 persons.

THE ORGAN MELODEON

Is designed for parlor and private use. The construction is similar to the Church Instrument, being arranged with two banks of Keys, and when used together, by means of the coupler, is capable of as great volume of power as the Church Instrument when used without the pedals. Also, every variety of MELODEONS for Parlor use.

Purchasers may rely upon instruments from our Manufactory, being made in the most complete and thorough manner. Having removed to the above building

511 Washington Street,

We have every facility for manufacturing purposes, and employ none but the most experienced and skilful workmen. In short, we will promise our customers an instrument equal, if not superior to any in the country, and guarantee an entire and perfect satisfaction.

Music Teachers, Leaders of Choirs, and others interested in musical matters, are respectfully invited to visit our Rooms at any time, and examine or test the instruments on exhibition for sale at their pleasure.

We still further guarantee to the public as to the excellence of the MELODEONS from our Manufactory, we beg leave to refer, by permission, to the following

Piano Forte Manufacturers of Boston,

who have examined our Instruments, and will give their opinion when called upon:

Chickering & Sons, Hallett & Cumston,
T. Gilbert & Co., Wm. P. Emerson,
Brown & Allen, A. W. Ladd & Co.,
George Hewes, Woodward & Brown,
Newhall & Co.

MELODEONS TO RENTED.

Persons who wish to hire Melodeons with a view of purchasing at the end of the year, can have the rent credited as part payment of the purchase money. This is a very worthy consideration, as it enables those who desire a fair test of the instruments before purchasing, to obtain it at the expense of the manufacturers, to the extent at least of a year's rent.

Orders from any part of the country or world, sent direct to the manufactory in Boston, with cash, or satisfactory references, will be promptly attended to, and as faithfully executed as if the parties were present, or employed an agent to select, and on as reasonable terms.

PRIVILEGES OF CONGRESS.

The following article, which we copy by request from the Boston Courier, deserves especial heed, as written, not by a political partizan, but by a lawyer of eminence, who has long occupied a position second to that of no member of the Boston bar, as an expert in all question of constitutional construction and law.

The House of Representatives of the thirty-fifth Congress has undertaken to inquire whether any member or members of the House of Representatives, of the thirty-fourth Congress, was or were induced by bribery to vote for the Tariff Act passed by the thirty-fourth Congress. In other words, the present House of Representatives have undertaken to inquire as to the existence of any breach of the privileges of a former House of Representatives.

The inquiry is "ultra vires" and should not have been instituted; it is an excess of jurisdiction.

The House of Representatives, by implication, ex necessitate, has power to preserve order during its sessions, to protect itself from contempt of its authority. This power extends to its members and to persons not members, who may attempt to interfere or interrupt its deliberations. It has power to preserve its own purity; this power authorizes an inquiry whether any member of the House which directs an inquiry to be made, has acted corruptly in the performance of the trusts or official duties with which such member has been entrusted, as one of the representatives and as a member of such House. It does not authorize the House of Representatives of one Congress to inquire whether one of its members had been, as a member of some former Congress or of some State Legislature, guilty of Corruption in discharge of the trusts with which he was charged as a member of such former body.

Either branch of Congress may inquire whether a person who asserts himself a member, has the qualifications which the law requires, such as inhabitancy, &c., to render him eligible, and whether he has been elected in the manner prescribed by law; either branch can inquire as to the personal qualifications or fitness of a person duly elected.

The several branches of Congress are clothed with certain privileges, some for performing the functions of Congress, others are merely personal, such as freedom from arrest by a creditor. Both classes of these privileges are conferred, and exist, only on grounds of public policy. All of the privileges of either House must be ultimately referred to the same source, "the effective discharge of those duties which by the Constitution are cast upon it."

The House of Representatives, under its general authority, can only commit, in the case of contempt, until the close of the existing session during which the contempt was committed; the limitation upon the power to commit, is as well known and established as is the privilege to commit. These principles are recognized in England is applicable to the privileges of the House of Commons. They have been established with masterly ability within the last twenty years, and after many struggles between the commons and the people of England.—The same principles have been established by the Supreme Court of the United States, They are applicable to the systems of government which exist in the United States more clearly and distinctly than they can be to the English system of government.

The Supreme Court of the United States has said, speaking of the authority of the House of Representatives, "The power to institute a prosecution must be dependent upon the power to punish. If the House of Representatives possess no authority to punish for contempt, it cannot issue the initiatory process of arrest against a party supposed to have been guilty; in such case there would be a want of jurisdiction."

The Court asks, "What is the extent of the punishing power which the deliberative assemblies of the Union may assume and exercise on the principle of self-preservation?"

Analogy, and the nature of the case, furnish the answer: "The least possible power adequate to the end proposed—which is the power of imprisonment. And even to the duration of imprisonment, a period is imposed by the nature of things, since the existence of the power that imprisons is indispensable to its continuance; and although the legislative power continues perpetual, the legislative body ceases to exists on the moment of its adjournment or periodical dissolution.

"It follows that imprisonment must terminate with that adjournment. This view of the subject necessarily sets bounds to the exercise of a caprice which has sometimes disgraced deliberative assemblies, when under the influence of strong passions or wicked leaders."

In illustration of these principles, suppose an individual is committed by the House of Representatives for a contempt, the day before its adjournment of a session or of its dissolution,—can the House at next session—can the House of a subsequent Congress, rightfully continue the committal? Clearly not. This must be conceded upon undoubted principles of parliamentary law.

Each branch of Congress has equal power of self-preservation, co-existing and co-extensive with the exigency which give the power. The House of Representative cannot inquire by Committee or otherwise, whether a member of the Senate has acted corruptly in discharge of his official trusts, or whether any attempt to solicit his official integrity has been made. If the House should propose such an inquiry and summon persons before it, with intent to examine them, they might, and should, decline to answer.

It cannot be urged with propriety, that either House or Congress can authorize any person to commit with impunity a known and undoubted breach of the law, such as an assault by one person upon another.

Neither branch of Congress can declare itself a Court of Judicature for the trial of causes between litigant parties; or establish itself as a Court of Criminal Jurisprudence.

Can the House of Representatives of any particular Congress, inquire at its second session, whether any of its members had acted corruptly at its first session? Undoubtedly, such inquiry may, in the case supposed, be made, independent of the constitutional provision which authorizes the expulsion of a member; such power is essential to a maintenance of its purity and official integrity, and comes within the principles upon which all of its privileges repose. This is unlike the case of a contempt, because in the case of the corruption of a member of the House of a particular Congress, the danger and impurity continues so long as the member continues; but not so in the case of a mere contemp. It is altogether another and different question, whether the House of Representatives of one Congress can undertake to inquire as to the corruptions practised by or attempted upon members of a prior Congress.

The House of Representatives of the thirty-fifth Congress is in no manner impeded in its action, or rendered corrupt by any supposed corruption practised upon the members of a former house of Representatives.

The House of Representatives cannot expel a member from a House which has ceased to exist. The expulsion of a member does not, in contemplation of law, render him incompetent to an election to a subsequent Congress, and as a consequence, a member cannot be expelled by one House for official corruption as a member of a former House.

The distinction thus made between the powers of the House of different Congresses, may not in all cases be applied to the Senate, because its members are elected for six years: it may therefore be urged that the Senate may inquire into the corruption of one of its members, occurring at any time during the six years for which he is elected, and, upon proper grounds, expel him. Our system being in some particulars, diverse from any other, it follows that a diversity of action must or may exist corresponding thereto.

These must be met, however, upon well established parliamentary principles of liberty, and of right, upon which and under which, all public trusts are to be exercised. Neither branch of Congress can inquire as to the private or official integrity of one of its members, evidenced or deduced from the conduct of such member prior to the immediate election, by which he is a member. REMOVAL.
UNITED STATES AND FOREIGN
PATENT AGENCY.
SAMUEL COOPER,
Late Principal Examiner of Patents in the United States Patent Office, at Washington,
HAS REMOVED HIS OFFICE TO
WEBSTER BANK BUILDING,
13 EXCHANGE STREET, BOSTON.
PATENTS secured in the United States, and in all other patent granting countries. Specifications and drawings prepared. Caveats filed—Reconsiderations procured, of applications that have been rejected upon imperfectly prepared papers. Interferences prosecuted. Reissues and extensions procured, and in general, all business connected with the Patent Office transacted with care and promptness.
British and other foreign patents procured through prompt and confidential agents in London and Paris.
Persons residing at a distance may obtain all necessary information, and have their business transacted, by writing to the subscriber, without the trouble and expense of a visit to Washington.
He begs leave to refer those unacquainted with him to the following testimonials:—
From Hon. Chas. Mason, Commissioner of Patents.
U. S. PATENT OFFICE, Feb 23, 1855.
I take great pleasure in stating that during the time I have been acting as Commissioner of Patents, Samuel Cooper, Esq., of Boston, has been engaged as solicitor, and has been in that capacity extensive correspondence and intercourse with the office; he has evinced a thorough acquaintance with the Patent Law, and with the rules and practice of the office, a close attention to the interests of his clients, and a marked candor and courtesy that has rendered the transaction of business with him a pleasure. I have no hesitation in stating that I regard him as one of the very best agents for the transaction of business with this office with whom I am acquainted.
From the Examiners of the Patent Office.
The undersigned, Principal and Assistant Examiners in the United States Patent Office, have for several years been well acquainted, with Mr. Samuel Cooper, late a principal Examiner in this office, and take pleasure in stating that he is a gentleman of the highest moral character, of unquestioned knowledge in the business and practice of the office, and that his scientific attainments are such as eminently fit him for the business in which he is about to engage.
HENRY B. RENWICK, L. D. GALE, } Principal Examiners.
S. H. LANE, T. R. PEALE, THOS. T. EVERETT, F. SOUDERGATE SMITH, WM. C. LANGDON, } Assistant Examiners.
From long acquaintance and intimate official relations with Mr. Cooper, I fully and heartily concur in the foregoing recommendation made by my late colleagues. W. P. N. FITZGERALD,

Coggswell's Medical Salt,
A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE
FOR THE
LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.
INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—but but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: SUDDUES INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. It is stated, how it does this!—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a spud, dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.

THE POTATO INSECT.

In the vegetable kingdom, but few, if any plants are not, at times, infested by a fly or insect. It is, therefore, a rational belief that the potato rot has been caused by a fly or insect, which feeds upon the potato vine. By close inspection, they may be seen upon the vines,—they deposit their eggs underneath the leaves—from the eggs come maggots, which perforate the stalks, and increase in size in the pith of the stalk. The stalks, thus peforated, wilt some, in a warm sun. The fly or insect feeds upon the leaves, which are thereby greatly injured. We believe that the maggot in the stalk poisons the potato sap. If so, there can be no doubt in respect to the cause of rot; for there is a circulation of the sap between the tubers and the tops, as in all other plants and vegetables.

We shall not examine the numerous absurd theories in respect to the cause of the rot;—among these, one is that poison is communicated from the atmosphere or soil. Our purpose is to point out the remedy. Some farmers have applied lime or sulphur at the time of planting, or prior to the first hoeing. This affords no remedy against the ravages of the insect, although it may be a little benefit. It is agreed among judicious farmers generally, that fresh barn-yard manure, or manures not decomposed, are injurious to the potato crop, if applied at planting-time. The reason may be that the odor of fresh manures attracts the fly or insect. There can be no objection to a rich or fertile soil, but it should be made so the year previous to planting the potato. The theory, which for six or seven years we have reduced to practise, to prevent the rot, is, at the time of the first hoeing and before hilling up, to sprinkle over the top of each hill about a gill of slacked, well pulverized lime. A composition of ground salt, ashes, and lime, which we have once used, we think is preferable to lime only. The gas, or odor of the lime drives away the insects. In gardens, for the same purpose, slacked lime on plants proves to be very beneficial. This theory we published a number of years since. Another person published the same, in substance, in Ohio, as a discovery of the remedy against the rot. A farmer in Massachusetts claimed the reward offered by the Legislature, for the same discovery.

In the Fall of the year, some of the tubers will be found in digging, in contact with the lime—for, after hilling up, new roots will shoot out nearer the surface, at every time of hoeing or hilling up. It is therefore, questionable whether potatoes should be hilled up more than once. But the soil should be kept free from weeds. Corn-plants should never be hilled up, except about an inch at the first hoeing. The corn-stalk will be more firmly braced by nature than by the hoe. We cannot be certain that lime, at all seasons, will prevent the potato rot. We only know that while the potatoes of others, in neighboring fields have rotted, ours sprinkled over with lime have not; but lime will not prevent the rust. Some farmers judiciously recommend planting potatoes very early or else late. It may be that by so doing they escape the ravages of the fly or insect, which appears in the intermediate season. In the Fall, when potatoes in any degree affected by the rot, are put into the cellar, (they should be well dried), it is recommended by some to sprinkle them over with slacked lime. This prevents the diffusion of the noxious effluvia through the heap. The lime neutralizes the acid gas.

C.

☞ The President is negotiating with Gen. Hiram Walbridge for the use of his beautiful villa of Ingleside, about a mile from Washington, during the hot season. The point of difference between the landlord and the President is a singular one—Gen. Walbridge objects to the receipt of rent, while Mr. Buchanan positively and properly objects to taking the property unless at a fair yearly rent. The correct views of the President will doubtless prevail.

☞ The Peninsula Hotel, on an island in Toronto harbor, was washed away during a severe gale on Monday evening—the water sweeping completely over a large section of the island, and making a permanent eastern entrance to the harbor, some 500 yards wide. The hotel was owned by Mr. Quinn, who is a heavy loser by the casualty.

☞ The Unitarian Sabbath Schools in Boston held a meeting on Thursday. The Unitarians have 21 schools, in which are 580 teachers and 3467 pupils.

Boston Court, Saturday.—Louis H. and John Phillips, the alleged coffee swindlers, were arraigned and held to bail. One of them says he is an honest trader.

Patrick Brannon and Frederick Bird were sentenced to six months each in the House of Correction, as idle and disorderly persons, but appealed, and were held in $500 each for trial.

Sentences—Joanna Cotter, maintaining a common nuisance by the illegal sale of intoxicating liquor, fined $50 without costs.

Murtagh Williams, same offence, and same sentence.

Joseph Duffy, robbing Charles H. Bryant on the 10th ult. on Tremont, above Dover street, of a gold watch, gold chain, seal, and about $50 in bills,—eleven years hard labor in State Prison, four days of which to be in solitary confinement.

Thomas Skelly, maintaining a common nuisance by the illegal sale and keeping of intoxicating liquors, fined $50 and costs, amounting in all to about $115.

The Boston Journal mentions that in sentencing the nuisance men, Judge Nash stated that in cases of the first conviction of parties maintaining common nuisances, by the illegal keeping and sale of intoxicating liquors, fines of from $50 to $100 each would be imposed; but that in cases of second conviction, the sentences would be much more severe, and probably to the full extent of the law.

☞ Gov. Robinson of Kansas arrived at Fitchburg, Mass., the place of his former residence, on Tuesday, and has passed through Worcester on his return westward. Mr. Robinson says the Free State men of Kansas are prepared to fight in defense of their rights, and will never submit to the enforcement of Lecompton as the organic law of the State.

☞ The venerable Rembrandt Peale and wife are still in Washington, where his famous equestrian portrait of Washington attracts numerous visitors to the rotunda of the Capitol. He desires to sell it to government, but the prospect of doing so is said not to be very good. The price asked is $10,000—the same amount that was paid for each of those now in the rotunda.

A Double Bite.—The Peterborough, N. H., Transcript says that Dr. Jonas Clark of that town, a few days since, caught in the Contoocook river, through the ice, two pickerel at one haul. He baited with the sinew of an ox's leg. A small pickerel caught it first, and, in swallowing the bait, it slipped through the gills, when a larger pickerel seized it, and strung the small one safely on the line. The larger weighed two pounds, and the smaller one a pound a half. The doctor is, no doubt, a good fisherman, but he will hardly be able to do that thing again.

☞ A miser was taken to the New York Hospital, last Friday, in a prostrate state, caused by denying himself the necessaries of life. He had abundant means and spacious apartments, which were, however, entirely devoid of furniture. He died shortly after entering the hospital.

☞ Rev. Dudley A. Tyng had one of his arms shockingly lacerated in a corn-shelling machine, near Philadelphia on Tuesday, while he was looking at it in his dressing gown. He came near bleeding to death.

Personal.—The injured arm of Rev. Dudley A. Tyng, of Philadelphia, was amputated on Saturday as the only means of saving his life, symptoms of mortification having appeared. The arm was taken off close to the shoulder joint, the patient being under the influence of chloroform.

"The Truth," a Temperance paper, by Vickers & May, Boston. The first number of a paper bearing the above title, filled with a good selection of temperance and miscellaneous matter, is received. It is printed in quarto form and makes a very handsome appearance.

☞ In Providence, R. I., in the First Baptist Church, among the converts, it is said, are ten prominent lawyers. The reader will please remember that the Baptist Church is the leading denomination and is deemed the most genteel in Rhode Island.

☞ The appointment, in Boston, by Gov. Banks, of Robert B. Forbes, Esq., to the office of Pilot Commissioner, is a compliment richly deserved by a gentleman whose interest in navigation and everything connected therewith is unflagging.

☞ Capt. Thomas Jefferson Pierce, a native of Georgia, 43 years of age, was washed overboard from sch. Amelia on the 27th ult., 43 hours from Newburyport.

Sitting in Public Prayer.—Is it not now a favorable time to correct the practice that has obtained among us within a few years of, sitting in public prayer? The Boston Puritan Recorder says,—

There is one important reformation, which the revival here has not as yet, so far as we can see, originated. And that is in reference to the habit of sitting in public prayer. We would commend this to the attention of those whom it more especially concerns. Now when the public conscience is quickened, is a good time to break up that custom.

The Trumpet says:—

We would suggest to Universalist congregations, the practice of standing or kneeling in time of prayer. To our feelings, kneeling is much the most congenial.

Stampedes.—Looking over an article signed Traveller, in relation to stampedes, I remember that stampedes grow out of different causes. Sometimes the cause may by fright; at other times, in case of excessive drought, you will see large droves of buffaloes driving at the full extent of their power over the parched plain, in search of water. When several thousand of these animals congregate together for this purpose, it is a great sight to see such noble animals, possessing so much of instinct, placed in them by their creator, to know where to find such a supply for their great want.

Una.

☞ The communication in the Daily Chronicle of Monday, on "Running when a Visitor calls," was written for our Weekly paper several days since, by a gentleman living at a distance from the city.

Tom Marshall a Convert.—The Cincinnati Commercial says:—"The Hon. Thomas F. Marshall delivered a lecture in Smith & Nixon's Hall, Saturday night, upon Total Abstinence. It was a splendid oratoric effort, rebounding in eloquent and thrilling passages, and it was convincing and powerful. Mr. Marshall has recently become a zealous advocate of Temperance, and we learn is a recent convert to Christianity."

☞ A recent statement of the Methodist Book Concern, in New York and Cincinnati, shows their resources to be about $700,000. The profits during the past year were $66,299, making a deduction of 33 per cent. for bad debts.

A Master to be Hanged for the Murder of his Slave.—The Savannah News states that Green Jordan, who has been tried on a charge of whipping a negro to death, has been convicted of murder, and sentenced to be hung on the 7th of May.

Sinking of a Steamer—Loss of Eight Lives.—On Monday afternoon, 12th inst., the steamer Venture, plying on the Ohio river between Portsmouth and Pomeroy, was sunk opposite Gallipolis by a gale of wind, and eight of her crew were drowned. The passengers were all saved. The boat and cargo were valued at $7000.

☞ The St. Louis Republican has the following brief allusion to a fatal hurricane at Bentonville, Ark.:

On the 27th March a dreadful hurricane passed over the place, by which nearly every house in the town was blown down, and twenty-five lives were lost. The wounded could be heard for 21 hours after the storm, under the ruins of the buildings, where they suffered the most intense agony.

☞ William Cullen Bryant, editor of the Evening Post, has been elected Regent of the State University, by the Legislature of New York.

☞ Wm. Burnett, a drunken man, killed his own sister, Sarah Burnett, last week, in Rutherford county, Tenn., by striking her with a club.

☞ Ex-Governor Matteson, of Chicago, has commissioned Mr. L. W. Volk, the sculptor, to execute for his residence a life-size statue of Judge Douglas, in marble.

☞ Mrs. Shewell fell dead, of disease of the heart, while dancing the "Lancers' Quadrille," at a ball in Philadelphia, at 1 o'clock on Thursday morning.

☞ A monument in honor of Perry's victory on Lake Erie is about to be erected at Cleveland, Ohio, at a cost of $6000.

Army Intelligence.—Washington, Apr. 17.—Gen. Smith is appointed to the command of the department of Utah, and Brigadiers General Harney and Johnston to command according to their brevet ranks. Col Lee succeeds to the command of the department of the West. Col. and Inspector Gen. Mansfield is relieved from the duty of inspecting recruits, and this duty will devolve on Lieut. J. E. Johnston.—The greater portion of the troops destined for Utah will be concentrated at Fort Leavenworth, to be ready to leave on the arrival of Gen. Smith. The head-quarters of the Second Infantry is transferred to St. Louis.

GIBBS' NEW PATENT SEWING MACHINES, Price $15.

JUST RECEIVED AND FOR SALE AT CHAS. T. EMERY'S, No. 10 Market Square. Where it may be seen in operation.

THIS machine is warranted to do all the work of a $100 machine—not liable to get out of order—and so simple in its construction that a child of ten years can work it. The needles will never break as they will on other machines. I will warrant to keep it in order for a year, for 25 cts. It will also work by the turning of the wheel either forward or backward—so that it is not liable to get out of order.

It is also small in size—not over 5 by 10 inches; can be worked with or without a table. In fact, IT IS THE VERY BEST MACHINE that has yet been invented, and it only wants to be seen to be appreciated.

Call and see it, and I will satisfy you of what I have here advertised.

A person can learn all about it and how to run it in 10 minutes. mch 31

HOW TRUE IT IS!

There are a couple of old proverbs that it would be well for us all to keep in mind. One is, "A stitch in time saves nine;" and another, "An ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure." We all, in theory, acknowledge the truth of these proverbs, yet the practice of the most of us gives them the lie. Myers' Extract of Rock Rose, as a preventative of all those diseases arising from impure blood and viscid humors, is acknowledged to be superior to anything in Materia Medica. It purifies the blood, strengthens the digestive organs and invigorates the constitution.

BUY AND TRY IT!!

SMITH'S CURATIVE CLEANSING COMPOUND which has been sold extensively in Portsmouth and vicinity, for a few weeks past, by the proprietor, for the cure of pains, &c., may be had of Wm. R. A CARD TO THE LADIES.

DR. DUPONCO'S French Periodical Golden Pills, FOR FEMALES;

Infallible in Removing Stoppages or Irregularity of the Menses.

THESE Pills are nothing now, but have been used by the Doctor for many years, both in France and America, with unparalled success in every case; and he is urged by many thousand ladies who have used them, to make the Pills public, for the alleviation of those suffering from any irregularities whatever, as well as to prevent pregnancy in those ladies whose health will not permit an increase of family. Pregnant females or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using these Pills while pregnant, as the proprietor assumes no responsibility after the above admonition, although their mildness would prevent any mischief to health; otherwise these Pills are recommended. Full and explicit directions accompany each box.

Price $1. Sold in Portsmouth by JOSEPH S. THATCHER, in Dover by Chas. A. Tufts, Exeter by C. A. Merrill, and in Newmarket by J. A. Prendergast. They will supply dealers at the Proprietor's prices, and also send the Pills to the Ladies (confidentially) by mail to any part of the city or country, on receipt of $1 through the Post Office.

N. B.—Ladies will be particular in asking for Dr. Duponco's Golden Pills. Observe the signature J. Duponco is upon each box. You will then obtain a Pill you can rely upon.

J. DUPONCO, Proprietor. 1yap18 Address Broadway P. O., New York.

The Great English Remedy.

SIR JAMES CLARKE'S Celebrated Female Pills.

Prepared from a prescription of Sir Jas. Clarke M.D., Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

THIS invaluable Medicine is unfailing in the cure of all those painful diseases incident to females. It moderates all excess, removes all obstructions, and a speedy cure may be relied on.

TO MARRIED LADIES

It is peculiarly suited. It will, in a short time, bring on the monthly period with regularity.

Each bottle, Price One Dollar, has the Government Stamp of Great Britain, to prevent counterfeits.

CAUTION.

These Pills should not be taken by females that are pregnant, during the FIRST THREE MONTHS, as they are sure to bring on Miscarriage, but at every other time and in every other case they are perfectly safe.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics, and Whites, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed, and although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or any thing hurtful to the constitution.

Full directions accompany each package.

Sole Agent for the United States and Canada JOB MOSES, (late I. C. BALWDIN & CO.,) Rochester, N. Y.

N. B.—$1 and 6 postage stamps enclosed to any authorized Agent, will insure a bottle of the Pills by return mail.

For sale, wholesale and retail, by W. R. PRESTON, Portsmouth, and by Druggists in every town in the United States.

LOCAL.

For the Chronicle.

MAY DAY.—We hear some talk of celebrating May Day in this city, this year. The plan is to do as they do in Concord and other places—have a grand Cavalcade of ladies and gentlemen in the morning, with music; and let all on foot or horseback meet in the woods for a social picnic, and gather flowers, &c. Of course all the schools must be closed to give the children a chance to go. We hope something of the kind will be done. Let us get the Band out, and have a good time generally.
HOLIDAY.

UNSEASONABLE CALLER.—About 2 o'clock on Sunday morning, Miss Rebecca Hardy, who resides at the corner of Hanover and High streets, was awakened by a knocking at the front door. Looking out she discovered an Irishman who appeared to be intoxicated, and who asked for matches. There being no male person in the house, she was startled at the nature of the request, and shut the window, hoping by so doing to induce Pat to leave. But, alas for the mutability of things here below, the lady had hardly recovered from the first shock when the visitor appeared at an end door and repeated his request. Several times Pat journeyed from one door to the other, until the persecuted inmates began to fear 't was

"Monsieur Tonson come again."

MEETINGS THIS EVENING, &c.

Union Prayer Meeting in the Hanover Street Chapel, from 8 to 9 o'clock this morning, to which all are invited.

Prayer Meeting in the vestry of the Methodist Church, this evening, beginning at 7 1-2 o'clock.

Prayer and Conference meeting at the Vestry in the Temple, this evening at half past 7 o'clock.

Prayer Meeting this evening at the Free Will Baptist Church at half past 7. All are invited to attend.

☞ We understand that more than half the pews in the new Freewill Baptist Church in this city, were sold at the late auction there; and that the remainder are readily rented. This shows two things, viz., that the house was wanted, and that it was not too large. It is very well located and was built at a favorable time. The society should now go on and prosper.

☞ Rev. Mr. Patterson resumed his pulpit labors in the Universalist Church on Sunday morning, when he preached from Psalms 85:6,—taking a very favorable view of the present revival in this land, and considering the nature, causes, and progress of the work, and the duty of churches, ministers and christians in relation to it. A very large audience gave strict attention.

☞ Rev. H. D. Moore, of Portland, preached at the Middle street Baptist Church, on Sunday last,—day and evening,—to very large audiences. Rev. Dr. Lamson, the pastor, has not sufficiently recovered his health to resume his ministerial duties.

☞ The prayer meeting on Sunday morning filled the floor of the Methodist Church, and there were many persons in the gallery. On Monday morning, there was a good attendance at the Hanover Street Chapel.

☞ The deliciously-fragrant Trailing Arbutus, or May-flower, has come to our woods, and lovers of nature are searching for it daily. We gathered a few sprigs, beautifully pink, at Sagamore, on Saturday; and are indebted to our friends Albert Laighton and G. M. Goodrich for a fine bunch, entirely white, intermixed with wintergreen, gathered in Rye. It is not very plentiful about here, and many are entirely unacquainted with it.

LONG TENANCY.—A gentleman who removed from this city about a week since, had occupied the same house, as a tenant, for twenty-six and a half years!

☞ Maj. Coburn, mine host of the Rockingham House, has just added to his establishment a number of Hot and Cold Baths, a luxury of which our citizens have long been deprived.

METHODIST CONFERENCE. — New York, 18th.—In the Methodist Conference yesterday, the anti-slavery resolutions were discussed by Rev. Mr. Hatfield and Rev. Dr. Brooks for, and Rev. Heman Bangs against them. The latter contended the church had nothing to do with the question; he thought slavery might exist on philanthropic grounds without sin, and quoted St. Paul as recognizing the institution.

☞ The resources of the Wesleyan University, Middletown, Conn., are about $200,000, with an indebtedness $18,000.

CONGRESS.—On Saturday, April 17, the Pacific Railroad bill was discussed, and Mr. Benjamin's motion to postpone the subject till December was carried by yeas 25.

Nays — Messrs. Allen, Bell, Bigler, Bright, Broderick, Chandler, Doolittle, Douglas, Fitch, Foote, Green, Gwin, Henderson, Kennedy, King, Polk, Pugh, Seward, Simmons, Stuart, Trumbull, and Wright, 22. Absent—Bates, Cameron, Crittenden, Durkee, Foster, Hamlin, Harlan, Mallory, Reid, Sumner, Thompson of Ky., Toombs, Yulee.

We infer, then, that Messrs. Hale and Clark of New Hampshire voted for the postponement.

In the House the greater part of the session was consumed in the consideration of private bills. The bill to refund the duties on merchandise in unbroken and original packages destroyed by the fire in New York, in July, 1845, and appropriating $300,000 for that purpose, was advocated by John Cochrane of New York, and opposed by Messrs. Clemens of Va., and Stanton of Ohio. Without coming to a conclusion hereon, the House adjourned.

WASHINGTON NEWS.—New York, April 19.—The meeting of the Conference Committee on Saturday resulted only in obtaining from the Senate side the promise of offering a plan of compromise. Mr. English of the House said they would await propositions from the Senate, but unless something was offered on Monday, they would report their inability to agree. In this contingency it is the intention of the Senate to ask another Committee.

WASHINGTON, April 19.—The Committee of Conference met this morning

Mr. Green, in behalf of the Senate, submitted proposed modifications of the Senate bill, none of which proved acceptable to the House Committee.

Propositions were solicited from the House Committee.

Mr. English responded that at the next meeting he would submit a new bill, proposing a substitute for the Lecompton ordinance, to be referred to a fair vote of the people of Kansas at an early day. If the majority vote for it, Kansas is to come into the Union at once.

DEATH OF THE VICE PRESIDENT.—We learn from the office of the Union Telegraph Company that intelligence received this forenoon from Washington announces the death of the Hon. John C. Breckinridge, Vice President of the United States. Particulars have not come to hand.

Mr. Breckenridge left Washington recently on account of the sickness of his wife, and it may be that her death has given rise to the above report. We have seen no previous intimations of ill health on the part of the Vice President, and we trust the report will prove to be unfounded.—Boston Journal.

P. S. A later dispatch contradicts the report.

THE UTAH EXPEDITION.—St. Louis, Apr. 17.—The Republican states that an express messenger passed through this city two weeks ago with instructions to Gen. Johnston not to commence offensive operations before the arrival of the Peace Commissioners. Secretary Hartnett arrived here yesterday, and will leave for Utah about the 25th inst.

SCHOOL GIRLS.—I do not know of a more quietly funny sight than a group of school girls, all talking as fast as their tongues can wag (40 woman power) and clinging inextricably together like a parcel of macaroni, a la Napolitaine. Their independence is quite refreshing. Lady Blessington in her diamonds never descended the grand staircase at Covent Garden Opera House to her carriage with half the consciousness of making a sensation, that you may notice in these school-girls whenever you take your walks abroad. It is delightful to see them step off so proudly, and look you in the face so coolly, thinking all the time of just nothing at all.—Their boldness is the boldness of innocence; for perfect modesty does not even know how to blush. How vain they grow as they advance in their teens! How careful they are that the crinoline "sticks out" properly before they venture on the road to school! If Mother Goose (of blessed memory) could take a look into this world now, she would wish to revise her ancient rhyme to her patrons:

"Come with a whoop—come with a call," &c, for she would find that it is now the custom to come with a hoop when they come for a call.—Sat. Eve. Gaz. m31

Blood's Seedling Grape Vines, For Sale.

TWO varieties of Blood's Seedling GRAPE Vines, which have been tested by the subscriber for 13 years, and found superior to any other cultivated in the open air in this part of the country. This Grape is larger than the Isabella, and ripens in our climate about a weeks earlier. For several successive years it has been fully ripe the first week in September, and thus has escaped the early frosts which have in some seasons, cut off the Isabel's and other varieties.

Wolfe's Celebrated Scheidam Aromatic

SCHNAPPS.

This medicinal beverage is manufactured by the proprietor, at Scheidam, Holland, expressly for medicinal use, by a process peculiar to his own Factory. It is the pure Tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, whose more vinous extract is distilled and rectified with its spirituous solvent, which thus becomes a concentrated tincture of exquisite flavor and aroma, altogether, transcendant in its cordial and medicinal properties to any alcoholic stimulant now made in the world. It is now prescribed by more than 5,000 physicians in the United States, in cases of Gravel, Gout, Dropsy, and Bladder and Kidney Complaints.

Put up in Quart and Pint Bottles, in cases of one dozen qts., and cases of two dozen pts., and for sale by all Druggists and Country Merchants.

THE VOICE OF SPRING.

I come, I come! ye have called me long,
I come o'er the mountains with light and song,
Ye may trace my step o'er the wakening earth,
By the winds which tell of the Violet's birth,
By the primrose stars in the shadowy grass,
By the green leaves opening as I pass.

From the streams and founts I have loosed the chain;
They are sweeping on to the silvery main,
They are flashing down from the mountain-brows,
They are flinging spray on the forest-boughs,
They are bursting fresh from their sparry caves,
And the Earth resounds with the joy of waves.

Come forth, O ye children of gladness, come!
Where the violets lie may now be your home,
Ye of the rose-cheek and dew-bright eye,
And the bounding footstep, to meet me fly;
With the lyre, and the wreath, and the joyous lay,
Come forth to the sunshine, I may not stay.
—[Mrs. Hemans.

MIDNIGHT.

The stars are forth, the moon above the tops
Of the snow-shining mountains. Beautiful!
I linger yet with Nature, for the night
Hath been to me a more familiar face
Than that of man; and in her starry shade
Of dim and solitary loveliness,
I learned the language of another world.
—[Byron.

Music, when soft voices die,
Vibrates in the memory—
Odours, when sweet violets sicken,
Live within the sense they quicken.

Rose leaves, when the rose is dead,
Are heaped for the beloved's bed;
And so thy thoughts, when thou art gone,
Love itself shall slumber on.—[Shelly.

The following remedies are offered to the public as the best, most perfect, which medical science can afford. AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS have been prepared with the utmost skill which the medical profession of this age possesses, and their effects show they have virtues which surpass any combination of medicines hitherto known. Other preparations do more or less good, but this cures such dangerous complaints, so quick and so surely, as to prove its efficacy and a power to uproot disease beyond any thing which men have known before. By removing the obstructions of the internal organs and stimulating them into healthy action, they remove the fountains of life and vigor,—health courses anew through the body, and the sick man is well again. They are adapted to disease, and disease only, for when taken by one in health they produce but little effect. This is the perfection of medicine. It is antagonistic to disease, and no more. Tender children may take them with impunity. If they are sick they will cure them, if they are well they will do them no harm.

Give them to some patient who has been prostrated with bilious complaint: see his brow, tottering form straighten with strength again; see his long-lost appetite return; see his clammy features bloom into health. Give them to some sufferer whose foul blood has burst out in scrofula till his skin is covered with sores; see the stande, or sine, or lies in anguish. He has been drenched inside and out with every potion which ingenuity could suggest. Give him these PILLS, and mark the effect; see the scabs fall from his body; see the new, fair skin that has grown up in them; see the healthy hue that is clean. Give them to him whose angry humors have planted rheumatism in his joints and bones; move him, and he screeches with pain; he too has been soaked through every muscle of his body with liniments, lotions, etc.; give him these PILLS to purify his blood; they may not cure him, for, alas! there are cases which no mortal power can reach; but mark, he walks with crutches now, and now he walks alone; they have cured him. Give them to the lean, sour, haggard dyspeptic, whose gaunt stomach, and yellow skin, and sunken smile from his face and every muscle from his body. See his appetite return, and with it his health; see the new man. See her that was radiant with health and loveliness blasted and too early withering away; want of exercise, or confinement, or some lurking disease, has deranged the internal organs of digestion, assimilation or secretion, till they do their office ill. Her blood is vitiated, her health is gone. Give her these PILLS to stimulate the vital principle into healthy action, to root out the obstructions, and infuse a new vitality into the blood. Now look again—the roses blossom on her cheek, and where lately sorrow cut yet burrs from every feature. See the sweet infant wasted with worms. Its sunken, sickly features speak you without disguise, and painfully distinct, that they are wasting its life away. Its pinched-up nose and ears, and restless sleepings, tell the dreadful truth in language which every mother knows. Give it the PILLS in large doses; sweep these vile parasites from the body. Now turn again and see the ruddy bloom of childhood. Is it nothing to do these things? Nay, are they not the marvel of this age? And yet they are done around you every day.

Have you the less serious symptoms of these disturbances, they are the easiest cured. Jaundice, Costiveness, Headache, Sideache, Heartburn, Foul Stomach, Nausea, Pain in the Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, King's Evil, Neuralgia, Gout, and kindred complaints all arise from the derangements which these PILLS rapidly cure. Take them perseveringly, and under the counsel of a good Physician if you can; if not, take them judiciously by such advice as we give you, and the distressing, dangerous diseases they cure, which afflict so many millions of the human race, and which so afflicted the fools of old—they must burrow in the brutes and in the sea. Price 25 cents per box—5 boxes for $1.

Through a trial of many years and through every nation of civilized men, AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has been found to afford more relief and to cure more cases of pulmonary disease than any other remedy known to mankind. Cases of apparently settled consumption have been cured by it, and thousands of sufferers who were deemed beyond the reach of human aid have been restored to their friends and usefulness, to pursue their health and the enjoyments of life, by this all-powerful antidote to diseases of the lungs and throat. Here a cold had settled on the lungs. The dry, hacking cough, the glassy eye, and the pale, thin features of him who was lately lusty and vigorous, proclaim the fatal CONSUMPTION. He tries every thing; but the disease is gnawing at his vitals, and shows its fatal symptoms more and more over all his frame. He is taking the CHERRY PECTORAL now; it has stopped his cough and by much rest and sound sleep his sleep is sound at night: his appetite returns, and with it his strength. The dart which pierced his side is broken. Scarcely any neighborhood can be found which has not some living trophy like this to shadow forth the virtues of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL an imperishable renown. But its usefulness does not end here. Nay, it accomplishes more by prevention than cure. The countless colds and coughs which it cures are the seed which would have ripened into a dreadful harvest of incurable diseases. Influenza, Croup, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Pleurisy, Whooping Cough, and all irritations of the throat and lungs are easily cured by the CHERRY PECTORAL if taken in season. Every family should have it by them, for it will find in it an invaluable protection from the insidious prowler which carries off the parent sheep from many a flock, the darling lamb from many a home.

Authenticated evidence of these facts, with directions for the treatment of each complaint, may be found in AYER'S American Almanac, of which we publish three millions, and scatter them broadcast over the earth, in order that the sick every where may have before them the information it contains. Druggists and dealers in medicine generally have them for distribution gratis, and also for sale these remedies, prepared by DR. J. C. AYER, Practical and Analytical Chemist, Lowell, Mass.

THE RESTORATIVE OF PROF. O. J. WOOD for restoring hair perfectly and permanently, has never yet had a rival. Volume after volume might be printed from well parts of the world, and from the most intelligent to prove that it is a perfect Restorative; but read the circular and you cannot doubt; read also the following:

THE HAIR.—People have for centuries been afflicted with bald heads, and the only remedy, heretofore, has been the use of ready made false wigs. By a recent discovery of Professor Wood these articles are being last dispensed with, but a great many persons still patronize them, because they have been so often imposed upon by Hair Tonics of different kinds. To all such persons we earnestly make the request that they will try once again, for the Restorative, because there is no such thing as fail. We know of a lady who was bald, who used the article a short time, and her head is covered completely with the finest and most beautiful curls imaginable. We know of numerous cases where hair was rapidly falling out, which it restored in greater perfection than it ever had been before.

It is also without doubt one of the best articles for keeping the hair in good condition, making it soft and glossy, rendering dandruff impossible, and itself the greatest enemy to all the ills that hair is heir to.

It is the duty of every one to improve their personal appearance though some may differ in regard to the ways of doing it; but every one will admit that a beautiful head of hair, either in man or woman, is a thing of much to be desired, and there are no means that should be left untried to obtain such a consideration.—Woman's Advocate, Philadelphia.

CONNEAUT, Ohio, Nov. 17, 1856.

O. J. Wood & Co.—Gents: As I have been engaged in selling your Restorative, in the last season for one of your local agents (R. M. Hackinson,) and having experienced the beneficial effects of the Restorative, I would take it as an agency for the State of Ohio or some state in the west, should you wish to make such an arrangement, as I am convinced there is nothing equal to it in the United States for restoring the hair. I have been engaged in the Drug business for several years, and have sold various preparations for the hair, but have found none that will produce the secretive organs or invigorates the scalp as well as yours, being convinced that your restorative is what you represent it to be, I would like to engage in the sale of it, for I am satisfied it must sell.

Yours truly, S. T. STOCKMAN.

WAYLAND, MASS., Feb. 5, 1857.

PROF. O. J. WOOD & CO.—Gents: Having realized the good effects of your Hair Restorative, I wish to state to you that my hair, growing thin as well as gray, I was induced from what I read and heard, to try the article prepared by you, to promote its growth and change its color as it was in my youth, both of which it has effected completely. In the operation I have used nearly 3 bottles.

Yours &c., JAMES FRANCIS.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the officers of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2 50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $20,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all parties interested.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Dispatch. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. m18ly

CAUTION NOTICE.

PERSONS living at a distance should be extremely cautious how they order Lottery Tickets or Certificate of Packages of Tickets. The country is flooded with bogus and swindling Lotteries. Every inducement is held out to get persons to invest money in Tickets. Capital Prizes of from $20,000 to $40,000 head their schemes—with tickets at One Dollar. $100,000 capital prizes are offered, Tickets Five Dollars, in every instance, are frauds; and if money is sent to them for tickets, it is so much thrown away without the slender or at best chance of getting a prize. Beware of all Lotteries where the Capital Prize is unusually large in comparison to the price of tickets—in every instance where large prizes are offered for a small cost of tickets, pull it down as a certain fraud.

The Kentucky State Lottery for the benefit of the Shelby College, under our management, is the only Lottery in the United States that can be relied upon by persons at a distance, as all the other Lotteries which pur port to be decided by the Maryland Legislature are frauds.

THE MARYLAND STATE LOTTERIES.

Purchase in the Maryland State Lotteries, then you are certain of your money if you win. In ordering in the Maryland Lotteries, you are run of fair and honest drawings.

One thing look to, and that is, if you order from any ticket ed vender in Baltimore, you receive any but Managers' Tickets and Managers' Printed Certificates of Packages. The Managers' Certificates have the signature of each drawer, with the lithographic signature of R. France & Co

No one has a right to send his individual certificate, if he does it, be sure there is a fraud at the bottom of it.

Address, R. FRANCE & CO.,

A PROCLAMATION
TO THE LADIES,

WHEREAS, it appears that the days of right, honor, and integrity are last fading away, and WHEREIAS, the unscrupulous and ignorant are daily taking advantage of the profound and learned REPUTATION OF CHEESEMAN, in regard to the MARRIED WIVES, or WIDOWS, that DR. CHEESEMAN'S FEMALE PILLS are ALONE the certain panacea for the ailments so much to be dreaded in disorganization; they ALONE correcting all painful menstruation, arresting palpitations of the heart, disturbed sleep, pain in the side, and causing health and happiness to whole families, as effectually to the MARRIED PORTION, as they are certain to bring on the monthly period with regularity.—AND WHEREAS, these PILLS are purely vegetable and entirely free from mineral's, therefore perfectly harmless in their operations and wholly unlike other medicines thrust upon the public, purporting to be effective, and already detailed. THEREFORE, BE IT KNOWN, that NOTHING but the said PILLS of DR. CHEESEMAN will accomplish the desired object, when management has been experienced under the regime of OTHER PILLS; and the Ladies will cause this Proclamation to spread amongst them, to their own everlasting benefit—always promising that said Proclamation in one case must be considered NULL and VOID; that is to say the PILLS ONE NOT be taken when any female is in a state of pregnancy, otherwise a MISCARRIAGE will be the inevitable result.

Explicit directions, to be carefully read, accompany each box. Price $1. Sent by mail on an closing $1 to Dr. CORNELIUS L. CHEESEMAN, Box No. 4 5%, Post Office, New York City. Sold by Druggists in every town in the United States.

Given under my hand and seal.

S. D. & H. W. Smith,
—MANUFACTURERS OF—
Melodeons, Organ Melodeons,
—and—
PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,
No. 511 Washington St., Boston,

The first premium over all competitors, at the Fair of the Mass. Charitable Mechanic Association, of the National Fair, Washington, D. C., also at the Ohio State Fair, held at Columbus, Ohio, was a warrant to the purchaser.

By means of a new method of Voicing, known only to themselves, they have succeeded in removing the harsh and buzzing sound which formerly characterized the instrument, and rendering the tones full, clear and of a pure quality. The action is prompt and reliable, enabling the performer to execute the most rapid music without blurring the tones. The swell is arranged to give great expression.

THE PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

Are designed particularly for Churches, Lodges, Halls, &c. It is arranged with two manuals, or banks of keys, the lower one running an octave higher than the other, and may be used separately, and thus get in one case two distinct instruments; or by use of the coupler, the two banks of keys may be played as one, at same time by use of the front set only. This connected with the Pedal Bass, will produce the effect of a large organ, and is sufficiently heavy to fill a house that seats from 1000 to 1500 persons.

THE ORGAN MELODEON

Is designed for parlor and private use. The construction is similar to the Church Instrument, being arranged with two banks of Keys, and when used together, by means of the coupler, is capable of as great volume of power as the Church Instrument when used without the pedals. Also, every variety of MELODEONS for Parlor use.

Purchasers may rely upon instruments from our Manufactory, being made of the most complete and thorough manner. Having removed to the spacious Buildings

511 Washington Street,

We have every facility for manufacturing purposes, and employ none but the most experienced and skilful workmen. In this way, we will promise our customers an instrument equal, if not superior, to any Manufacturer, and guarantee satisfaction in every satisfaction.

Music Teachers, Leaders of Choirs, and others interested in musical matters, are respectfully invited to visit our Rooms at any time and examine our Pianos and Instruments on exhibition for sale at their pleasure.

As a still further guarantee to the public as to the superiority of the MELODEONS from our Manufactory, we beg leave to refer, by permission, to the following who have examined our Instruments, and will give testimony in their behalf, if desired:

Piano Forte Manufacturers of Boston,

Chickering & Sons,	Hallett & Cumston,
T. Gilbert & Co.,	Wm. P. Emerson,
Brown & Allen,	A. W. Lada & Co.,
George Hewes,	Woodward & Brown,
	Newhall & Co.

MELODEONS RENTED.

Persons who wish to hire Melodeons with a view of purchasing at the end of the year, have the rent credited as part payment of the purchase money. This matter is worthy of especial note, and is available to persons in fair test of the instruments before purchasing, to obtain it at the expense of the manufacturers, to the extent at least of a year's rent.

Orders from any part of the country or world, sent direct to the manufactory in Boston, with cash, or satisfactory reference, will be promptly attended to, and the duties faithfully executed, as if the parties were present, or employed an agent to select, and on as reasonable terms.

VOL. 12. PORTSMOUTH, N. H., WEDNESDAY, APRIL 21, 1858. NO. 67.

☞ Among the incidents of the revival in Newport, a correspondent of the Independent relates the following:—About one year since, a young man of good moral character, independent in his circumstances and surrounded by every thing to make life pleasant and agreeable, was married, and gave a party to his numerous friends and acquaintances, at which nothing that the most worldly man could ask was wanting. Wine flowed freely, and all good things were abundant. In the week that has just closed, the young man held a select anniversary company of the same guests and his own particular friends, and with nothing that could intoxicate his guests. They passed the hours of evening, during which the host spoke of the things of religion, and stated his intention henceforth to choose "the better part," and to walk the Christian path, and closed the meeting with prayer. One who was present said, 'We went to a party, and it turned out a prayer meeting.' Was not that manly Christian courage?

The papers from all quarters report numerous admissions to the Churches of various denominations—and it is believed that the accessions this year will exceed the whole number admitted for the last ten years.

WASHINGTON JUSTICE.—The late case of administering justice in Washington, says the Boston Journal, may afford a glimpse at the cause of the increased crime in that city. It was the case of the Mr. Helper, who had a difficulty with Mr. Craige, one of the representatives from North Carolina. The latter gentleman declined to appear, but Mr. Justice Arnold nevertheless went on to deal with Mr. Helper. Mr. Campbell of Ohio, who saw the whole difficulty, swore that Craige struck Helper first.—There was no contradictory evidence; and from the statement of many eye-witnesses, there could be none. But in spite of this fact, which left it to be presumed that Helper was fighting in self-defense, the justice required him to give bail in the sum of $1000 to keep the peace six months! Senator Hale, as one of the counsel, not inappropriately remarked that rowdyism had run riot in the streets of late, and now he found it sitting in our courts attempting to administer justice. But one of our cotemporaries says that it is so rare that anybody is punished for assaults in Washington, we ought to rejoice, even when the penalty falls upon the man who was assaulted.

MR. SUMNER.—The Washington correspondent of the Traveller writes as follows, in regard to the health of Mr. Sumner:—"Don't be alarmed by the reports in regard to Mr. Sumner now afloat in the papers. He has been slightly indisposed, but is about as well now as when he reached Washington two weeks since. On last Wednesday, while in the Congressional Library, he was notified that the Senate was about voting on the admission of Minnesota, when he walked rather fast from the Library to the Senate, reaching his seat in time to vote. The next morning he was very lame, and very much exhausted. The sudden effort and the excitement was too much for him, and felt pain for several days in his back, and a slight pressure on his brain; but it was not sufficient to stop his usual reading, writing or exercise, but enough for the moment to be very uncomfortable. It has now in a great measure disappeared. He voted against Lecompton in the Senate. But the Senator accepts it as a warning against a premature attention to much business. It may be the means of preventing a much more serious indisposition."

In the Newburyport Police Court, on Saturday, a lad tending bar at the Franklin House was brought up on complaint of the City Marshal for violating the liquor law, in selling to one John Clifford, who drank at the house with the late Maurice Brodorick, whose death has been noticed. Clifford swore to the sale, but refused to swear to the person, and consequently the defendant was released. We are happy to learn that the City Marshal promptly pursued this case, and did all in his power to bring the offenders to justice. The case failed for want of evidence against the seller, but it was ample against the owner of the building, if it was desirable to close the house under the nuisance act.—Herald.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston,
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to procure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting Ten Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, and ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered in other places. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES, AND MERIT, he would add, that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. He has, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, rendered him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skillful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
From the present Commissioner.
AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

Coggswell's Medical Salt,
A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE
FOR THE
LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.
INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—but but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: SUBDUES INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form or locality—whether the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. It is asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a quill dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.
☞ Of its intrinsic value, the enlightened community, and not the discoverer, must be the judge.

FRANKLIN'S LETTER TO PAINE.

Thomas Paine sailed from this country in 1787, to visit France the second time Soon after he arrived there, which was three years before the death of Franklin, he wrote the first part of his "Age of Reason." He submitted the manuscript to Franklin for his inspection and opinion, and received the following answer, which was printed in Niles's Register, vol. 30, p. 397.

DEAR SIR—I have read your manuscript with some attention. By the argument it contains against a particular Providence, though you allow a general Providence, you strike at the foundation of all religion. For without the belief of a Providence, that takes cognizance of, guards, and guides, and favors particular persons, there is no motive to worship a Deity, to fear his displeasure, or to pray for its protection.

I will not enter into any discussion of your principles, though you seem to desire it. At present, I shall only give you my opinion that though your reasonings are subtle, and may prevail with some readers, you will not succeed so as to change the general sentiments of mankind on that subject; and the consequence of printing this piece will be a great deal of odium upon yourself, mischief to you, and no good to others. He that spits against the wind spits in his own face. But were you to succeed, do you imagine any good will be done by it?

You yourself may find it easy to live a virtuous life without the assistance afforded by religion. You have a clear perception of the advantages of virtue, and the disadvantages of vice, and possess strength of resolution sufficient to enable you to resist common temptations.

But think how great a portion of mankind consists of ignorant men and women, and of inexperienced, inconsiderate youth, of both sexes, who have need of the motives of religion to restrain them from vice, to support their virtue, and retain them in the practice of it till it becomes habitual, which is the point for its security.

And, perhaps, you are indebted to it, originally, that is, to your religious education, for the habits of virtue upon which you now justly value yourself. You might easily display your excellent talents of reasoning upon a less hazadous subject, and thereby obtain rank with our most distinguished authors.

For among us it is not necessary, as among the Hottentots, that a youth to be raised into the company of men, should prove his manhood by beating his mother. I would advise you therefore, not to attempt unchaining the tiger, but to burn this piece before it is seen by any other person, whereby you will save yourself a great deal of modification from the enemies it may raise against you, and perhaps a good deal of regret and repentance.

If men are so wicked with religion, what would they be without it? I intended this letter itself as a proof of my friendship, and therefore add no profession, but simply subscribe. Yours,

B. FRANKLIN.

FANCY BALL.—Mrs. Senator Gwin gave a brilliant bal masque at her residence in Washington, last week. Among the costumes worn on the occasion, Mr. Burlingame of Massachusetts appeared as Iago—a cast very much at variance with his own frank and honorable character. The Iago of his fancy was an individual in black velvet jacket, slashed trunks, hat and feather, and with a long tickle-boy by his side.

One of the best, if not the very best, impersonation, was that of Major Ben Perley Poore, of apple-wheeling fame. In the early part of the evening he appeared as Charles the Second, and sustained the character of the "merry monarch" to the life—even to the favorite expression of "odd's fish!"

Later in the night he re-appeared as Major Jack Downing in the astounding uniform of the Downing Guards. In the latter character he made a decided sensation by the accuracy of down-east patois, and the sharpness of his repartee."

☞ The Legislature of Georgia, at its late session, passed a law providing for the appointment of inspectors by the several city authorities and inferior courts of the State, "to prevent and punish the selling and manufacture of drugged or other poisonous and deleterious liquors, spirits and wines."

LOW PRICES AT THE WEST.—A correspondent of the Burlington Free Press writes from St. Charles, Ill.:

"Times are hard and dull. Produce is worth nothing; wheat 42c, corn 24c, oats 19c, butter 12c, eggs 5c, and other things in proportion."

☞ We understand that Lieut. Maury, of the National Observatory, has been restored to the active list of the Navy, with the rank of Commander.

☞ Gov. Powell and Major McCullough, the Utah Peace Commissioners, and Captain Simpson's Topographical Engineers, arrived at St. Louis on the 15th.

CONGRESS.

MONDAY, April 19.

SENATE.—Mr. Mason, of Virginia, offered a resolution, which was adopted, calling on the Secretary of the Navy, for information respecting the Susquehanna at Jamaica, with the view of considering whether the courtesy of the British requires an acknowledgement.

Mr. Houston of Texas announced that he did not wish to bring up his Mexican Protectorate resolution bill to-day, and on motion of Mr. Hunter of Va. the deficiency bill was considered.

The section respecting extra allowances to officers of the House was debated, but not stricken out as the Committee recommended.

Mr. Hale, of New Hampshire, spoke in support of his amendment, when the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.—The House went into Committee of the Whole on the Washington Police Bill.

The bill was debated and and amended, but no final action taken.

In the Committee of Conference, after the Senate Committee's offers had been rejected, and the Committee of the House had been invited to make an offer,—Mr. English responded that at the next meeting he would submit a new bill, the precise character of which has not transpired, but it is understood to be on a new line, proposing a substitute for the Lecompton ordinance, and that the question of admission under the Lecompton Constitution be referred to a fair vote of the people of Kansas at an early day. If the majority vote for it, Kansas to come into the Union at once, under the President's proclamation:—if against it, then the bill provides for the formation of a new Constitution, whenever the population there equals the number required for a member in the United States House of Representatives. The Committee adjourned till to-morrow.

There is some reason to believe that Mr. English's bill will be agreed to in conference, and passed by both Houses.

WASHINGTON, April 20.—Boston Journal correspondence.)—There is much discussion among the opposition as to Mr. English's bill, which it is thought will pass in the Conference Committee to-day, and perhaps go through Congress, as the alternative will be in Kansas, vote for Lecompton or remain in the territory.

☞ Emerson's Magazine and Putnam's Monthly, for April and May, are capital numbers. The Life of Washington is continued in them, and is very readable; and there is much other serious and light reading—instructive, entertaining, amusing. This magazine is better edited than printed; but the fact of the leaves being cut, makes partial amends for the quality of the paper. An uncut book, magazine or newspaper, is a nuisance—except to bookbinders. Oaksmith & Co., publishers, New York.

ANOTHER MIRACLE.—The Interest Publique of Tarbes, France, says:

A considerable agitation has been of late manifested in the neighborhood of Lourdes (Hautes-Pyrenees,) by a visit which a young girl of fourteen, named Bernadette Savi, the daughter of a day laborer, pays every morning early to a grotto in which springs forth a gush of water forming a rivulet, not far from the banks of the Gave. This girl affirms that the Virgin Mary appeared to her, and ordered that she should every morning for a fortnight pray in the grotto during the space of half an hour. A vast number of persons accompany her in her visits, believing fully in the truth of her assertion. At first when she kneels down she is represented as being pale, and almost convulsed; but as her communication with the Virgin proceeds, her features become calm and radient. We understand that not less than five thousand persons are present now each morning near the grotto, and that the authorities are beginning to disapprove of such assemblages.

WHO SHE IS.—The compiler, reporter, author, editor, or what-not of the new book, "Life-Thoughts," from the lips of Henry Ward Beecher, published by Phillips, Sampson & Co., is Edna Dean Proctor, a young lady in the prime and flush of 22. She resides in Brooklyn, N. Y., is a member of Mr. Beecher's congregation if not of his church, is a governess in the family of one of the citizens of that city, is a native of New Hampshire, is smart, is accomplished, is unmarried, is a fine writer, is very popular socially, and writes for the New York Independent, under the signature of "Dean," her middle name. This is who she is; and she is, we are willing to believe, somebody of account. At all events she has linked her name to a book that will make her the welcome companion of thousands upon thousands of firesides in our country; and henceforward she will be a lioness of more or less fame—a magnet of more or less (and more we expect,) attraction.—Bee.

☞ A letter from Rome, in the Pilot, says that six cardinals have died within a few months, and eight or nine were to be created on the 15th, and among them Bedini. This is he who was treated with such unwelcome attentions in America as the "Butcher of Bologne."

NONSENSE.—Sense that happens to differ from your own.

NEWMARKET, April 20.

Dear Chronicle:—Newmarket, in common with other manufacturing places, has been seriously affected by the general stagnation of business; but it is just now beginning to revive a little. The Newmarket Manufacturing Co. are running full time, though, I believe, at reduced wages; and the rebuilding of their burnt mill is progressing rapidly.

On Sunday evening last, an Irishman was arrested here for drunkenness and assaulting an officer. On Monday he was tried and fined $11. "Rum did it."

Almost the only excitement has been a visit of that distinguished individual, Daniel Pratt, Jr. He lectured at the Town Hall on Monday, the 12th, and though very rainy, about two hundred were present. He was received with so much enthusiasm, that it was impossible for us to hear more than one sentence, which was that he "should be brief, as he had a good deal to say."

Morning prayer-meetings are held regularly, but with little apparent effect, as we have not heard of a single new convert, though there may be some, for all that.—Mr. Pratt attended the prayer-meeting on the morning after his lecture, gave them an account of his travels, told them who he was, and stated it as his opinion that the noise the evening previous was not all due to the boys, but that some of "you steady old men had a hand in it." ONYX.

EXECUTION OF AN EX-MINISTER IN NEW ORLEANS—HIS LAST SPEECH—The execution of George W. Stovall, formerly of Virginia, and once a Baptist minister, for the murder of Mary Ray Durand, with whom he was living at the time, took place at New Orleans on Friday, the 17th inst. The Picayune gives the following account of the execution:—

At quite an early hour all those who had the open sesame to the Parish Prison began to assemble, there being a general anxiety manifested to see how a man of education and good intellectual powers would approach such a doom as that which had been assigned to Stoval by the laws of his country.

When we entered the prison yard, our ears were first greeted by the sounds of sacred music which came from the doomed man's cell, and Stovall's own strong and peculiar voice could easily be distinguished by its earnest energy. In the cell with him were the Rev. Dr. Palmer, and other pastors of Protestant churches, and after the hymn was over prayers were in succession offered to the Throne of the Most High.

Shortly after eleven the prisoner, dressed in white, and attended by his religious advisers, was led to the spot where the fatal trap had been prepared. His step was firm, and his appearance venerable and imposing. Directed by a motion, he took his seat, and the executioner adjusted the fatal noose. The prisoner then, after making some remarks, thanking the officers of the prison for their kindness to him, said:

"Now, gentlemen, I must tell you I have not been brought to this end because I din't know better. I was raised in——county, Va., by respectable parents, and received a pious education. Indeed, I may say I occupied a respectable position in society. But fell, and for the last fifteen years have been led captive by the devil at his will, and now by an ignoble death I am about to receive the wages of sin. I have even held the position of a minister of the Gospel, and was beloved and respected as such, but this only shows the height from which I have fallen, and from which all are liable to fall if they yield to their baser feelings.

Though late I have returned from my wanderings to my Saviour, to the merciful Jesus, who to the dying thief said 'This day shalt thou be with me in Paradise.' I feel that my spirit is like a caged bird, anxious to escape from its prison and seek for refuge in the Paradise of God. Oh, that I may have the happiness of meeting you all there! Lord sanctify this death to the salvation of these spectators. Let my prayer and my words go forth to the uttermost parts of the earth! O, gracious God, make us penitent in thy presence."

These remarks were made with a firm and unwavering voice, and after the prisoner closed, the Rev. Dr. Palmer offered up an impressive prayer for the culprit.

When the prayer was ended the prisoner bade a last farwell to Dr. Delery, Dr. Palmer, and the officers of the prison. He then, after the cap was pulled down over his eyes, exclaimed in a loud voice, "Lord Jesus, receive my spirit." As he uttered the words the trap fell, and his spirit took its flight.

HOW TRUE IT IS!

There are a couple of old proverbs that it would be well for us all to keep in mind. One is, "a stitch in time saves nine;" and another, "an ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure." We all, in theory, acknowledge the truth of these proverbs, yet the practice of the most of us gives them the lie. Myers' Extract of Rock Rose, as a preventative of all those diseases arising from impure blood and viscid humors, is acknowledged to be superior to anything in Materia Medica. It purifies the blood, strengthens the digestive organs and invigorates the constitution.

A CARD TO THE LADIES.

DR. DUPONCO'S
French Periodical Golden Pills,
FOR FEMALES;
Infallible in Removing Stoppages or Irregularity of the Menses.

THESE Pills are nothing new, but have been used by the Doctor for many years, both in France and America, with unparalled success in every case; and he is urged by many thousand ladies who have used them to make the Pills public, for the alleviation of those suffering from any irregularities whatever, as well as to prevent pregnancy in those ladies whose health will not permit an increase of family. Pregnant females or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using these Pills while pregnant, as the proprietor assumes no responsibility after the above caution, although their mildness would prevent any mischief to the child; otherwise these Pills are recommended. Full and explicit directions accompany each box.

Price $1. Sold by Portsmouth by JOSEPH H. THACHER, in Dover by Chas. A. Tufts, in Exeter by C. A. Merrill, and in Newmarket by J. A. Prentiss. They will supply dealers at the Proprietor's prices, and also send the Pills to the Ladies (confidentially) by mail to any part of the city or country, on receipt of $1 through the Post Office.

N. B.—Ladies will be particular in asking for Dr. Duponco's Golden Pills. Observe the signature J. Duponco is upon each box. You will then obtain a Pill you can rely upon.

The Great English Remedy.
SIR JAMES CLARKE'S
Celebrated Female Pills.

Prepared from a prescription of Sir Jas. Clarke M. D., Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

THIS invaluable Medicine is unfailing in the cure of all those painful and dangerous disorders to which the female constitution is subject. It moderates all excess, removes all obstructions, and a speedy cure may be relied on.

TO MARRIED LADIES

it is peculiarly suited. It will, in a short time, bring on the monthly period with regularity.

Each bottle, Price One Dollar, bears the Government Stamp of Great Britain, to prevent counterfeits.

CAUTION.

These Pills should not be taken by females that are pregnant, during the FIRST THREE MONTHS, as they are sure to bring on Miscarriage, but at every other time and in every other case they are perfectly safe.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics, and Whites, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed, and although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or any thing hurtful to the constitution.

Full directions accompany each package.

Sole Agent for the United States and Canada (late I. C. BALWDIN & CO.,) JOB MORSE, Rochester, N. Y.

N. B.—$1 and 8 postage stamps enclosed to any authorized Agent, will insure a bottle of the Pills by return mail.

LOCAL.

☞ The Water street fire of ten days ago, though disasterous and dangerous at the time, has increased the safety or diminished the danger of all other burnable property in that part of the town, as most of the lots will not be covered soon with any buildings, and those which may be put up will be less compact and lofty.

The Messrs. Russell are repairing their house and store, almost but not quite as thoroughly as the United States have repaired "the old line of battle ship Franklin;" and before they have done with it, will make almost as many improvements. They got along a good deal faster than Uncle Sam. From being an old-fashioned, three-story building, the joiners are rapidly converting the building into a modern two-story structure; and when the painters leave it, some days hence, the passengers may say, some one has had enterprise and energy to build a handsome new house in Water street.

We don't wish all the old houses in town would burn down; but we do hope to see a general spirit and disposition to repair and rectify.

MAY DAY.—Messrs. Editors:—I hope the proposition made or mentioned by "Holiday," in the Chronicle of Tuesday, will be carried out. Let us have a celebration of the opening of Summer, sometime, at least. If the first day of May should not be favorable—select some other, later, even to the last. A rural picnic, say at Sagamore, or in Freeman's Woods, would be delightful. Why can't we have it? Who says for May Day? EVA.

☞ The Firemen had a meeting at Jefferson Hall, Monday evening, and several of the companies met at their engine houses—to take into consideration the offering of a protest against the removal of Chief Engineer Hadley. After considerable discussion, the meeting at the Hall dissolved, without being organized in due form.—There is much regret that Mr. Hadley has been superseded—especially as his removal was made entirely on personal grounds.

☞ Rev. W. A. P. Dillingham, formerly of this city, dissolved his pastoral relation with the Universalist church at Augusta, Me., a few weeks since, and has, as stated in the Bath Organ, retired to a farm in Sidney, Me., having come into possession of a large property.

A PARISH FOR SCANDAL.—A clergyman once resigned his pastoral charge on account of a slight difference of opinion which existed between himself and his parishioners upon the subject of his talents, and a young man was thereupon installed in his place. One afternoon, after the latter had been settled over the society some little time, the wife of the former pastor made him a visit. After the usual preliminaries, she proceeded to acquaint him with what she considered the failings and weaknesses of the parish, mentioning in the catalogue that the people "were great scandal-mongers." "My dear madam," replied the young minister, courteously, "I have not heard so much scandal from all my people since my installation as you have been pleased to entertain me with during this short call."—Transcript.

The son of Capt. Horatio Ross, of Rossie Castle, Perthshire, a youth scarcely twenty, on a civil appointment in India, was studying languages in the country when he heard that the mutineers were approaching. Accompanied by his native teacher only, he set out in search of the Sepoys, and coming to a narrow but dangerous ford, concealed himself in the jungle, with the trembling moushee behind him, to await them. The mutineers approached 3000 strong, and young Ross, an unerring shot, leveled his rifle at the entrance of the ford. No sooner did the first Sepoy put his foot upon the edge of the stream, than he fell dead; another following, instantly dropped—a third, a fourth, till at length the panic stricken army retreated in disorder, leaving young Ross "alone in his glory."

BRITISH VIOLATIONS OF THE NEUTRALITY LAWS.—Buffalo, April 19.—The Germans named Tharniger and Bemmeian, arrested here last week, charged with enlisting men for the British service, have been held for trial, for breaking the neutrality laws.—Telegraphic despatches from British officers in Toronto and Niagara, were produced on the examination.

4 DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

NEW YORK, April 20.—Steamship Arago, from Southampton 7th inst., arrived here at 1 o'clock this morning. She brings 128 passengers, the usual mails, $6400 in specie, and 250 tons merchandise.

Cotton has advanced in Liverpool.—Breadstuffs dull but steady.

On Monday considerable anxiety was manifested on the river for the safety of the Leviathan steamship, moored off Deptford, in consequence of the breaking of two of the bow-mooring chains. She sustained no injury, and the mooring at the stern remained firm.

The American barque Petrea, Captain Osborne, from Havre for New York, with emigrants to the number of 217, French and German, got ashore on Sunday morning at 2 1-2 o'clock, on the Shoals off Chichester. Later in the afternoon all hopes of the vessel were given up, and the passengers and crew were landed at Portsmouth. She was about 500 tuns brethren.

FOOLISH STORY SPOILED.—The Dublin Evening Post mentions that for some months past idle rumors have prevailed to the effect that the Earl of Rosse has declared it as his belief that the approaching summer would be one of the hottest seasons ever witnessed in Ireland. It is a lamentable evidence of credulity, even amongst educated people, it adds, that all those ridiculous tales were believed by many. But they are now completely disposed of in the following communication, which we have received this morning from Lord Rosse:

The Castle, Parsonstown, March 25th, 1858.—Lord Rosse presents his compliments to the editor of the Evening Post, and, having observed a quotation from the Limerick Reporter, in which his name is associated with some conjectures as to the approaching season, he begs to say that he has never expressed any opinion on the subject.

☞ A French journalist, in a letter written from Naples states that Orsini on his trial made the alarming declaration (which no journal was allowed to print) that "there are one thousand Italians who have sworn to strike Louis Napoleon ere the year 1858 shall pass," and that they would follow him without cessation. These men, according to the writer, are members of "the long existent secret society," of which the emperor was also a member.

A WISE RULE.—Among the lessons taught by Bishop Soule to the preachers is the following, which we heard him, says the New Orleans Advocate, utter at the Alabama Conference, as a preventive against all embarrassments growing out of debt. It even defines the limits of safe speculation; and if observed by business men, would take the edge off of panics:—"Brethren, my rule is this, and I advise you to adopt it: Never owe any more than you are able to pay, and allow no man to owe you more than you are able to lose."

The President assured Mr. Green on Saturday he did not expect that the Pacific Railroad bill would be defeated in Senate, and that he was mortified with the result. The defeat of this bill has affected Democrats from California deeply.—Traveller.

A JEW'S OPINION OF ANCIENT JEWISH CUSTOMS.—Rabbi Raphael, Nestor of the Hebrew Rabbins of New York, in a recent lecture, handled Solomon rather familiarly. He said he had an elevated opinion of him, though he should like him better if he had been less of a Mormon in his practice.

Mrs. Brown apparently died at Chicago, and was laid out, but while one of her daughters was sobbing over the corpse, it moved and the eyes opened—she was taken from her coffin and is recovering her health.

The horses which were presented by the merchants of Boston to General Pierce, previous to his inauguration as President of the United States, were sold at auction in New York on Friday. They brought $445; the merchants paid $1500 for them.

☞ On Tuesday, the 13th, there was a severe hail storm at Alexandria and Fredericksburg, Va.

☞ On the 11th inst. snow fell quite freely at Niagara Falls, N. Y.

AS A SPRING MEDICINE

MYERS' EXTRACT ROCK ROSE is invaluable. It changes the viscid humors, opens the pores of the skin, promotes insensible perspiration, thereby purifying the blood and invigorating the system. A free use of this medicine, in the spring months, will not only cure all diseases caused by impurities of the blood, but will beget a healthy action and prepare the system to resist the attacks of fevers, derangement of the bowels, &c, so prevalent in the summer season

CHARLES W. MARTIN,

MERCHANT TAILOR,

Store No. 14½ Market Street, Corner of Ladd Street.

Just received, a new and carefully selected assortment of Cloths, Cassimeres, Doeskins, Vestings, &c,—to be sold as low as elsewhere in the city. All work warranted.

Blood's Seedling Grape Vines, For Sale.

TWO varieties of Blood's Seedling GRAPE Vines, which have been tested by the subscriber for 15 years, and found superior to any other cultivated in the open air in this part of the country. This Grape is larger than the Isabella, and ripens in our climate about 5 weeks earlier. For several successive years it has been fully ripe the first week in September, and thus has escaped the early frosts which have in some seasons, cut off the Isabel's and other varieties.

Wolfe's Celebrated Scheidam Aromatic

SCHNAPPS.

This medicinal beverage is manufactured by the proprietor, at Scheidam, Holland, expressly for medicinal use, by a process peculiar to his own Factory. It is the pure Tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, whose more vinous extract is distilled and rectified with its spirituous solvent, which thus becomes a concentrated tincture of exquisite flavor and aroma, altogether, transcendant in its cordial and medicinal properties to any alcoholic stimulant now made in the world. It is now prescribed by more than 5,000 physicians in the United States, in cases of Gravel, Gout, Dropsy, and Bladder and Kidney Complaints.

Put up in Quart and Pint Bottles, in cases of one dozen qts., and cases of two dozen pts., and for sale by all Druggists and Country Merchants.

IMMORTELLES.

TO DAFFODILS.

Fair daffodils, we weep to see
You haste away so soon;
As yet the early-rising sun,
Has not attained his noon;
Stay, stay,
Until the hasting day
Has run
But to the even-song;
And having prayed together, we
Will go with you along!

We have short time to stay as you;
We have as short a spring;
As quick a growth to meet decay,
As you or anything;
We die,
As your hours do; and dry
Away
Like to the summer's rain,
Or as the pearls of morning dew
Ne'er to be found again. —[Herrick.

PASSIONS.

We sit by lightning read in darkest night;
And by your passions I read all your natures,
Though you at other times keep them dark.
—[Crowne.

APPROACH OF SPRING.

Now that the winter 's gone, the earth hath lost
Her snow-white robes, and now no more the frost
Candies the grass, or calls an icy cream
Upon the silver lake, or crystal stream;
But the warm sun thaws the benumb'd earth,
And makes it tender; gives a sacred birth
To the dead swallow; wakes in hollow tree
The drowsy cuckoo, and the humble bee.
Now do a choir of chirping minstrels bring,
In triumph to the world the youthful spring.
The valleys, hills, and woods, in rich array,
Welcome the coming of the longed for May.
—[Thomas Carew.

The following remedies are offered to the public as the best, most perfect, which medical science can afford. AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS have been prepared with the utmost skill which the medical profession of this age possesses, and their effects show they have virtues which surpass any combination of medicines hitherto known. Other preparations do more or less good; but this cures such dangerous complaints, so quick and so surely, as to prove an efficacy and a power to uproot disease beyond any thing which men have known before. By removing the obstructions of the internal organs and stimulating them into healthy action, they remove the fountains of life and vigor,—health courses anew through the body, and the sick man is well again. They are adapted to disease, and disease only, for when taken by one in health they produce but little effect. This is the character of medicine. It is antagonistic to disease, and no more. Tender children may take them with impunity. If they are sick they will cure them, if they are well they will do them no harm.

Give them to some patient who has been prostrated with bilious complaint: see his bent-up, tottering form straighten with strength again; see his long-lost appetite return; see his clammy features blossom into health. Give them to some sufferer whose foul blood has burst out in scrofula till his skin is covered with sores; see the ulcers slough, or lies in anguish. He has been drenched inside and out with every potion which ingenuity could suggest. Give him these PILLS, and mark the effect; see the scabs fall from his body; see the new, fair skin that has grown under them; see the late leper that is clean. Give them to him whose angry humors have planted rheumatism in his joints and bones; move him, and he screeches with pain; he too has been soaked through every muscle of his body with liniments and opiates; give him these PILLS to purify his blood; they may not cure him, for, alas! there are cases which no mortal power can reach; but mark, he walks with crutches now, and now he walks alone; they have cured him. Give them to the lean, sour, haggard dyspeptic, whose gnawing stomach has long ago ceased to smile from his face and every muscle from his body. See his appetite return, and with it his health; see the man mend. See her that was radiant with health and loveliness blasted and too early withering away; want of exercise or mental anguish, or some lurking disease, has deranged the internal organs of digestion, assimilation or secretion, till they do their office ill. Her blood is vitiated, her health is gone. Give her these PILLS to stimulate the vital energies into renewed vigor, to clear out the obstructions, and infuse a new vitality into the blood. Now look again—the roses blossom on her cheek, and where lately sorrow sat joy bursts from every feature. See the sweet infant wasted with worms. Its wan, sickly features tell you without disguise, and painfully distinct that cruel, gnawing thing within. It has no other use than to make you miserable and childish. Is it nothing to do these things? Nay, are they not the marvel of this age? And yet they are done around you every day.

Have you the less serious symptoms of these distempers, they are the easiest cured. Acid Stomach, Costiveness, Headache, Sideache, Heartburn, Foul Stomach, Nausea, Pain in the Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, King's Evil, Neuralgia, Gout, and kindred complaints all arise from the derangements which these PILLS rapidly cure. Take them perseveringly, and under the counsel of a good Physician if you can; if not, take them judiciously by such advice as we give you, and the distressing, dangerous diseases they cure, which afflict so many millions of the human race, are driven out like the devils of old—they must trouble them no more, not in the sea. Price 25 cents per box—5 boxes for $1.

Through a trial of many years and through every nation of civilized men, AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has been found to afford more relief and to cure more cases of pulmonary disease than any other remedy known to mankind. Cases of apparently settled consumption have been cured by it, and thousands of sufferers who were deemed beyond the reach of human aid have been restored to their friends and usefulness. As a household for the enjoyments of life, by this all-powerful antidote to diseases of the lungs and throat. Here a cold had settled on the lungs. The dry, hacking cough, the glassy eye, and the pale, thin features of him who was lately hearty and strong, betoken the fatal Consumption. He tries every thing; but the disease is gnawing at his vitals, and shows its fatal symptoms more and more over all his frame. He is taking the CHERRY PECTORAL now; it has stopped his cough, quieted his breathing day; his sleep is sound at night; his strength returns, and with it his strength. The dart which pierced his side is broken. Scarcely any neighborhood can be found which has not some living trophy like this to shadow forth the virtues which have won for the CHERRY PECTORAL an imperishable name. But its usefulness does not end here. Nay, it accomplishes more by prevention than cure. The countless colds and coughs which it cures are the seed which would have ripened into a dreadful harvest of incurable diseases. Influenza, Croup, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Pleurisy, Whooping Cough, and all irritations of the throat and lungs are easily cured by the CHERRY PECTORAL if taken in season. Every family should have it by them, and they will find it an invaluable protector against the insidious prowler which carries off the purest sheep from many a flock, the darling lamb from many a home.

Authenticated evidence of these facts, with directions for the treatment of each complaint, may be found in Ayer's American Almanac, of which we publish three millions, and scatter them broadcast over the earth, in order that the sick every where may have before them the information it contains. Druggists and dealers in medicine generally have them for distribution gratis, and also all these remedies, prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer, Practical and Analytical Chemist, Lowell, Mass.

THE RESTORATIVE OF PROF. O. J. WOOD for restoring hair perfectly and permanently, has never yet had a rival. Year after year, volume might be given from all parts of the world and from the most intelligent to prove that it is a perfect Restorative; but read the circular and you cannot doubt; read also the following:

THE HAIR.—People have for centuries been attempting to restore it when it only remained heretofore known, has been those abominable wigs. By a recent discovery of Professor Wood these articles are being last dispensed with, but a great many, removing dandruff, and the hair they have been so often imposed upon by Hair Tonics of different kinds. To all such persons we earnestly make the request that they will at once again, for in Wood's Restorative there is no such thing as fail. We know of a lady who was bald, who used the article a short time, and her head is covered completely with the finest and most beautiful curls imaginable. We know of numerous cases where hair was rapidly falling out, which it restored in greater perfection than it ever had been before.

It is also without doubt one of the best articles for keeping the hair in good condition, making it soft and glossy, removing dandruff, and has proved itself the greatest enemy to all the ills that hair is heir to.

It is the duty of every one to improve their personal appearance though some may differ in regard to the ways of doing it; but every one will admit that a beautiful head of hair either in man or woman, is an object most pleasing to behold and there are no means that should be left untried to obtain such a consideration.—Woman's Advocate, Philadelphia.

COCHOCTON, Ohio, Nov. 17, 1856.

O. J. Wood & Co.—Gents: As I have been engaged in selling your Hair Restorative the last season for one of your local agents (R. M. Huckinson,) and having experienced the beneficial effects of the same, I would like to make a bargain for the State of Ohio or some state in the west, should you wish to make such an arrangement, as I am convinced, from selling it, that it is the Standard Article for restoring the hair. I have been engaged in the Drug business for several years, and have sold various preparations for the hair, but have found none that contained the secretive organs or invigorates the scalp as well as yours, being convinced that your restorative is what you represent it to be, I would like to engage in the sale of it, for I am satisfied it must sell.

Yours truly, S. T. STOCKMAN.

WAYLAND, MASS., Feb. 5, 1857.

PROF. O. J. Wood & Co.—Gents: Having realized the good effects of your Hair Restorative, I now take the liberty of sending my hair growing thin, as well as gray, I was induced from what I read and heard, to try the article prepared by you, to promote its growth and change its color as it was in youth, (but which it has effected completely. In the operation I have used nearly 3 bottles.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand, according to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $70,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

CAUTION NOTICE.

PERSONS living at a distance should be extremely cautious of from they order Lottery Tickets or Certificates of Packages of Tickets.—The country is flooded with bogus and swindling Lotteries. Every information is held out to get persons to invest money in them. Capital Prizes of from $20,000 to $40,000 head their schemes—with tickets at One Dollar. $100,000 capital prizes are offered, tickets only $5. SCHEMES in fact instance, are frauds; and if money is sent to them for tickets, it is so much thrown away without the shadow of a chance or getting a single dollar of all Lotteries where the Capital Prize is unusually large in comparison to the price of tickets—in every instance where large prizes are offered for a small cost of tickets, put it down as a certain fraud.

The Kentucky State Lottery for the benefit of the Shelby College, is under contract with us, is the only Lottery in the United States which is legal by decided by the Maryland Drawings; all other lotteries for this purpose to be decided by the Maryland Drawings, are frauds.

THE MARYLAND STATE LOTTERIES.

Purchase in the Maryland State Lotteries, then you are sure of being right. And in ordering in the Maryland Lotteries, you are true of fair and honest drawings.

One thing look to, and that is, if you order from any licensed vender in Baltimore, do not receive any but Managers' Tickets and Managers' Printed Certificates of Packages. The Managers' Certificates are Signed by R. FRANCE & CO. and have the Lithographic signature of R. France & Co

No one has a right to send his individual certificate, if it does it, be sure there is a fraud at the bottom of it.

—MANUFACTURERS OF—

Melodeons, Organ Melodeons,

—and—

PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

No. 511 Washington St., Boston,

The first premium over all competitors, at the Fair of the State Charitable Mechanic Association, of the National Fair, Washington, D. C., also at the Ohio State Fair, held at Columbus, Ohio, was awarded to the Pedal Bass.

By means of a new method of Voicing, known only to themselves, they have succeeded in removing the harsh and buzzing sound which formerly was a single stop, or by the reed, and rendering the tones full, clear and organ like. The action is prompt and reliable, enabling the performer to execute the most rapid music without blurring the tones. The swell is arranged to give great expression.

THE PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

Are designed particularly for Churches, Lodges, Halls, &c. It is arranged with two manuals, or banks of Keys, the lower set running an octave higher than the other, and may be used separately, and thus get in one case two distinct instruments; or by coupler the two banks of keys may be played at the same time by use of the front set only. The combined with the Pedal Bass, will produce the effect of a large organ, and is sufficiently loud to fill a house that seats from 1000 to 1500 persons.

THE ORGAN MELODEON

Is designed for parlor and private use. The construction is similar to the Church Instrument, being arranged with two banks of Keys, and when used together, by means of the coupler, is capable of as great volume of power as the Church Instrument when used without the pedals. Also, every variety of MELODEONS for Parlor use.

Purchasers may rely upon instruments from our manufactory, being made in the most complete and thorough manner. Having removed to the spacious Buildings

511 Washington Street,

We have every facility for manufacturing purposes, and feel confident none but the most experienced and skilful workmen are employed, we will promise our customers an instrument equal, if not superior, to any Manufacturer, and guarantee satisfaction. Warranted for five years.

Music Teachers, Leaders of Choirs, and others interested in musical matters, are respectfully invited to visit our rooms at any time and examine or test the instruments on exhibition for sale at their pleasure.

As a still further guarantee to the public as to the superiority of the MELODEONS of this Manufactory, we beg leave to refer, by permission, to the following

Piano Forte Manufacturers of Boston,

who have examined our instruments, and will give their opinion when called upon.

MELODEONS RENTED.

Persons desiring to try Melodeons with a view of purchasing at the end of the year, can have the rent credited as part payment of the purchase money. This matter is worthy of special note, as it enables the purchaser to get the use of the instruments before purchasing, to obtain it at the expense of the manufacturers, to the extent at least of one year's rent.

Orders from any part of the country or world, sent direct to the manufactory in Boston, with cash or satisfactory reference, will be promptly attended to, and as faithfully executed as if the parties were present, or employed an agent to select, and on as reasonable terms.

☞ Hunt's Merchant's Magazine enumerates no less than thirty-eight substances which are employed to give potency, flavor, consistence, and other desirable qualities to Lager beer. Among them are chalk, marble dust, opium, tobacco, henbane, oil of vitriol, copperas, alum, strychnine, and other deadly drugs.

These drugs diminish the intoxicating effects of the liquor, while they greatly increase its potency to kill. But this is all to the advantage of the dealer, because the customer can drink a much larger quantity without "making drunk come," although he will make disease and death come in double quick time.

☞ The "purity of elections" in New York city is very remarkable. Ballot-box stuffing will proceed in New York as heretofore—the State legislature having refused to pass the bill which had been proposed, providing for a registration of legal voters throughout the State. The bill failed in the Assembly. The Senate passed it by a vote of 18 to 14, Republicans and Americans voting yea, and the Democrats voting nay.

"Twenty-five hundred votes," says the New York Tribune, "have been polled at a primary election in New York city by less than three hundred persons, not half of them legal voters!"

STRATFORD, N. H.—Rev. E. Place, a Freewill Baptist minister, has preached in Stratford 32 years. He gives the following table of the deaths in that place, during these 32 years:

Under ten years of age	214
Ten and under twenty	84
Twenty and under thirty	64
Thirty and under forty	64
Forty and under fifty	58
Fifty and under sixty	74
Sixty and under seventy	71
Seventy and under eighty	131
Eighty and under ninety	93
Ninety and under a hundred	37
Amounting to	890

Mr. Place appends the following note:

The above is according to my record, made annually. But the names and ages of quite a number who have died during the said thirty-two years, I have not been able to obtain. They will average at least three in each year, which would increase the number to 986. The most noticeable feature in this account is the longevity of a large number in a town of less than two thousand inhabitants.

A COMPLIMENT.—The Newark, N. J., Journal of April 12 says:

We learn that several of our citizens who attended the ball at the Crystal Palace on Thursday evening, lost valuable overcoats, and were obliged to take such garments as the thieves left, or return home coatless. We should judge, from the description of the affair given in some of the New York papers, that this charitable entertainment was entrusted to the management of rowdies, black-legs, rum-sellers and thieves.

The compliment to which we refer is contained in the grouping of characters at the close—and this grouping is in the paper edited by the late editor of the New Hampshire Gazette.

THE BISHOP OF LONDON'S GLOVES.—A keen controversy is raging in some of the English church papers, relative to the sort of gloves which it is lawful and expedient for a bishop to wear. It appears that at a religious meeting, over which the Earl of Shaftesbury presided, the right reverend prelate stood upon the platform wearing a pair of bright yellow riding gloves, a circumstance which seems completely to have scandalized some of the rigid disciplinarians present.

☞ The New York Christian Inquirer states that a Conference was held in Charlton, Mass., several weeks ago, attended by six clergymen, three being Unitarians and three Universalists.—Among them were Rev. Dr. Hall, and Rev. J. G. Adams, both of Worcester. The Inquirer speaks highly of a Sermon on Family Religion, by Rev. J. G. Adams, well known here as "a Son of Portsmouth."

LESLIE'S MAGAZINE.—Frank Leslie's "New Family Magazine and Gazette of Fashion" is received from Dyer & Co., School street, Boston. This is a valuable publication, original in matter, both literary and artistical, and is highly meritorious. It contains much excellent and useful reading, is the best record of fashions, and cannot fail of a welcome reception at every intelligent fireside. J. P. Morse has it.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston,
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remmitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below show that more is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he would, for reasons to follow, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The business pursued at the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skillful Patent solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
From the present Commissioner.
AUGUST 17, 1856.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

Coggswell's Medical Salt,
A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE
FOR THE
LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.
INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies It has control over but ONE MALADY—has but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: SUBDUES INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. It is asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a quill dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.
☞ Of its intrinsic value, the enlightened community, and not the discoverer, must be the judge.

THURSDAY, APRIL 22, 1858.

FREEDOM IN RUSSIA.—The measures taken in Russia to emancipate the serfs, are on a liberal and vigorous plan, worthy the attention of all christian freemen. It is pleasant to learn that there is very little opposition on the part of the nobility to the plans of the Emperor and his Council of State, for the emancipation. This Russian scheme is probably the most liberal system of emancipation ever devised in any nation, on a large scale. It gives the serfs many privileges, particularly an allotment of land upon which they may earn their subsistence.

The indocsment which has led the nobility and land-owners to come forward generally and promptly to aid the government in its work of elevating the peasantry, is doubtless a devotion to the progress of the nation. They are sensible that the elevation of this class to freedom will stimulate the general prosperity of the empire, develope its strength, and unfold its resources; and therefore they give their aid in the work.

This is sound doctrine, and contrasts favorably with the narrow views we sometimes see exhibited, about regarding the rights of the white man, while the black (vide Taney) has no rights which the white man is bound to respect. Send Judge Taney to Russia, we were about to say, for enlargement of his views; but no: he is too old and must go to

"That undiscovered country from whose bourne
No traveller returns."

So let him stay at home, and if he is not too old or too wise to read the papers, let him see what an old Russian soldier, Gen. Mouravieff, says about the matter in a late speech. He enlarged on the high mission of the class called to fulfil this work with a self-denial based on the consciousness of human rights. He said, "we shall only obtain success by resuscitating, or rather restoring, the human dignity which had been stifled, and by invoking the assistance of free labor."

"Do not separate your material calculations from the rights of man;—render to man that which belongs to man, and you will justify the confidence of the sovereign of the nation. I may say more—you will deserve the admiration of the whole world, whose eyes are fixed upon you at this moment. Your work will win for you the blessings of the Omnipotent and those of collective humanity, whilst history will rank you among the promoters of justice, among those who love their neighbors, and will name you as the founders of your country's prosperity."

☞ A man calling his name Harriman is now in jail in Lawrence, Mass., for cheating the gullible ones by circulars mailed at Sutton's Mills, Mass., and purporting to sell a "family chopping machine" very cheap, on the remittance of money. It was a new edition of the coffee and lard swindles, and almost equal to the Golden Prize.

☞ Rev. Dudley A. Tyng died at his residence near Philadelphia, on Monday evening, in consequence of the unfortunate accident which occurred to him a few days ago, which required the amputation of his arm. Mr. Tyng's sudden and peculiar death has elicited a very general expression of sorrow from all who knew him, as a friend and acquaintance, or as a scholarly and out-spoken preacher of the gospel.

☞ The 19th of April was the anniversary of the "Lexington Fight."—The Boston Advertiser says:—

"Harry Otis was on his way to school, a boy of 8 years old. We have his account of this morning in a MS. letter before us, never till now published:

On the 19th April, 1775, I went to school for the last time, he says, "In the morning, about seven, Percy's brigade was drawn up, extending from Scollay's building through Tremont street nearly to the mall, preparing to take up their march for Lexington. A corporal came up to me as I was going to school, and turned me off to pass down Court street, which I did, and came up School street to the school house. It may well be imagined that great agitation prevailed, the British being drawn up a few yards only from the school house door. As I entered school, I heard the announcement of 'deponite libros,' and ran home for fear of the regulars.

A tradition which we have at first hand, says that Master Lovel, with prophetic sagacity, said 'War's begun, and school's done, deponite libros.' He knew that this was war, though the news of bloodshed did not reach Boston till noon."

☞ A man named Cæsar H. Dobbin, who keeps a place on Main street, Cambridge, has been arrested for selling liquor to the boys of the Alliston School.

It is not well for man to pray cream and to live skim-milk.—H. W. Beecher.

THE STRIKES.

The recent strikes in Salem, Newburyport and Providence have resulted in the operatives resuming work without accomplishing the object sought for.

The operatives in the Dwight Mills at Chicopee, some 1600 in number, struck last week, and have not yet gone to work, but, as the company is not disposed to yield, we presume they will be obliged to follow the example of others. In addition to the reduction of 20 per cent. in the wages, the hours of work were increased from 11 hours to 11 hours and three-quarters per day.

The Amesbury Villager remarks:—It is certainly most unfortunate that our manufacturing establishments can not become prosperous except by the reduction of the wages to a very low standard, and yet in addition demand more hours' work of the employees. We trust the latter movement will not become general. For the welfare of both employer and employed we believe it would not be safe to attempt to add this additional burden. And if it is in contemplation by the directors of any company, they had better take heed in time. Such an arrangement might not meet with any very decided opposition at this moment, but it would eventually reawaken a demand for a ten-hour law, which no combination of corporate powers could defeat.—It was only through the concession of an eleven-hour law by the corporations in Massachusetts, that the friends of the ten-hour measure consented to a truce; and while corporations may plead that they cannot manufacture cloth unless the operatives consent to a reduction of 15 or 20 per cent. in their wages—there could not be any satisfactory reason assigned for an increase in the hours of labor.

We do not believe in "strikes" for higher wages; they seldom accomplish the end sought for, and more especially at this time, when the manufacturing interest is seeking to recover from the depression of the past year. We are often assured that the interests of labor and capital are identical, that both are mutually dependent, one upon the other. It is true that labor, in all its demands, its interests, is at least on an equality with capital, and when capital ceases to treat labor as an equal—when it refuses to conciliate, and aims only to command—its demands should be strenuously opposed.

The manufacturing establishments of New England are not managed on very economic principles, and for this the laborer has to suffer. For instance, men are often employed as Agents who have never had one day's experience in manufacturing. This is the case in Lawrence, where two agents are employed at salaries of four and five thousand dollars per year.

Then, again, it costs more to sell the goods than it does to manufacture them. Under the arrangement of depositing goods in commission houses, the selling agents take the lion's share of the profits. The enactment of a high tariff, which shall protect the manufacturing interest of New England, may compensate in a measure for this mismanagement; but until they learn something from the English system of manufacturing and selling, they cannot fully overcome the competition of the foreign manufacturers.

A SPUNKY AND SENSIBLE GIRL.—The Farmington (Me.) Chronicle tells a story of one of the Franklin County girls, who having attended a county concert, in a neighboring town, with a young gentleman, discovered on the way home that her companion had been patronizing the bar too freely. She immediately ordered him to stop the horse, left the carriage, in spite of the penitent tears of her gallant—who was not so drunk but he felt the disgrace of his position—and, by permission of the teamster, mounted a passing load of boards, and rode to the nearest house, where she stayed until the mail stage came along, in the afternoon, when she took passage to Farmington, from whence the following morning, she hired a private conveyance and returned home.

All right—except that any patronage of the bar is too much for endurance, and the "too freely" conveys a different idea. A woman had better marry a man with a running leprosy, than one who "puts the enemy into his mouth" at all.

☞ The contractors for the carriage of the California overland mail, have, constructed and in course of construction, at Concord, N. H., by the Abbots, one hundred coaches and heavy covered Concord wagons.

OXYGENATED BITTERS.—An eminent physician pronounces this medicine a specific for Dyspepsia in all its forms. When taken according to directions, it gives immediate relief, and, in most cases, effects a permanent cure. K.

In this world, it is not what we take up, but what we give up, that makes us rich.

BOMBSHELLS AT SEBASTOPOL.—A member of the American Submarine Company at Sebastopol writes to the Transcript that there is a prospect that their operations will turn out profitably. In his description of incidental matters in that locality he says:—

The bombshells strewn about the city during the seige are still doing the work of death. No less than eight deaths, I think, have been caused by explosions of these missiles since my arrival, hardly a year since. Only a few days ago, two seamen belonging to the English steamer "Beyrout," came on shore near our ship yard, and for a few minutes were conversing with Mr. Gowen. They started for a walk to the Redan, quite near our residence, and on reaching the breastwork one of them picked up an unexploded detonating shell, intending to keep it as a relic, but finding it rather heavy threw it down, when it instantly exploded, and killed him, almost severing the head from the body, and completely cutting off his right leg.

The remains were brought to our yard, whence they were buried. His companion escaped with a slight scratch upon the lip. On the following day two Russians were killed in a similar manner, while picking out the stopper of a shell. The lock by which the concussion ignited the powder of the shell is a curious affair, being a small equilateral cross, with a capsule at each point, and four little hammers held by a human hair. A sudden jar breaks the hair, causing the hammer to strike the cap, which explodes. After the shell is are charged, the locks are enclosed in a copper tube and inserted within the hole of the shell, upon which a plug is placed.—The shells thus prepared are placed in a box of the size of an ordinary chronometer box, which for safety, must be handled "this side up with care."

Two or three weeks since, four women not possessed of the best reputations, set up housekeeping independently at a house in Canterbury, about two miles from Fisherville, N. H. The good people of Canterbury, feeling somewhat scandalized by the proceedings at the way-side house, assembled Saturday evening last, and proceeded to inspect the premises, and finding its occupants not very religiously engaged in playing cards, etc., directed them to leave in five minutes. This peremptory order being complied with, our informant says they rattled the house, which belonged to a man named Runnels, down in short order, not leaving two sticks of it joined together.—Patriot.

What is to be done about the murdered man, Broderick? Some three or four policemen were on the coroner's jury and heard the witness who accompanied the deceased from one rum-hole to another, testify to the facts. Will the city authorities tell us now that they don't know where the rum-holes are, of which people complain, and which render it dangerous for peaceable citizens to walk after dark? Will the Marshal in his next report say that he does not know where the evidence is to be found against the venders? It will be a burning shame upon us, if those places are opened hereafter—if the sellers of liquor to that man are not in the County House, where they deserve to be, to work out in shame and punishment the longest term the law will inflict upon them. And in whose houses are these rum dens? What respectable men—what Christian and pious real estate holders, possess the deeds of those premises?—who share in the rents, the gains from that murderous traffic? We repeat it anew, that when the victims fall down and die in the streets, it is time to inquire into our duties and our dangers.—Newburyport Herald.

STONE, THE FORGER.—Worcester, April 20.—A. D. Stone, who was arrested in Springfield on Saturday, for forgeries in this city, was held to bail to-day in $2,000. He was re-arrested for debts amounting to $70,000, and in default of $140,000, was committed to jail. The case is one of much interest.

SIX WEEKS DETENTION IN THE ICE.—The British brig Bloomer, Captain Webster, which sailed from Boston Feb. 28, for Placentia Bay, N. F., with Capt. Field and party on board, arrived safely on the 19th inst., after being detained in the ice during six weeks.

No man can tell whether he is rich or poor by turning to his ledger. It is the heart that makes a man rich. He is rich or poor according to what he is, not according to what he has.

HOW TRUE IT IS!
There are a couple of old proverbs that it would be well for us all to keep in mind. One is, "a stitch in time saves nine;" and another, "an ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure." We all, in theory, acknowledge the truth of these proverbs, yet the practice of the most of us gives them the lie. Myers' Extract of Rock Rose, as a preventative of all those diseases arising from impure blood and vicid humors, is acknowledged to be superior to anything in Materia Medica. It purifies the blood, strengthens the digestive organs and invigorates the constitution.

A CARD TO THE LADIES.
DR. DUPONCO'S
French Periodical Golden Pills,
FOR FEMALES;
Infallible in Removing Stoppages or Irregularity of the Menses.

THESE Pills are nothing new, but have been used by the Doctor for many years, both in France and America, with unparalled success in every case; and he is urged by many thousand ladies who have used them to make the Pills public, for the alleviation of those suffering from any irregularities whatever, as well as to prevent pregnancy in those ladies whose health will not permit an increase of family. Pregnant females, or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using these Pills while pregnant, as the proprietor assumes no responsibility after the above admonition, although their mildness would prevent any mischief to health; otherwise these Pills are recommended. Full and explicit directions accompany each box.
Price $1. Sold in Portsmouth by JOSEPH H. THACHER, in Dover by Chas. A. Tufts, in Exeter by C. A. Merrill, and in Newburyport by J. A. Prendergast. They will supply dealers at the Proprietor's prices, and also send the Pills to the Ladies (confidentially) by mail to any part of the city or country, on receipt of $1 through the Post Office.
N. B.—Ladies will be particular in asking for Dr. Duponco's Golden Pills. Otherwise the signature J. Duponco is upon each box. You will then obtain a Pill you can rely upon.

LOCAL.

☞ Water street ought to be widened and straightened, at the point where the Messrs. Russell are now repairing their house and store. We understand the Messrs. R. have offered to give the land to the city, if the city will move their building back so as to be on a line with the railway building and all the others on the east side of the street, except the two partly burnt houses.

It is rather important to do such things at the right time. This week is the right time to make this change.

SAGAMORE ENGINE COMPANY, No. 5.—Officers.—Foreman, E. F. Wiggin; Assistant, Richard Adams; Clerk, B. F. Webster; Pipeman, David Lord; Stewart, Wm. Emerson. The Company is full and united, and have a neat uniform. The members are the same as last year—and several volunteers are waiting opportunity to fill vacancies. If old Five doesn't make so much bustle,—she is always in working order, and generally 'there or thereabouts' when needed.

STREET NUISANCES. — The Boston Bee says that during the past week the police of that city, acting under the direction of the Mayor, have rid the city of several scores of street loafers, ranging between the ages of 17 and 40, who were hanging about the shops and street corners. Wish that plan might "obtain" here.

MEETINGS THIS EVENING, &c.

Union Prayer Meeting in the Hanover Street Chapel, from 8 to 9 o'clock this morning, to which all are invited.

Prayer and Conference meeting at the Vestry in the Temple, this evening at half past 7 o'clock.

The Class meetings of the Methodist Church will assemble at half past 7 o'clock this evening.

For the Chronicle.

MAY DAY.—That is right, "Holiday" and "Eva,"—let us "have a good time generally," and break away from toiling, mentally and physically. The good old custom of celebrating "May day," has become almost obsolete with us. Let us revive the old usage, and greet the entrance of the "month of flowers," with a joyous welcome. Of course, "the schools must be closed," that our children, with their smiling faces, happy hearts and budding hopes, (fit types of Spring) might enhance our pleasures by joining with us. Let us sacrifice, on that day, at Flora's altar, instead of Mammon's, and we shall be amply rewarded by the stimulus we may receive, which will give birth to pleasant thoughts, as the beautiful Spring weather gives life and action to the lovely flowers, that are now unfolding around us, and are bidding us with "dewy eyes" to the 'Floral Feast' on the "First of May."

Then listen! ye aged, ye young, and ye fair,
To the woods, to the fields, with pleasure repair.
Where the "Trailing Arbutus" with perfume will greet
And lay its sweet blossoms with joy at your feet,
And the tiny wild flowers, those gems of the field,
To welcome your presence, their treasures shall yield
Then come, one and all, and let us be gay,
And welcome with glee, the "beautiful May."

ANNIE.

WASHINGTON, April 20.—The Committee of Conference on the Kansas bill met this morning, when Mr. English submitted a proposition similar to that indicated in yesterday's despatch. The Senate Committee asked time to consider it, and another meeting was held at two o'clock.

Mr. English's bill is still under the consideration of the Senate's Conference Committee, with a fair prospect of an ultimate agreement. Many consider this already certain. Messrs. Seward and Howard dissent. The several political parties were this afternoon, and are to night much interested in privately discussing the measure, of the success of which no definite opinion can yet be formed. It is probable that the Conference Committee will report to-morrow.

Many of the letters addressed to the manager of the bogus lotteries, recently broken up at the North, enclosing thousands of dollars, have been forwarded here, to be restored to their owners.

WASHINGTON NEWS.—New York, April 21.—(Tribune Washington correspondence.)—When Mr. English's bill was offered to the Conference Committee, they accepted it without hesitation, and when Mr. Howard appealed to English to allow him to insert a short amendment, providing for the submission of the Leavenworth Constitution at the same time, he declined. Mr. English proposed to report immediately, but Mr. Seward asked for an adjournment till to-morrow in order to have time for consultation, but the majority consented to only two hours delay, and the matter was accordingly postponed till two o'clock. At the appointed hour, Messrs. Howard and Seward attended, but no other member of the Committee was present, and after waiting some time they retired. It is rumored that in the meantime several Southern members of the House, including Quitman, Miles, etc., had signified their dissent from the arrangement, and that Hunter and others of the Senate had done the same thing. Hence the non-attendance of the majority of the Committee at two o'clock.

CONGRESS.

TUESDAY, April 20.

SENATE.—Mr. Houston of Texas spoke in favor of instituting a protectorate over Mexico. The Protectorate must be self-supporting, the protected paying the expense, which they could do by assigning the revenue for ten years. Our Gulf squadron is sufficient to protect her commerce, and 5000 reliable troops posted, would preserve internal order. Mr. Houston explained the circumstances under which Mexico funded her debt of $55,000,000, mostly owing to British creditors, and said that all that Great Britain can reasonably expect, in the event of a Protectorate being established, is, that we shall see that a portion of the customs is set apart towards the debt, and the dividends faithfully appropriated to the purpose. The resolution says:—

Whereas, Every attempt of Mexico to regulate its internal affairs results in failure, and there is danger of its falling into anarchy; and

Whereas, The United States, on account of their continental policy, can never permit Mexico to be subjugated by Spain, or permit her to pass into the hands of any foreign power; therefore

Resolved, That a select committee of seven be appointed to inquire whether it is necessary to establish a protectorate.

The resolution was laid over till to-morrow, to be printed.

The Deficiency bill was then taken up, and discussed at great length.

Mr. Hale's amendment was put and lost; yeas 21, nays 30.

YEAS — Messrs. Broderick, Cameron, Chandler, Clark, Collamer, Crittenden, Dixon, Doolittle, Foot, Hale, Hamlin, Harlan, Houston, Johnson of Tenn., King, Pugh, Seward, Simmons, Trumbull, Wade, Wilson.

ABSENT—Messrs. Bates, Davis, Douglas, Durkee, Fessenden, Foster, Henderson, Mallory, Reid, Sumner, Thompson of Ky.

Mr. Fessenden moved that another section be added to the bill, to confine its appropriations to the fiscal years and the specific branch for which they are voted.

Pending the motion, Mr. Clark of N. H. moved to reconsider the vote on the Pacific Railroad, which was agreed to.

The Senate then adjourned.

HOUSE.—The Senate Washington Police bill was taken up.

The House rejected, by 11 majority, Mr. Dodd's substitute, agreed to in committee yesterday, proposing that the policemen be appointed by an elective board of commissioners, instead of giving the President the power in the premises.

The bill was then tabled by a vote of 110 against 79.

The Military Academy Appropriation bill was taken up in Committee of the Whole.

Mr. Shaw, of North Carolina, replied to the anti-Lecompton speech of his colleague (Mr. Gilmer,) who, he (Shaw) said, was on its conclusion congratulated by Mr. Giddings, with both hands, as tho' he was bestowing a benediction.

Mr. Giddings, of Ohio, said that Mr. Shaw was entirely mistaken.

Mr. Shaw—I saw the scene with my own eyes. Did not the gentleman approach my colleague?

Mr. Giddings, (emphatically)—I did not.

Mr. Shaw—Fifteen or twenty others saw you approach my colleague.

Mr. Giddings further replied, but his voice was entirely drowned in the loud cries of "order" from the Democratic side.

Mr. Keitt of S. C. protested against Mr. Shaw, who was on the floor, being interrupted.

This was followed by cries of "order," from the Republican side, and laughter.

Mr. Keitt said such blackguardism was better out of, than in, the House.

Mr. Shaw repeated that there was a smile of complaisance on Mr. Gidding's face, as he approached Mr. Gilmer on that occasion. When he (Shaw) should bring upon him such congratulations, he would exclaim, "What have I done, that my enemies should praise me."

Cries of "good."

Mr. Giddings said there was not a word of truth in Mr. Shaw's statement. Instead of congratulating Mr. Gilmer, he asked him why he had used his name in connection with that of Mr. Buchanan, and told him he should hold him responsible for it. (Laughter.)

Mr. Campbell, of Ohio, having been near Mr. Gilmer at that time, corroborated Mr. Giddings's statement.

Mr. Clingman, of N. C., in justice to his colleague, Mr. Shaw, who was now absent, said he saw black Republicans congratulating Mr. Gilmer, and Mr. Giddings near enough to do so. He did not know whether Mr. Giddings grasped his hand, but recollected distinctly Mr. Houston's exclaiming "Kiss him, Giddings!" Fifty other gentlemen were witnesses of the scene.

The Committee rose, and the House adj.

☞ Phillips, Sampson & Co. of Boston have published the first volume of Beecher's Life Thoughts, which we have previously announced as about to appear,—and it is for sale in this city by C. C. Harvey.

The book is fully up to the high level of Mr. Beecher's reputation—will have a great run,—and do much good.

Blood's Seedling Grape Vines, For Sale.
TWO varieties of Blood's Seedling GRAPE Vines, which have been tested by the subscriber for 13 years, and found superior to any other cultivated in the open air in this part of the country. This Grape is larger than the Isabella, and ripens in our climate about 5 weeks earlier. For several successive years it has been fully ripe the first week in September, and thus has escaped the early frosts which have in some seasons, cut off the Isabella and other varieties.

Wolfe's Celebrated Scheidam Aromatic
SCHNAPPS.
This medicinal beverage is manufactured by the proprietor, at Scheidam, Holland, expressly for medicinal use, by a process peculiar to his own Factory. It is the pure Tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, whose more vinous extract is distilled and rectified with its spirituous solvent, which thus becomes a concentrated tincture of exquisite flavor and aroma, altogether, transcendant in its cordial and medicinal properties to any alcoholic stimulant now made in the world. It is now prescribed by more than 5,000 physicians in the United States, in cases of Gravel, Gout, Dropsy, and Bladder and Kidney Complaints.
Put up in Quart and Pint Bottles, in cases of one dozen qts., and cases of two dozen pts., and for sale by all Druggists and Country Merchants.

OLD AGE AND DEATH.

The seas are quiet when the winds give over;
So calm are we when passions are no more.
For then we know how vain it was to boast
Of fleeting things, too certain to be lost.
Clouds of affection from our younger eyes
Conceal the emptiness which age descries.

The soul's dark cottage, battered and decayed,
Lets in new light through chinks that time has made.
Stronger by weakness, wiser men become
As they draw near to their eternal home;
Leaving the old, both worlds at once they view,
Who stand upon the threshold of the new.
—[Waller.

RELIGION.

All may of thee partake;
Nothing can be so mean,
Which, with this tincture, for thy sake,
Will not grow bright and clean.

This is the famous stone
That turneth all to gold,
For that which God doth touch and own,
Cannot for less be sold. —[Herbert.

THE RAINBOW.

Bright pledge of peace and sunshine, the sure tie
Of thy Lord's hand, the object of his eye:
When I behold thee, though my light be dim,
Distinct and low, I can in thine see Him,
Who looks upon thee from his glorious throne,
And minds the covenant 'twixt all and One.
—[Henry Vaughan.

MANKIND.

Men are but children of a larger growth;
Our appetites as apt to change as their's,
And full as craving, too, and full as vain.
And yet the soul, shut up in her dark room,
Viewing so clear abroad, at home sees nothing;
But like a mole in earth, busy and blind,
Works all her folly up, and casts it outward
To the world's open view.—[Dryden.

The following remedies are offered to the public as the best, most powerful, and most reliable that can afford. AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS have been prepared with the utmost skill which the medical profession of this age possesses, and their effects show they have virtues which surpass any combination of medicines hitherto known. Other preparations do more or less good; but this cures such dangerous complaints, so quick and so surely, as to prove an efficacy and a power to uproot disease beyond any thing which men have known before. By removing the obstructions of the internal organs and eliminating the foul humors which fester in them, they renovate the fountains of life and vigor,—health courses anew through the body, and the sick man is well again. They are adapted to disease, and disease only, for when taken by one in health they produce but little effect. This shows their perfection as medicine. It is antagonistic to disease, and no more. Tender children may take them with impunity. If they are sick they will cure them, if they are well they will do them no harm.

Give them to some patient who has been prostrated with bilious complaint: see his bent-up, tottering form straighten with strength again; see his long-lost appetite return; see his clammy features blossom into health. Give them to some sufferer whose foul blood has burst out in blotches, till his skin is covered with sores; who stands, or sits, or lies in anguish. He has been drenched inside and out with every potion which ingenuity could suggest. Give him these PILLS, and mark the effect; see the scales fall from his body; see the new, fair skin that has grown beneath them; see the leper that is clean. Give them to him whose angry humors have planted rheumatism in his joints and bones; move him, and he screeches with pain; he too has been soaked through every muscle of his body with the infinite nostrums of the art. These PILLS to purify his blood; they may not cure him, for, alas! there are cases which no mortal power can reach; but mark, he walks with crutches now, and now he walks alone; they have cured him. Give them to the dyspeptic, the haggard dyspeptic, whose gnawing stomach has long ago eaten every smile from his face and every muscle from his body. See his appetite return, and with it his health; see the new man. See her that was radiant with health and loveliness blasted and her early withering away; worn out exercise of mental anguish, or some lurking disease, has deranged the internal organs of digestion, assimilation or secretion, till they do their office ill. Her blood is vitiated, her health is gone. Give her these PILLS to stimulate the vital principle into energetic action, root out the obstructions, and infuse a new vitality into the blood. Now look again—the roses blossom on her cheek, and where lately sorrow sat joy bursts from every feature. See the sweet infant wasted with worms. Its wan, sickly features, its tainted breath, its languid, and painfully distinct, that they are eating its life away. Its pinched-up nose and ears, and restless sleepings, tell the dreadful truth in language which every mother knows. Give it the PILLS in large doses to expel these vile parasites from its body. Now turn again and see the ruddy bloom of childhood. Is it nothing to do these things? Nay, are they not the marvel of this age? And yet they are done around you every day.

Have you the less serious symptoms of these distempers, they are the easier cured. Jaundice, Costiveness, Headache, Sickness, Heartburn, Foul Stomach, Nausea, Pain in the Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, King's Evil, Neuralgia, Gout, and kindred complaints all arise from the derangements which these PILLS rapidly cure. Take them perseveringly, and under the counsel of a good Physician if you can; if not, take them judiciously by such advice as we give you, and the distressing, dangerous diseases they cure, which afflict one more millions of other human beings, are not like the devils of old—they must burrow in the brutes and in the sea. Price 25 cents per box—5 boxes for $1.

Through a trial of many years and through every nation of civilized men, AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has been found so efficacious in relief and to cure more cases of pulmonary disease than any other remedy known to mankind. Cases of apparently settled consumption have been cured by it, and thousands of sufferers who were deemed beyond the reach of human aid have found health and joy, friends and usefulness, to good health and the enjoyments of life, by this all-powerful antidote to diseases of the lungs and throat. Here a cold had settled on the lungs. The dry, hacking cough, the glassy eyes, and the pulse, tell the tale. Here we was lately lusty and strong, whisper to all but him CONSUMPTION. He tries every thing; but the disease is gnawing at his vitals, and shows its fatal symptoms more and more over all his frame. He is taking the CHERRY PECTORAL now; it has stopped his cough and made his breathing easy; his sleep is sound at night; his appetite returns, and with it his strength. The dart which pierced his side is broken. Scarcely any neighborhood can be found which has not some living trophy like this to tender forth the virtues which have won for the CHERRY PECTORAL an imperishable renown. But its usefulness does not end here. Nay, it accomplishes more by prevention than cure. The countless colds and coughs which it cures are the seed which would have ripened into a dreadful harvest of incurable diseases. Influenza, Croup, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Pleurisy, Whooping Cough, and all irritations of the throat and lungs are easily cured by the CHERRY PECTORAL. If taken in season, if every family should keep it on hand, they will find it an invaluable protection from the insidious prowler which carries off the parent sheep from many a flock, the darling lamb from many a home.

Authenticated evidence of these facts, with directions for the treatment of such complaints, may be found in Ayer's American Almanac, of which we publish three millions, and scatter them broadcast over the earth, in order that the sick everywhere may have before them the information it contains. Druggists and dealers in medicine generally have them for distribution gratis, and also for sale these remedies, prepared by DR. J. C. AYER, Practical and Analytical Chemist, Lowell, MASS.

THE RESTORATIVE OF PROF. O. J. WOOD for restoring hair perfectly and permanently, has never yet had a rival. Volumes more might be given from all parts of the world and from the most intelligent to prove that it is a perfect Restorative; but read the circular and you cannot doubt; read also the following:

THE HAIR.—People have for centuries been affected with baldness, for which there is only remedy heretofore known, has been those abominable wigs. By a recent discovery of Professor Wood these articles are being fast dispensed with, but a great many persons still patronize them, because they have been so often imposed upon by Hair Tonics of different kinds. To all such persons we earnestly make the request that they will try once again, for in Wood's Restorative there is no such thing as fail. We know of a lady who was bald, where her hair was in the active time, and whose head is covered completely with the finest and most beautiful curls imaginable. We know of numerous cases where hair was rapidly falling out, which it stopped, and in greater perfection than it ever had been before.

It is also without doubt one of the best articles for keeping the hair in good condition, making it soft and glossy, removing dandruff, and has proved itself the greatest enemy to all the ills that hair is heir to.

It is the duty of every one to improve their personal appearance, though some may differ in regard to the ways of doing it; but every one will admit that to have a good head of hair be it man or woman, is an object much to be desired, and there are no means that should be left untried to obtain such a consideration.—Woman's Advocate, Philadelphia.

COCHOCTON, OHIO, Nov. 17, 1856.

O. J. Wood & Co.—Gents: Having engaged in selling your Hair Restorative the last season for one of your local agents (R. M. Hockinson,) and having experienced the wonderful effects of the article myself, I would like to obtain an agency for the State of Ohio or some state in the west, should you wish to make such an arrangement. I am convinced that your preparation is the Best States for restoring the hair. I have been engaged in the Drug business for several years, and have sold various preparations for the hair, but have found nothing that restores the secretive organs or invigorates the scalp as well as yours, being convinced that your restorative is what you represent it to be, I would like to engage in the sale of it, for I am satisfied it must sell.

Yours truly, S. T. STOCKMAN.

WAYLAND, MASS., Feb. 5, 1857.

PROF. O. J. WOOD & CO.—Gents: Having realized the good effects of your Hair Restorative, I wish to state, that finding my hair growing thin, as well as gray, I was induced from what I read and heard, to try the article prepared by you, to prevent its growth and change its color as it did in youth, both of which it has effected completely. In the operation I have used nearly 3 bottles.

Yours &c., JAMES FRENCH.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything is conducted with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten drawing a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $70,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia.

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

R. FRANCE & CO. ..... MANAGERS.

CAUTION NOTICE.

PERSONS living at a distance should be extremely cautious of whom they order Lottery Tickets or Certificates of Packages of Tickets, as the country is flooded with bogus and swindling Lotteries. Every inducement is held out to get persons to invest money in them. Capital Prizes from $500 to $40,000 are drawn in schemes with tickets at One Dollar. $100,000 capital prizes are offered, tickets $5. All such, in every instance, are humbugs, and have not, for years, had a chance of getting a prize. Beware of all Lotteries where the Capital Prize is published at a low price for Tickets and Managers in every instance where large prizes are offered for a small cost of tickets, put it down as certain fraud.

The Kentucky State Lottery for the benefit of the Shelby College, under our management, is the only Lottery in the United States which is legally decided by the Maryland Drawings; all other Lotteries which pretport to be decided by the Maryland Drawings, are frauds.

THE MARYLAND STATE LOTTERIES.

Purchase in the Maryland State Lotteries, then you are sure of being right. And in ordering in the Maryland Lotteries, you are sure of fair and honest dealings.

One thing look to, and that is, if you order from any licensed vender in Baltimore, do not receive any but Manager Tickets and Manager Printed Certificate of Packages. The Managers' Certificates have the numbers printed and have the lithographic signature of R. France & Co.

No one has a right to send his individual certificates, if he does it, be sure there is a fraud at the bottom of it.

PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

No. 511 Washington St., Boston.

The first premium over all competitors, at the Fair of the Mass Charitable Mechanic Association, of the National Fair, Washington, D. C., also at the Ohio State Fair, held at Columbus, Ohio, was a warded to these Manufacturers.

By means of a new method of Voicing, known only to themselves, they have succeeded in removing the harsh and buzzing sound which formerly characterized the instrument, and rendered the tones full, clear and musical. The action is prompt and reliable, enabling the performer to execute the most rapid music without hurrying his tones. The swell is arranged to give great expression.

THE PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

Are designed particularly for Churches, Lodges, Halls, &c. It is arranged with two manuals, or banks of Keys, the lower set running an octave higher than the other, and may be used separately, and thus get in one case two distinct instruments; or by use of the coupler, the two banks of keys may be used at the same time by use of the front set only. This connected with the Pedal Bass, will produce the effect of a large organ, and is sufficient, when to fill a house that seats from 1000 to 1500 persons.

THE ORGAN MELODEON

Is designed for parlor and private use. The construction is similar to the Church Instrument, being arranged with two banks of Keys, and when used together, by means of the coupler, is capable of as great volume of power as the Church Instrument when used without the pedals. Also, every variety of MELODEONS for Parlor use.

Purchasers may rely upon instruments from our manufactory, being in the best, most complete and thorough manner. Having removed to the spacious Buildings

511 Washington Street,

We have every facility for manufacturing purposes, and employ none but the most experienced workmen, skilled workmen, and can promise our customers an instrument equal, if not superior, to any manufacturer, and guarantee an entire and perfect satisfaction.

Many of our patrons, leaders of choirs, and others interested in musical matters, are respectfully invited to visit our Rooms at any time and examine for themselves the instruments on exhibition for sale at their pleasure.

As a still further guarantee to the public as to the excellence of our MELODEONS, free our Manufactory, we beg leave to refer, by permission, to the following who have examined our Instruments, and will give their opinions if called upon:

Piano Forte Manufacturers of Boston,

Chickering & Sons,	Hallett & Cumston,
T. Gilbert & Co.,	Wm. P. Emerson,
Brown & Allen,	A. W. Ladd & Co.,
George Hewes,	Woodward & Brown,
	Newhall & Co.

MELODEONS RENTED.

Persons who wish to hire Melodeons with a view of purchasing at the end of the year, can have the rent credited as part payment of the purchase money. This matter is worthy of special note, as it will enable persons to try one of the instruments before purchasing, to obtaining it at the expense of the manufacturers, to the extent at least of a year's rent.

Orders from any part of the country or world, sent direct to the manufactory in Boston, with cash, or satisfactory references, will be promptly attended to, and as faithfully executed as if the parties were present, or employed an agent to select, and on as reasonable terms.

VOL. 12. PORTSMOUTH, N. H., FRIDAY, APRIL 23, 1858. NO. 69.

CIVILIZATION OF CHRISTIANIZATION.—We understand that during the stay of the Siamese ambassadors at the Imperial Hotel, Malta, one of their servants, having been guilty of some trifling offence, was forthwith laid upon the floor and bastinadoed until he became insensible, and restoratives were obliged to be used to bring him to his senses. This fact gives an idea of the low state of civilization of the country and government represented by these ambassadors.—Malta Times.

What do you think of the government and country which cuts soldiers into fiddle-strings with the cat-o'-nine-tails?—Boston Post.

What do you think of the governments and States that hold three millions of people—men, women and children, white, black and mixed—subject to the brutal lusts and unbridled tempers of their masters and mistresses, by whom any day they may be cut into fiddlestrings with the cat-o'-nine-tails?—Newburyport Herald.

FATAL HOAX.—A Sheffield (England) paper says that a gentleman in that town has received a letter from a friend in Northampton, containing the following: "A singular circumstance happened at our union last week. For some misconduct the master put a boy into the dead-house. At the time there was a corpse in the 'dead-ward,' in a coffin. The boy took the corpse out of the coffin, dressed it in his own clothes, propped it up against the wall, and then himself got into the coffin, lay down and covered himself over. In the course of a short time the master came, looked in at the door and saw, as he supposed, the sulkey lad standing against the wall. Now said the master—'Do you want any supper?' There was no answer, and the question was repeated with the same result. The boy then looked from the coffin and said, 'If he won't have any, I will.' The master fled, stricken with terror, and received such a shock that it is said he has since died from the effects."

A SENATOR ELECTED BY A LOVE LETTER. In a certain town in this State, a letter arrived for a young lady from her lover, on the day of election. The Postmaster, as is not infrequent in the rural districts, knowing the eagerness with which a message of that tender character would be expected, took upon himself the pleasing duty of delivering it; but first, like a good Democrat, he must vote, and of course in a separate self-sealing envelope. This was duly prepared, with the Democratic ticket enclosed, and the gluten stuck together. Stopping at the town meeting, he deposited the letter in the ballot-box, and went with the separate self-sealed envelope to the house of the blooming maiden, to whom he gallantly handed the entire Democratic ticket, State and town. How the lady interpreted the missive we do not know, but the moderator and clerk ungallantly refused to count the love letter, and the Republican candidate was declared elected by one majority.—Providence Journal.

THE FEDERAL SENATE.—The Richmond South says: "It is no extravagance of national vanity to affirm this of the American Senate: Cynical scribblers may essay to disparage its character, as they indulge a fashionable lament over the degeneracy of the times; but no man of observation and judgment will admit that it exhibits any decline from the highest point of its former glory. If there be not three such men on its floor as Calhoun, Clay and Webster, all will allow that it presents an average of ability and reputation far above the contemporaries of these illustrious orators. Hunter, Davis, Benjamin, Douglas, Seward, Fessenden, Toombs and Hammond would be hardly matched by the men of any period."

AN EPISTLE FROM A FLORIDAN.—We have received an advertisement from a gentleman in Jacksonville, Florida, who wishes to obtain a wife from among the girls of Boston, from sixteen to twenty years of age, black hair and eyes, &c., &c. He only remits us, however, about one-tenth money enough to pay for his advertisement, and we are therefore afraid that either his means or his mind will prove too small for a Boston girl. He needs to be placed under the tuition of a Yankee school-mistress, also, before he can be a fit subject for matrimony.—Traveller.

FATAL ACCIDENT IN LOWELL.—Mr. Joseph Bailey of Andover, visited Lowell on Saturday, sold a load of wood, got drunk on the proceeds, fell off his wagon on the way home, and broke his leg, and died from his injuries in the evening. He leaves some property to a wife and six children.—Boston Courier.

☞ Three Nuisance Cases were tried in the Boston Municipal Court on Wednesday—when James Kelley Richard Rea, and Daniel Sidmore, were severally found guilty of keeping groggeries contrary to the nuisance act.

STRIKE.—Richmond, Pa., April 21.—The workmen on the Reading railroad at this place, struck to-day on account of the non-payment of their wages. Some of them, it is reported, have received no pay since the first of January.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1836.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston,
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remmitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of Inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the United States are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved to inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
From the present Commissioner.
AUGUST 17, 1856.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is a thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

Coggswell's Medical Salt,
A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE
FOR THE
LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.
INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—has but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: SUPPRESS INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. Is it asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a quill dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.

Morning Chronicle.

FRIDAY, APRIL 23, 1858.

LETTER FROM NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, April 20.

Dear Chronicle:—I had the pleasure of listening a few evenings since to a lecture by Mrs. Cora Hatch, the soi-disant trance speaker. The wonderful faculty which this lady displays is truly astonishing, and is attracting much attention from the scientific and curious.

At the hour appointed for her lecture, a committee, chosen by the audience from their number, propose a subject; and without any preparation whatever, she delivers an impromptu address, treating her theme profoundly and logically, whether it be Religious, Moral, Metaphysical, or Philosophical. She is a mere girl, apparently but seventeen or eighteen years of age, and it is said by competent authority, has had no extraordinary educational advantages. Her personal appearance is prepossessing; a strange, intellectual light beams from her expressive eyes, implying an unfathomable depth of thought within. The subject selected for her discourse was Miracles, introducing the question, "are they the direct effects of supernatural agency, or the manifestations of an unknown natural power?" From the circumstances attending the performance, one would be led naturally to anticipate a rambling, unstudied effort, with here and there a stereotyped thought, or a brighter flash of fancy; but instead of this we listened to an able, finished discourse, which would have put to shame many of our popular Lyceum lecturers.

The audience was perfectly entranced with the glowing stream of thought, the sweet, expressive language, and the beautiful imagery displayed throughout the whole production. It was no show of studied eloquence, no effort of oratory, but the whole discourse was as finished as if a score of poets had concentrated the best thoughts of their lives into a prose-poem of an hour. I had abundant proof that there was no collusion between the lady and the committee who selected the subject, from the fact that the person who did propose it was a gentleman accompanying me, well known to the members of the New York Historical Society, and an avowed disbeliever in the Spiritualist theory. To my positive knowledge he had never seen Mrs. Hatch until she appeared on the stage that evening.

After bestowing these encomiums, the thought arises, what is the cause, the foundation of this singular display of intellect. I can see nothing, as yet, to establish the belief of many more credulous persons, who claim it to be the direct effect of inspiration, or, to borrow the favorite expression of that class, that the influence of departed spirits uses this mode of connection with the material world. It appears to a skeptical observer a remarkable case of natural intellect, a wonderful versatility of mind, more endowed by Nature than trained by education. There are those in other fields who possess a talent very similar, but less noticed on account of the absence of all pretensions to inspiration. The "boy-preacher" of Missouri is a remarkable instance, and one now familiar to all readers of the public prints.

As to the popular theory, which passes under the name of Spiritualism, if it is a delusion, it is a most remarkable one; if it is not, it is in advance of all creeds and opinions, and whether it is or is not, it merits the investigation of every person whose share of intelligence allows him unbiased freedom of judgment.

The lecture room of our city are now especially favored with a supply of female talent on the rostrum. Crowds are attracted by singular intelligence of Mrs. Hatch, the fervid eloquence of Mrs. Lucretia Mott, the vivacious wit of Madam Lola Montez, and the intellectual reasonings of Mrs. Ernestine L. Rose.

In my last I mentioned that there were some ten or twelve daily prayer-meetings held here; on further inquiry I find that no less than twenty-one are in operation each day in the week between sunrise and sunset. Here is a little incident, which, although it borders on fanaticism, serves to show the extreme scrupulous piety which the revival awakens in the hearts of its most earnest participants. A country merchant from one of the flourishing towns in North Western New York, purchased a large lot of goods of a mercantile house in this city on Friday. Instead of the usual admonition for promptness in the matter of shipping the articles, he earnestly requested that they should be retained until the Monday following, giving as a reason for the detention, that he would not allow them under any consideration to be in the freight cars of the Erie Rail Road during the hours of the Sabbath day. It is well to add that the gentleman is an honest and faithful customer.

Many of the wonderful, miraculous tales of the revival now going the rounds, are fabulous. Some of them are calculated to have an effect on the credulous and superstitious, which takes the place of real, rational sincerity of motives. The extravagant narrative of the young lady who achieved an imaginary excursion into the other world, while in a trance for forty-eight hours, is pronounced by the Poughkeepsie papers of this week to be a hoax.

To-morrow evening we are to have a demonstration which will, from its peculiar motive, be without a precedent in the American annals of modern excitements. It is to be a grand torchlight procession and Park mass meeting of the French, Italian and German Red Republicans, and its object is to express sympathy, in the French style, with the fate of the guillotined parricides, Orsini and Pierri, and to issue manifestos denunciatory of the "tyrant" Napoleon. We may expect to be treated with a brilliant dioramic view of the fierce elements of the French Revolution of '48. The emperor can smile in scorn from his European throne, as he will, in accordance with his rigid policy, prevent all American papers likely to inform his subjects of the circumstances from entering the empire.

ISLINGTON.

AN AMERICAN IN HAVANA.

HAVANA, April, 1858.

* * * * I like living here in Havana, and should be well satisfied to make my permanent residence here. The people seem happy and contented. Nearly half of their time is spent in observing the Saint's Days. They work on Sundays, the same as any day; but on their Saints' Days they could not think of such a thing.

The past week, being Passion Week, has been observed with great solemnity.—From ten o'clock on Thursday to Saturday at the same hour, it appeared as though the whole city was in the deepest mourning. Not a carriage or a horse of any kind was allowed in the city; not a bell was rung, while in all other days they seem to be ringing continually for church. All the flags in the harbor, as well as the city, were at half mast. In the various churches were images, of the size of life, of the Savior hung on the cross; around which were, continually, crowds of people worshipping and kissing the toe very devoutly.

On Friday at five o'clock a splendid procession was formed, and the image of Christ was taken through the streets, accompanied by the Virgin and John the apostle, and laid in a sepulchre, with all due solemnity. The procession was very fine. The escort was composed of about five thousand troops, marching with arms reversed, and solemn music.

On Saturday, at ten o'clock, all this mummery comes to an end. The Savior is supposed to have risen at that hour.—All the bells of the city ring out a merry peal, and the City seems a perfect Bedlam. Guns are fired, people rush through the streets, crying "Hallelujah! hallelujah! El Senor se ha levantado." In fact, it is a sort of a fourth of July on a small scale. After giving vent to their feelings for an hour or two, they seem to feel much better, for they return to their business, all the same as ever.

The whole of this week is to be one of feasts, rejoicings, &c., on account of the birth of the Queen's baby. There are to be sham battles on sea and land, the latter with no less than thirty thousand troops. I should like to see about two thousand Kentucky riflemen after them—one might see some tall running.

☞ At the Sandusky (Ohio) Common Pleas recently, Rosetta Kline obtained a decree of divorce, and $3000 alimony from Barnhart Kline, to whom she had been married twenty years, but who, since becoming a spiritualist, has become cross and morose to his family, and finally expelled his wife from his house while she was sick, and on a cold, stormy day, compelling her to seek shelter with her neighbors.

☞ Mr. Sinclair is to lecture in Manchester Saturday afternoon and evening, April 24.

Samuel R. Perkins of Manchester was arraigned on Wednesday, for selling liquor, and held to bail in $300.

☞ The youth Newman, who attacked Miss Bennett with a dagger at the Church in Brooklyn, N. Y., now says that he was shamming, and only wished to frighten the young lady into the fulfillment of a promise of marriage with him.

☞ One Wm. W. Bush, hailing from Manchester, is in Boston jail for passing counterfeit bills.

CONGRESS.

WEDNESDAY, April 21.

SENATE.—Mr. Durkee presented the resolutions of the Legislature of Wisconsin against the Lecompton Constitution.

Mr. Mallory reported, without amendment from the Committee on Naval Affairs, the bill to repay $750 for the repairs of the bark Ellen, for damage sustained in rescuing the passengers of the steamship Central America, and it was passed.

Mr. Wilson, on leave, introduced a joint resolution, that the President be and is hereby authorized and requested to suspend for one year the sale of public lands advertised to be sold in the Territory of Kansas during the month of July, 1858.

The special order, viz. "The Deficiency Bill," came up.

Mr. Fessenden's amendment, confining the appropriations in the bill to the fiscal year and the specific branch for which they are voted, was debated.

After some discussion of the amendment and the general merits of the bill, the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.—Mr. George Taylor, of N. Y., from the Select Committee, made a report with a bill, for the establishment of a Bureau of Printing, Binding, Engraving, Lithographing and Electrotyping, which together with the minority report proposing amendments to the present law, was referred to the Committee of the Whole.

Mr. Boyce called up the report of the Committee on Election in the Nebraska case, concluding with a resolution that Mr. Fessenden, the sitting delegate, and Mr. Chapman, the contestant, have the further time of sixty days for the taking and returning of supplementary testimony. The resolution was amended by extending the time to first of October, and passed.

The House then went into Committee of the Whole on the West Point Academy Appropriation Bill. During the discussion Mr. Giddings asked Mr. Cobb when the Kansas Committee will report.

Mr. Cobb replied when the conflicting difficulties existing between Lecompton and Anti-Lecompton Democrats become reconciled, in order that they may have power enough to settle the question.

The West Point Academy bill was then passed, and the House adjourned.

WASHINGTON, April 21.—The following confirmations are announced:—L. A. Thomas, Postmaster, New Haven; A. S. Marshall, District Attorney, New Hampshire; S. C. Dorn, Land Register, Minnesota.

The Senate's Committee of Conference on the Kansas bill have Mr. English's bill under consideration, and it is supposed will arrive at some conclusion to-night.

☞ The Methodist N. H. Conference of ministers is to be held at Great Falls next week.

MARRIED.

In this city, April 8th, by Rev Jona Hall, Mr Horatio G Twombly to Miss Mary A Walsh, both of this city.

MORE SWINDLE.—The Boston Journal says, truly:

The practical alternative of Mr. English's bill is to admit Kansas as a State under the Lecompton Constitution immediately, or, under any other, not until she has the requisite population for one member of the House of Representatives. The inquiry is at once suggested, what is there in the Lecompton instrument which should dispense with a postponement from which no other possible constitution can relieve the people of Kansas? * * * * To use this arbitrary power for extorting her approval of a particular instrument, which she has already condemned, is a species of despotic meanness that the country will not stand.

It seems to us that there is some rare scoundrelism in the proposition. If Mr. English chooses to stultify or sell himself, no one can prevent it; but the people of Kansas may spurn this contemptible alternative, as they did that of the Lecompton scoundrels. We look with interest to see what the House will do with a measure at once so silly and so wicked.

ILLINOIS POLITICS.—Springfield, Ill., April 21.—The Buchanan and Douglas State Democratic Conventions met here to-day, and organized separately.

In the former, twenty-eight counties were represented, and resolutions strongly endorsing the administration were passed.

In the latter ninety-seven counties were represented, and resolutions endorsing the course of the Illinois delegation were adopted without a dissenting voice. W. B. Fondey was nominated for State Treasurer, and ex-Gov. French for Superintendent of public instruction.

The Buchanan Convention postponed making any nominations until the 8th of June, when another Convention will be held.

HOW TRUE IT IS!

There are a couple of old proverbs that it would be well for us all to keep in mind. One is, "a stitch in time saves nine;" and another, "an ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure." We all, in theory, acknowledge the truth of these proverbs, yet the practice of the most of us gives them the lie. Myers' Extract of Rock Rose, as a preventative of all those diseases arising from impure blood and vicious humors, is acknowledged to be superior to anything in Materia Medica. It purifies the blood, strengthens the digestive organs and invigorates the constitution.

BUY AND TRY IT!!

SEWING MACHINES,

Price $15.

JUST RECEIVED AND FOR SALE AT

CHAS. T. EMERY'S,

No. 10 Market Square.

Where it may be seen in operation.

THIS machine is warranted to do all the work of a $100 machine—not liable to get out of order—and so simple in its construction that a child of ten years can work it. The needles will never break as they will on other machines! I will warrant to keep it in order for a year, for 25 cts. It will also work by the turning of the wheel either forward or backward—so that it is not liable to get out of order.

It is also small in size—not over 5 by 10 inches; can be worked with or without a table. In fact, that has yet been invented, and it only wants to be seen to be appreciated.

IT IS THE VERY BEST MACHINE

Call and see it, and I will satisfy you of what I have here advertised.

LOCAL.

☞ We looked into the record of the police court, on Thursday—but not a sinner had been before the court since April 5: With the erection and repair of buildings, fences and ships; the prayer, conference and preaching meetings, and other attractions—perhaps less mischief has been done than usual in so many days. Perhaps, also, the stunning effect of two deaths—one indirectly and the other directly by drink—may have had some tendency to repress crime for a moment. But we shall have more such deaths, if we keep up the "institutions" that lead to them.

☞ At the prayer meeting in this city on Thursday morning, a member of the Piscataqua Association mentioned that at its meeting, held this week, (in Epping we believe,) religious interest and reformation were reported as existing in every direction; divisions healed, local alienations brought to an end, and conversions reported of aged men and others who had stood aloof and distant from the stated public worship and instruction.

Uncle Toby.—I see by your paper, there is a project on foot to celebrate May-Day in a becoming manner by a general Pic-Nic, &c. For one, I think it would be an excellent plan. We have but few holidays remaining for us here,—let us enjoy them. It will revive again in our hearts, the long forgotton days of our boyhood, when joining with a merry party of boys, (and girls too, for they are as indispensable as the sunshine and flowers,) we roamed through the fields and woods,—ostensibly for the purpose of gathering posies, or the fragrant chockerberry leaves—but which I'm afraid we too often left for our fair companions to do, while we wild boys (but I trust not cruel,) searched for bird's-nests, or chased the squirrel that leaped so nimbly over the old moss-covered stone walls. And he that climbed the highest, or ran the fleetest, was considered the hero of the party. Ah, well! those days have long past, but though threescore years have robbed my limbs of the sprightliness of yore, yet my old heart throbs again with the bouyancy of youth, as those old feelings come welling up with the freshness of the past.

Yes! let us celebrate May-day—young and old. And for the young, it will be a pleasant reminiscence, when they also become aged; and to us who have passed the "Rubicon," it will add one more pleasure to the scanty portion that is allotted to many of us.

But there must be some one to lead off, possessed of the vigor of youth. Come, young men and maidens, do your best, to make it a joyful day; and we with trembling limbs, will endeavor to bring up the rear. Then Hurra for May-Day!

VOX ET PRETERA NIHIL.

NEW COUNTERFEITS.—Counterfeit ones upon the Mechanics' and Traders' Bank of Portsmouth, N. H., and twos on the Merchants' Bank of Newburyport, Mass., are in circulation, and are not good "to take" by those who are not flush in funds—a complaint not very general at this time. The counterfeits on the Mechanic's and Trader's Bank of Portsmouth N. H., are unlike the genuine, having as a vignette a female and shield, with a medallion head of Gen. Taylor on the left.

☞ Some of our weakly cotemporaries (who evidently, like most of their fellow-citizens, read "the Daily" pretty closely—and are not at all chary of "adopting" our paragraphs,) are endeavoring to "keep up with the times" in newspaperdom, by pulling us back. That's no go, neighbors. The Suit-all "Cats-paw" has got too much to tell of "last year's almanac," and Mount Ararat, to waste time and room in noticing things about home; and the Anglo-American Bawl-at must stop to see if any native movement is going to be popular in this vicinity, ere the editor throws up his hat for it.

Their is no need of our friends troubling themselves to "take off" the Chronicle—we have a good and increasing list of subscribers, who have done that for us for about half a dozen years, through the medium of our carriers. "We reckon" on printing the Chronicle hereafter, as usual, unless something more serious should happen to our enterprise, than the envy of competitors in business. r.

AN EXCITING SEA-STORY!
NOVELTY AFTER NOVELTY!

THE NEW YORK WEEKLY,
FOR MAY 1, NOW READY,
And for sale by all News Dealers in the United States and Canada, will contain
ANOTHER NEW ORIGINAL STORY, ENTITLED
THE OCEAN WANDERER; OR,
ADVENTURES ON LAND AND SEA.
In which the author depicts, in graphic style, the Startling Scenes and Romantic Adventures of Life as a Sailor before the Mast. The narrative of the "OCEAN WANDERER" is a bold but truthful Picture of the most Exciting Incidents in every quarter of the Globe, in which are portrayed the chivalry, daring, freaks, follies and superstitions of the Sailor; together with the tyrannies and brutalities to which he is too often subjected by the officers who command our vessels. Some of these scenes develope a refinement of cruelty and a systematic torture that cannot fail to send a chill of horror through every civilized community! This is the dark side of the picture. "A Life on the Ocean" has its sunshine as well as its storms—its pleasures as well as its pains—and the author has most happily and forcibly presented these various phases of life on the great deep, in the progress of the "OCEAN WANDERER."

The descriptions of the manners and customs of the Natives of the "far-off Isles of the Sea," among whom the author passed a portion of his Eventful Life, are full of interest. He carries the reader through the delightful groves where the banana and cocoa-nut grow—and anon takes him far away into the solitary forests of Tropical fruit, which are only to be found in the Isles of that clime "where summer reigns eternal"—passing in rapid succession before his mental vision a panorama of the most gorgeous Pictures in the world. Amid delightful scenery, after losing all hope of ever gazing on the glorious stars and stripes of his native land, or seeing the friends of his childhood again, the author makes a discovery of the most startling character which changes the whole current of his adventurous career. "THE OCEAN WANDERER finds himself at home among the natives."

There is a reckless daring in the life of the Sailor which is unaccountable. He pursues his perilous calling with an infatuation which amounts to idolatry. It is this spirit which carries our commerce to the remote quarters of the globe—which whitens the ocean with the sails of the merchantmen, and unfolds the flags of all maritime nations in every port of the known world. This daring and adventurous trait in the character of the Sailor leads to explorations far into the icy regions of the North, where eternal winter reigns, or brings to the knowledge of the world the mysteries of the tropics. When perverted, this strange infatuation leads its victim to enlist under the black flag of the Pirate, who lies in wait on the great highway of the ocean for his defenceless prey. The author of the "OCEAN WANDERER" takes the reader through every phase of the Life of the Sailor, its romance, delights, perils and temptations, on sea and on shore.

Young man! before you leave the comforts of a quiet home on shore for a life on the great deep, read the Adventures of the "OCEAN WANDERER!"

Fond mother! before you consign your darling boy to the tender mercies of the tyrants of the sea, read the experiences of the "OCEAN WANDERER!"

Fair maiden! before you consent to a separation from your lover for a long voyage at sea, to enable him to earn the means of making you comfortable and happy, read the Life of the "OCEAN WANDERER." Count well the cost before the fatal rubicon is passed!

How many gallant ships have left our ports, never to be heard of again—leaving those who had friends on board to watch long and anxiously for tidings of the missing vessel, while she was perhaps rent into a thousand pieces by the hurricane, typhoon, or some treacherous reef, far out in the sea—and her passengers and crew engulphed in the ocean depths! While fond hearts were living in the earnest, yet vain hope that absent friends would return home again, perhaps their bones were bleaching in the waters of the great deep! In these terrible disasters some are spared from sudden death to undergo the horrors of starvation and delirium on the fragments of the wreck, while others are cast on some barren and inhospitable island, to end their days among savages, or in a terrible solitude where no human foot ever trod, and where no human voice was ever heard! The author of the "OCEAN WANDERER" vividly brings before his readers some of these startling adventures and terrible realities.

Many a good ship, after having been plundered—her crew and passengers butchered—has been scuttled and sent to the bottom of the ocean by the Freebooter, whose terrible motto is: "Dead men tell no tales!" In this connection the "OCEAN WANDERER" gives the adventures of the daughter of the merchant princes, whose ships were on every sea, which cannot fail to excite the most intense interest. Well may it be said that "mere Fiction pales before the lights and shade of Reality, when we venture out upon the bosom of the great deep."

The adventures of the "OCEAN WANDERER," while they present all the attractions of a work of fiction, cannot fail to be more widely read than any mere creation of the imagination. The author has participated in the events and scenes he describes.—The incidents and adventures condensed in this work would have furnished the florid romancer with material for half a dozen novels, but the author has chosen rather to tell us just what he saw, omitting unimportant events, and grouping only those incidents which have an important connection in the career of the "OCEAN WANDERER." If this narative imparts but half the interest to the general reader, produced by the reading of the manuscript, it will create a greater sensation that any work of the class published in many years.

AS A SPRING MEDICINE
MYERS' EXTRACT ROCK ROSE is invaluable. It changes the vitiated humors, opens the pores of the skin, promotes insensible perspiration, thereby purifying the blood and invigorating the system. A free use of this medicine, in the spring months, will not only cure all diseases caused by impurities of the blood, but will beget a healthy action and prepare the system to resist the attacks of fevers, derangement of the bowels, &c., so prevalent in the summer season.

Blood's Seedling Grape Vines,
For Sale.
TWO varieties of Blood's Seedling GRAPE Vines, which have been tested by the subscriber for 12 years, and found superior to any other cultivated in the open air in this part of the country. This Grape is larger than the Isabella, and ripens in our climate about 5 weeks earlier. For several successive years it has been fully ripe the first week in September, and thus has cured the early fruits which have in some seasons, cut off the Isabel's and other varieties.

Wolfe's Celebrated Scheidam Aromatic
SCHNAPPS.
This medicinal beverage is manufactured by the proprietor, at Scheidam, Holland, expressly for medicinal use, by a process peculiar to his own Factory. It is the pure Tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, whose more vinous extract is distilled and rectified with its spirituous solvent, which thus becomes a concentrated tincture of exquisite flavor and aroma, altogether, transcendant in its cordial and medicinal properties to any alcoholic stimulant now made in the world. It is now prescribed by more than 5,000 physicians in the United States, in cases of Gravel, Gout, Dropsy, and Bladder and Kidney Complaints.

Put up in Quart and Pint Bottles, in cases of one dozen qts., and cases of two dozen pts., and for sale by all Druggists and Country Merchants.

IMMORTELLES.

GOD IN THE FLOWERS.

What wondrous love each bud reveals,
Each chalice brimm'd with dew;
Oh, solemn flowers! earth's wisest ones
Have cried to learn of you.
The winds that swing the fern's light plume,
Some weirdlike tale may tell,
And angel-thoughts peal softly from
The hyacinth's pure bell.

What magic words are written with
The tendrils of the vine;
The leaves o'er which the sun beams play,
Some charmed love enshrine;
The "lily of the valley's" pearls
That tremble in the spray,
So soft and pure, would well beseem
An angel's rosary. —[Anon.

THE ADVENT.

The hardest heart hath ten chords
To waken at the name of "Brother,"
And time comes when brain-scorpion words
We shall not speak to sting each other.
There's a divinity within,
That makes men feel akin, whene'er they will it;
God works with all who dare to win,
And the time cometh to reveal it.
—[Gerald Massey.

FEAR OF DEATH.

Cowards die many times before their death;
The valiant never taste of death but once.
Of all the wonders that I yet have heard,
It seems to me most strange that men should fear,
Seeing that death, a necessary end,
Will come, when it will come. —[Shakspeare.

CONTENT.

My crown is in my heart, not on my head;
Not deck'd with diamonds, and Indian stones,
Nor to be seen; my crown is called, Content;
A crown it is that seldom kings enjoy.
—[Shakspeare.

The following remedies are offered to the public as the best, most perfect, which medical science can afford. AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS have been prepared with the utmost skill which the combined profession of this age possesses, and their effects show they have virtues which surpass any combination of medicines hitherto known. Other preparations do more or less good; but this cures such dangerous complaints, so quick and so surely, as to prove an efficacy and a power to uproot disease beyond any thing which men have known before. By removing the obstructions of the internal organs and stimulating them into healthy action, they renovate the fountains of life and vigor, health courses anew through the body, and the sick man is well again. They are adapted to disease, and disease only, for when taken by one in health they produce but little effect. This is the perfection of medicine. It is antagonistic to disease, and is more. Tender children may take them with impunity. If they are sick they will cure them, if they are well they will do them no harm.

Give them to some patient who has been prostrated with bilious complaint; see his bent-up, totering form straightten out, and walk again; see his longdead appetite return; see his clammy features blossom into health. Give them to some sufferer whose foul blood has burst out in scrofula till his skin is covered with sores; who stands, or sits, or lies in anguish. He has been drenched inside and out with every potion which ingenuity could suggest. Give him these PILLS, and mark the effect; see the scabs fall from his body; see the new, fair skin that has grown under them; see the late leper that is clean. Give them to him whose angry humors have planted themselves in his joints and bones; move him, and he screeches with pain; he too has been soaked through every muscle of his body with liniments and salves; give him these PILLS to purify his blood; they may not cure him, for, alas! there are cases which no mortal power can reach; but mark, he walks with crutches now, and now he walks alone; they have cured him. Give them to the lean, sour, haggard dyspeptic, whose gnawing stomach has long ago eaten every smile from his face and every vestige of flesh from his body. See his appetite return, and with it his health; see the new man. See her that was radiant with health and loveliness blasted and too early withering away; want of exercise or mental anguish, or some lurking disease, has deranged the internal organs of digestion, assimilation, or secretion, till she is their office ill. Her blood is vitiated, her health is gone. Give her these PILLS to stimulate the vital principle into renewed vigor, to cast out the obstructions, and infuse a new vitality into the blood. Now look again—the roses have come back to her cheek and where lately sorrow sat joy bursts from every feature. See the sweet infant wasted with worms. Its wan, sickly features tell you without disguise, and painfully distinct, that they are eating its life away. Its pinched-up nose, its thin, wan, and restless sleepings, tell the dreadful truth in language which every mother knows. Give it the PILLS in large doses to sweep these vile parasites from the body. Now turn again and see the ruddy bloom of childhood, it was nothing but these things! Now, are they not the marvel of this age? And yet they are done around you every day.

Have you the less serious symptoms of these distempers, they are the easier cured. Jaundice, Costiveness, Headache, Sick-Headache, Heartburn, Foul Stomach, Nausea, Pain in the Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, King's Evil, Neuralgia, Gout, and kindred complaints all arise from the derangements which these PILLS rapidly cure. Take them perseveringly, and under the counsel of a good Physician if you can; if not, take them boldly, guided by such advice as we give you, and the distressing, dangerous diseases they cure, which afflict so many millions of the human race, are cast out like the devils of old—they must burrow in the brutes and in the dead! Price 25 cents per box, or five boxes for $1.

Through a trial of many years and through every nation of civilized men, AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has been found to afford more relief and to cure more cases of pulmonary disease than any other remedy known to mankind. Cases apparently settled consumption have been cured by it, and thousands of sufferers who were deemed beyond the reach of human aid have been restored to their friends and usefulness, to sound health and the enjoyments of life, by this powerful antidote to diseases of the lungs and throat. Here's cold lodged in the lungs. The dry, hacking cough, the glassy eye, and the pale, thin features of him who was lately lusty and strong, whisper to all but him CONSUMPTION. He knows every thing; but the disease is gnawing at his vitals, and shows its fatal symptoms more and more over all his frame. He is taking the CHERRY PECTORAL now; it has stopped his cough and made his breathing easy; his sleep is sound at night; his appetite returns, and with it his strength. The disease is there yet, his side is broken. Scarcely any neighborhood can be found which has not some living trophy like this to shadow forth the virtues which have won for the CHERRY PECTORAL an imperishable renown. But its usefulness does not end here. Nay, it accomplishes more by prevention than cure. The countless colds and coughs which it cures are the seed which would have ripened into a dreadful harvest of incurable diseases. Influenza, Croup, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Pleurisy, Whooping Cough, and all irritations of the throat and lungs are easily cured by the CHERRY PECTORAL if taken in season. Every family should have it by them, and they will find it an invaluable protection from the insidious prowler which carries off the young sheep from many a flock, the darling lamb from many a home.

Authenticated evidence of these facts, with directions for the treatment of each complaint, may be found in Ayer's American Almanac, of which we publish three million, which are scattered broadcast over the earth, in order that the sick every where may have before them the information it contains. Druggists and dealers in medicine generally have them for distribution gratis, and also for sale these remedies, prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer, Practical and Analytical Chemist, Lowell, Mass.

THE RESTORATIVE OF Prof. O. J. WOOD for restoring hair perfectly and permanently, has never yet had a rival. Volume after volume might be given from all parts of the world and from first authorities, to prove that it is a perfect Restorative; but read the circular and you cannot doubt; read also the following.

THE HAIR.—People have for centuries been afflicted with bald heads, and the only remedy, heretofore known, has been those abominable wigs. But now we dispense with these things! Now, these articles are being cast dispensed with, but a great many persons still patronize them, because they have been so deceived in regard to Hair Tonics of different kinds. To all such persons we earnestly make the request that they will try once again, for in Wood's Restorative there is no such thing as fail. We know of a lady who was bald, who used the article a short time, and her head is covered completely with the tiniest and most beautiful curls imaginable. We know of numerous cases where hair was rapidly falling out, which it restored in greater perfection than it ever had been before.

It is also without doubt one of the best articles for keeping the hair in good condition, making it soft and glossy, removing dandruff, and has proved itself the greatest enemy to all the ills that hair is heir to.

It is the duty of every one to improve their personal appearance though some may differ in regard to the efficacy of this; but every one will admit that a beautiful head of hair, either in man or woman, is an object much to be desired, and there are no reasons to be left unsaid, which go to obtain such a consideration.—Woman's Advocate, Philadelphia.

COCHECTON, Ohio, Nov. 17, 1856

O. J. Wood & Co.—Gents: As I have been engaged in selling your Hair Restorative the last season, I feel it my duty to inform you, (as Mr. Hutchinson,) and having experienced the beneficial effects of it myself, I would like to obtain an agency for the State of Ohio; as I have seen the west, should you wish to make such an arrangement as I am convinced there is nothing equal to it in the United States, for restoring the hair. I have been engaged in the drug business for several years, and have sold various preparations for the hair, but have found nothing that restores the secretive organs so invigorate the hair as well as yours, being convinced that your restorative is what you represent it to be, I would like to engage in the sale of it, for I am satisfied it must sell.

Yours truly, S. T. STOCKMAN.

WAYLAND, MASS., Feb. 5, 1857.

Prof. O. J. Wood & Co.—Gents: Having realized the good effects of your Hair Restorative, I wish to state, that finding my hair growing thin, as well as gray, I was induced from what I read and heard to try the article prepared by you, to promote its growth and change its color as it was in youth, both of which it has effected completely. In the opinion I have used nearly 3 bottles.

Yours &c., JAMES FRANCIS.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of Packages of Tickets—the country is flooded with bogus and swindling Lotteries. Every inducement is held out to get persons to invest money in them. Capital Prizes of from $200 to $40,000 form the leading schemes, with tickets at One Dollar. $100,000 capital prizes are offered, tickets $5. All such, in every instance, are bogus, and if money is sent to them for tickets, it is so much thrown away without the shadow of a chance of getting a prize. Beware of all Lotteries where the Capital Prize is unusually large in comparison to the price of tickets—in every instance where large prizes are offered for a small cost of tickets, put it down as a certain fraud.

The Kentucky State Lottery for the benefit of the Shelby College, under our management, is the only Lottery in the United States which is legally authorized by Maryland Charter, and all other Lotteries which purport to be decided by the Maryland Drawings, are frauds.

THE MARYLAND STATE LOTTERIES.

Purchase in the Maryland State Lotteries, then you are sure of being right. And in ordering in the Maryland Lotteries, you are sure of fair and honest drawings.

One thing look to, and that is, if you order from any licensed vendee in Baltimore, do not receive any lost Managers' Tickets and Managers' Printed Certificates of Packages. The Managers' Certificates have the numbers printed and have the lithographic signature of R. France & Co

No one has a right to send his individual certificates, if he does it, be sure there is a fraud at the bottom off.

A PROCLAMATION TO THE LADIES.

WHEREAS, it appears that the days of right, honor, and integrity are last fading away, and WHEREAS the concupiscent and ignorant are daily taking advantage of the profound and learned. BE IT KNOWN THEREFORE, to all, whomsoever, that DR. CHEESEMAN'S FEMALE PILLS are alone the certain pancee for the the troubles incident to female disorganization; they alone correcting all painful menstruation, assuaging palpitation of the heart, disturbed sleep, pain in the side, and causing health and happiness to whole sex; more, especially to the married sisterhood, as they are certain to bring on the monthly period with regularity.—AND WHEREAS, these PILLS are purely vegetable and entirely free from mineral, therefore perfectly harmless in their operations and are unlike other medicines thrust upon the public, purporting to effect the objects already detailed. Therefore be it known, that none but the said PILLS of Dr. CHEESEMAN will accomplish the desired object, when disappointment has been experienced under the regime of OTHER PILLS; and the Ladies will ever thus Proclamation to spread amongst them, to their own everlasting benefit—always promising that said Proclamation in no case must be mutilated or torn, and you; that is to say the PILLS must not be taken when any female is in interesting situation, otherwise a MISCARRIAGE will be the inevitable result.

Explicit directions, to be carefully read, accompany each box. Price $1. Sent by mail on enclosing $1 to Dr. CHEESEMAN, Chemist, Box No 4651, Post Office, New York City. Sold by Druggists in every town in the United States.

—MANUFACTURERS OF—

Melodeons, Organ Melodeons,

—and—

PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

No. 511 Washington St., Boston,

The first premium over all competitors, at the Fair of the Mass Charitable Mechanic Association, of the National Fair, Washington, D. C., also at the Ohio State Fair, held at Columbus, Ohio, was awarded to these Manufacturers.

By means of a new method of Voicing, known only to themselves, they have succeeded in removing the harsh and buzzing sound which formerly characterized the instrument, and rendering the tones full, clear and organ like. The action is prompt and reliable, enabling the performer to execute the most rapid music without blurring the tones. The swell is arranged to give great expression.

THE PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

Are designed particularly for Churches, Lodges, Halls, &c. It is arranged with two manuals, or banks of Keys, the lower set running an octave higher than the other, and may be used separately, and thus get in one case two distinct instruments; or by use of the coupler, the two banks of keys may be played at the same time by use of the lever for the purpose. This connected with the Pedal Bass, will produce the effect of a large organ, and is sufficiently heavy to fill a house that seats from 1000 to 1500 persons.

THE ORGAN MELODEON

Is designed for parlor and private use. The construction is similar to the Church Instrument, being arranged with two banks of Keys, and when used together, by means of the coupler, is capable of as great volume of power as the Church Instrument when used without the pedals. Also, every variety of MELODEONS for Parlor use.

Purchasers may rely upon instruments from our Manufactory, being made in the most complete and thorough manner. Having removed to the spacious Buildings

511 Washington Street,

We have every facility for manufacturing purposes, and employ none but the most experienced and skilful workmen. In short, we will warrant every instrument equal, if not superior, to any Manufacturer, and guarantee an entire and perfect satisfaction

Music Teachers, Leaders of Choirs, and others interested in musical matters, are respectfully invited to visit our Rooms at any time and examine or test the instruments on exhibition for sale at their pleasure.

As a still further guarantee to the public as to the excellence of the MELODEONS from our manufactory, we may leave to refer, by permission, to the following:

Piano Forte Manufacturers of Boston,

who have examined our Instruments, and will give their opinion when called upon:

Chickering & Sons,	Hallett & Cumston,
T Gilbert & Co.,	Wm. P. Emerson,
Brown & Allen,	A. W. Ladd & Co.,
George Hewes,	Woodward & Brown,
	Newhall & Co.

MELODEONS RENTED.

Persons who wish to hire Melodeons with a view of purchasing at the end of the year, can have the rent credited as part payment at the purchase money. This matter is worthy of special note, as it enables those who desire a fair test of the instruments before purchasing, to obtain it at the expense of the manufacturers, to the extent at least of a year's rent.

Orders from any part of the country or world, sent direct to the manufactory in Boston, with cash, or satisfactory reference, will be promptly attended to, and as faithfully executed as if the purchaser were present. We have no agents to select, and on as reasonable terms.

THOS. H. BENTON.—The Boston Journal concludes an article on the life and character of Mr. Benton, as follows:

In one important respect, Mr. Benton never had a superior among the great men of the country, and it is a trait which will ever make his example of peculiar value to young men. We refer to that well-ordered life, which was the result of temperance and the pure and healthful indulgence of the homebred affections. No vice threw its shadow upon his powers, and the bitterness of the world could not cling to a nature kept sweet by the delights of the fireside. His morning exercise and the instruction of his children were never intermitted by the gravest cares.

Thus he was always in working trim; and thus we have beheld the marvel of a fast-sinking invalid, years beyond the Psalmist's limit of life, conscious that but a very few earthly hours remained him, yet working upon the annals of his country with all the thoroughness and zeal of vigorous manhood. It was an ending worthy of Thomas H. Benton. His great work of abridging the debates in Congress had been brought down to the period he had designed; he had closed the compilation, and dictated the final remarks. The indomitable purpose that had thus brought him to the goal then relaxed, and he was summoned away to a better world and to inconceivably higher activities, for which his earthly career was but the humblest stage of preparation. He leaves an honorable and patriotic record, a pure and illustrious example. The first is for history, and the second is for ourselves.

FIRE AND LOSS OF LIFE.—About half past 2 o'clock, on Wednesday morning, says the Portland Advertiser, a fire broke out in the story and half house on the corner of Fox and Hammond street, owned and occupied by Wm. Farrell. The house was also occupied by two other families. Farrell lived in the chambers, where the fire took. It was first discovered by those on the lower floor,—by its burning a hole through the chamber floor. The occupants were all Irish families. Farrell went home about eleven the night before, intoxicated, drove his wife out doors, in his brutal rage, and fastened himself into his room. He no doubt by some carelessness set the room on fire. It was rumored that he was in the room, and some men searched the bed for him in vain. When he was found after the fire was suppressed, he had his clothes on, not probably having been undressed; and he was in some other part of the room at the time he was sought for. Had he been found then, his life would have been saved—but it was supposed after the search, he had escaped. When he was got out, he was dead by suffocation, his body, or clothes, being but slightly marked with the fire. The house was about burned up, leaving nothing but a shell. No other property about there was injured. The furniture below was saved. An inquest was held on the body by Coroner Kimball, and the verdict was in accordance with the facts stated—suffocation. Farrell was about 45 years of age; his family consisted only of his wife.

☞ A New York jobbing house sold $2000 worth of dry goods to a firm in Alabama, and took a note for the same. The latter was protested, and the maker did not even take the trouble to apologise for his insolvency. Subsequently the firm purchased another bill of goods from another House in New York. The early creditor having learned this fact, attached the goods, and for this interference the literary member of the Alabama firm favored him with an expression of opinion, as follows:—

——, ALABAMA, March 24, 1858.

Messrs. ——, Gents: I am proud to condescend to wright to any Sutch men any way other than in the most harsh manner that a gentleman could think of as for the goods that you have of Ours you can Sell them & Go to hel & if ever you get the ballance of the note it will be at the end of the law & as you have trobeled us then I ges that we can off Set you by claiming damages which will be Shoer to cause delay.

Suffer me to say that I believe you to be a set of theaves or any thing that may be worse far my Self I am too mutch of a man to notice any Sutch men in any way or manner any moar if it wair not that it would accommodate you I would pay the note my Self and be done with Sutch men for life.

—Boston Traveller. W. R. ——.

BIGAMY IN AMHERST. — On Saturday, Farnham Clark of Amherst, was committed to jail on the charge of having three wives. It appears that about eighteen years ago, he married a Miss Douglas of Nashua;—in 1853 a Miss Susan Crosby, of the same place; and the third one was a Miss Alma Leavitt, of Amherst. Both Clark and the Leavitt woman have a bad reputation.—Manchester American.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston,
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for procuring patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGE OR ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The large practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official disclosures relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skillful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
From the present Commissioner.
August 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

Coggswell's Medical Salt,
A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE
FOR THE
LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.
INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—but to WIT: ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: SUBDUES INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. It asks, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a pin, dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.
☞ Of its intrinsic value, the enlightened community, and not the discoverer, must be the judge.

MUNICIPAL.—In Board of Aldermen, on Thursday evening, a Petition was received, asking that Dover street may be accepted by the city.

John Knowlton, as a Committee from the North Parish, petitioned that the city should have the North Bell re-cast. Laid on the table.

Petition of Maj. Hooper and others, to widen Water street, between Long wharf and Railway wharf, was referred.

Another remonstrance against the right of the Aldermen from Ward 1 to their seats, was read and referred.

Petition of Brackett Hutchings, for the widening of Daniel street, by moving back the house of Thos. Murphy, was referred.

Jefferson Hall was granted to the Ladies of the Universalist Society, for holding a Fair during the first week in May.

The Committee, to whom the claim of Mr. Manent, for damages to himself, and of Mr. Jones, for damage to carriage, on account of obstructions in Deer street, was referred, reported that the former be allowed $25, and the latter $20. Report accepted.

The petitioners for a Special Police, to serve at fires, were appointed as such, and the Committee directed to report a bill.

Jona. Roberts was chosen Fence Viewer, in place of James Garland, who declined.

Benj. M. Parker, and John H. Moran were elected Assistant Engineers, in place of A. T. Goodrich and Bartholomew Downing, who declined serving.—Gazette.

AY DAY.—The Chronicle correspondents are suggesting the propriety of a general pic-nic, and floral excursion on May Day. We hope something of the kind will be carried out. We do not have enough of those quiet rural amusements in which people of both sexes may properly engage. Our fun is boisterous and coarse, and when the occasion is passed, we atone for it by re-assuming a dull, cold-blooded inertness. We chase greased pigs one day, and attend prayer meetings the balance of the week. Let us have something once in awhile for the amusement of that large and respectable portion of our population, who do not boast of being either saints or sinners, but delight in rational and sensible recreation.—Gazette.

ART IN PORTSMOUTH.—Our readers may not be generally aware that a professional Sculptor, of fine talents, has recently taken up his residence among us. Mr. French, whose admirable bust of Psyche attracted so much attention at our County Fair last autumn, has opened a studio on Market street, and is now engaged upon a work of considerable magnitude, and one well calculated to call forth his best powers; a marble monument designed to perpetuate the memory of the late MASTER SAMUEL BADGER of Kittery. The style of this monument is to be strictly Grecian; upon the base will be represented in bas-relief a ship on the stocks, and in a niche above is to be placed a life size marble bust of the deceased. Below the bust, appropriate inscriptions will be engraved, and on the right side of the monument a record of the ships built by Mr. Badger during his life. The Monument when completed will be about nine feet in height. The model in clay, from which the marble bust is to be sculptored, has been completed by Mr. French, and though wrought wholly from daguerreotypes, it has been pronounced an admirable likeness by competent judges. Mr. F. is now engaged upon the marble, which under his energetic and well-directed blows, is rapidly assuming form and proportion.

Mr. French is a pupil of the celebrated STEPHENSON, and combines with an excellent knowledge of the details of his arduous profession, an enthusiastic love of art, which must render him in an eminent degree successful in the field which he has chosen. It may be proper to add, that visitors are ever warmly welcomed to the studio of Mr. French, where the curious and the critical will find many objects well worthy of their admiration.—Gazette.

LADD & CO.'S PIANOS IN PARIS.

The foreign correspondent of the Boston Chronicle, in speaking of the great preparations to receive and entertain Queen Victoria in her last visit to Paris, gives the following complimentary notice of an American Piano, of the manufacture of a son of New Hampshire.

"A remarkable affair has just taken place relative to a contribution from Boston, which will gratify the pride of Bostonians. The trial before the jury of award, of the excellence of the various piano fortes on exhibition, took place at the celebrated Paris Conservatory of Music. The jury was composed of seven of the most eminent professors of music in Europe.

Joseph Hellmesberger, director of the Imperial Conservatory of Music at Vienna, the president, placed himself in a position where he could hear the tone of the instruments without seeing them, so as to render a perfectly impartial opinion of their merits. In addition to this, the manufacturers' names were all covered up with white cards, on each of which was a certain number. When all had been tried, Mr. Hellmesberger said, 'Now for the American piano,' referring to one from Boston, which he had on several occasions examined and tried at the exhibitions, and which, for some unaccountable reason, had been neglected to be sent with the rest. A New York piano was among the number, and supposing he referred to that, they told him it had been tried. His answer was positive that it had not been tried; and yet all this time he had not seen, but only listened to the tones of the instruments. After repeated assurances by them, and denials by him, he came forward and satisfied them that the one he referred to was not there, and directed them at once to send to the exhibition for it. Soon it arrived, and when tried before that talented jury, was pronounced the best piano forte in the French Exhibition, and, accordingly, it was awarded the highest prize medal. This piano is from the manufactory of Messrs. A. W. Ladd & Co. of Boston. The above facts are accurate to the letter, having received my information personally from Mr. Hellmesberger himself. He is a young man not over twenty-five years of age. Having before heard the superior quality of the above instrument, his practised ear detected that it was not at the trial. It is, indeed, astonishing. The circumstance that a Boston piano forte has so successfully stood the severe test of such eminent European professors of music, is an event which may well gratify the pride of Bostonians."

Pianos from the same establishment are for sale by Mr. J. W. Clark, in Portsmouth, the agent of Ladd & Co. Rooms No. 36 Market street.

Morning Chronicle.

SATURDAY, APRIL 24, 1858.

For the Chronicle.

AFFLICTION IMPROVED — SIN CHASTISED AND FORSAKEN.—Great afflictions, sorrows and sufferings cause us to turn from things earthly to the spiritual. This is not only true of individuals, but of nations. An illustration of this is the present great religious awakening, which is the natural concomitant result of the past great financiri distress.

In our arrogance and pride of prosperity we were forgetting our duty; the worship of gold was fast superseding the worship of God. Mammon reigned supreme: to him in every city were erected temples as spacious, as costly, and far outnumbering the churches of God. Six days were devoted to him, heart and soul; on the seventh a hollow mockery was gone through with. Under all this glare and glitter of apparent success, some few thoughtful minds could detect the insecurity of the social fabric; but their solemn warnings were unheeded. The bolt fell at last, the crash came, and now we all can see the effects. Political economists, sagacious financiers who prophesied this calamity—after it came, talk deeply, learnedly, and wisely, of banks, of a specie basis, of unlimited paper expansion, insane speculation in western lands, and the drain of gold to Europe, but have they touched the root of the evil? have they discovered the train that led to the mine? the spark that produced the explosion? They have not.

Can individuals sin without punishment? can nations? History answers.—France wrote over the gates of her cemeteries "Death is eternal sleep." France was deluged with blood. Every cause has its effect, so every dereliction from the path of duty must be expiated. This nation had deeply sinned, the chastisement followed, the atonement is being made. In all things can be seen the finger of God. Remember this, oh! ye wise philosophers who, with profound reasoning, search for the hidden springs of an event, of which all can feel the cause. S.

☞ Alonzo F. Ellis, mate of the ship Martha Rideout, was murdered at New Orleans, on the 7th, by a runner of one of the sailor boarding houses, in the most heartless manner. The runner, Joe, so called, asked him where he intended to board, and not receiving an answer that suited him, he at once drew a knife and plunged it into the body of Ellis, inflicting a wound which occasioned death in one hour. The New Orleans papers are urging the necessity of enforcing the laws against the runners, which have heretofore been violated with impunity.

A FIX.—A Western paper says that in a village of Iroquois county, Ill., an editor became smitten with the charms of a young and handsome married lady, and "addressed to her a long and passionate letter, filled with rhapsodies on her beauty and his love-lorn helplessness. The lady, with the advice and consent of her husband, sent the missive to the rival county paper, in which it appears—names, dates, and all."

A NICE YOUNG MAN.—"Mr. Shallow is a very promising young man, is he not?" asked F. of his neighbor Cabbage, the tailor. "Aye, he is; he has promised more than fifty times to pay a little bill of mine, but the fact is, it's all promise." "Indeed! But he is a reliable man, I suppose?" "True," whispered the ninth of a man, with a wink; "the first time he promised he lied, and every time since he re-lied. Humph, yes, I should call him very reliable, faith. Good morning."

MUSICAL TASTE IN ITALY AND AMERICA.—An American sojourning at Rome, writes to Dwight's Journal of Music as follows:

"Perhaps the only thing in which I am disappointed in Italy is in its music, and the musical cultivation of its inhabitants. It is true that even the smallest towns have opera houses, but the style of performance is poor. Then, like many other people, I had expected that in Italy, music was in the domestic circle brought almost to professional perfection, and that every other young man was a Mario, and almost every young woman a Grisi. But I find myself much mistaken. As a general thing there appears to be no more real taste for music here than in the United States; certainly there are not half or a quarter so many piano-fortes or hand organs in proportion to the population, if that is to be taken as an index."

☞ The California papers have adopted the English custom of publishing births, as well as marriages, and also add a truly American or rather "Yankee" peculiarity, by giving the weight of the new-born citizen.

CHAPIN'S LECTURE.

The Boston Advertiser states that on Thursday evening, Rev. E. H. Chapin delivered his lecture on "Woman and her Works," at the Tremont Temple, for the benefit of the "Young Men's South End Benevolent Association." The Temple was well filled. The lecturer was eloquent, and was listened to with marked attention. He advocated an enlarge[illegible] of the sphere of woman's occupation [illegible] particularly for those who [illegible] starve, and illustrating his s[illegible] with many examples from real l[illegible]

The following par[illegible] contains the leading idea of the lecture:—

"The relation between man and woman is the most beautiful expression of the great law of nature. Woman is simply the equal of man—nothing more, nothing less. We have no right to determine what is woman's sphere by any arbitrary prejudices. I cannot recognize any such fact as man's rights or woman's rights; I only recognize human rights. Woman's orbit is the orbit of her humanity, and hence she ought to be man's equal—equal before the world, before the law, as she is before God. And let no one be disturbed by visions of strong-minded women, with spectacles, lecturing on Kansas. The question is, what is truth, and not what are the imaginable consequences. Man may run against God's will, but cannot alter it. I urge that woman should actually be something more than she has been held to be. What we want is some way of deliverance for woman from being a mere slave, and something more substantial than those accomplishments which make her a mere gewgaw."

Mr. Chapin concluded by expressing the opinion that the true idea of civilization will never be unfolded till woman has been placed upon an equality with man. "In the cabin of the Mayflower; in the war of the Revolution, when the wives loaded the muskets, then there were such men because there were such women. The grandest transaction of history is unfolded, when she stands nearest to man as an equal; and when Christianity shall have reached its highest point, her heart will be near his hand. Let woman stand upon the ground of their human nature, then there will be be mutual honor and mutual help; then there will be no discordant music in the march from the paradise which they left together, to that paradise which they hope to attain."

RARE THOUGHTS.—From H. W. Beecher's new book:

There are some men who are so outrageously cultivated, that they are miserable the moment they are away from all which is exquisite. It is a pity that such men were born in a rough world like this, where God forgot to finish up rocks, and to make tree-trunks smooth, and to slope the mountains down gently to the plains. That is true cultivation which gives us sympathy with every form of human life, and enables us to work most successfully for its advancement. Refinement that carries us away from our fellow-men is not God's refinement.

If a boy is not trained to endure and to bear trouble, he will grow up a girl;—and a boy that is a girl has all a girl's weaknesses without any of her regal qualities. A woman made out of a woman is God's noblest work; a woman made out of a man is his meanest. A child rightly brought up will be like a willow branch, which, broken off and touching the ground, at once takes root. Bring up your children so that they will root easily in their own soil, and not forever be grafted in your old trunk and boughs.

Many men are lamenting their misfortunes, and wishing that their place was changed that they might more easily live Christianly. If a man cannot be a Christian in the place where he is, he cannot be a Christian anywhere.

SUSCEPTIBILITY OF THE AMERICAN PEOPLE. The Washington Correspondent of the Baltimore Exchange writes:—

One thing I may mention. Since the breaking up of the 'bogus lottery concerns' in Norwich, Connecticut, there have been returned to the dead letter office in this city a very large number of letters, directed to those firms. The sum contained in these letters amount, in the aggregate, to some $25,000 or $30,000. It is truly amazing to know how susceptible of imposition the American people are. There have been likewise returned to the dead letter office a great quantity of letters addressed to a fictitious firm in New York, which advertises a medicine designed to prevent conception. The firm was broken up by the police, and the letters have been sent here.

A NEGRO SLAVE SHOT BY HIS CLERGYMAN. The New Orleans Picayune of the 13th contains the following paragraph:—

Rev. Dr. Taylor, who recently married the widow of the late S. W. Downs, shot a few days since, says the Ouachita (La.) Register, one of his wife's negroes. The negro killed was one noted for his insubordination, having previously been shot two or three times. Mr. Taylor attempted to correct him, when he drew a knife, attacked the overseer and defied the master, who shot him on the spot.

FIRE.—We learn from the Milford Republican that a terrible fire occurred in Stoddard village on Sunday of last week. Two barns, twenty tons of hay, a yoke of valuable oxen, a dozen sheep, &c., were destroyed by the devouring flames. It was the work of an incendiary.

☞ Mrs. Margaret Snyder, divorced from her husband at Cincinnati, four months ago, for "incompatibility of temper," has been taken to the insane asylum, a hopeless maniac. Mr. Howe, contractor to build the custom house at Richmond, Va., has become insane from losses on his contract.

SUGGESTIONS NOT NEEDED.—A leading member of the Presbyterian church at New Brighton, Pa., who is distinguished for his self-complacency and for his patronage of religion and the church, commenced a prayer at a revival meeting the other day in these words: "O, Lord! we would not assume to dictate to thee, but would only offer a few suggestions."

A man in Pittsburg has been fined one dollar sixty-two and a half cents, for squeezing a young lady's hand. In Savannah it costs nothing. The girls like it.—Savannah News.

HOW TRUE IT IS!
There are a couple of old proverbs that it would be well for us all to keep in mind. One is, "a stitch in time saves nine;" and another, "an ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure." We all, in theory, acknowledge the truth of these proverbs, yet the practice of the most of us gives them the lie. Myers' Extract of Rock Rose, as a preventative of all those diseases arising from impure blood and viscid humors, is acknowledged to be superior to anything in Materia Medica. It purifies the blood, strengthens the digestive organs and invigorates the constitution.

BABIES.—The New York Post calls attention to the fact that the word Baby does not appear in the new Cyclopedia, and supplies a definition:—

Baby—The judge, jury and sentence of every well regulated family. A thing that squalks at midnight and will not be comforted by any quantity of sops. A biped called by its mother 'de little rosy posey, pinkum pink, bless its little heart!" and very frequently 'toted' to the tune of 'Here we go up, up, up-e, and here we go down, down, down-e.' By bachelors called 'brat,' and by Tupper, the proverbial philosopher, delicately alluded to as a 'well spring.'

A hearty infant will swallow, during the first year of its life, fourteen hundred pounds of milk, in which are twenty-one pounds of cheese, thirty pounds of butter, and a hundred and twelve pounds of sugar. At six cents a quart with the necessary sweetening, each "dear" little creature costs, for food alone, fifty dollars for the first year.—Hall's Journal of Health.

STRIKERS YIELDING.—The trouble among the factory operatives at Chicopee is over. The bulk of the outstanding "strikers" went to work on Tuesday morning—some 500 to 600—and on that day full three-quarters of the machinery of the mills was in operation. Before the week is over, the whole will probably be employed. The operatives had to yield to the reduced wages of the corporation. The mills had previously been slowly filling up with operatives from abroad—places where mills are permanently stopped,—and some of the old hands cannot be taken back now, whether they would or not.

They hadn't heard of the new Ætna bank of Hartford, in New York city, at last accounts, so when a Hartford man attempted to pass one of these handsome 10's in a Broadway store, a day or two since, he was promptly arrested for circulating counterfeit money, and only that the Clearing House declared the bill all right, he would have gone to the Toombs.

We know a beautiful little blue eyed girl, who was nestled in her mother's arms, at twilight, looking out at the stars.

"And what makes it dark, Caroline?" said her mother.

CONGRESS.

THURSDAY, April 22.

SENATE.—Mr. Seward introduced a bill which was read twice and referred to the Military Committee, to secure the prompt construction of a line of Telegraph across the continent, following the mail route via Fort Smith to St. Louis. The bill provides that the line shall be commenced from the eastern section within sixty days, and from the Pacific within ninety days after the passage of the act. The lines are intended to supply facilities to the Government for transportation for the mails, and to the public for commercial purposes. The bill asks for one hundred feet right of way, with a Government contract, in aid of the project, the contractors offering ample guarantee against any abuse of the powers granted by the Government.

The Deficiency Bill came up as the special order, was discussed for four hours, and various amendments were added to it.

Pending an amendment offered by Mr. Fessenden, allowing deficiency of the past and present years, but disallowing advances for the coming year, the Senate adj.

HOUSE.—The House took up and considered the bill donating lands to the several States for the benefit of agriculture and the mechanic arts.

The House refused to table the bill—84 against 109.

Mr. Cobb made a speech against the bill, which was passed—yeas 104, nays 101.

Among the conditions on which the grants are made, is one that the State shall provide not less than one college within five years.

The House then went into Committee on the bill granting pensions to officers and soldiers of the war with Great Britain in 1812, and those engaged in the Indian war during that period.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—The Senate Committee of Conference on the Kansas bill have Mr. English's bill under consideration. They are believed to be wholly undecided on the subject as yet, but a report one way or the other is expected to be made to-morrow.

Mr. English gave notice to the House to-day, that he expects to-morrow, at one o'clock, to make a report from the Committee of Conference on the subject of the disagreeing votes relative to the Kansas bill.

Mr. Richard Wallack is a candidate for Mayor of Washington, independent and irresponsible of party, in opposition to the Democratic nominee.

3 DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

HALIFAX, April 22, 11:30 A. M.—Steamship Canada from Liverpool 10th inst. has arrived.

Cotton at Liverpool exhibited a slight advance with sales of 77,000 bales during the week.

Breadstuffs more active.

Provisions quiet.

Money market generally unchanged.

CLAREMONT, N. H.—The Claremont Eagle says, on Wednesday last week, Owen M. Smith, who keeps a kind of Restorant in Rossiter's building, opposite the Sullivan House, was arrested and examined before T. J. Harris, Esq., on seven complaints. He was bound upon two of them, viz: one for selling whiskey, and one for selling cider to be drank on the premises, contrary to the statute. For lack of bondsmen for $400, Smith went to jail.

TOUCHING.—A poor mulatto girl (a slave) has recently been tried at New Orleans, on a charge of having attempted to poison her mistress and the family. It was proved that she sprinkled some powder on a dish of oysters which had made some of the family sick. It came out in the trial, however, that the poor girl was innocent of an evil design. The powder being analyzed was found not to be poisonous; and the girl, in her simple innocence, having been told that it had the charm of love powder, had sprinkled it on the food in order to make her mistress love her. It is a touching incident. She wished her mistress to love her.

DISCARDING THE BIBLE IN THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.—The Board of School officers of the 4th Ward in New York, on the 5th inst., adopted a resolution that the reading of the Bible should be dispensed with in all the public schools of that ward.

AS A SPRING MEDICINE

MYERS' EXTRACT ROCK ROSE is invaluable. It changes the viscid humors, opens the pores of the skin, promotes insensible perspiration, thereby purifying the blood and invigorating the system. A free use of this medicine, in the spring months, will not only cure all diseases caused by impurities of the blood, but will beget a healthy action and prepare the system to resist the attacks of fevers, derangement of the bowels, &c, so prevalent in the summer season

CHARLES W. MARTIN,

Blood's Seedling Grape Vines, For Sale.

TWO varieties of Blood's Seedling GRAPE Vines, which have been tested by the subscriber for 18 years, and found superior to any other cultivated in the open air in this part of the country. This Grape is larger than the Isabella, and ripens in our climate about 5 weeks earlier. For several successive years it has been fully ripe the first week in September, and thus has escaped the early frosts which have in some seasons, cut off the Isabella and other varieties.

Wolfe's Celebrated Scheidam Aromatic SCHNAPPS.

This medicinal beverage is manufactured by the proprietor, at Scheidam, Holland, expressly for medicinal use, by a process peculiar to his own Factory. It is the pure Tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, whose more vinous extract is distilled and rectified with its spirituous solvent, which thus becomes a concentrated tincture of exquisite flavor and aroma, altogether, transcendant in its cordial and medicinal properties to any alcoholic stimulant now made in the world. It is now prescribed by more than 5,000 physicians in the United States, in cases of Gravel, Gout, Dropsy, and Bladder and Kidney Complaints.

Put up in Quart and Pint Bottles, in cases of one dozen qts., and cases of two dozen pts, and for sale by all Druggists and Country Merchants.

IMMORTELLES.

GOOD LIFE, LONG LIFE.

It is not growing like a tree
In bulk, doth make man better be;
Or standing long an oak, three hundred year,
To fall a log at last, dry, bald and sere.
A lily of a day
Is fairer far in May;
Although it fall and die that night,
It was the plant and flower of light!
In small proportions we just beauties see;
And in short measures life may perfect be.
—[Ben Johnson.

THE BEAUTIFUL.

Walk with the beautiful and with the grand,
Let nothing on the earth thy feet deter;
Sorrow may lead thee weeping by the hand,
But give not all thy bosom thoughts to her;
Walk with the beautiful.

I hear thee say "The beautiful! what is it?"
O, thou art darkly ignorant! Be sure
'Tis no long, weary road its form to visit,
For thou cana't make it smile beside thy door;
Then love the beautiful.

Ay, love it, 'tis a sister that will bless,
And teach thee patience when the heart is lonely;
The angels love it, for they wear its dress,
And thou art made a little lower only!
Then love the beautiful.

THE LIGHT OF GOD.

Upon our pathway wild and rugged,
Our heavenly Father scatters flowers,
Cool fountains gush in sun and shadow,
And music fills the wayside bowers.

For he who loveth all, hath given,
Strength equal to our weary days;
And, when the path we tread is darkest,
Sends to our feet his heavenly rays.
—[Whittier.

The following remedies are offered to the public as the best, most perfect, which medical science can afford. AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS have been prepared with the utmost skill which the medical profession of this age possesses, and their effects show they have virtues which surpass any combination of medicines hitherto known. Other preparations do more or less good; but this cures such dangerous complaints, so quick and so surely, as to prove an efficacy and a power to uproot disease beyond any thing which men have known before. By removing the obstructions of the internal organs and stimulating them into healthy action, they renovate the fountains of life and vigor, — health courses anew through the body, and the sick man is well again. They are adapted alike to every age and disease, and yet, when taken by one in health they produce but little effect. This is the perfection of medicine. It is antagonistic to disease, and no more. Tender children may take them with impunity. If they are sick they will cure them, if they are well they will do them no harm.

Give them to some patient who has been prostrated with bilious complaint; see his bent-up, tottering form straighten with strength again; see his long-lost appetite return; see his clammy features bloom into health. Give them to some sufferer whose foul blood has burst out in scrofula till his skin is covered with sores; who stands, or sits, or lies in anguish. He has been drenched inside and out with every potion which ingenuity could suggest. Give him these PILLS, and see the effect; see the scabs fall from his body; see the new, fair skin that has grown under them; see the late leper that is clean. Give them to him whose angry humors have planted rheumatism in his joints and bones; move him, and he screeches with pain; he too has been soaked through every muscle of his body with liniments and salves; give him these PILLS to purify his blood; they may not cure him, for, alas! there are cases which no mortal power can reach; but mark, he walks with crutches now, and now he walks alone; they have cured him. Give them to the lean, sour, haggard dyspeptic, whose gnawing stomach has long ago eaten every smile from his face and every muscle from his body. See his appetite return, and with it his health; see the new man. See her that was pining with ill health and loveliness blasted and too early withering away; worst of exercise or mental anguish, or some lurking disease, has deranged the internal organs of digestion, assimilation or secretion, till they do their office ill. Her blood is impure, her health is gone. Give her these PILLS to stimulate the vital principle into renewed vigor, to cast out the obstructions, and infuse a new vitality into the blood. Now look again—the roses blossom on her cheek, and where lately sorrow and joy bursts from every feature. See the sweet infant smile with warmth. Its wan, sickly features tell you without disguise, and painfully distinct, that they are eating its life away. Its pinched-up nose and ears, and restless tossings, tell the dreadful truth in language which every mother knows. Give the child a few doses to sweep these vile parasites from the body. Now turn again and see the ruddy bloom of childhood. Is it nothing to do these things? Nay, are they not the marvel of this age? And yet they are done around you every day.

Have you the less serious symptoms of these distempers, they are the easier cured. Jaundice, Costiveness, Headache, Sickness, Heartburn, Foul Stomach, Nausea, Pain in the Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, Kidney Evil, Neuralgia, Gout, and kindred complaints all arise from the derangements which these PILLS rapidly cure. Take them perseveringly, and under the counsel of a good Physician if you can; if not, take them judiciously by such advice as we give you, and the distressing, dangerous diseases they cure, which afflict so many millions of the human race, are cast out like the devils of old—they must burrow in the brutes and in the sea. Price 25 cents per box — 5 boxes for $1.

Though a trial of many years and through every nation of civilized men AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS has been found to afford more relief and to cure more cases of pulmonary disease than any other remedy known to mankind. Cases of apparently settled consumption have been cured by it, and thousands of sufferers whose case seemed beyond the reach of human aid have been restored to their friends and usefulness, to sound health and the enjoyments of life, by this all-powerful antidote to diseases of the lungs and throat. Here a cold had settled on the lungs. The hollow cough, the glassy eye, and the pale, thin features of him who was lately lusty and strong, whisper to all but him CONSUMPTION. He tries every thing; but the disease is gnawing at his vitals, and shows its fatal symptoms more and more over all his frame. He is taking the CHERRY PECTORAL now; it has stopped his cough and made his breathing easy; his sleep is sound at night; his appetite returns, and with it his strength. The dart which pierced his side is broken. Scarcely a neighborhood can be found which has not some living trophy like this to shadow forth the virtues which have won for the CHERRY PECTORAL an unprecedented renown. But its usefulness does not end here. Nay, it accomplishes its purpose where others cure. The countless colds and coughs which it cures will sow the seed which would have ripened into a dreadful harvest of incurable diseases. Influenza, Croup, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Pleurisy, Whooping Cough, and all irritations of the throat and lungs are easily cured by the CHERRY PECTORAL if taken in season. Every family should have it by them, and they will find it an invaluable protection from the insidious prowler which carries off the parent sheep from many a flock, the darling lamb from many a home.

Authenticated evidence of these facts, with directions for the treatment of each complaint, may be found in Ayer's American Almanac, of which we publish three millions, and scatter them broadcast over the earth, in order that the sick every where may have before them the means of health. Druggists and dealers in medicine generally have them for distribution gratis, and also for sale the remedies, prepared by DR. J. C. AYER, Practical and Analytical Chemist, Lowell, Mass.

MOSES & DOWNIE,

SOLE Agents for the above Goods, have on hand a large Stock of the same, suitable for shore and sea wear.

These fabrics, since their first introduction to the public, (almost three years since,) have been fully tested, and the result has proved them to possess all the qualities requisite to make a perfect article. They have on hand numerous testimonials from gentlemen in the navy and merchant service, which they would be pleased to show any one who would call upon them with a call. They have been supplying some of the officers of the Falmouth, who have tested the Rubber goods, and found them well for sea service.

THE RESTORATIVE OF PROF. O. J. WOOD for restoring hair perfectly and permanently, has never yet had a rival. Volume after volume, might be given from all parts of the world and from the most intelligent to prove that it is a specific for Baldness; read the circular and you cannot doubt; read also the following:

THE HAIR.—People have for centuries been afflicted with baldness, for which no remedy has heretofore known, has been those abominable wigs. By a recent discovery of Professor Wood these articles are being fast dispensed with, but a great many persons still continue them, because they have been so often imposed upon by Hair Tonics of different kinds. To all such persons we earnestly make the request that they will try, once again, for in Wood's Restorative there is no such thing as fail. We know of a lady who was bald, who used this article a short time, and her head is covered completely with the finest and most beautiful curls imaginable. We know of numerous cases where hair was rapidly falling out, which is restored in greater perfection than it ever had been before.

It is also without doubt one of the best articles for keeping the hair in good condition, making it soft and glossy, removing dandruff, and it has proved itself the greatest enemy to all the ills that hair is heir to.

It is the duty of every one to improve their personal appearance though some may differ in regard to the ways of doing it; but every one will admit that a beautiful head of hair either in man or woman, is an object much to be desired, and there are no means that should be left untried to obtain such a consideration.—Woman's Advocate, Philadelphia.

CONCORDIA, Ohio, NOV. 17, 1855.

O. J. Wood & Co.—Gents: I have been engaged in selling your Hair Restorative the last season for one of your local agents (R. M. Hackney,) and having experienced the beneficial effects of it myself, I would like to obtain a agency for the State of Ohio or some state in the west, should you wish to make such an arrangement, as I am convinced there is nothing equal to it in the United States, for restoring the hair. I have been engaged in the Drug business for several years, and have sold various preparations for the hair, but have found nothing that restores the secretive organs or invigorates the scalp as well as yours, being convinced that your restorative is what you represent it to be, I would be pleased to engage in the sale of it, for I am satisfied it must sell.

Yours truly, S. T. STOCKMAN.

WAYLAND, MASS., Feb. 5, 1857.

PROF. O. J. WOOD & CO.—Gents: Having realized the good effects of your Hair Restorative, I wish to state, that my hair was falling out, and in patches, as well as gray, I was induced from what I read and heard, to try the article prepared by you, to prevent the falling and change its color as it was in youth, both of which it has effected completely. In the operation I have used nearly 3 bottles.

Yours &c., JAMES FRANCIS.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and now so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $70,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to the Captors immediately.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

CAUTION NOTICE.

PERSONS living at a distance should be extremely cautious of whom they order Lottery Tickets or Certificates of Packages of Tickets.—The country is flooded with bogus and swindling Lotteries. Every inducement is held out to get persons to send money to them. Persons fond of from $20,000 to $40,000 head their schemes—with tickets at One Dollar. $100,000 capital prizes are offered. Sixty Numbers, all such, in every instance, are frauds; and if money is sent to them for tickets, it is so much thrown away without the shadow of a chance of getting a prize. Beware of all Circulars where the Capital Prize is usually large in comparison to the price of tickets—in every instance where large prizes are offered for a small cost of tickets, put it down as a certain fraud.

The Kentucky State Lottery for the benefit of the Shelby College, under our management, is the only Lottery in the United States drawn fairly, and decided by the Maryland Drawings; all other Lotteries which pur port to be decided by the Maryland Drawings are frauds.

THE MARYLAND STATE LOTTERIES.

Purchase in the Maryland State Lotteries, then you are sure of drawing right. And in ordering in the Maryland Lotteries, you are cure of fair and honest drawings.

One thing look to, and that is, it you order from any Manager, that you should receive or receive any but Managers' Tickets and Managers' Printed Certificates of Packages. The Managers' Certificates have the numbers printed and have the lithographic signature of R. France & Co.

No one has a right to send his individual certificates, if he does it, be sure there is a fraud at the bottom of it.

A PROCLAMATION

TO THE LADIES.

WHEREAS, it appears that the days of right, honor, and integrity are long gone by, and WHEREAS the unscrupulous and ignorant are daily taking advantage of the profound and learned; THEREFORE, be it KNOWN THEREFORE, to all whether MAIDS, WIVES, or WIDOWS, that Dr. CHEESEMAN'S FEMALE PILLS are ALONE the certain panacea for the troubles incident to female disorganization; they alone correcting all painful menstruation, arresting palpitations of the heart, disturbed sleep, pain in the side, and causing health and happiness to return to the whole economy; lastly to the MARRIED PORTION, as they are certain to bring on the monthly period with regularity.—AND WHEREAS, these PILLS are purely vegetable and entirely free from mercury, and therefore perfectly harmless in their operations and wholly unlike other medicines thrust upon the public, purporting to do the objects already detailed. THEREFORE, BE IT KNOWN, that NOTHING but the said PILLS of Dr. CHEESEMAN will accomplish the desired effect, when DISAPPOINTMENT has been experienced under the treatment of OTHER PILLS; and the Ladies will cause this Proclamation to spread amongst them, to their own everlasting benefit—always promising that said Proclamation in one case must be considered FULL and TRUE; that is to say the PILLS CAN NOT be taken when any female is in an INTERESTING SITUATION, otherwise a MISCARRIAGE will be the inevitable result.

—MANUFACTURERS OF—

Melodeons, Organ Melodeons,

—and—

PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

No. 511 Washington St., Boston.

The first premium over all competitors, at the Fair of the Mass Charitable Mechanic Association, of the Mechanical Fair, Washington, D. C., also at the Ohio State Fair, held at Columbus, Ohio, was awarded to these Manufacturers.

By means of a new method of Voicing, known only to themselves, they have succeeded in removing the harsh and buzzing sound which formerly characterized the instrument, and rendering the Melodeon equal, and in fact, superior to the full organ. The tone is prompt and reliable, enabling the performer to execute the most rapid music without blurring the tones. The swell is arranged to give great expression.

THE PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

Are designed particularly for Churches, Lodges, Halls, &c. It is arranged with two manuals, or banks of Keys, the lower set running an octave higher than the other, and may be used separately, and thus get in one case two distinct instruments; or by use of the coupler, the two be played at the same time by one set of keys at the same time by use of the front set only. This connected with the Pedal Bass, will produce the effect of a large organ, and is sufficiently heavy to fill a house that seats from 1000 to 1500 persons.

THE ORGAN MELODEON

Is designed for parlor and private use. The construction is similar to the Church instrument, being arranged with two banks of Keys, and when used together, the tone is fine and full, and capable of as great volume of power as the Church Instrument when used without the pedals. In fact, every variety of MELODEONS for Parlor use.

Purchasers may rely upon instruments from our establishment, being made in the most complete and thorough manner. Having removed to the spacious Buildings

511 Washington Street,

We have every facility for manufacturing purposes, and employ none but the most experienced workmen. In short, we will promise our customers an instrument equal, and not superior, to any Manufacturer, and guarantee an entire and perfect satisfaction.

Music Teachers, Leaders of Choirs, and others interested in musical matters, are respectfully invited to visit our Rooms at any time and examine for itself the instruments on exhibition for sale at their pleasure.

As a still further guarantee to the public as to the excellence of the MELODEONS from our Manufactory, we beg leave to refer, by permission, to the following

Piano Forte Manufacturers of Boston,

who have examined our Instruments, and will give their opinion when called upon:

Chickering & Sons,	Hallett & Cumston,
T. Gilbert & Co.,	Wm. P. Emerson,
Brown & Allen,	A. W. Ladd & Co.,
George Hewes,	J. Howard & Brown,
	Newhall & Co.

MELODEONS RENTED.

Persons who wish to hire Melodeons with a view of purchasing at the end of the year, can have the rent credited as part payment on the purchase money. This matter is worthy of special notice to those who desire a fair test of the instruments before purchasing, to obtain it at the expense of the manufacturers, to the extent at least of a year's rent.

Orders from any part of the country or world, sent direct to the manufactory in Boston, with cash, or satisfactory reference, will be promptly attended to, and faithfully executed as if the parties were present, or represented by an agent to select, and on as reasonable terms.

VOL. 12. PORTSMOUTH, N. H., MONDAY, APRIL 26, 1858. NO. 71.

A RELIGIOUS MONOMANIAC.—The Parke County (Ind.) Republican relates the following incident as having occurred in the village of Rockville, in the State:

"Mr. Aaron Stewart, late a citizen of Boone county, but for some five months a citizen of our town, has been in a state of depression of spirits for about two months. Religious excitement seems to have overpowered his reason, and on Monday night, after the return of himself and wife from church, he conceived the idea that the Scripture required him to sacrifice his right hand and other members of his body, under penalty of eternal punishment. He at once left the house, without making known his object, and, first perpetrating dangerous wounds upon his person with a knife, he next proceeded with an axe to cut off his right hand. After striking several blows, ranging from the centre of the hand to some inches above the wrist joint, and serving the hand from the arm, except some of the tendons, he walked to the door, fell into it, and fainted."

MAINE.—The Rockland Democrat and Free Press, which is supposed to reflect the views of ex-Collector Smart, takes its position thus:—

"For our part—as a well wisher to the Democracy of the United State—as an observer of the ill fortune which has attended Lecompton in New Hampshire, Connecticut and Rhode Island—and as favorable to place the Democracy of Maine, upon a sound, safe and substantial basis—we believe it necessary that the coming convention shall establish itself fairly and squarely upon the platform of popular sovereignty. We see no impropriety in committing such an act, and in fact, we see the best of reason for doing it. * * * *

Finally we want it perfectly understood, that the thirtieth of June next will witness, in Augusta, the assembling of a People's convention—a convention of free, bold, liberal and independent delegates—men who are not to be frowned down at the hustings, nor read out of party by upstart place-holders, for an honest expression of opinion, and men who are willing to "stack ship," leave Lecompton and steer by the safe old chart of popular sovereignty."

ITALY.—The Staffetta of Turin relates the following:—"A lady residing at Castagneto, a commune of 3000 inhabitants, between Bergamo and Brescia, a few days ago consulted the parish priest of the place as to the best means of investing a sum of 40,000f. which she had just received. The priest gave her some advice on the subject and went away. On the following night the lady was suddenly aroused from her slumber by two men masked and armed, who commanded her to deliver up, on pain of instant death, the 40,000f. which, to their certain knowledge, she had in the house. The lady, notwithstanding the menaces of the ruffians, uttered a loud shriek, which was heard by a visitor who had arrived but a short time before, and had not yet retired to bed. He seized his pistols, and rushing to the room whence the cry had proceeded, shot one of the men dead on the spot, and after a sharp conflict disarmed the other and delivered him into the hands of the policemen, who had hastened to the spot at the first alarm.—Upon examination it was found that the man who had been killed was no other than the priest himself, while the prisoner was his assistant.

Our readers will recollect that a few years ago, Mr. Peter Remington was robbed on the steamer Perry of a satchel containing bills belonging to the Newport banks amounting to $40,000. The robbery remained a mystery, and none of the money was ever recovered. Therefore much interest is excited by the appearance of the following paragraph in a biographical sketch of Mike Phillips, or Jew Mike, an English thief, in the Police Gazette of last Saturday:—

"The greatest robbery in which Jew Mike was concerned, was the robbery of the bank porter, between Newport and Providence, Rhode Island. Mike and his associates ascertained that on a certain day the bank porter would convey an immense amount of money from Newport to Providence. The thieves provided themselves with a satchel similar to the porter's, and on the way to Providence, while one of the gang engaged his attention, Mike changed the satchels. When opened it contained to their delight $40,000. As soon as a fair division of the spoils had been made the 'mob' separated, and while one went west and another south, Mike took the safest plan to prevent arrest by going to London with his share of the plunder."

RICHES NOT HAPPINESS.—Stephen Girard, of Philadelphia, who was surrounded with immense wealth, and supposed to be taking supreme delight in its accumulation, wrote the following:—"As to myself, I live like a galley slave, constantly occupied, and often passing the night without sleeping.—I am wrapped up in a labyrinth of affairs, and worn out with cares. I do not value fortune. The love of labors is my highest emotion. When I rise in the morning, my only effort is to labor so hard during the day, that when night comes, I may be enabled to sleep soundly."

PATENT AGENCY.
SAMUEL COOPER,
Late Principal Examiner of Patents in the United States Patent Office, at Washington,
HAS REMOVED HIS OFFICE TO
WEBSTER BANK BUILDING,
13 EXCHANGE STREET, BOSTON.
PATENTS secured in the United States, and in all other patent granting countries, specifications and drawings prepared, Caveats filed.—Reconsiderations procured, of applications that have been rejected upon imperfectly prepared papers. Interferences prosecuted. Re-issues and extension procured, and in general, all business connected with the Patent Office transacted with care and promptness.
British and other foreign patents procured through prompt and confidential agents in London and Paris.
Persons residing at a distance may obtain all necessary information, and have their business transacted, by writing to the subscriber, without the trouble and expense of visiting Washington. He begs leave to refer those unacquainted with him to the following testimonials:—
From Hon. Chas. Mason, Commissioner of Patents.
U. S. PATENT OFFICE, Feb 23, 1855
I take great pleasure in stating that during the time I have been acting as Commissioner of Patents, Samuel Cooper, Esq., of Boston, has been engaged and solicited, and has been in that capacity in constant correspondence and intercourse with the office; he has evinced a thorough acquaintance with the Patent Law, and with the rules and practice of the office, a close attention to the interests of his clients, and a marked candor and courtesy that has rendered the transaction of business with him a pleasure. I have no hesitation in stating that I regard him as one of the very best agents for the transaction of business with this office of any with whom I am acquainted.
CHARLES MASON, Commissioner.
From the Examiners of the Patent Office.
The undersigned, Principal and Assistant Examiners in the United States Patent Office, have for several years been well acquainted with Mr. Samuel Cooper, late a principal Examiner in this office, and take pleasure in stating that he is a gentleman of the highest moral character, of unquestioned knowledge in the business and practice of the office, and that his scientific attainments are such as eminently fit him for the business in which he is about to engage.

Coggswell's Medical Salt,
A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE
FOR THE
LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.
INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—but but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: SUBDUES INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. Is it asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a quill dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.
☞ Of its intrinsic value, the enlightened community, and not its discoverer, must be the judge.

MONDAY, APRIL 26, 1858.

NEW GRANADA.

The Attorney General of New Granada, Senor Florentine Gonzales, in submitting to the Congress of that republic a new federal constitution, recommended, in case the proposed reforms were rejected, an application of the eight States of New Granada for admission into the American Union. The principal reason for such a step is the fact that New Granada is pressed down by a debt of forty millions of dollars, the interest of which is annually increasing, while the treasury exhibits a yearly deficit of $600,000 to $1,000,000.

The Boston Journal says, the South American State which thus, through one of its leading men, manifests a desire to become a member of the North American Republic, would, if added to the Union, bring with her one very important commercial advantage—the ownership of the major portion of the Isthmus of Darien; including the present route of California travel, via Aspinwall and Panama, the exclusive control of which would thus be vested in the United States, together with the proposed route for a ship canal by way of the Atrato river, now in course of exploration by a party of engineers sent out by our government, and which is also located within the limits of New Granada. The Atrato canal, should it ever be established, would be the most important work of the kind in the world, and a great prize for any commercial nation.

The country of New Granada is about one thousand miles in length, from north to south, and its greatest breadth about 760 miles, giving an area computed at 521,948 square miles. It is well constituted for external commerce, its coasts being indented by large and fine bays, the principal indentations being the gulfs of Maracaibo, Darien and Panama, all of which have subsidiary bays, and good ports are found both on the Pacific side and the Caribbean sea. Its facilities for interior trade, however, are by no means so good, a large portion of the country being traversed by several branches of the great Andes chain of mountains, which are termed the Cordilleras, and which impose great restraints upon inter-communication.

The population of New Granada in 1851 was 2,243,054, not including the savage Indians. The population is thus classified: whites, 450,000; native civilized races, 301,000; savage races, 120,000; negroes, 80,000; quadroons, 30,000; mestizoes, 998,000; mulattoes, 283,000; samboes, 100,000. The country is divided into seven chief provinces—Isthmo, Cauca, Antioqua, Cundinamarca, Bojaca, Guanonta and Magdalena, which are again subdivided into thirty-five cantons, and these latter are still further subdivided. The form of government is republican. All religions are tolerated, but the Catholic religion alone receives State aid. Slavery was abolished in 1581.

THE "CHRONICLE" CASE.—The Boston Bee says, the case which has been pending in the Supreme and Superior Courts so long between Henry H. Hobart and others and John Foster and others, proprietors of the old Chronicle newspaper, was settled this morning in the Superior Court, by a verdict for the plaintiff of $889.92 against the defendants, several gentlemen of Boston, who assisted the proprietors to obtain materials. It was first tried in the Superior Court, then went before the Supreme Court on exceptions, where a new trial was ordered in the Superior Court. The question on this last case was one of ownership, and by the verdict it is established that by contributing to carry on the paper, the defendants became proprietors of the concern, and thus responsible for its liabilities.

This decision may help to settle some similar cases in New Hampshire.

ST. LOUIS, April 23.—The names of the persons missing by the burning of the steamer Ocean Spray, last night, as far as ascertained, are as follows:—Thomas Trott of Arkansas; Mr. Hicks of Pittsfield, Ill.; John B. Kitter of St. Louis; Stephen T. Spargo, engineer; Maria Carroll, chambermaid; Miss Thompson, residence unknown; two children, whose names are unknown, are also missing.

The Ocean Spray and Hannibal City were racing at the time of the disaster.—The fire caught by throwing turpentine on coal and wood immediately from the furnaces.

About 10 o'clock last night the steamer Star of the West, lying at the shore just above the Keokuk, took fire from burning trees, ignited by the flames of the latter boat, and was also entirely consumed.—Loss unknown.

More than 600,000 bottles of Myer's Extract of Rock Rose were sold last year. Try it.

THE LECOMPTON SWINDLE.

This very salutary and honorable political expedient is now before both Houses of Congress in a new form, viz., the English edition, in which the rascality is just one hair finer than it was when it came from the bogus mint to the President, and from him into Congress, with a message saying that in principle it is wrong and must never be repeated, but you must pass it just this once!

In the Senate, on Friday, April 23, Mr. Green of Missouri brought up the English compromise. He said:

The Committee met in the spirit of conciliation and tried many propositions.—Whether they had arrived at the best he could not say, but it sacrifices no principle and harmonizes with what the country demands. It opens a prospect of peace and for the settlement of pending difficulties.

Mr. Seward of N. Y., for the minority, viz., himself and Mr. Howard of Mich., explained that the minority were of the opinion that the people of Kansas ought not, under any circumstances, be subjected again to a vote on the Lecompton Constitution, which they have already rejected; and further, if the question be submitted, it should be submitted in a fair, just and equal manner.

But this is one-sided, offering admission into the Union and donations of public lands, if they will come in under the Lecompton Constitution; but throws them back until they have sufficient population and offers no lands, if they vote against Lecompton. Besides, the form of submission is evasive. It does not openly mention Lecompton, although it is like the vote for Napoleon,—you can vote only "Yes or No," if not for him you cannot vote for anybody else.

The minority could not believe that this measure would be acceptable to the people of Kansas. They could not think it would produce the happy result the Senator from Missouri anticipated.

The report was made the special order for Monday and ordered to be printed.

In the House, Mr. English of Ind. made a report from the Committee of Conference on the Kansas bill. It is signed by Messrs. English and Stephens on the part of the House, and Messrs. Green and Hunter on the part of the Senate. Messrs. Seward and Howard dissent.

The report was read, and a smart debate ensued.

Mr. English moved that the further consideration of the subject be postponed till 1 o'clock Saturday, and moved the previous question.

Mr. Howard—I move to postpone the further consideration of the report to Monday 1 o'clock.

Mr. Montgomery—I ask a postponement till Monday three weeks, and then we shall have the views of the country. Cries of "agreed," "good."

[The country views it as a piece of most unmitigated rascality.]

Mr. Stephens thought Thursday week too long a postponement. To-morrow would afford sufficient time to examine the report.

Mr. Hill of Ga. moved the postponement of the subject till the 2d [Monday] of May.

Mr. Campbell of Ohio thought Mr. Hill's motion a judicious one, as a new programme had been sprung from the Democratic side.

Mr. Hill's motion was then agreed to—Yeas 108, nays 105.

Mr. Harris of Ill. moved that the vote be reconsidered, and to lay the motion on the table.

Mr. Stephens moved to adjourn.

Negatived by 12 majority.

Mr. Trippe, (of Ga.) Mr. Harris having temporarily withdrawn his motion, said he would have preferred a postponement till an earlier day than May, or next Monday, but as his colleague (Mr. Hill) and other gentlemen designed being absent, he would vote for the second Monday in May. He could see no damage to ensue from the postponement unless members were afraid of themselves. He had no idea that there would be a prolonged debate. If the majority intend to pass the bill, they can do so under the previous question at any time. He, however, desired to be heard on the subject. He did not know what his final action would be on the bill. While it was being read, he ascertained, for the first time, what its provisions were. He was not willing to vote on twenty-four hours' consideration, on a question of this kind, which presented on the face of it some evidence of taking the back track. He protested against a vote on the collateral question being an indication of what his final action would be, and against being led, like a victim to the altar, without saying anything.

Mr. Seaward (of Ga.) made an ineffectual motion for the House to adjourn.

Mr. Hill said if it had not been for particular reasons, he would not have made the motion to postpone until the second Monday in May.

Mr. Gartrell, of Georgia, objected to the gentleman making any explanation.

Mr. Hill said he expected as much; and made a further remark which was inaudible to the reporter's gallery.

Mr. Hill, at the time, was in the immediate neighborhood of Mr. Gartrell and several gentlemen, who seemed in earnest and excited conversation.

The Speaker called them to order several times, and asked where the Sergeant-at-Arms was, and directed Mr. Hill to retire to his seat. The threatened difficulty soon passed away.

After ineffectual motions to adjourn, the last prevailed by five majority, pending a motion made by Mr. Harris (of Ill.) to reconsider the vote by which the House postponed the consideration of the Kansas question and to lay that motion on the table. Adjourned.

FOREIGN ITEMS.—Later intelligence from India, received at London, is under Bombay dates of March 18.

Previous to that date the British troops had made their grand attack on Lucknow, and the city had fallen. The rebels fled from their stronghold in the greatest disorder, and were hotly pursued by the British cavalry and artillery.

There was not much hard fighting at the capture, and the losses were light, the rebels making but a feeble resistance.

At the latest advices the whole city was in possession of the British.

There had been quite a panic in Calcutta, in consequence of a wide spread fear of an outbreak among the natives, but it turned out to have been unfounded.

There is nothing later from China.

THE NATIONAL BANKRUPT LAW.—The Washington correspondent of the North American says:

No bankrupt law can be framed at this session, and in the form proposed by Mr. Toombs' bill it ought not to be carried.—There never was a time in our history when the business interests of the country needed practical relief more than now. Not from any summary law by which fraudulent debtors might escape, as they did under the last general act; but by which honest men might be relieved from the incumbrances of a sudden misfortune, which paralyzes their energies and prevents any immediate possibility of recuperation.—The compulsory process contemplated, while proper enough in some respects, is valueless for the great end sought to be obtained, unless accompanied by a voluntary clause, such as all experience has shown to be necessary. This subject will be revived at the next session, unless some new form of sectional agitation shall be forced upon it, to the further injury of all material interests.

No bankrupt law can be framed so exactly as to have no cracks or leaks in it. But the whig or Harrison party bankrupt law, with all its defects, had it remained on the statute books, would have been very beneficial during the past two years; and would have spared Senator Toombs his labor in contriving a new one.

We predicted the need of one four years ago, and the idea was hooted at by certain patriots, who knew about as much of commerce and finance as Senator Toombs does; and who supposed that a financial necessity could be crushed out by a silly partizan whim or test.

FROM JAMAICA.—Kingston, Jamaica papers to the 8th of April, says the slave ship brought into Port Royal, prize to the gun-boat Jasper, is of 750 tons, and was a Spanish ship formerly engaged in the trade between Barcelona and Havana She would not have been suspected of having been changed into a slaver, if private information had not been given before her departure, to the British officers. She was calculated to stow 1200 slaves and had on board $40,000 in gold for their purchase.

The Jamaica and Demmarara papers still call for more laborers. They declare that the number of the laboring population was never at any time equal to the cultivation of the immense tracks of land which have been lying waste, and within a few years, from various causes have been considerably reduced, and cannot for many years to come, be restored by means of natural increase alone. They would be glad to have free blacks come from the Unites States and Canada, or from Africa, but if they cannot have these they will be content, to have East Indian and Chinese Coolies with their gross, uncivilized manners, to labor under proper restraints.

☞ Hon. Thomas F. Marshall has written to the Cincinnati Commercial, contradicting the statement that he had been converted during the late revival. He says:

I am receiving letters containing abundance of pious exhortions, prayers, &c., which annoy me exceedingly. I have joined no church, and have not the most remote idea of doing so. I am no infidel, certainly; but have a very fair copy of the Scriptures, which I read, and to which I alone refer for religious truths. I have never knowingly deceived any one, and am constrained to take this method of undeceiving the public. Respectfully,

THOMAS F. MARSHALL.

☞ A daughter of Mr. John Draro, observing that a large rock had fallen upon the track of the Pittsburg and Connelsville Railroad, at a point where there is a sharp curve, she rowed across the river to the railroad in her father's skiff, and then running along the track, waving a red handkerchief, succeeded in attracting the attention of the engineer on an approaching train, just in season, in the opinion of the officers on board, to save the lives of all on the cars. Had they not received timely warning, they would have been pitched into the river.

DROWNED.—Aldes Noyes, aged 38 years, was found dead by the side of the river at the Upper Neck, Dover, Friday morning last. It is supposed that he came to his end by going by the side of the river, and, slipping, fell, and was drowned. He was of ill health, and could not use one hand and leg without difficulty. Mr. Pray, Coroner, was called, but there being no doubt as to the cause of his death, no inquest was held.—Dover Gaz.

THE POLICE OF WASHINGTON.—One of the correspondents of the New York Tribune, writing from the seat of government in reference to the inefficiency of its municipal officers, states that crimes have become so frequent the citizens of the capital have organized a patrol for their own security, independent of the city authorities. The other night this patrol could only find a single watchman on duty, in a certain section of the city, and he was so drunk that he was arrested and taken to the watch-house.

Which can travel the fastest, heat or cold? Why, heat, you dunce. Can't anybody catch cold?

HOW TRUE IT IS!

There are a couple of old proverbs that it would be well for us all to keep in mind. One is, "a stitch in time saves nine;" and another, "an ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure." We all, in theory, acknowledge the truth of these proverbs, yet the practice of the most of us gives them the lie. Myers' Extract of Rock Rose, as a preventative of all these diseases arising from impure blood and vitiated humors, is acknowledged to be superior to anything in Materia Medica. It purifies the blood, strengthens the digestive organs and invigorates the constitution.

A CARD TO THE LADIES.

DR. DUPONCO'S
French Periodical Golden Pills,
FOR FEMALES;

Infallible in Removing Stoppages or Irregularity of the Menses.

THESE Pills are nothing new, but have been used by the Doctor for many years, both in France and America, with unparalled success in every case; and he is urged by many thousand ladies who have used them, to make the Pills public, for the alleviation of those suffering from any irregularities whatever, as well as to prevent pregnancy in those ladies whose health will not permit an increase of family. Pregnant females, or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using these Pills while pregnant, as the proprietor assumes no responsibility after the above admonition, although their mildness would prevent any mischief to health; otherwise these Pills are recommended. Full and explicit directions accompany each box.

Price $1. Sold in Portsmouth by JOSEPH H. THACHER, in Dover by Chas. A. Tufts, in Exeter by C. A. Merrill, and in Newmarket by J. A. Prendergast. They will supply dealers at the Proprietors' prices, and also send the Pills to the Ladies (confidentially) by mail to any part of the city or country, on receipt of $1 through the Post Office.

N. B.—Ladies will be particular in asking for Dr. Duponco's Golden Pills. Observe the signature J. Duponco is upon each box. You will then obtain a Pill you can rely upon.

The Great English Remedy.
SIR JAMES CLARKE'S
Celebrated Female Pills.

Prepared from a prescription of Sir Jas Clarke' M.D., Physician Extraordinary to the Queen

THIS invaluable Medicine is unfailing in the cure of all those painful and dangerous disorders to which the female constitution is subject. It moderates all excess, removes all obstructions, and a speedy cure may be relied on.

TO MARRIED LADIES

it is peculiarly suited. It will, in a short time, bring on the monthly period with regularity.

Each bottle, Price One Dollar, bears the Government Stamp of Great Britain, to prevent counterfeits.

CAUTION.

These Pills should not be taken by females that are pregnant, during the FIRST THREE MONTHS, as they are sure to bring on Miscarriage, but at every other time and in every other case they are perfectly safe.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics, and Whites, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed, and although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or any thing hurtful to the constitution.

Full directions accompany each package.

Sole Agent for the United States and Canada
JOB MOSES,
(late I. C. BALWDIN & CO.,) Rochester, N. Y.

N. B.—$1 and 6 postage stamps enclosed to any authorized Agent, will ensure a bottle of the Pills by return mail.

For sale, wholesale and retail, by W. R. PRESTON, Portsmouth, and by Druggists in every town in the United States.

LOCAL.

Messrs. Editors:—I have seen by your paper that there is an intention of celebrating May-day of this year, which intention is very fine, if only carried out properly; and in order that it should be, we girls of the High School ought to be particularly invited, which invitation has not been received as yet. To be sure, some one over the signature of "Annie" has spoken of "our children joining with us;" but we do not class ourselves among the juveniles thus alluded to. Perhaps our wise and grave seniors may not be willing to admit us on equal terms with them, but that will not disturb us; for we know we are a host in ourselves, and the celebration would lose its greatest attraction if we were not there, (at least some think so, who do not belong to our High School.)

Please tell the "master of ceremonies" that we shall not only add the charm of our faces on that day, but we will give them vocal music too, if merry voices and ringing laughter can be classed as such.

Hoping my hint with regard to the invitation may not pass unheeded, I remain yours, FLORA WIDE-AWAKE.

MEETINGS THIS EVENING, &c.

Union Prayer Meeting in the Vestry of the Temple, from 8 to 9 o'clock this morning, to which all are invited.

Young Men's Prayer Meeting at the Brick Vestry in Fleet street, this (Monday) evening from 8 to 9 o'clock, to which all the young men in the city are cordially invited.

Inquiry meeting at the Vestry of the Methodist Church, this evening, at 7 1-2 o'clock.

☞ Rev. T. J. Greenwood, of Dover, preached his farewell sermon to the Universalist Society, on Sunday last.

The Society held a very successful Levee on Wednesday and Thursday evenings, Apr. 14 and 15—at which, the Dover Gazette says, "the music was by Mr. Goodrich of Portsmouth, a young gentleman who has a pleasant voice, and is destined to excel in his art."

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS.

EXETER, April 24.

In case No. 141, Jeremiah Bartlett v. Lewis Bartlett et als. (a case of assault and battery), a verdict was rendered, guilty in two points, and not guilty in three.

No. 153, Flanders, pltf. in review v. Frost, is on trial this (Saturday) afternoon.

In No. 159, Nathan Jones v. Tucker & Locke (a case concerning the value of a horse,) a verdict for Defts. was taken.—Towle for defts.: Hatch and Wolester for pltf.

☞ Mr. and Mrs. Elijah Newton, of Ledyard, Ct., celebrated the 70th anniversary of their wedding-day on the 27th of March last. They will be ninety years old in May next.

HOLLIS.—Of 17 persons who have died in this town, within six months, 13 were 70 years old and upwards, and 4 were 60, and upwards. So says the Milford Republican. It appears that Hollis is not only an unusually pleasant and productive town but a healthy one.

NEARLY UNANIMOUS.—W. H. Cranston, the American Republican candidate, was Wednesday re elected Mayor of Newport, receiving every vote but two out of a total of about nine hundred.

A letter from Plymouth, N. H., says that on Monday there was a fall of nearly seven inches of snow, and that they now have good sleighing there.—Traveller, April 23.

☞ The new recruits of H. R. H. 100th regiment, stationed at Montreal, are wearing a uniform which has been in store since the war of 1812.

☞ Three pianos have been made from the wood of the old Charter Oak. It takes a high polish, and the instruments which the wood encloses are of the best description. Yankee Doodle is said to sound well on them.

WORKS BOTH WAYS.—In Alleghany Co., Penn., recently, an old and wealthy colorman was sued on the bond of a runaway tax-collector which he had signed. The jury having the fear of the Dred Scott decision before their eyes, found the following verdict:—

Judgment in favor of defendant, as the jury is of opinion that the finance committee did not act with the proper caution and discretion in accepting a colored man as security, as he is not a citizen.

☞ On the 21st inst., there were fifty vessels afloat bound for Oswego, N. Y., with over half a million bushels of wheat, and sixty thousand bushels of corn.

☞ The St. Lawrence canals will be ready for navigation on the 27th of April.

☞ Harper Brothers have resumed payment.

MARRIED.

In Newburyport, Sylvanus Junkins to Helen M Yeaton of Newcastle.

In Exeter, John M Perkins to Elizabeth A Lovering.

In Epping, George K Perkins to Angeline C Frost of North Yearmont, Me.—Elisha Bacon, of New York, to Elizabeth Olivia Plummer.

DIED.

In this city, on Sunday morning, April 25th, Mrs Sarah Holman, aged 80, widow of Silas Holman. Her husband was a Merchant of Portsmouth, of the firm of Waldron & Holman, the late Isaac Waldron being his partner. That firm was dissolved by the death of Mr Holman many years ago; so many that the present generation of business men have no knowledge of it. Mrs Holman was thus left a widow, with small children, and through half a century of widowhood, with changing scenes and divers fortunes she maintained the most perfect calmness, equanimity, and christian fortitude. She was a worthy and highly esteemed member of the North Church for 48 years.

Funeral on Tuesday afternoon at half-past two o'clock, from the Hanover Street Chapel.

The funeral of the late Charles M. Hall will take place this (Monday) afternoon, at 3 o'clock, from the residence of Mr. John Bennett, No. 17 South street.

In Newington, April 20, Mrs ——— Trefethen, wife of John I Trefethen.

MARINE CHRONICLE.

PORT OF PORTSMOUTH.

Sch Director, Quinn, old Boston 23d for this port.

Sch Marcella, Tracy, old Baltimore 31st for this port.

Ship Peter Marcy, Tomson, fm Boston, arr at New Orleans 22d.

NEW YORK, April 23.—Methodist Conference.—The anti-slavery resolutions, as they came from the committee, were passed to-day by the Methodist Conference, by a vote of 51 to 35.

Yellow Fever.—The cases of fever from the frigate Susquehanna are all convalescent, at the Marine Hospital.

☞ The Traveller's Washington dispatch dispatch of the 22d, says of English's bill:

In the Senate it may go through, but by a close vote.

In the House the Republicans will oppose it.

A fiery and prolonged debate is expected. Several Southerners will vote against Mr. English's amendment, and nine Douglasites will vote for it.

The contest will be the hottest of the session.

☞ The Tribune correspondent reports the scene in the House between the two members from Georgia (Hill and Gattrell):

After Mr. Trippe of Ga., had explained his reasons for not voting for postponement, Hill wished to make a similar explanation, but Gattrell objected.

"Who objects?" asked Mr. Hill.

"I object," replied Mr. Gattrell, turning his head in a haughty manner.

"Where is your grave yard?" exclaimed Hill, rushing toward Gattrell with great fury. He was interupted however, and Gattrell merely replied; "We will talk of grave yards elsewhere." The Speaker called upon the Sergeant-at-Arms to conduct Mr. Hill to his seat, and order was restored.

WASHINGTON NEWS.—New York, April 24.—Late Thursday night, through the exertions of Douglas and Haskins, a caucus was held, which determined yesterday's vote on English's proposition. Eight anti-Lecomptonites went over to the administration. The Republicans gained Maynard, Hill and Trippe, South Americans; and Bonham and Shorter, Democrats. After the postponement, the bill was purloined from the Speaker's desk and given to Senator Green.

The Tribune correspondence gives the following as the facts in the case:—"Mr. English was in the Senate when Mr. Green's motion was made, and seeing the dilemma that Senator was placed in by Stewart's objection, went immediately over to the House and procured the bill from one of the clerks, who had it in charge, saying he wanted to examine it. Mr. Allen, the clerk, came in afterwards, and learning the circumstances, he feared some trap, and started for the Senate, where, meeting Harris, he related the facts, which were communicated to Mr. Broderick, and through him to the Senate.

And this purloiner and obtainer is the new English ally of Lecompton. "We are all, all, honorable men."

☞ On Sunday evening, April 18, Rev. Nehemiah Adams, D. D., preached a sermon in Essex street Church, Boston, where he is a pastor, in favor of the doctrine of endless misery. In the Boston Journal of last Saturday evening, there was this announcement:

Rev. Nehemiah Adams, D. D., will to-morrow evening repeat his discourse on the "Reasonableness of future endless punishment," in the Hollis street church.—Services will begin at 7 1-2 o'clock:

We suppose the sermon will be published—and reviewed.

☞ Harper's Magazine for May, is promptly on our table, from J. H. Foster of this city, and Williams & Co., Boston. A capital number of a capital monthly.

☞ Half an inch of snow fell at Keene on Friday night.

☞ The dispute as to whether Mrs. Fremont's name is Jessie or Ann, has been decided by the publication of her father's (Col. Benton's) will. Her name is Jessie Ann.

AS A SPRING MEDICINE

MYERS' EXTRACT ROCK ROSE is invaluable. It changes the viscid humors, opens the pores of the skin, promotes insensible perspiration, thereby purifying the blood and invigorating the system. A free use of this medicine, in the spring months, will not only cure all diseases caused by impurities of the blood, but will beget a healthy action and prepare the system to resist the attacks of fevers, derangement of the bowels, &c, so prevalent in the summer season

Blood's Seedling Grape Vines, For Sale.

TWO varieties of Blood's Seedling GRAPE Vines, which have been tested by the subscriber for 13 years, and found superior to any other cultivated in the open air in this part of the country. This Grape is larger than the Isabella, and ripens in our climate about 6 weeks earlier. For several successive years it has been fully ripe the first week in September, and thus has escaped the early frosts which have in some seasons, cut off the Isabel's and other varieties.

Wolff's Celebrated Scheidam Aromatic

SCHNAPPS.

This medicinal beverage is manufactured by the proprietor, at Scheidam, Holland, expressly for medicinal use, by a process peculiar to his own Factory. It is the pure Tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, whose more vinous extract is distilled and rectified with its spirituous solvent, which thus becomes a concentrated tincture of exquisite flavor and aroma, altogether transcendant in its cordial and medicinal properties to any alcoholic stimulant now made in the world. It is now prescribed by more than 5,000 physicians in the United States, in cases of Gravel, Gout, Dropsy, and Bladder and Kidney Complaints.

Put up in Quart and Pint Bottles, in cases of one dozen qts., and cases of two dozen pts., and for sale by all Druggists and Country Merchants.

IMMORTELLES.

TIME.

Who needs a teacher to admonish him
That flesh is grass?—that earthly things are mist?
What are our joys but dream? And what our hopes
But goodly shadows on the summer cloud?
There's not a wind that blows but bears with it
Some rainbow promise. Not a moment flies
But puts its sickle in the fields of life,
And mows its thousands with its joys and cares.
—[White.

THE OLD ELM.

And one tall elm this hundredth year,
Doge of our leafy Venice here,
Who with an annual ring doth wed
The blue Adriatic overhead,
Shadows with his palatial mass
The deep canals of flowing grass.—[Lowell.

CALUMNY.

Be thou chaste as ice, as pure as snow,
Thou shalt not escape calumny.

CONSCIENCE.

Go to your bosom;
Knock there; and ask your heart what it doth know.

SLANDER.

Slander'd to death by villians;
That dare as well answer a man, indeed,
As I dare take a serpent by the tongue.
—[Shakspeare.

CERTAINTY

Was but devised at first to set a gloss
On faint deeds, hollow welcomes,
Recanting goodness, sorry ceremony, its shown,
But where there is true friendship, there needs none.
—[Shakspeare.

The following remedies are offered to the public as the best, most perfect, which medical science can afford. AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS have been prepared with the utmost skill which the medical profession of this age possesses, and their effects show they have virtues which surpass any combination of medicines hitherto known. Other preparations do more or less good; but this cures such dangerous complaints, so quick and so surely, as to prove an efficacy and a power to uproot disease beyond any thing which men have known before. By removing the obstructions of the internal organs and stimulating them into healthy action, they renovate the fountains of life and vigor,—health courses anew through the body, and the sick man is well again. They are adapted to disease, and disease only, for when taken by one in health they produce but little effect. This is the perfection of medicine. It is antagonistic to disease, and no more. Tender children may take them with impunity. If they are sick they will cure them, if they are well they will do them no harm.

Give them to some patient who has been prostrated with bilious complaint: see his bent-up, tottering form straighten with strength again; see his long-lost appetite return; see his clammy features bloom into health. Give them to some sufferer whose foul blood has burst out in scrofula till his skin is covered with sores; who stands, or sits, or lies in anguish. He has been drenched inside and out with every potion which ingenuity could suggest. Give him these PILLS and mark the effect; see the scabs fall from his body; see the new, fair skin that has grown under them; see the late leper that is clean. Give them to him whose angry humors have planted rheumatism in his joints and bones; move him, and he screches with pain; he too has been soaked through every muscle of his body with liniments and salves; give him these PILLS to purify his blood; they may not cure him, for, alas! there are cases which no mortal power can reach; but mark, he walks with crutches now, and can he walk so when they have cured him. Give them to the lean, sour, haggard dyspeptic, whose gnawing stomach has long ago eaten every smile from his face and every muscle from his body. See his appetite return, and with it his health; see the new man. See her that was radiant with health and loveliness blasted and too early withering away; want of exercise or mental anguish, or some lurking disease, has deranged the internal organs of digestion, assimilation or secretion, till they do their office ill. Her blood is tainted, her health is gone. Give her these PILLS to stimulate the vital principle into renewed vigor, to cast out the obstructions, and infuse a new vitality into the blood. Now look again—the roses blossom on her cheek, and where lately sorrow preyed upon every lineament of feature. See the sweet infant wasted with worms. Its wan, sickly features tell you without disguise, and painfully distinct, that they are eating its life away. Its pinched-up nose and ears, and restless sleepings, tell the dreadful truth in language which every mother knows. Give it the PILLS in large doses to sweep these vile parasites from the body. Now turn again and see the ruddy bloom of childhood. Is it nothing to do these things? Nay, are they not the marvel of this age? And yet they are done around you every day.

Have you the less serious symptoms of these distempers, they are the easier cured. Jaundice, Costiveness, Headache, Sideache, Heartburn, Foul Stomach, Nausea, Pain in the Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, King's Evil, Scrofula, Worms, and kindred complaints all arise from the derangements which these PILLS rapidly cure. Take them perseveringly, and under the counsel of a good Physician if you can; if not, take them judiciously by such advice as we give you, and the discouraging, dangerous diseases they cure, which afflict so many millions of the human race, are cast out like the devils of old—they must burrow in the brutes and in the sea. Price 25 cents per box—5 boxes for $1.

Through a trial of many years and through every nation of civilized men, AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has been found to afford more relief and to cure more cases of pulmonary disease than any other remedy known to mankind. Cases of apparently settled consumption have been cured by it, and thousands of sufferers who were drawed beyond the reach of human aid have been restored to their friends and usefulness, to sound health and the enjoyments of life, by this all-powerful antidote to disease of the lungs and throat. Here a cold had settled on the lungs. The hollow cough, the glassy eye, and the pale, thin features of him who was lately lusty and strong, whisper to all but him CONSUMPTION. He tries every thing; but the disease is gnawing at his vitals, and shows its fatal symptoms more and more every day and hour. He is taking the CHERRY PECTORAL now; it has stopped his cough and made his breathing easy; his sleep is sound at night; his appetite returns, and with it his strength. The dart which pierced his side is broken. Search the wide world round, and be found which has not some living trophy like this to shadow forth the virtues which have won for the CHERRY PECTORAL an imperishable renown. But its usefulness does not end here. Nay, it accomplishes more by preventing than cure. The sounding colds and coughs which it stops are the seed which would have ripened into a dreadful harvest of incurable diseases. Influenza, Croup, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Pleurisy, Whooping Cough, and all irritations of the throat and lungs are easily cured by the CHERRY PECTORAL if taken in season. Every family should have it by them, and they will find it an invaluable protection from the insidious prowler which carries off the parent sleep from many a flock, the darling lambs from many a home.

Authenticated evidence of these facts, with directions for the treatment of each complaint, may be found in Ayer's American Almanac, of which we publish three millions, and scatter them broadcast over the earth, in order that she may, every where may believe them the information it contains. Druggists and dealers in medicine generally have them for distribution gratis, and also for sale these remedies, prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER, Practical and Analytical Chemist, Lowell, Mass.

THE RESTORATIVE OF PROF. O. J. WOOD for restoring hair perfectly and permanently, has never yet had a rival. Volume after volume might be given from all parts of the world and from the intelligent to prove that it is a perfect Restorative; but read the circular and you cannot doubt; read also the following.

THE HAIR.—People have for centuries been afflicted with bald heads, and the only remedy, heretofore known, has been those abominable wigs. Recent discoveries in Chemistry and other articles are being last dispensed with, but a great many persons still patronize them, because they have been so deceived by the vile Hair Tonics of different kinds. To all such persons we earnestly make the request that they will try once again, for in Wood's Restorative there is no such thing as fail. We know of a lady who was bald, who used the article a short time, and her head is covered completely with the finest and most beautiful curls imaginable. We know of numerous cases where hair was rapidly falling out, which it restored in greater perfection than it ever had been before.

It is also without doubt one of the best articles for keeping the hair in good condition, making it soft and glossy, removing dandruff, and has proved itself the greatest enemy to all the ills that hair is heir to.

It is the duty of every one to improve their personal appearance, though some may differ in regard to the ways of doing it; but every one will admit that a beautiful head of hair, either in man or woman, is an object much to be desired, and there is no man or woman of Ohio who will attempt to obtain such a consideration.—Woman's Advocate, Philadelphia.

COCHOCTON, Ohio, Nov. 17, 1856.

O. J. Wood & Co.—Gents: As I have been engaged in selling your Hair Restorative the last season, I feel bound to speak of it as I find it (Johnson,) and having experienced the beneficial effects of it myself, I would like to obtain an agency for the sale of it in this place for the ensuing year, should you wish to make such an arrangement, as I am convinced there is nothing equal to it in the United States, for restoring the hair. I have been engaged in the Drug business for several years, and have sold various preparations for the hair, but have found nothing that restores the secretive organs so invigorates the hair and well and pearly, and convinced that your restorative is what you represent it to be, I would like to engage in the sale of it, for I am satisfied it would sell.

Yours truly, A. T. STOCKMAN.

WAYLAND, Mass., Feb. 5, 1857.

PROF. O. J. Wood & Co.—Gentlemen: Having realized the good effects of your Hair Restorative, I wish to state, that finding my hair growing thin, as well as gray, I was induced from what I read and heard, to try the article prepared by you, to promote its growth and change its color as it was in youth, both of which it has effected completely. In the opportunity I have used nearly 3 bottles.

Yours &c., JAMES FRANCIS.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $70,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and address to

S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia

☞ Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

CAUTION NOTICE.

PERSONS living at a distance should be extremely cautious of whom they order Lottery Tickets or Certificates of Packages of Tickets.—The country is flooded with bogus Lottery Tickets, and persons to invest money in them. Capital Prizes of from $20,000 to $40,000 head their schemes—with tickets at $10 and $5 the capital prizes are offered, tickets $5. All such, in every instance, are frauds; and if money is sent to them for tickets, it is so much thrown away—they have no shadow of chance of obtaining a prize. Beware of all Lotteries where the Capital Prize is unusually large in comparison to the price of tickets—in every case where Tickets are offered for a small cost of tickets, put it down as a certain fraud.

The Kentucky State Lottery for the benefit of the Shelby College, under our management, is the only Lottery in the United States which is legally decided by the Maryland Drawings; all other Lotteries which pretend to purport to be decided by the Maryland Drawings, are frauds.

THE MARYLAND STATE LOTTERIES.

Purchase in the Maryland State Lottery, then you can be sure of being right. And in ordering in the Maryland Lotteries, you are sure of fair and honest drawings.

One thing look to, and that is, it you order from any licensed vendor in Baltimore, do not receive any but Managers' Tickets and Managers' Printed Certificates of Packages. Managers' Certificates have the numbers printed and have the lithographic signature of R. France & Co.

No one has a right to send his individual certificate, if he does it, be sure there is a fraud at the bottom of it.

A PROCLAMATION

TO THE LADIES.

WHEREAS, it appears that the days of right, honor, and integrity are last fading away, and WHEREAS the unscrupulous and ignorant are daily practicing on the credulous, and learned. BE IT KNOWN THEREFORE, to all, whether MAIDS, WIVES, or WIDOWS, that DR. CHEESEMAN'S FEMALE PILLS are such as the certain remedy for the troublesome incident to female disorganization; they ALONE correcting all painful menstruation, assuaging palpitations of the heart, disturbed sleep, pain in the side, and all other ills, health and happiness to whole sex; more especially to the MARRIED PORTION, as they are certain to bring on the monthly period regularly.—AND WHEREAS, these PILLS are purely vegetable and entirely free from mineral's, therefore perfectly harmless in their operations and without a single ill or bad effect upon the human system, purporting to effect the objects already detailed. THEREFORE, BE IT KNOWN, that NOTHING but the said PILLS or DR. CHEESEMAN'S will accomplish the desired object, when DISAPPOINTMENT has been experienced under the regime of OTHER PILLS; and the Ladies will cause this Proclamation to spread amongst them, to their own everlasting benefit—always promising that said Proclamation in one case must be considered null and void; that is to say the Ladies will not take it when any female is in an INTERESTING SITUATION, otherwise a MISCARRIAGE will be the inevitable result.

Explicit directions, to be carefully read, accompany each box. Price $1. Sent by mail on enclosing $1 to DR. CORNELIUS L. CHEESEMAN, Box No. 4,781, Post Office, New York City. Sold by Druggists in every town in the United States.

PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

No. 511 Washington St., Boston.

The first premium over all competitors, at the Fair of the Mass Charitable Mechanic Association, of the National Fair, Washington, D. C., and the State Fair, held at Columbus, Ohio, was awarded to these Manufacturers.

By means of a new method of Voicing, known only to these makers, they have succeeded in removing the harsh and buzzing sound which formerly characterized the instrument, and rendering the tones full, clear and organ like. The action is prompt and reliable, enabling the performer to execute the most rapid music without blurring the tones. The swell is arranged to give great expression.

THE PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

Are designed particularly for Churches, Lodges, Halls, &c. It is arranged with two manuals, or banks of Keys, the lower set running an octave higher than the upper. The two can be used separately, and thus get in one case two distinct instruments; or by use of the coupler, the two banks of keys may be played at the same time, by one set of hands. The Pedal Bass, used with the Pedal Bass, will produce the effect of a large organ, and is sufficiently heavy to fill a house that seats from 1000 to 1600 persons.

THE ORGAN MELODEON

Is designed for parlor and private use. The construction is similar to the Church Instrument, being arranged with two banks of Keys, and when used together, by means of the coupler, is capable of a great volume of power as the Church Instrument when used without the pedals. Also, every variety of MELODEONS for Parlor use.

Purchasers may rely upon instruments from our Manufactory, being made in the most complete and thorough manner. Having removed to the spacious Building

511 Washington Street,

We have every facility for manufacturing purposes, and employ none but the most experienced and skillful workmen. In short, we will promise our customers an instrument equal, if not superior, to any Manufacturer, and guarantee an entire and perfect satisfaction.

Music Teachers, Leaders of Choirs, and others interested in purchasing, are respectfully invited to visit our Rooms at any time and examine or test the instruments on exhibition for sale at the lowest prices.

As a still further guarantee to the public as to the excellence of the MELODEONS from our Manufactory, we beg leave to refer, by permission, to the following

Piano Forte Manufacturers of Boston,

who have examined our Instruments, and will give their opinion when called upon:

Chickering & Sons,	Hallett & Cumston,
T Gilbert & Co.,	Wm. P. Emerson,
Brown & Allen,	A. W. Ladd & Co.,
George Hewes,	Woodward & Brown,
	Newhall & Co.

MELODEONS RENTED.

Persons who wish to hire Melodeons with a view of purchasing at the end of the year, can have the rent money paid in part payment of the purchase money. This matter is worthy of special note, as it enables those who desire a fair test of the instrument before purchasing, to obtain it at the expense of the manufacturers, to the extent at least of a year's rent.

Orders from any part of the country or world, sent direct to the manufactory, accompanied with cash, or satisfactory reference, will be promptly attended to, and as faithfully executed as if the parties were present. Send on and get an agent to select, and on as reasonable terms.

A SCRAP OF BACON.—The following predictions were made six hundred years ago by old Friar Bacon, who by the way was a white man and no descendant from the tribe of Ham. It is certainly "poetry and philosophy together, forming a wondrous chain of prophecy":

Bridges, unsupported by arches, will be made to span the foaming current.

Man shall descend to the bottom of the ocean, safely breathing, and treading with firm step on the golden sands never brightened by the light of day.

Call but the secret powers of Sol or Luna into action, and behold a single steersman sitting at the helm guiding the vessel, which divides the waves with greater ease than if she had been filled with a crew of mariners toiling at the oars; and the loaded chariot, no longer encumbered by the panting steeds, shall dart on its course with resistless force and rapidity.

Let the simple elements do the labor; bind the eternal elements, and yoke them to the same plough.

GOOD TEMPER AND GOOD COOKING.—A correspondent of the Ohio Cultivator has a fancy that the quality of a meal depends very much upon the state of the cook's temper. Hear him:—"It is astonishing how much the cheerfulness of a wife contributes to the happiness of home. We remember hearing a husband say that he could gauge the temper of his wife by the quality of her cooking; good temper even influenced the seasoning of her soups, and the lightness of her pastry. If ill-temper pervades, the pepper is dashed in as a cloud, perchance the top of the pepper box is included, as a kind of diminutive thunder bolt; the salt is all in lumps, and the spices seem to betake themselves all to one spot in the puddings, as if dreading the frowning face above them.—If there be a husband who could abuse the smiles of a really good-tempered wife, we should like to look at him! Among the elements of domestic happiness, the amiability of the wife and mother, is of the utmost importance? it is one of the best securities for the happiness of home."

ORIGIN OF "APRIL FOOL."—It credit may be reposed in the Public Advertiser for April 13th, 1769, the "jinkle" sprung from a Hebrew root. "It is said to have begun," says the print in question, "from the mistake of Noah sending the dove out of the Ark before the water had abated, on the first day of the month, among the Hebrews, which answers to our first of April. To perpetuate the memory of this deliverance, it was thought proper, whoever forgot so remarkable a circumstance, to punish them by sending them upon some sleeveless errand, similar to that ineffectual message upon which the dove had was sent by the Patriarch."—Albany Journal, 5th.

We saw a good anecdote the other day about long preaching. A lady took her son, of some five or six years, to church. After the minister had been preaching about half an hour, the little fellow grew sleepy and began to nod. The mother roused him into attention several times, by pinching. But as it seemed a hopeless case, she concluded to let him sleep undisturbed. After the little fellow had had his nap out, he awoke, and saw the minister still holding forth. He looked up in his mother's face, and innocently asked, "Mother, is it this Sunday night, or is it next Sunday night."

Rev. W. E. Channing says:—"It is the capital of the rich which erects the distillery, and surrounds men with temptations to self-murder. The retailer takes shelter under the wholesal dealer, from whom he purchases the pernicious draught; and has he not a right to do so? Can we expect that he should shrink from spreading on a small scale, what others spread largely and without rebuke? Can we expect his conscience to be sensitive, when he treads in the steps of man of reputation?

The Conductor between Syracuse and Buffalo, the other day, was rather staggered when a woman with six children around her offered a single ticket. But the lady assured him that they were all under six years of age, and he accordingly passed them as lap passengers. The mother was a Yankee and emigrating to Illinois.

Camphene had another of its frequent triumphs at New York, Thursday, and Rosanna Herding, a German girl, was its victim. She ran into the street covered with the burning liquid, when a gentleman threw his overcoat upon her and extinguished the flames, but not until she had been fatally burned.

The waters of the Susquehanna at New York with the yellow fever on board of a very malignant type, causes considerable anxiety in that city. The city, which is lower in a good condition to resist such a pestilence, is in a peculiarly bad condition now.

WHAT IS THE WORLD?—A dream within a dream—as we grow older, each step has an awakening. The youth awakes, as he thinks, from childhood; the full-grown man despises the pursuits of youth as visionary; the old man looks on manhood as a feverish dream. Is death the last sleep?—No, it is the last awakening.—Sir Walter Scott.

From Hon. Chas. Mason, Commissioner of Patents.
U. S. PATENT OFFICE, Feb. 24, 1855.
I take great pleasure in stating that during the time I have been acting as Commissioner of Patents, Samuel Cooper, Esq., of Boston, has been engaged as Solicitor, and has been in that capacity in constant correspondence and intercourse with the office; he has evinced a thorough acquaintance with the Patent Law, and with the rules and practice of the office; evince a tention to the interests of his c ients, and a marked candor and courtesy that has rendered the transaction of business with him a pleasure. I have no hesitation in stating that I regard him as one of the very best agents for the transaction of business with this office with whom I am acquainted.
CHARLES MASON, Commissioner.
From the Examiners of the Patent Office.
The undersigned, Principal and Assistant Examiners in the United States Patent Office, have for several years been well acquainted with Mr. Samuel Cooper, late a principal Examiner in this office, and take pleasure in stating that he is a gentleman of the highest moral character, of unquestioned knowledge in the business and practice of the office, and that his scientific attainments are such as eminently fit him for the business in which he is about to engage.

Coggswell's Medical Salt,
A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE
FOR THE
LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.
INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: REDUCE INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. Is it asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a pin dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.
